Dear Dora:

I wanted to be certain you received one of the first copies off the press of To Love a Child. It tells the story of the special relationship between foster grandparents and their "grandchildren" with warmth and love.

This beautiful book would not have been possible without your willingness to take the time to talk with Jane Wilkie. I hope you are as pleased with the results as I am.

Again, my sincere thanks.

With admiration,

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

January 31, 1983

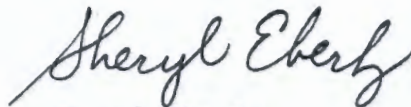

Dear Congressman Kramer:

I sincerely regret the lateness of this response to questions from your constituent, Mr. Jerry O'Sullivan, concerning the child's chair given to H.R.H. Prince William of Wales.

President and Mrs. Reagan's gift in honor of H.R.H. Prince William's birth was in keeping with the tradition of official gift giving. Its cost, kept quite low because much of the labor was donated, was covered by funds appropriated in the Federal budget for such purposes. Shipping of the gift was complementary.

Thank you for your interest and for giving us this opportunity to respond. If we may be of further assistance to you, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Sheryl Eberly
Deputy Director of Projects
Office of the First Lady

Sheryl Eberly -

We apologize that this letter is late - it was misplaced inadvertently.

The correspondence came to us from Charlie Ponticelli; you may wish to remind her that correspondence of this nature can be better handled by you. We mistakenly thought State was the appropriate agency and will know better the next time.

Thank you,
Deborah Roche

After many discussions with the White House, we had decided that since the press conference was given at the White House which resulted in the unhappiness in the general public, that they should be the ones to answer any questions.

Also a letter on White House paper would be better as the gift was from the Reagans and we want to keep the State Department name out of it as much as possible.

Thank You.
