Dear President Reagan:

I bet you've been wondering where I have been. I haven't written to you in "many moons". It's not that I haven't thought about it; I wanted to make sure you got a good rest after your surgery. I am glad to see that you are looking so well. (I saw you on T.V. and you look fit as a fiddle.)

I am sending you a couple photos so that you can see what happened around here this summer. Mother built a clock tower on top of the guest house! It has 4 dials + it lights up at night. It also plays Westminster chimes. Every home should have one!

The other picture shows mother's newest project in the back of her pick up truck. It is also a 4-faced clock, it used to hang in a mall but soon it will be a 21' street clock. We already have one (14'1/2') but every home should have two! If you would like one for your library mother will whip one up for you.

★      ★      ★

I have recently come across a lot of magazines from the 1960<sup>s</sup> such as U.S. News and World Report. I have saved all of the articles I could find about you. I am putting them all together in a scrapbook or two or ten. (It's more like 10) It is easier to save magazine articles than newspaper articles because the pages are of uniform size and the ink doesn't come off on your hands! (also the pictures are pretty) They are here if you ever need them.

I wanted to thank you for the photograph of you and Mrs. Reagan that Anne sent to us. It was a nice surprise and a very nice picture. Thank you!

We think about you often and hope all is going well. You have our continuous support always !!! Our best to Mrs. Reagan.

Sincerely,
Ann

Dear Mr. President and Nancy:

We are most grateful for the beautiful White House plate you sent this year, not only because it is an extremely handsome and welcome addition to our new home, but also because it is another of the many examples we have had over the years of your thoughtfulness.

It is a continuing pleasure and privilege to work with you and to be part of the thoroughly welcome and much needed changes you have wrought in both the American government and the way people look at government and the new set of priorities that you have secured. Most of all, from my point of view, one of the greatest contributions which you have made, and the one for which I am particularly grateful every day, is the change in attitude and morale in both the military forces, and in the general public's attitude toward the dangerous work these forces perform for us all. As I have often told the troops and various interviewers I have dealt with, I think that this change from the very low esteem placed on the military starting with Vietnam and continuing up until 1981, is almost solely due to your leadership, and is one of the most important factors in the goals we have achieved since 1981. I am personally most grateful, not only because it makes my task here much easier and happier, but because it has produced the enormous loyalty and deep gratitude for you that I know you feel when you have the privilege of visiting our troops or working with them as I do every day.

Over and above all of this, it is a delight to have the privilege of working with you and I will always be grateful.

Jane joins me in sending best wishes to both of you for a thoroughly happy and healthy New Year.

Sincerely,

Sigs. Weinberger

Dear Mrs. Reagan:

Midge and I were delighted with the White House plate which you and the President sent us for Christmas. It is a lovely gift and one that will remind us of your thoughtfulness in the years to come. You were gracious to think of us at such a busy time.

Sincerely yours,

Dear President & Mrs. R.

Thank-you so much for the beautiful Christmas gift. The orient & flume art glass is gorgeous and looks wonderful in my new apartment -

Thank-you also for the delicious Christmas dinner - It is always so special to spend Christmas with you and share the holiday spirit -

I still haven't memorized all the Irish songs - but I'm working on it!

Mrs. R - you were so thoughtful to include Dennis in the festivities -
I'll let you know when he needs
"that talk" - he's anything but scared of talking to you - he thinks you are terrific (I keep telling him we're alike!)

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness -
I loved talking to Maureen too -
See you soon -
love,
Pam

Dear School Principal:

As Honorary Chairman of the National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth, it is my pleasure to join them in presenting this book as a gift to your school. ED

I hope your school will consider joining Operation Prom/Graduation, a nation-wide effort of the National Federation of High School Associations, the National Association of Broadcasters and the National Federation of Parents for Drug-Free Youth, and make this year's graduation and prom celebrations great fun, upbeat and chemical-free. And, one more thing, would you please pass this book along to the parents of the junior class when you've completed your plans? Let's keep it going.

Best wishes to all of you in your efforts to safely launch this class of seniors on their journey to the future.

Sincerely,
NANCY REAGAN

Dear Mrs. Reagan,

How very thoughtful of you to send a gift to the American Women's Club of Geneva. Mr. Jacobson delivered it in person and could not have arrived at a more propitious moment since many members were in our office at the time. They were excited to see the beautiful vase bearing your signature. Thank you.

I would also like to thank you for arranging an invitation for me to the cornerstone ceremony for the museum of the International Red Cross. It was a privilege to be there.

Mlle. Fourcy, president of the folklore group "Genève Chante" who sang for you in St. Prex, has told me that her photograph with you in the latest issue of TIME magazine will be a lifetime memento.

As representative of the AWC, I was very pleased to offer suggestions for your activities during your stay in the Geneva area. Our American members were intensely proud that the summit talks resulted in such a hopeful outcome.

We all send many wishes for a happy holiday season to you and the President.

Sincerely,

Iris Thompson

Dear Nancy:

Your beautiful Christmas wreath arrived and immediately went up on our front door. We will think of you and The Prez every time we go in and out -- and a lot of other times, too -- and we thank you.

We have heard so many nice comments about the party at NBC and both from people who were there and from those who saw it on television Sunday. We enjoyed seeing it again.

Have a wonderful Christmas and an even better New Year -- no thanks to those blankety-blank Republicans in the House who have outraged us by their stupid and arrogant behavior two days ago. Bob was livid. I was a nice shade of red myself.

Much love --

Joan

Dear Kathy:

In a conversation with Andrew Neil, Editor of the Sunday Times, and a very good friend of the Embassy and our country, he mentioned that he had done an interview with the President a short time after his election in 1980. At the conclusion of the interview the President gave Andrew a set of Presidential cufflinks (blue back ground with gold Presidential seal). Unfortunately, the seal on one of the cufflinks fell off, which he subsequently was unable to locate. Would it be possible to obtain another set?

I know how proud and complimented Andrew felt to have received them and how grateful he would be if, on the President's behalf, I could deliver another pair.

Many thanks for your help.

Sincerely,
