Dear President Reagan:

Thank you for the pins. They are beautiful! The Statue of Liberty pins are especially nice. I have some older ones (about WWI Vintage) but the newer ones are much fancier.

I have some real nice (current?) pictures of you. There are two 1986 calendars all about you. One of them has beautiful pictures (each one nice enough to have framed) The other one has sayings and important dates in your life and pictures from movie days. They are both nice souvenirs.

I am enclosing a picture of my mother's summer project - a 21 foot street clock which now stands in the middle of the driveway. Every home should have one (we currently have two, plus a tower clock on top of the guest house!) Mother likes to build + get involved in unusual projects. This one has a little more work to be done, but it is up + running. Getting that for was a major undertaking in itself!

I am looking forward to the July 4th event. I will be in school this summer so I'll watch the festivities on T.V. I'm sure New York will be packed because the Statue of Liberty celebration should be something to see. I have always had a special feeling for the Statue of Liberty. I've never seen it but I've always been comforted knowing it's there, and it is and has been a great symbol of our country and everything we stand for. I'm sure the party that is planned will do it justice. I'm just glad you and Mrs. Reagan will be there. My V.C.R. and I will be ready!

Best wishes and thanks again.

Ann

MEMORANDUM FOR JIM ROSEBUSH

FROM: Christopher Hicks CH
SUBJECT: Senior Staff Christmas Gifts

Last year, the President and Mrs. Reagan gave Christmas gifts to the 17 Assistants to the President. This year, there are only nine Assistants (not counting Don Regan who will receive a gift as a member of the Cabinet). Because of the smaller number of Assistants, do you want to consider including the 15 Deputy Assistants to the President on the gift list?

MEMORANDUM FOR JIM ROSEBUSH

FROM: Chris Hicks
SUBJECT: Christmas Tree Ornament

Enclosed is a sample Christmas ornament. I'm not impressed, although the price is acceptable. The White House Historical Association is selling theirs for $7.50; too expensive for wide distribution. My feeling is, unless Jane and Vickers can quickly come up with a very unique, but inexpensive, ornament, that Christmas cards and prints are enough.

Having said that, however, a high quality ornament, such as the annual silver snowflake by Tiffany, may be appropriate for Senior Staff or First Lady staff.

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT C. MCFARLANE

FROM: Christopher Hicks CU

SUBJECT: Presidential Gifts

In the attached memorandum to Vickers Bryan of my staff, you asked for Presidential highball glasses and White House tote bags to use as gifts for members of your staff.

Our policy is that glasses and tote bags are not to be used as gifts to staff for the simple reason that we cannot afford to stock these items in numbers sufficient to give them to every staff member who wants one. These gifts are only given to staff upon their departure -- Presidential glasses for senior staff, and tote bags for support staff. For special occasions other than departure from the staff, such as a marriage or birth of a child, we try to have a special Presidential letter sent.

Less expensive items are available for more general distribution, including to staff, such as cufflinks, tie bars and stickpins. Please let me know if these would fulfill your purpose.

Thank you for your cooperation.

MEMORANDUM TO: ELAINE CRISPEN
FROM: CHRISTOPHER HICKS CH
SUBJECT: Gifts for Volunteers

Comments
This is in response to your memorandum of December 11 requesting a supply of gifts for Mrs. Reagan's Press Office to present to volunteer press advance people and other local volunteers on Mrs. Reagan's trips.

It is my understanding that "trip packs" containing an assortment of gifts normally given to local volunteers--cuff links, tie bars, stick pins and pens--are made available to the First Lady's Office for each of her trips. You may want to discuss this with Marty Coyne and let me know if the supply is insufficient.

The other items that you requested are not normally included in the trip packs. Their distribution is restricted and, therefore, handled on a case-by-case basis with Jim Rosebush's office. This system of funnelling requests for limited distribution items through the head of the office is used for all White House offices and seems to work well. I see no need to change this long-standing practice.

I do not mean to imply that I disagree with your assertion that volunteers deserve special recognition; of course they do. And if the current system does not accommodate this goal, I would be happy to discuss possible improvements with you, Jim, Lee and Marty.

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE

1985 DEC 11 PM 4:53 WASHINGTON

December 11, 1985

TO: CHRISTOPHER HICKS
FROM: ELAINE CRISPEN
SUBJECT: OFFICIAL WHITE HOUSE GIFTS

On our recent trip to Geneva, Switzerland, I was surprised to learn that Mrs. Reagan's Press Office does not have a supply of official White House gifts. We are in need of such gifts for the First Lady's press advance volunteers and for local volunteers who give so much of their personal time to insure that Mrs. Reagan's trips run smoothly. I would like to request for our office:

- ½ dozen White House canvas bags
- ½ dozen Nancy Reagan pen sets
- ½ dozen First Lady's mirrors
- ½ dozen crystal bud vases
- ½ dozen First Lady's scarfs
- ½ dozen Presidential cufflinks
- ½ dozen Presidential stickpins
- ½ dozen Presidential golf balls

It is most important to the success of future First Lady's trips that we extend special recognition and appreciation to our volunteers.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

TRIP PACKS

1210 Modified Trip Pack

4 stick pins x 18 = 72
10 cuff links x 18 = 180
11 tie bars x 18 = 198
15 RR ball pointpens (in cellophane) x 18 = 270

This is used by USSS and the Military Office.

1220 Advance Trip Pack

8 stick pins x 18 = 144
8 cuff links x 18 = 144
9 tie bars x 18 = 162
15 RR ball pointpens (in cellophane) x 18 = 270

This is used by the Advance Office.

1230 First Lady's Trip Pack

4 cuff links x 18 = 72
4 tie bars x 18
17 stick pins
20 NR ball pointpens (in gold boxes)

This is used by the First Lady's advance office and USSS trip when it is a First Lady event. They don't need trip packs when she accompanies the President on a trip.

Trip packs are usually given out for each stop on a domestic trip. The State Department handles international trips. The travel office will tell you exactly what they need for each trip.

MEMORANDUM FOR THOMAS C. DAWSON

FROM: Christopher Hicks CH

SUBJECT: Presidential Gifts

Comments

Mr. Regan's request for a pager and two tote bags for Nancy Fiester has been approved.

I want to comment, however, on the tote bag request. As you may know, the RNC provides limited funds to the President for gifts that he can give, or are given on his behalf by senior White House staff, to visitors and guests. The intent is not to use money contributed to the RNC to provide souvenirs to White House staff. Accordingly, long-standing policy is that Presidential gifts are given to staff only on special occasions such as departures, weddings and so forth.

I bring this to your attention because I believe it is particularly inappropriate for the employees of the Chief of Staff's office to be the exception to this rule. Such preferential treatment can only lead to criticism and resentment directed to the Chief of Staff and his immediate staff.

I hope you will convey to members of your office the reason for my reluctance to provide Presidential gifts to them. I will do so, of course, upon Mr. Regan's request, but I believe he, too, should know of the potential for criticism. If you would like, I will mention this to Mr. Regan.

Dear President Reagan:

I started to write to you Sunday night but I couldn't think of anything clever or witty to say. I finally gave up on being creative so I've decided to tell you straight out...I think you and Mrs. Reagan were wonderful Sunday!!

I am particularly fond of Mrs. Reagan's crusade against drugs, as I am now teaching 6th grade. (student teaching through Halloween, and then I get reassigned to another school + grade level) I realize what a grave problem this is and I am thankful that you are both so involved in this fight against drug abuse. I can see where the attention in the media has already paid off. I hear the kids talking about how "stupid" it is to use drugs. Drugs are all over + the kids aren't ignorant on how to get them or use them. I think it's time that they hear our side of the drug issue and not just the pushers side. Hooray for you both and hooray for our next generation of non-drug-users.

Thank you for calling mom when she got out of the hospital. It was so thoughtful of you and we really appreciate it. I am happy to report that she is feeling better now. Please give my best to Mrs. Reagan.

P.S. Thanks for the pins!

I love them!

Your friend in Fresno,

Ann L.
