Dear Don:

Enclosed are copies of two letters we have sent to
The President and to Ambassador Rabb in Italy for your information.

If the decision is made to maintain a General Consulate in Genoa for the next six years, we will continue to progress towards developing a hallmark of events in 1992.

On behalf of the people of Columbus, we encourage you to support the continuing services of this most important government office in Genoa.

Thank you for your consideration and best personal wishes to you always.

The President of the United States of America
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

During my recent visit to France representing The White House at the Private Sector Initiatives Conference, I was honored to meet the U. S. Ambassador to Italy, Maxwell M. Rabb. From my conversation with Ambassador Rabb, it is my understanding that consideration has been given to closing the doors and concluding the services of the Consulate General in Genoa, Italy, capital of the Ligurian Region.

We appreciate the necessary belt-tightening efforts the Secretary of State is accomplishing--Columbus is doing this, too. However, we are deeply concerned about the effect the absence of the Genoa Consulate will have on the long-term and most historical event of the Christopher Columbus Quincentenary Jubilee Celebration in 1992.

Columbus is proud to have a representative on your prestigious 1992 Jubilee Commission. One member, in particular, that we are quite honored to be serving with and has provided much assistance to the United States is the President of the Ligurian Region of Italy, Rinaldo Magnani.

Our progress in creating 1992 commemorations have been successful due to the organization, communication, and professional guidance this Consulate has given us thus far. However, we will continue to need its advice for the next six years.

Letter to The President
January 29, 1987

Our hopes in Columbus are to make the 1992 Celebration a world-wide attraction. We are striving to develop and expand business, academic, cultural and scientific exchanges for the betterment of both Central Ohio and the Genovese Province. As a result of our collaborative efforts, we want The White House to be proud of Columbus's accomplishments in developing this auspicious occasion in history for the people of The United States.

Therefore, we encourage you to keep the doors of the United States Consulate in Genoa, Italy open through 1992.

Best personal wishes for continued success.

Sincerely,

Dana G. Rinehart

Dear Ambassador Rabb:

Thank you for your letter dated December 2, 1986.

On behalf of all the people of Central Ohio, we are deeply concerned about the potential closing of the United States Consulate in Genoa--our Sister City.

As Columbus continues to strengthen its ties in Genoa with the business community, the University of Genoa and, of course, the local and state governments, we increase our need for the Consul's professional services. Our current cooperative efforts with the U. S. Consulate in Genoa are equally beneficial to the people of our mutual cities and we need their continued assistance to help us ensure this communication continues.

Columbus is proud to have one of its leading citizens--Mr. Eugene C. D'Angelo, Jr.--on President Reagan's Christopher Columbus Quincentenary Jubilee Commission. However, we are even more delighted to know that the President of the Ligurian Region of Italy, Rinaldo Magnani, is also a member of President Reagan's Commission and is a part of this cooperative effort in supporting the 1992 celebration with the United States.

Letter to Ambassador Rabb

With the leadership of United States and Italy engaging in this auspicious occasion, we are expanding academic, business, scientific and cultural ties between our respective communities. The people of Central Ohio are actively participating in all facets of the 1992 Celebration with the people of the Genovese Province. The recent Genovese demonstration in support of keeping the Consulate in Genoa is indicative of the concern we share in Columbus.

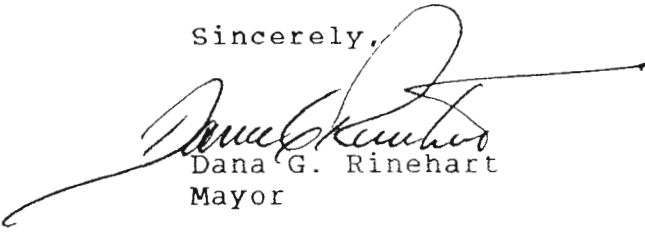

We realize the Secretary of State is facing budget cutbacks and a tightening of the belt is necessary. However, we encourage the State Department to re-examine the goals of the Quincentenary Commission as set forth by President Reagan and retain the Consulate of the United States in Genoa.

If we can be of further assistance to you in your efforts to maintain the Consulate in Genoa, please do not hesitate to contact me.

As you plan your itinerary for the year, we would be honored to have you and Mrs. Rabb visit Columbus. We are an exciting City with a great future and the people to make it happen. Therefore, we hope your schedule will permit you to come to the "heartland of the Midwest."

In the meantime, best personal wishes to you always for continued success.

Sincerely,

Dana G. Rinehart

Dear Mayor Rinehart:

Just a brief line to let you know how much I enjoyed having the chance to visit with you during the Private Sector Conference in Paris. I thought your remarks were very much to the point and presented with vigor and enthusiasm. I also appreciate your desire to make certain that Columbus Day is properly celebrated in not only the United States but in Italy as well. I only hope there is a Consulate still in existence when the anniversary date of Columbus's discovery takes place in 1992.

It would be good to see you again one of these days. I hope it is in Rome.

With warm regard,

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. FRANK C. CARLUCCI
 THE WHITE HOUSE

SUBJECT: Appointment Request: Italian Prime Minister Fanfani

Amintore Fanfani, Prime Minister of Italy, has requested a meeting with the President either Monday, May 4 or Tuesday, May 5 to finalize preparations for the Venice Summit. He hopes to visit Ottawa, Washington, and Tokyo during the first week of May and to confer also with the other European Summit leaders.

Fanfani, an experienced, respected Italian politician, will be in charge of the Italian government at the time of the President's state visit to Rome and will chair the Economic Summit this June. He will then lead the country until elections, possibly June 14, and the formation of a new government.

We have important objectives at the Venice Summit concerning agriculture, international monetary and trade policy, East-West relations and arms control, terrorism, and South Africa. We do not yet have agreement to all of our major initiatives. Fanfani wants to take a leadership role at the Summit and we believe he will be responsive to our goals. The Department of State strongly endorses this request for an appointment with the President in the interest of a successful Summit.
