THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

July 28, 1986

Dear Mr. Boyd:

Thank you for your letter to the President of May 6, 1986, which was recently referred to this office for response. The President appreciates your past support for important Administration initiatives and is grateful to you for expressing your views on H.R. 4332, the McClure-Volkmer gun control legislation.

As you know, the President approved this legislation only after significant amendments were made to accommodate some of the important law enforcement considerations your letter raises, such as the additional restrictions on interstate travel with firearms, licensing requirements for certain not-for-profit sales of firearms, and record keeping requirements for sales from dealer collections.

Sincerely,

March 14, 1986 (House Rules)

H.R. 4332 - Federal Firearms Law Reform Act of 1986 (Hughes (D) New Jersey and 7 others)

The Administration supports enactment of S. 49, as passed by the Senate, in lieu of H.R. 4332.

(Not to be Distributed Outside Executive Office of the President)

The Legislative Reference Division prepared this draft Statement of Administration Policy in consultation with the Department the Treasury (Stevenson, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Enforcement) and HTP (Hunn). It is consistent with a Statement of Administration Policy in support of S. 49 that was transmitted to the Senate in June 1985. The Administration's support for the specifics of S. 49, which has passed the Senate, is the result of a series of meetings and consultations conducted by OPD (Mike Uhlmann) during the 98th Congress with Treasury, Justice, and interested groups. H.R. 4332 is the Hughes/Rodino alternative to S. 49. S. 49 is pending before the House Judiciary Committee and is the subject of a discharge petition that, as of March 14th, has all of the 218 signatures needed to bring the bill to the House floor.

Attorney General Meese was quoted in the Washington Post of March 13th as saying that the Hughes bill is "the kind of bill that I certainly would feel comfortable with;" however, he also was quoted as stating that "I can live with S. 49 and the administration does support it. I feel it would be a better bill if it were amended to take care of two or three features." Notwithstanding these statements, the Justice Department (Bolton, Assistant Attorney General, Legislative Affairs) advises that it defers to Treasury on H.R. 4332.

H.R. 4332, as ordered reported by the House Judiciary Committee, is not available for review. According to minority committee staff (Heydinger), however, the bill resembles S. 49 in some respects but differs in others. Key provisions of H.R. 4332 are outlined below.

Interstate Sales. Current law prohibits interstate sales of firearms. The bill would permit interstate sales of rifles and shotguns, while continuing to prohibit interstate sales of handguns. (S. 49 would permit interstate sales of handguns, as well.)

Record Checks for Criminal Convictions. Gun dealers would be required to notify local law enforcement authorities and the FBI when a handgun sale takes place. The FBI would be required to examine its records to determine if the purchaser is prohibited from owning a gun (e.g., if he or she is a fugitive from justice). According to Treasury, CBO estimates that this requirement -- which has no counterpart in S. 49 -- could cost the Government up to $35 million per year in additional processing costs.

Inspections. The bill would limit Treasury's authority to conduct unannounced, warrantless inspections of dealers' firearms inventories. Present law permits unannounced, warrantless inspections at all reasonable times. H.R. 4332 would generally permit three unannounced inspections in any 18-month period. S. 49, by contrast, would require a warrant before undertaking an inspection, except in certain limited situations (e.g., during a criminal investigation).

Miscellaneous Provisions. H.R. 4332 resembles S. 49 by: allowing a person to cross State lines with an unloaded, inaccessible rifle; easing recordkeeping requirements for dealers; prohibiting the importation of firearms barrels; and permitting dealers to make sales at gun shows. Provisions of H.R. 4332 not included in S. 49 would: prohibit the sale or possession of silencers; permit Treasury to suspend, rather than revoke, a dealer's license for violations of the Gun Control Act, as current law requires; and increase the penalties available for using a machinegun in the commission of a crime.

Procedural Safeguards. A notable provision of S. 49 not addressed in H.R. 4332 would establish a number of procedural safeguards against improper seizure or detention of seized property. For example, upon acquittal of an owner or possessor of seized firearms, the firearms would have to be returned promptly.

Attorneys Fees. S. 49, but not H.R. 4332, would permit a court in any proceeding under the Gun Control Act to award a prevailing party, other than the United States, a reasonable attorney's fee, if the court finds that the action was without foundation, frivolous, or in bad faith.

Ms. Helen Raiser

Violence
Post Office Box 5395
San Mateo, California 94402

Dear Ms. Raiser:

This is in response to your letter to President Reagan in which you expressed concern on behalf of Californians Against Handgun Violence about the easy availability of handguns and assault weapons. You asked the Administration to support efforts to keep these weapons out of the wrong hands.

Many federal laws controlling certain aspects of the sale and possession of firearms are currently in effect, and we can assure you and your organization that these laws are vigorously enforced by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and by the United States Attorneys in each federal judicial district. This Administration does not favor placing restrictions on the rights of law-abiding citizens in their legitimate use of firearms, although it does favor keeping firearms out of the hands of criminals and imposing severe penalties on the criminal use of firearms.

As part of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984, new laws were enacted which ensure the imposition of a mandatory penalty without the possibility of probation or parole for any person who uses a firearm to commit a federal crime, or who carries a firearm while perpetrating a violent federal crime. These special mandatory penalties were extended earlier this year by Public Law No. 99-308 to apply to persons convicted of using or carrying a firearm in the course of drug trafficking crimes. The 1984 Act also provided for enhanced penalties in the case of a second or subsequent conviction and, under Public Law No. 99-308, these enhanced penalties were made even greater in the case of violent crimes or drug trafficking offenses which are committed by a person who uses or carries a machine gun or firearm equipped with a silencer. Any mandatory sentence or

cc: Records

General Litigation

Kahn OLA

Executive Secretariat Toensing

Trott Toensing

enhanced penalty imposed under these provisions is required by the 1984 Act to run consecutively to the sentence for the underlying offense. Further restrictions were also imposed on the transfer of automatic weapons by Public Law No. 99-308.

In addition, the Armed Career Criminal Act, which was enacted as part of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 provides for a mandatory imprisonment term of at least fifteen years, and a fine of up to $25,000, for a person who is convicted of receiving, possessing, or transporting a firearm if such person has three prior state or federal convictions for robbery and/or burglary. The purpose of this law is to deter serious, repeat offenders from committing further crimes.

The Administration believes that these enhanced and mandatory penalties will help deter the illegal use of firearms and reduce the number of occasions in which they will be used in committing crimes. You may be sure that any additional proposals dealing with gun control introduced in the current Congress will receive our serious consideration.

Thank you for the interest and concern which prompted you to write.

Sincerely,

STEPHEN S. TROTT Assistant Attorney General Criminal Division

Why Oakland Streets Yield A Growing Stock of Weapons

By Clarence Johnson

A deadly urban arms race is growing in Oakland, where police are confiscating more and more advanced weapons from criminals and fearful citizens alike.

Oakland police seized more than 2100 guns in 1985 during criminal investigations. For the same period, police in San Francisco and San Jose — cities with twice Oakland's population — each took half as many guns.

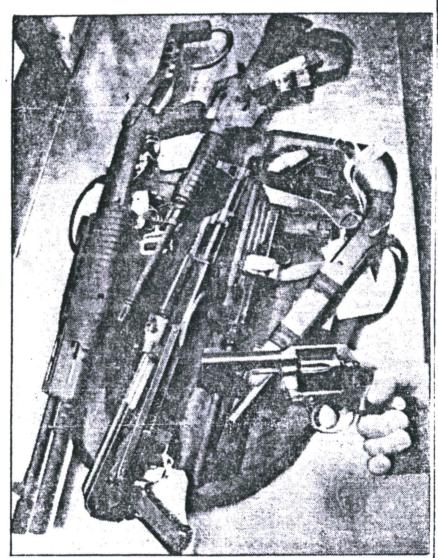

Many of the confiscated weapons were cheap, .22-caliber "Saturday Night Special" pistols. There were also expensive, advanced paramilitary assault rifles, grenades, dynamite and even a ballistic knife that shoots a blade 20 feet.

The Israeli-made Uzi is a particularly popular model. The short, 9mm semiautomatic rifle retails for about $600. It can fire more than 30 rounds a minute and is powerful enough to penetrate concrete.

Unlike some weapons ostensibly designed for sport, the Uzi is purely "for killing people," Alameda County Superior Court Judge Robert Byers said last week, as hesentenced a man who used the gun to murder a suspected drug dealer and wound two bystanders on an Oakland street corner last year.

"Our feeling is that some of the weapons, especially the Uzi, are not appropriate for target shooting or hunting," said Oakland police Sergeant Harry Vaughn. "All they are made for is shooting people. It's hard to understand why there can't be some kind of controls placed on those kinds of weapons."

There is a 14-day waiting period for the purchase of a pistol. If a person has the cash and is at least 18 years old, however, the Uzi and other assault-type shoulder guns can be bought like a shotgun or hunting rifle — within minutes.

Police blame battles over drugs, fears for personal safety and "Rambo" Hollywood hype for creating the gun mania that is making their work more dangerous. Behavioral experts say the fascination with chic but deadly firearms also deepens the atmosphere of violence.

"There has been a phenomenal

"There has been a phenomenal increase in gun ownership and stranger-to-stranger homicides," said Troy Duster, sociology professor at the University of California at Berkeley. "If you have a population that is heavily armed, they will use the guns."

Criminals — most notably drug dealers — use the sophisticated weapons against each other, said Oakland police Sergeant Bob Scurria, pointing to the city's rash of drive-by shootings. However, lately more and more police are also staring down the menacing muzzles.

Scurria, who supervises the impounded weapons, said movies like "Rambo" and "Cobra" glorify guns and killing.

"It is not so much the crime that is increasing the number of weapons on the streets as it is the hype — the Rambo thing," said Scurria. "There are a lot cranks and nuts out there who have these assault rifles whether they need them or not. It seems to be a status symbol to see how much firepower they can muster."

Gun shop owner Tony Cucchiara, who does a brisk business in semiautomatic weaponry in the East Bay, agrees there is a "definite" connection between violent films and gun sales.

"Anytime you have one of those movies, we can count on sales going up," Cucchiara said. "One perfect example is the Dirty Harry (Clint Eastwood) movies. Before that we hardly sold any .44 Magnums. It does stimulate a lot of buying. During the 'Rambo' movies, we sold more than ever."

Cucchiara said his shop sells at least one Uzi a day.

Sergeant Vaughn said the new firepower has changed police policy. Bulletproof vests — once optional and rarely worn — have now become standard police attire.

"It used to be you pop a drug dealer and he'd have a handgun," said Scurria. "But now he has an Uzi or a semiautomatic rifle with a capacity of 40 rounds. The officer confronting him has but six shots in his revolver."

Oakland, which had 114 homicides last year, is the Bay Area's perennial leader in murders.

Although many of the confiscated weapons are involved in crimes, Cucchiara and other gun proponents insist they are primarily purchased for self-defense.

Duster said other factors are involved.

"There's been an increase... in the kind of meanness we face," Duster said. "And the meanness at the bottom (of society) is a reflection of the image at the top. We've even got President Reagan saying things like, 'Go ahead, make my day.' He's implying that violence is OK. And that takes on deadly significance if guns are put into the equation."

August 15, 1986

Mr. William L. Ball III Assistant to the President for Legislative Affairs The White House Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Will:

On Wednesday, August 13, 1986, the Senate and the House concurred in historic legislation that would virtually ban the sale of armor-piercing bullets. μ , R, 3132

As you may know, law enforcement officials have worked very hard for this measure to limit the availability of the "cop-killer bullets" that are capable of penetrating bullet-proof vests and other protective gear used by officers.

This legislation has found strong bipartisan support in both the 98th and 99th Congresses and is the product of extensive work on the part of the administration, members of the Committee on the Judiciary, the Senate, the House, and other interested parties.

The Senate approved this measure in March by an overwhelming majority of 97-1, and this week, both Houses of Congress took final action on the measure.

On behalf of those men and women who risk their lives daily in the line of duty, I would like to request that a special signing ceremony be arranged to include, not only the key legislators in the process, but representatives of law enforcement associations as well.

For your convenience, you may contact Ms. Holly Johnston in my office (224-5972) once you have reviewed this request.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. With kindest regards and best wishes,

Strom

President Ronald Reagan The White House Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Reagan:

You more than any other president in recent American history have demonstrated your acute awareness of, and interest in, the various problems facing America's hundreds of thousands of law-abiding gun owners.

Gun owners have been successful in protecting their rights through the political system, but a serious problem -- not readily subject to popular redress -- exists with what can best be characterized as anti-gun state and federal judges.

An unusually high number of gun-rights related cases are currently pending in the federal court system. On behalf of gun owners across the country, we urge you strongly to consider the views expressed by potential appointees on this vital constitutional right, before submitting any appointee to the Senate for confirmation.

As only a partial expression of the substantial concern expressed by law-abiding gun owners on this issue, you will be receiving under separate cover tens of thousands of petitions urging your consideration of pro-gun appointees to the federal bench who will support the right to keep and bear arms.

Very truly yours,

an M. Hotthil

Donald K. Fisher
County Commissioner
2208 East Highway 190
Suite 8
Copperas Cove, Texas 76522

Dear Mr. Fisher:

This letter is in response to your inquiry addressed to the President regarding assertions made by the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms in an "Action Alert."

In that publication, that organization made many allegations against the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF). The major accusation was that ATF is using a computer in San Diego to accumulate information on gun owners and/or gun ownership in the United States. In this letter, we will attempt to answer each of the charges.

First, there is a computer in San Diego. It is the Treasury Enforcement Communication System (TECS), a computerized communication network managed by U.S. Customs Service and utilized by Customs, the Internal Revenue Service, ATF, and other Federal agencies as a data communications system. The computer is used by ATF as its primary law enforcement index relating to suspects, victims, wanted persons, stolen property, and other information, which ATF is required to maintain in index form. The system is, in effect, a large automated card file for locating information needed by ATF to perform its enforcement functions and to comply with other requirements, such as the Freedom of Information Act. TECS is not a secret system. Neither ATF nor the Department of the Treasury has made any effort to conceal its use from the public or Congress.

Having discussed TECS and its functions, we will now address the main assertions about TECS made by the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms and ATF's responses to those assertions.

Assertion

". . . The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) is secretly computerizing information on who owns guns and where these guns are located . . . "

Mr. Donald K. Fisher

Response

ATF is not compiling information about lawful gun owners and legal firearms locations. However, ATF does use TECS to accomplish the Bureau's law enforcement mission.

When ATF special agents are engaged in a criminal investigation of a specific individual for violations of firearms statutes, such as unlawful interstate or international traffickers, convicted felons, etc., that person's name is entered in TECS. Also, in some instances, firearms unlawfully purchased by the subject of the investigation are entered into TECS in an effort to facilitate apprehension of the suspect and location of the firearms.

During their criminal investigations, ATF special agents also recover a substantial number of stolen firearms. ATF uses TECS to inventory those recovered stolen firearms as well as all other firearms in ATF's custody. When a recovered stolen firearm is returned to its owner, that firearm is removed from the inventory with the notation on the computer record that the gun was returned to its lawful owner.

In addition to its firearm inventory, ATF also enters firearms stolen from interstate shipments and some large commercial firearms thefts into TECs and FBI's NCIC computer in an effort to combat interstate trafficking in stolen firearms to locate the traffickers and to recover the firearms.

Assertion

". . . Firearms dealers that go out-of-business must turn over their records (to ATF). . . "

Response

When firearms dealers go out-of-business they turn over their records to the new owner, if there is one, or turn them in to ATF if there is no successor. Those turned in to ATF are not placed in the TECS computer, but filed at the Out-of-Business Records Center.

These "out-of-business" records are used, when necessary, in tracing firearms used in crime. These firearms traces are initiated in response to requests from Federal, State, and local law enforcement agencies. Mr. Donald K. Fisher

Assertion

". . . BATF can get (its) hands on concealded (SIC) weapon permit holders, hunting license holders and other records from State and local governments . . . "

Response

ATF, like many other Federal law enforcement agencies, has access to various State and local records. However, ATF does not now, and has never kept track of concealed weapons permits, hunting licenses, or those who apply for or obtain them.

In summary, TECS is for ATF what a master index is for any law enforcement agency; a means of locating complete files and records on subjects or items of investigative interest. TECS is not secret, and has nothing to do with firearms registration.

We hope this has been responsive to your inquiry. If we can be of further assistance, please contact us.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President,

I have attached for your information a copy of an Action Alert, which I have received from the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms.

If this in fact is true, of what the BATF is in the process of doing by using special budget funds from the Treasury Department for the concealed registration of firearms, I find this very alarming that such an act transpired during your administration. I can of course believe that something like this would have taken place under the Kennedy administration, or the Carter administration.

I would respectfully request Sir, that you would refer this to the Treasury Department, that I receive a response from them in reference to this correspondence. In addition to that, that it be publically stated if they have in fact started a program of this type. If so, do you plan to stop it?

Sincerely, your obedient servant,

Donald K. Fisher

Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms 12500 N.E. Tenth Place • Bellevue, WA 98005

DEAR FELLOW ACTIVIST,

YOU MUST RESPOND NOW. NEXT MONTH COULD BE TOO LATE.

BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO AND FIREARMS (BATF) IS SECRETLY COMPUTER-IZING INFORMATION ON WHO OWNS GUNS AND WHERE THESE GUNS ARE LOCATED.

IT IS BEING DONE ON A COMPUTER IN SAN DIEGO THAT IS TIED IN WITH TERMINALS IN BATF OFFICES ALL ACROSS NATION.

THIS SECRET OPERATION HAS BEEN HIDDEN IN BUDGET OF TREASURY DE-PARTMENT WHICH BATE IS PART OF.

IT WAS DISCOVERED BECAUSE A FORMER TREASURY DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEE CONCERNED ABOUT BATF ATTACK ON YOUR GUN RIGHTS BLEW THE WHISTLE.

THIS IS ALL BEING DONE BEHIND OUR BACKS.

YOU AND YOUR GUNS COULD ALREADY BE REGISTERED ON THEIR COMPUTER.
YOU COULD BE ONE OF THE FIRST VISITED BY BATF AGENTS TO CONFISCATE GUNS IF NEW ANTI-GUN LAWS ARE PASSED.

WE MUST ACT TOGETHER NOW AND STOP THIS SCHEME DEAD IN ITS TRACKS. TOMORROW COULD BE TO LATE.

BATF IS GETTING INFORMATION ON GUNOWNERS BY MISUSING INFORMATION MADE AVAILABLE BY CURRENT GUN LAWS.

IN ADDITION, FIREARMS DEALERS THAT GO OUT OF BUSSINESS MUST TURN OVER THEIR RECORDS AND WHEN BATF SPOT CHECKS CURRENT DEALERS THEY OFTEN COPY RECORDS.

ALSO BATF CAN GET HANDS ON CONCEALDED WEAPON PERMIT HOLDERS, HUNTING LICENSE HOLDERS AND OTHER RECORDS FROM STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.

SO YOU CAN SEE HOW DANGEROUS THIS SNEAKY BATF NATIONAL COMPUTERIZED GUN REGISTRATION SCHEME IS TO OUR GUN RIGHTS.

AND ONCE ALL GUNS AND GUN OWNERS ARE REGISTERED IN THIS MASSIVE NATIONAL COMPUTER SYSTEM YOU CAN BET IT WILL TAKE NO TIME AT ALL

* . . .

GUN CONFISCATION BECOMES MORE OF A REALITY EVERYDAY. THAT IS WHY WE MUST ACT NOW.

WE MUST FORCE THE BATF TO ERASE ALL RECORDS OF GUN OWNERS IN ITS COMPUTER AND STOP COLLECTING MORE INFORMATION IN THE FUTURE.

BUT I MUST WARN YOU THAT TO DO THIS WILL COST MONEY THE CITIZENS COMMITTEE FOR THE RIGHT TO KEEP AND BEAR ARMS DOES NOT HAVE.

OUR SUCCESS IS UP TO YOU. I MUST KNOW WHAT LEVEL OF SUPPORT YOU CAN GIVE TO THIS BATTLE AT THIS TIME.

IF WE GEAR UP THIS NATIONAL ACTION PROJECT WITHOUT THE NEEDED FUNDS TO SUPPORT IT - - WE WILL FALL ON OUR FACES AND THE GUN GRABBERS WILL TAKE IT AS A SIGN OF WEAKNESS ON OUR PART AND STEP UP THEIR ANTI-GUN ACTIVITY.

YOUR CONTRIBUTION OF $15, $25, $50 OR EVEN $100 IS NEEDED AT THIS TIME. IF YOU CAN SEND MORE OR MUST SEND LESS - SEND WHATEVER YOU CAN - IT IS VITAL TO STOPPING THE BATF.

WE HAVE A GREAT GAME PLAN TO STOP BATF. BUT I MUST KEEP IT A SECRET AT THIS TIME. I KNOW YOU UNDERSTAND WHY.

I WILL LET YOU KNOW OUR PLAN TO STOP BATF JUST AS SOON AS I CAN.

SO PLEASE DO NOT PUT THIS ACTION ALERT ASIDE. I AM COUNTING ON YOU AND A DEDICATED HANDFULL OF OTHERS.

SINCERELY YOURS,

ALAN M. GOTTLIEB

CHAIRMAN

P.S. WITHOUT YOUR HELP I AM AFRAID TO PROCEED. PLEASE LET ME KNOW
IF YOU CAN HELP AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. THANK YOU.

The C-5 has a payload capability of about 261,000 lbs.

With the all the missiles alleged, the C-5 analogy still has an easy 100,000 lbs left over for spark plugs and toilet paper. The C-5 is a very big airplane...

Dear Mr. Pratt:

In response to your recent letter, you are no doubt aware that the President has now nominated Judge Anthony Kennedy to fill the current vacancy on the Supreme Court.

During Judge Kennedy's 12 years on the United States Court of Appeals, he participated in over 1400 decisions and authored over 400 opinions. His work has played a major role in keeping our cities and neighborhoods safe from crime. He'll be an excellent Justice, and I hope you'll join us in supporting his nomination.

On your second point, I can assure you that the Administration has no interest at all in supporting the reelection efforts of Howard Metzenbaum. Attorney General Meese has, however, met with representatives of major law enforcement associations who support some type of legislation in this area. At the moment, we are still studying our position and do appreciate your input.

Thank you again for writing.

The Honorable Howard Baker The White House Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Baker:

There are two matters that are before the administration that are of concern to gun owners.

- 1. Reports that the administration is considering putting in a bill on plastic guns would help Sen. Howard Metzenbaum in the year he will be seeking reelection, but it would be contrary to the President's oft-repeated opposition to gun control.
- 2. The name of Laurence Silberman has been circulated as a potential Supreme Court nominee. Mr. Silberman took a strong position in favor of gun control when he testified before Senator Edward Kennedy in 1974.

Should either one of these matters come to pass, the confidence of gun owners in the President, and in Republicans in general, would be seriously undermined.

I hope that you will assure me that there is no truth to either of these reports.

Sincerely,

Lawrence D. Pratt Executive Director
