MARCH TO SEEK NEW NATIONAL AGENDA

Twenty years after Martin Luther King aroused a crowd and a nation with his "I Have a Dream" speech for racial equality, tens of thousands of people will march again this Saturday in a commemorative gathering intended to protect past gains and stir up support for new objectives not then envisioned by most civil rights crusaders. (Karlyn Barker, Washington Post, A1)

King Memorial March Needs More Cash

Organizers of Saturday's march are trying to raise money to pay for such necessities as a sound system and portable toilets. (Thomas Ferraro, UPI)

BELL PREDICTS REVOLUTION TO HALT 'RISING MEDIOCRITY' IN SCHOOLS

Stating there are "millions of frustrated parents who want better schooling for their children," Secretary Bell predicted a revolution which will halt the "rising tide of mediocrity" in the nation's schools.

(Ron Cordray, Washington Times, A3)

Bell, speaking at a press club luncheon, said that in recent years academic achievement had sunk, teachers had gone without proper incentives and rewards, parental involvement in the schools had deteriorated and the states had failed to respond to the need for change. (New York Times, A4)

Backers of Tuition Credits Cry for Action

An organization backing tuition tax credit legislation has demanded a meeting with President Reagan before Sept. 15 to find out what he really means to do to support their goals. Citing failures by one Presidential aide after another to live up to White House commitments, the National Coalition for Tuition Tax Credits told the President, "We have reached a point where we are unsure of the sincerity for final passage of this bill on the part of White House staff and congressional sponsors selected by the White House."

(Edmond Jacoby, Washington Times, A4)

'POLITICAL CONSENSUS' ELUDES RUCKELSHAUS

Three months into the job, William Ruckelshaus says he is finding the task of running the EPA a lot tougher than it used to be. "The difficulty is in getting a general political consensus of what we mean by cleaning up," Ruckelshaus said in an informal discussion with reporters. "...At some point the nation has to make a judgment about that: how clean is clean?"

(Cass Peterson, Washington Post, A15)

SOCIAL PROGRAMS CUT 7 PERCENT IN THREE YEARS

President Reagan and Congress slashed federal spending for social and welfare programs 7 percent in the past three years, with the largest cuts hitting households with annual incomes less than $10,000, the Congressional Budget Office said.

(Robert MacKay, UPI)

SENIOR STAFF MEETING ACTION ITEMS (09/13/83)

ITEM	ACTION
1. Today's Schedule : A photo opportunity will be held during Dan Evans' photograph with the President. A photo opportunity will also be held during the meeting with PM Mugabe and during the meeting with Hispanic educators (the latter is for wire services only).	Speakes
2. Lebanon : Guidance on this is unchanged.	Speakes
3. Legislative Calendar : The Senate will take up Radio Marti this morning. Judge Clark has spoken with Howard Baker on this subject and, while we prefer our original proposal, it now appears that Radio Marti will be included within VOA, though with a separate charter. The Senate will also try to finish work today on the defense authorization conference report. In addition, Secretary Shultz will brief the Senate today regarding Lebanon and the Korean airline tragedy.	Duberstein
The major action in the House today will be the Addabbo subcommittee's resumption of work on defense measures; in this regard, the MX will likely be voted on today or tomorrow.
4. Korean Airline Tragedy : An amendment proposed by Symms and Helms could delay action on a congressional resolution to condemn the Soviet action. The amendment, which calls for a series of actions not endorsed by the President, will be discussed with its sponsors.	Duberstein
5. Early Crop Announcement Legislation : When this bill was vetoed by the President, USDA stated that they would devise an alternative method for informing the Congress. This has not yet been done, and unless accomplished quickly, we could lose an override vote in the House.	Duberstein Fuller Wright
6. Chicago School Desegregation Ruling : The 7th Circuit has agreed with a lower court ruling requiring federal funds to pay the cost of desegregating Chicago schools. We are checking further on this decision. The House has scheduled a vote for September 21 to attempt to override the President's veto of legislation that would implement the lower court ruling.	Fuller Fielding Duberstein
7. Cabinet Meeting : Today's meeting will include briefings by both Secretary Shultz and Secretary Block. No decisions are scheduled.	Fuller
8. Speech to the UN : A draft of the President's speech, suggested by NSC and State, is going to the speechwriting staff tomorrow.	Gergen Clark
9. Los Angeles Olympics : Congressional testimony is set for 10:15 today in closed session regarding security aspects of next year's Olympic Games.	Wright
10. Export-Import Bank Reauthorization : OMB plans to forward to the Hill a statement opposing the reauthorization bill proposed by Sen. Heinz. Present authority for the agency expires on September 30.	Wright
11. Possibility of a Longshoremen's Strike : The possibility exists that the longshoremen might call a strike in the near future. One reason is that the Federal Maritime Commission decided to seek an injunction against enforcement of the "50 mile container rule" at the same time the union was negotiating its current contract.	Fuller
12. Advance Retail Sales : This figure will be released at 2:30 today.	Feldstein

B. Items with the President

1. Ed Rollins needs to know if, in light of announcement of a primary in Washington state, we are still backing Dan Evans for the Senate. He says Howard Baker and Dick Lugar are sticking with their support. (Rollins does not want President to do anything-- he simply needs to know if he can continue to say that RR has made an exception and is backing Evans.) Above is per Margaret-- she would like to get an answer to Rollins this morning.

What's the party going to do - if it's hands off - that's our position. When we need the win there was no primary.
