RE: Questions about First Lady's favorite childhood
book, author, or tale (from one child)

THE WHITE HOUSE

January 21, 1986

Dear VnameV:

Thank you very much for writing to me, and asking about the books I enjoyed most as a child.

I have always loved to read, and remember reading so many good books as a child. Although it is hard for me to name a favorite, I would like to share with you the following thought: if you enjoy reading, you will never be alone, for you will always have a book as a friend.

Reading can do so much to enrich our lives. Books provide hours of entertainment and open windows into many cultures so different from our own. They can help us to understand other people and cultures and,
as a result, help us to understand ourselves better too! I hope you continue to read throughout your life.

With my very best wishes,

Sincerely,

(1/16/86)

Maureen:

Here are the NR-10's we discussed on the phone. Could you change the NR-10 to be singular, and then the NR-10A can be plural as the ltr reads now... (as we discussed).

(I'm enclosing the ltr that needs to be re-done)
Thanks!!! Linda
