MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT C. MCFARLANE

FROM: DAVID N. LAUX DL

SUBJECT: Talking Points for Your Use in NSC Meeting on China, January 5, 1984

An agenda for the NSC Meeting on China is at Tab A. Your talking points for this meeting, as opposed to the Special Briefing held just before it, are quite brief, since you will basically be running the meeting rather than doing any of the briefing. Talking Points are at Tab B.

Gaston Sigur ^{CS} concurs.

NSC Meeting on China
January 5, 1984

Talking Points for Robert C. McFarlane

INTRODUCTION

- The purpose of this meeting is to review the state of U.S.-Chinese relations for the President in preparation for the visit of the Chinese Premier--and to discuss the broad issues which may arise, either at the Chinese initiative or ours, during his stay. We have a number of issues to discuss, with a number of speakers, but only a very short time available (45 minutes) so I'm going to be fairly strict in holding the speakers to the time allotted.

- Let's begin with a broad overview of our relations by Secretary Shultz.

(Introduce Other Speakers as Appropriate)

DISCUSSION - (Agenda Item #10)

(If the following subjects have not been covered by Secretary Shultz or other by this point, we recommend that you raise the following subjects.)

- President's Trip to China. The Chinese Ambassador has conveyed to us the Chinese hope that we can settle, during the Premier's visit, the exact dates of the President's trip to China which, so far, we have only said would be during the last two weeks of April 1984. If we can set these, it would enable us to announce the dates publicly in the President's remarks upon the departure of Premier Zhao from Washington, which would add to the results of his visit.

- Signing Ceremony. The Chinese have indicated that they would like a "signing ceremony" for two agreements, preferably just before the "Cabinet" breakfast, Thursday morning, January 12, preceding Zhao's departure from Washington for San Francisco. They would like the renewal of the Science and Technology Agreement to be signed by Jay Keyworth and his Chinese counterpart, in the presence of the President and the Chinese Premier.

The Chinese would like the new Agreement on Industrial Cooperation, negotiated by the Department of Commerce, to be signed by the President and the Premier personally. This agreement will symbolize the importance of our growing trade, and industrial and commercial cooperation, to which the Chinese Premier is personally dedicated--and it will provide the framework for future cooperation in specific industrial sectors. The State Department has endorsed this Chinese request and we also think it is a good idea.

- Nuclear Cooperation Agreement. The Chinese hope that, during the Premier's visit, we can resolve our remaining problems standing in the way of a Nuclear Cooperation Agreement. This would enable us to announce, either at the signing ceremony for the other two agreements, or in the President's remarks on the Premier's departure from Washington, that we have reached agreement on this important accord, which we have been negotiating for well over two years.

CONCLUSION

- This concludes our review of the broad issues in the U.S.-Chinese relationship. We will be disseminating to you (before Tuesday) a short NSDD, spelling out the conclusions of this meeting and providing the policy guidance that all of you will need to keep in mind during your own meetings with the Chinese Premier or members of his delegation.

- Mr. President, there will be one more briefing for you--from 9:30 to 10:00 A.M. Tuesday, January 10--just prior to the welcoming ceremony for Premier Zhao. That meeting will be led by Secretary Shultz and will cover the protocol and procedural aspects of dealing with the Premier, and any last minute details you need to hear.

- Thank you all.

I. PURPOSE

To review U.S.-Chinese relations in preparation for the State Visit of Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang, January 10-12, 1984.

II. BACKGROUND

This is the first opportunity since the NSC Meeting of September 20, 1983, to focus on the overall context of U.S.-Chinese relations. We need to review what our own objectives are for this relationship, and what our specific goals are for the Zhao visit. We need to address the triangular aspect of U.S.-Chinese-Soviet relations, and the political, military, technology-transfer and economic aspects of U.S.-Chinese relations so that a consensus exists for dealing with the Premier, who will be seeing several Cabinet Officers during his visit here.

We may also wish to address briefly the main objectives of your trip to China in April.

The meetings are divided into two parts: a) a Special Briefing in the Situation Room to discuss the sensitive issues; and b) an NSC Meeting in the Cabinet Room to discuss the broad range of issues. The Agenda for the Special Briefing is attached at Tab A; the NSC Meeting Agenda is at Tab B.

III. PARTICIPANTS

To be provided

IV. PRESS PLAN

No press coverage or announcement of the subject of these meetings.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT C. MCFARLANE

FROM: DAVID N. LAUX DL

SIGNED

SUBJECT: Special Briefing and NSC Meeting,
Thursday, January 5, 1984

At Tab I is a memorandum from you to the President outlining the agendas for the special briefing and the NSC meeting on U.S.-Chinese Relations.

The purpose of these two meetings is to prepare for the visit of Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang by reviewing the issues that are likely to be discussed, and determining the approach we wish to take with the Premier. The special briefing (from 10:00 to 11:00 in the Situation Room) will cover the sensitive issues likely to come up between Zhao and the President in their one-on-one meeting and the four-on-four meeting in the Oval Office. The larger NSC meeting (from 11:00 to 11:45 in the Cabinet Room) is to review our overall relationship with China and the broad issues involved. A final briefing (scheduled for 9:30 to 10:00 on Tuesday, January 10) will deal with procedural and protocol matters.

The Agenda for the special briefing is at Tab A. The Agenda for the NSC meeting is at Tab B. The list of participants for both meetings is at Tab II. (Talking Points for you for both meetings will be provided.) The President will not need talking points for either meeting.

Gaston AG Sigur concurs.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you sign the memo to the President at Tab I.
