FYI

A Lou Harris ABC poll -- which will be released in two days -- shows that a majority oppose a tax cut by 53 to 43%. ~~Sept.~~ Sept. of 79 was favored by 51 to 41%.

The question, however, is a typical Louis Harris question:

"With the economy slowing down and unemployment going up it has been proposed that the federal government cut taxes to stimulate economic growth. Those opposed to a tax cut feel that such a cut would mean a big federal deficit that could result in even higher inflation. In general, would you favor or oppose a federal tax cut this year?"

The question as well as the the questions leading up to this question are just biased to make the person being surveyed think that tax cuts will be inflationary.

Folks at ABC News are laughing at the survey -- one commented "he couldn't elect Kennedy, so he's got to do something else."

As is well known, how you ask the question is everything in a survey.
