Dear Miss Cunningham:

Thank you for your letter following up on your conversation with Shirley Moore about the desire of Sutter Community Hospitals to make a presentation to Queen Elizabeth.

I have been glad to check about this presentation for you, but, most regrettably, must advise you the Queen's schedule when she comes to Sutter's Fort will not allow the presentation from Sutter Community Hospitals.

Please know that I was glad to have you get in touch with me about this, and that I send you my best wishes.

Sincerely,

YOSEMITE CA 95389

CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU AND BILL SITTMANN AND OTHER WHITE HOUSE STAFF ON REMARKABLE SUPERVISION OF QUEEN'S VISIT, UNDER NORMAL CIRCUMSTANCES AN OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT, BUT ESPECIALLY NOTEWORTHY WITH ALL OF THE CHANGES, IN VISITING WITH MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL PARTY, HOWEVER, MY FEELING IS THAT AS WITH A SUDDEN RAIN STORM ON A RANCHERO TREK, MOST OF THE UNPREDICTED CHANGES OF PLANS WERE TURNED INTO HAPPY EVENTS LIKE A RELAXED, ENJOYABLE EVENING AT TRADER DICK'S OR A SPECTACULAR AIR VIEW FROM AIR FORCE II AS THE BRITANNIA SAILS UNDER THE GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE IN BEAUTIFUL WEATHER, A PROBLEM CAN OFTEN TURN INTO AN OPPORTUNITY, AND THE QUEEN'S COMMENTS REGARDING DEYOUNG DINNER CERTAINLY REFLECTED THAT FAVORABLE REACTION.

THE QUEEN MENTIONED HER PLEASURE AT RECEIVING THE SUNSET BOOKS AND I GATHER OTHER MEMBERS OF HER PARTY HAVE AT LEAST HAD A CHANCE TO GLANCE AT THEM IN SPITE OF THEIR BUSY SCHEDULE.

JEAN WAS HONORED TO BE SITTING WITH YOU AND CAROLYN AT THE DINNER AND I WAS CERTAINLY PLEASED TO BE WITH URSULA MEESE AT HER TABLE.

WILL PERHAPS BE SEEING YOU ON THE BRITANNIA TONIGHT TO THANK YOU PERSONALLY, BUT WANTED YOU TO HAVE THIS MESSAGE DURING YOUR VISIT TO JOHN MUIR'S SIERRA TEMPLE WHICH MEANS SO MUCH TO BOTH OF US AND OUR FAMILIES. MY CHAIRMANSHIP OF THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON THE NATIONAL PARKS CENTENNIAL AND APPOINTMENT BY ROG MORTON TO THE SECRETARY OF INTERIOR'S ADVISORY BOARD ON NATIONAL PARKS AND VISITS AND CLOSE ASSOCIATION WITH YOSEMITE GOING BACK OVER HALF A CENTURY CERTAINLY HAS CONVINCED ME THAT IT IS A SYMBOL OF LEADERSHIP FOR SO MANY THINGS THAT STAND FOR THE VERY BEST VALUES OUR COUNTRY HAS TO OFFER FOR ALL OUR CITIZENS, FOR A QUEEN, AND ALL VISITORS FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

AGAIN, CONGRATULATIONS AND THANK YOU.

What a State the Queen Is In

By Fred Bruning
Newsday Staff Correspondent

San Francisco — So you have this little 56-year-old lady who favors nouveau frump when it comes to clothing and jewelry expensive enough to embarrass the Vatican and a manner of waving at people that suggests she is trying to rub them away — here Queen Elizabeth comes touring California, where, on an average day, there might be mudslides, guerrilla theater and Ronald Reagan dressed as the Lone Ranger.

It is a state in which there also can be a man reading — really reading — the society pages of the Los Angeles Times while steering south on the San Diego Freeway, and a bar that, each year, gives a prize to the person who does the canniest literary takeoff of Ernest Hemingway. Before the judges make their decisions, it is considered essential that they get pickled, such is the quality of the competition. This also is the place where a guest can ask the hotel clerk how far one city is from another and get an answer that goes generally like this: "Oh, wow, I don't know for sure, but I make it in two hours, because my boyfriend, like, drives really fast."

Food? Don't mention food. Sure, Queen Elizabeth and His Husbandness Prince Philip have had a slurp of double pheasant consommé here and a taste of toasted coconut snowball there, but when they slogged through seven tons of mud to get to Rancho del Cielo, President Reagan's Levitt House on the Sea, what did the royal couple find waiting for lunch? Tacos. Enchiladas. Refried beans.

There is dignity in the food of all people, of course, but this meal happened to be one set before the queen, a person who hardly seems the type to yell, "Pass the hot sauce." Not only was the President's choice a trifle brazen, but, according to some, it was downright cruel. The queen had just come from Mexico, where, word was, she spent more time than usual in the powder room.

What is a nice historical figure with centuries of tradition behind her doing in a place like this? For the first week of her California tour, Elizabeth must have wondered, too.

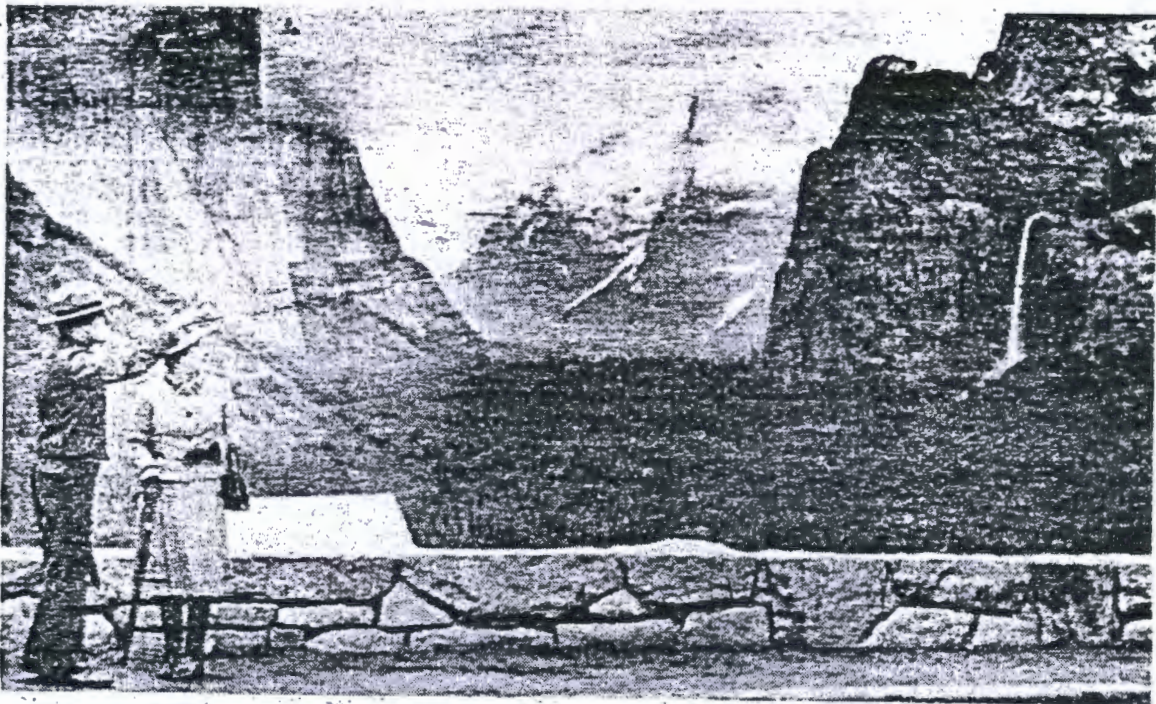

San Diego was soaked. Basically a decent American city with clean streets and polite cab drivers, San Diego was a city au jus. The royal yacht, Britannia, 412 feet and 5,769 tons, the largest pleasure craft in the world, could have sailed past the pier and directly up Broadway, although something told the clerk in the discount drug it wouldn't happen. "She's not gonna come downtown," said the clerk, packing disposable razors in a bag. "They never do."

Elizabeth got locked into some odd assignments. They took her to the Scripps Oceanographic Institution and gave her drill bits — really, drill bits — as a memento, and they took her aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ranger during weather conditions that made the scene look like one from Victory at Sea.

She unveiled a statue of Shakespeare and went to church, Episcopal, but didn't take communion because queens, evidently, don't do such things in public. Elizabeth never got to see the restaurant called Fat City, nor did she sip Dos Equis beer at Consuelo's. These may be small pleasures, but, in the opinion of many, they beat standing on the deck of the biggest yacht in the world while your private Marine marching band plays, "Britannia Rules the Waves." After the performance, Elizabeth's guests went down the gangplank and the queen, with Philip, retreated behind windowed doors, the night still young.

Rain, rain, rain. In Los Angeles, rain fell as though intending to do bodily harm and made rivers run in the nicest neighborhoods. Elizabeth went to dinner in a movie studio, and many old men whose faces still are remembered attended with young women in short skirts. How do they do it? asked a person watching the old men and young women. People debated theories of money and power.

Queen Elizabeth is shown highlights of a cloud-covered Yosemite National Park by a park superintendent as the bad weather continued to plague her California visit. The queen and Prince Philip said farewell to President Reagan and the First Lady after hosting a 31st wedding anniversary dinner for the Reagans Friday night on the royal yacht in San Francisco Bay. The royal couple motored to Yosemite, where they planned to relax.

NEWSDAY, SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1983

Who thought of Santa Barbara? The Reagan ranch, oh boy. You put the queen of the United Kingdom in a four-wheel drive vehicle and hike her up to the top of the hill, and not only does she get enchiladas, but she gets Ronald Reagan in his Frontier Days costume — jeans, denim jacket, bolo tie, the works. Had she been interested, the queen could have taken her limousine to Taco Bell and perhaps met a genuine California street type, someone like the fellow who calls himself Ned Shrapnel and advocates the decriminalization of hand grenades for personal use. "We spend an awful lot of money on defense and never put it to use," Shrapnel reasons.

Along the line, people got the feeling that Philip was the plugged-in portion of the family. He did not wear white gloves and bowler hats, for one thing, and, for another, he waved with his whole arm, got it right up there. He has a tan complexion and, in San Diego, said something slightly risqué while passing the monkey cage at the zoo. San Francisco would have been a good place for the Prince to cut loose — maybe sit around for an hour with the Irish — but he stayed close to home. For a night on the town, Elizabeth and Philip headed for Trader Vic's.

An Odd State For a Queen to Be In

Why, then, why? The queen came to California because Reagan invited her last year. She came during the rainy season because she had other stops to make — Jamaica, Mexico, British Columbia — and planning a royal tour must take many elements into consideration. "No matter when you go, you'd have problems somewhere," said a British press attache. "Of course, what we did not count on was running into the worst weather California has had for 25 years." Always, there are answers.

Even in Yosemite National Park yesterday, the weather was unruly. Elizabeth viewed some of America's most spectacular scenery in the style to which she had become accustomed: through fog and rain. Her Majesty stood at Inspiration Point carrying a furred umbrella and gazed at the wall of sheer granite called El Capitan and then at Bridalveil, a delicate waterfall that spouts on the opposite side of Yosemite Valley. With Philip, the queen gazed at the snowy ridges around them. All was calm. For the next two days the queen's path will be lined by redwoods and sugar pines — not the coarse or the curious. At 4,500 feet, Elizabeth was, at last, above it all.

3 Secret Service Agents Killed in Accident

Yosemite National Park, Calif. (AP) — Three Secret Service agents were killed and two sheriff's deputies were injured in a traffic accident yesterday as Queen Elizabeth II's motorcade headed up a winding mountain highway to Yosemite National Park.

The agents, part of an advance security team, were killed in the head-on collision of their car and a car from the Mariposa County sheriff's department, state trooper Jim Fulton said. The accident occurred "miles ahead" of the royal party, which detoured around the crash and continued into the park, troopers said. The dead agents were identified as: George P. La Barge, 41; Donald W. Robinson, 38, and Donald A. Bejcek, 29.

"The queen has heard about this very sad accident, and she's of course very saddened by the news," said Michael Shea, her press secretary. President Reagan extended condolences in separate calls to the agents' wives.

Dear Mr. Simpson;

We were saddened over the loss of your staff members George P. LaBarge, Donald W. Robinson, and Donald A. Bejcek while performing the duty of escort for the Royal Family traveling to Yosemite National Park. Please extend to their families our deepest sympathies.

I would like to extend my personal invitation to the families of George LaBarge, Donald Robinson, and Donald Bejcek to visit Yosemite National Park. As our guests, they would enjoy three nights and three meals per day compliments of Yosemite Park and Curry Company. It is my sincere hope that they will be able to appreciate the natural beauty of Yosemite National Park which was denied their loved ones.

My Administrative Assistant, Connie Archer, will be happy to assist in making their reservations when space is available. She may be contacted by calling area code 209-372-1224.

Again, please extend to them our deepest regards and let us know if there is anything more we can do for them.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Ambassador,

I want to convey to you, Mr. Wall, and other members of your staff, my very deep appreciation for the invitation received from the British Embassy for the reception on board HMY Britannia, hosted by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, II, and the Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. While Mrs. Lane and I were honored to be invited to several other events during the Royal Couple's visit to Western America, I think the gathering on the Royal Yacht was the highlight.

I hope you agree that the visit was an outstanding success, despite our weather problems and even a tragedy. It was interesting to see even "tough" members of the American Press sentimentally "bow", if not literally, to a truly majestic lady and a very remarkable and enjoyable husband. Here's a little story I think was an unusual compliment, among many:

In February of this year, the "Colonial Dames of the 17th Century" met in San Diego. When some details of the Royal Couple's visit were announced, there was a very enthusiastic and prolonged applause. Considering that members of the group trace their ancestry back to those who came to the colonies before 1700, I consider this to be an especially warm and friendly tribute!

My visit brought back a memory of nearly 28 years ago when I had the pleasure of sitting in the Royal Family box (with the children and governess) while Her Royal Highness and Duke of Edinburgh were officiating on stage at St. Paul's Cathedral. It was October 24, 1955, in the Jubilee Year of the National Service for Seafarers. My wife located the program I brought back from that trip and I thought you might enjoy seeing a copy, attached.

As you may know through the cooperation of your Consul General of San Francisco, Mr. John Beaven, we were honored to be able to present special leather bound copies of three of our Sunset Books to the Royal Couple and similar titles of the regular edition to other members of the traveling party. We were pleased (and impressed) to receive almost instantaneous letters back from Sir Phillip Moore and Robert Fellowes, as per the attached copies Bills.

Thanks again to you, Mr. Wall, and others on your staff who helped make it possible for President and Mrs. Reagan, Mike Deaver, and other members of the Reagan Administration -- along with millions of Americans (and especially a few of us fortunate Westerners!) who had the great honor of welcoming the Royal Couple to our shores. It was certainly a modern version of the old adage, slightly altered, "We came, We saw, We conquered" the emotions and hearts of our American people.

Very sincerely,

26th February, 1983

I can Mr Lane,

The bound volumes of three of your Company's books, "Beautiful California", "San Francisco" and "National Parks of the West", have arrived safely on board HMY Britannia and have been passed to The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh. Her Majesty and His Royal Highness have asked me to convey to you their warm thanks for this generous gift, which they are delighted to accept and are much looking forward to reading as they sail up the West Coast of the United States.

The paperback editions of the books for the Royal Household have also arrived safely and I would like to thank you on behalf of my colleagues for your very kind thought in presenting these books to us.

The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh are looking forward to meeting you and Mrs. Lane at the Reception in HMY Britannia in San Francisco next Friday.

*Yours Sincerely
Robert Jellicoe.*

Attached are two draft MKD letters which his office is anxious to have prepared as soon as possible. Each letter is to be done on a first name basis AND IN THE FORMAT OF ATTACHED SAMPLE. These should be dated March 21, 1983. If you can manage completing the Secret Service list today, that would be terrific. All letters are to be sent to Donna Blume, so she can arrange personal signature. Thanks.

Dear Mrs. DuPont:

I am writing you in regard to Eric Rosenberger whom we are asking to act as our press coordinator for both the Queen's Visit to the West Coast next month and the Economic Summit in Williamsburg this spring.

As you can imagine the logistics involved in these two undertakings will consume a large portion of Eric's time and effort. Therefore, I am requesting your permission to have Eric detailed to the White House for the duration of these two assignments. It is my desire to have Eric detailed to us January 20th through June 3rd.

I realize that this request may leave your office short-handed and if there are any difficulties please feel free to contact me.
