Dear Friends:

Gift ->

Thank you for the delightful jar of jelly beans that you presented at the White House. It was kind of you to remember me with these particular beans, which I understand were used in your "count the jelly beans" contest. Please know that I am deeply grateful for the special concern that prompted your "get-well" gift.

With my best wishes,

Sincerely,

RONALD REAGAN A

Mary,

These jelly beans were presented to Dottie Dellinger in the Visitors Office on Tues., Apr. 21, 1981, for the Pres. They are from the McDonalds in Charles Town, W. Va. and were used in a "guess how many jelly beans" contest.

Carol McCain would like to keep them in her office if possible, and they would only be used for staff.

Thanks so much,

Marja

Special Assistant to the President
Mr Gregory J. Newell

Dear Sir,

Nerangis Enterprise's branch of McDonald's Restaurant in Charles Town, West Virginia is planning to deliver a get well gift for President Reagan to the White House.

Our local McDonald's restaurant has been running a jelly bean count contest. We have a sealed five gallon jar filled with thirty pounds of jelly beans. Our public relations dept. plans to bring this expression of our get-well wishes to the Town office on Tuesday April 21 at approx. 12:00 noon.

We look forward to meeting with an available member of the President's staff and feel assured that our wishes for a quick recovery will be extended to the President.

If further details are necessary, you may phone

Mr. Ed. Ames - manager 304-725-3040

Mrs. Toni Crum - Public Relations 304-725-6069

Sincerely,
Nerangis Enterprise.

Attention: The Personal Assistant to the President

Dear Sir:

During the month of April, Mr. Raymond Boyer, of Societe Vinicole Francaise, presented us with a case of fine French wine to be delivered to President Reagan. The wine was sent to the White House on the plane of Secretary of State Haig when he returned to Washington from his European visit.

Since that time, we have received correspondence from Mr. Boyer indicating that he has never received the President's personal note of thanks, which we understand has indeed been sent.

We regret having to trouble you with this matter, however, even though we have sent Mr. Boyer a copy of the President's letter, we know that it would mean a great deal to him to have the original.

Thank you for looking into this matter.

Sincerely,

Robert Smolik

Cher Monsieur,

Je tiens à vous remercier bien vivement pour votre aimable lettre du 4 courant m'apportant la photocopie de la lettre que Monsieur le Président REAGAN a eu la délicatesse de me faire parvenir le 30 Avril.

Malheureusement l'original n'est jamais parvenu ce que je regrette beaucoup comme vous pouvez le penser.

En vous priant de vouloir bien m'excuser du dérangement que je vous ai occasionné,

Je vous prie d'agréer, Cher Monsieur, l'assurance de ma considération distinguée.

Cher Monsieur,

Avant son départ pour Washington où il se rendait en consultation, l'Ambassadeur m'a demandé de bien vouloir vérifier la suite donnée à l'envoi du généreux présent que vous avez offert au Président Reagan.

Il semblerait que la lettre de remerciement du Président vous aurait été expédiée directement de la Maison Blanche et qu'elle ne vous serait pas parvenue.

En regrettant vivement cet incident, j'ai le plaisir de vous adresser une copie de cette lettre, que nous avons reçue à titre d'information.

Veillez agréer, cher Monsieur, l'assurance de ma considération distinguée.

Duvall House — Circa 1750

Frankie Welch of Virginia — Circa Now

Historic Duvall House is located in the heart of Old Town Alexandria, just across from Market Square, midway between Gadsby's Tavern and Carlyle House at 305 Cameron Street.

This stately town mansion of William and Nancy Duvall was in use as a tavern when the City of Alexandria entertained George Washington here in 1783. Ten years later, in 1793, the handsome brick building was sold to the Bank of Alexandria, the first chartered bank in Virginia.

What was the eighteenth century residence and office of Alexandria's first Collector of Customs, Charles Lee, is now a charmingly restored town house where Yesterday meets Today. Duvall House is still a setting for history — the fashion history being made by Frankie Welch of Virginia. Here in the same historic rooms where George Washington conducted his banking business, you may select tomorrow's fashions, accessories and imaginative gifts. Original Frankie Welch designs in scarves and ladies' fashions as well as designer clothing are all available in the studio boutique of Duvall House.

Dear Mr. President:

It is with great pleasure that I enclose the first of our special numbered copies of Los Angeles Two Hundred. This exclusive hard-bound volume, published by the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce, provides an indepth, entertaining look at 200 years of progress, growth and success in the Southland area.

We are proud to be able to present this book to the community during Los Angeles' Bicentennial Year, and are especially pleased to present the book to you, one who has continually supported and shared in this great city's development.

We hope you will enjoy your special edition of Los Angeles Two Hundred, the first book to come off the press.
