REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT
FOLLOWING MEETING WITH
PRIME MINISTER SPADOLINI

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Prime Minister Spadolini and I have had a most productive and harmonious discussion today covering a wide range of important issues. Our discussions confirmed the wide-ranging accord that exists between our two countries on matters affecting world peace, Western solidarity and international economic cooperation. This is only fitting between allies as close as the United States and Italy.

On the key issue of East-West trade, Prime Minister Spadolini and I agreed that the U.S., Italy and the other allies must pursue discussions aimed at establishing a broad trans-Atlantic consensus. Our trade and financial relations with the Soviet Union must take into account the nature of Soviet conduct toward its neighbors. The Prime Minister shared with me Italy's special perspective in this regard.

We discussed the current situation in the Middle East, where our two countries are working closely both to guarantee the peace which prevails in the Sinai and to assist the Government of Lebanon in securing withdrawal of all foreign forces and restoring its full authority throughout its territory. The Prime Minister stated his readiness in principle to support expansion of Italy's contribution to the Multinational Force in the context of broadening the Force's mandate and its composition, and I want to take this occasion to extend my personal appreciation to the Prime Minister for the vigorous and constructive contributions that Italy is making to the promotion of peace and stability in this critical region.

We also discussed the importance of the aerospace industry in strengthening the technological capability of the West, and have agreed to instruct the appropriate authorities in our respective governments to facilitate cooperation in this sector. In this connection, Prime Minister Spadolini and I agreed that our governments would establish a working group to explore means of future cooperation between our two nations.

During our discussion of Western security issues, I expressed appreciation to the Prime Minister for Italy's indispensable contribution to the December 1979 NATO decision on intermediate-range nuclear forces. I reaffirmed to him my commitment to pursue vigorously negotiations leading to the elimination of such forces by both sides and to deep reduction in strategic nuclear forces, as well.

I would like to close on a personal note. This was my fourth meeting with Prime Minister Spadolini and my admiration and respect for him has grown with each encounter. The United States has no better friend in the world than Italy and the West has no more erudite and distinguished a leader than my friend, Giovanni Spadolini. After our meetings in Europe, it was a great pleasure for me to receive him here at home. I look forward to seeing him once again when the Prime Minister returns to the United States for the Economic Summit in Williamsburg next spring.

White House Press Release for October 28

President Reagan has invited Prime Minister Giovanni Spadolini of Italy to participate in the Conference on Free Elections during the Prime Minister's visit to Washington, November 3-4, 1982. The Prime Minister has accepted the invitation, and will deliver a keynote address to the Conference on November 4.

The Conference is designed to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas on the strengthening of the electoral processes and basic democratic institutions in many countries of the world. The Conference is a direct result of the initiative launched by President Reagan on June 8 in London to promote the growth of democracy and peace. At that time he declared, "We must take actions to assist the campaign for democracy" and announced the November meeting.

MEMORANDUM FOR WILLIAM P. CLARK

THROUGH: CHARLES P. TYSON

FROM: JAMES M. RENTSCHLER

SUBJECT: Request by Italian Ambassadorⁿ Petrignani
To Call On You

CPT

RINALDO

Italian Ambassador Petrignani is putting on a full-court press to meet with you briefly, ideally early next week. He wants to impress upon you the importance of an initiative President Pertini wishes to undertake in conjunction with his March 25 visit here. This involves the showing - probably at the National Gallery East Wing - of the famous Riace bronze statues, two huge figures found in the waters off the eastern coast of Reggio Calabrian in Southern Italy.

Pertini would like to do this during the period of his visit and, most important, would like the President to make an appearance at the exhibit opening; in fact, Petrignani's message is that Pertini will not go through with the initiative (it involves some difficult concessions on the part of the Riace municipality, which does not want the antiquities to leave the country) unless he has prior assurances that the President would attend. Petrignani argues that if Pertini got the things here and the President did not go to see them, Italy would feel insulted.

I told Petrignani that you have a pressing schedule and that in any event you will be out on the Coast with the President next week. Unless you instruct me differently, I shall inform Petrignani that although you are unable to see him personally, you are fully aware of the matter he wants to raise. It is a question to which Pertini does attach much importance - his people raised it with us in Rome during Mike Deaver's visit - and it is something we will soon have to address (Chuck Tyson and I will coordinate on it).

RECOMMENDATION:

OK NO

✓ — That you authorize me to confirm to Petrignani that your schedule is regrettably too full to permit a meeting at this time.

✓ — In lieu of yourself, Chuck Tyson and I would be available to meet with him.

The President of the Council of Ministers of the Republic of Italy

November 24, 1982

Dear Mr. President and Friend:

First of all, I would like to thank you once more for the gracious and cordial reception I received from you during my recent visit to Washington. The conversations I had with you and with the principal exponents of your Administration, and indeed the entire trip through your great country with its many stimulating occasions for meetings arranged for me, have allowed me to realize how solid and deep-rooted the feelings of friendship and alliance are between our two countries.

I am convinced that my visit, with the contacts and encounters in various sectors which characterized it, has contributed to a further strengthening of the historic and human ties as well as the cooperation and political solidarity which unite Italy and the United States. At the same time, it has intensified the understanding between our two

H.E. Ronald Reagan
President of the United States of America
Washington, D.C.

countries in the pursuit of that common Western line of action which is ever more necessary in order to successfully deal with the complex challenges of this decade.

As you know, within the last few days I tendered the resignation of the Government to the Chief of State. I was induced to make this difficult decision by institutional reasons, the lack of a full and correct team spirit among the ministers, together with differences of opinion which emerged within the government concerning the economic austerity measures proposed and introduced by me. Foreign policy considerations have in no way or measure contributed to or influenced this decision. With regard to its international position, Italy has made an irreversible, fundamental choice and has also recently implemented foreign policy decisions which were in line with this position. The December 1979 NATO Dual Decision concerning intermediate-range nuclear forces no less than its subsequent implementations, the last of which was the choice of Comiso as base for the stationing of these weapons systems, the participation in the multinational peace force in the Sinai, and in the multinational peace-keeping force in Beirut, and our constructive cooperation in the elaboration of a global coordinated strategy in economic East-West relations are only some of the most recent concrete demonstrations of this continuity which characterizes my country's foreign policy today as it has in the past.

For this reason, my visit to the United States assumes a significant importance in as much as the agreements reached on that occasion remain a part of the open dialogue between our two countries contributing towards an ever closer cooperation not only in the interest of our two countries, but of peace, stability, and progress in the world.

I can assure you that I shall continue to work towards the strengthening of our friendship and the furthering of our common objectives in my future political activities.

I avail myself, dear Mr. President and friend, of this occasion to renew to you the assurances of my highest consideration.

Most cordially yours,

Signed: Giovanni Spadolini

Dear President and Friends

desidero innanzitutto rinnovarLe i più sentiti ringraziamenti per la calorosa e cordiale accoglienza che Lei mi ha gentilmente riservato durante la recente visita a Washington. I colloqui avuti con Lei e con i principali esponenti dell'Amministrazione americana e l'intero mio viaggio compiuto nel Suo grande paese, con le numerose e tutte stimolanti occasioni di incontro offertemi, mi hanno permesso di constatare quanto saldi e profondamente radicati siano i sentimenti di amicizia e di colleganza fra i nostri due paesi.

Sono convinto che la mia visita, con i contatti e gli incontri nei diversi settori che l'hanno caratterizzata, ha contribuito ulteriormente a rafforzare i vincoli storici, umani, di cooperazione e di solidarietà politica che uniscono l'Italia e gli Stati Uniti. Essa ha al tempo stesso approfondito l'intesa fra i due nostri paesi nel perseguimento di quell'azione comune dell'occidente, sempre più necessaria per fra fronte con successo alle complesse sfide di questo decennio.

Come Lei sa, negli scorsi giorni ho rassegnato nelle mani del Capo dello Stato le dimissioni del Governo. Mi hanno indotto a prendere questa difficile decisione ragioni istituzionali, il venir meno della piena esplicazione di una corretta collegialità ministeriale, che si sono intrecciate con contrasti emersi in seno al governo sulla linea di rigore economico da me imposta e portata avanti. In nessuna misura ed in alcun modo hanno concorso o sono state influenti considerazioni di politica estera. In ordine alla sua collocazione internazionale, l'Italia ha compiuto scelte di fondo non reversibili ed ha operato anche di recente decisioni di politica estera coerenti con tale collocazione. La duplice decisione presa in sede NATO nel dicembre 1979 in merito alle forze nucleari intermedie, non meno che i successivi adempimenti a ciò conseguenti, da ultimo la scelta di Comiso quale base per la dislocazione di tali sistemi d'arma; la partecipazione alla Forza multinazionale di pace nel Sinai e alla Forza multinazionale di interposizione e di pace per Beirut; il nostro costruttivo apporto alla elaborazione di una strategia globale e coordinata nei rapporti economici Est-Ovest non sono che alcune delle più recenti dimostrazioni concrete di quella continuità, che ha ca ratterizzato nel passato e che oggi contraddistingue la azione di politica estera del mio paese.

Ecco perchè la mia visita negli Stati Uniti as sume una importanza e un rilievo significativi in questo senso: le intese raggiunte in tale occasione si colloca- no nel dialogo aperto fra i nostri due paesi per una sem pre più stretta e solidale collaborazione, nell'interes- se non solo bilaterale ma anche della pace, della stabi- lità e del progresso mondiali.

Le posso assicurare che, anche nelle future re sponsabilità politiche, continuerò ad operare per il raf forzamento della nostra amicizia per il conseguimento di tali comuni obiettivi.

Colgo l'occasione per rinnovarLe, caro Presiden- te ed Amico, l'espressione della mia più alta stima, in- sieme ai saluti più amichevoli.
