Dear Dave:

Thanks so much for your thoughtful note and generous good wishes. The next several months are going to be quite a challenge, but I'm really looking forward to getting the job done for the President.

I can't tell you how much it means to me that you took the time to write -- thanks again.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Mr. Kenneth M. Duberstein
Chief of Staff to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. Duberstein:

On Thursday evening, November 17, the National Geographic Society will celebrate its Centennial with a dinner at the Sheraton Washington in Washington, D. C.

The evening will include presentations of National Geographic Centennial awards to a select group of 15 distinguished men and women who have made special contributions to the Society and mankind through the years, including Jacques-Yves Cousteau, Jane Goodall, Sir Edmund Hillary, and Senator John Glenn.

We would be honored if you and your wife or guest would be with us on November 17. Please take a moment to mark your calendar and return the enclosed card notifying us that it may be possible to be with us that evening. In the fall, you will be receiving a formal invitation with further details. If you have any questions, please call 202/775-6709.

We look forward to having you with us on this special occasion.

Best regards,

Dear Ken:

When on July 15, in my joy over being reappointed to the Board for International Food and Agricultural Development, I addressed you as Chief of State, it was simply a Freudian slip. I guess I view you as occupying that position, so it must have just popped out of inner recesses as I was tapping my word processor.

I hope it arrived on one of those mornings when the President did not bother to check all incoming mail!

Seriously, Ken, thanks again for giving me this lift.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Kenneth Duberstein

Dear Ken:

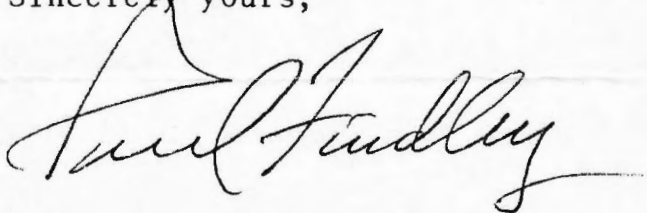

Our mutual friend, Congressman Bob Michel, has relayed the good news that I will be able to continue on the Board for International Food and Agricultural Development. I know this would not have been possible without your support.

I am deeply grateful.

As you may know the board was created by legislation that Senator Hubert Humphrey and I sponsored in 1975. As I look back on the varied things I did during 22 years in Congress, I view this legislation as having the greatest potential for lasting benefit. It aims to link the great teaching resource of our land-grant system to the plight of small-scale farmers in the developing world.

After 10 years, it is still experimental. Whether it will measure up to its potential is still uncertain. That's why I am so pleased to have this additional time to try, through board membership, to press policy down the right road.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Paul Findley". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned below the typed name "Paul Findley".

Dear Ken:

In all the inevitable confusion surrounding your replacement of Howard Baker, I wanted to make sure a request I had made to Howard was not left unaddressed.

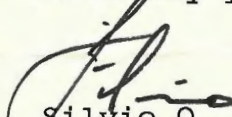

As you can see from the enclosed letter sent to Howard, I requested a brief photo opportunity for a friend of mine and a friend of the Republican Party, Rabbi Liberman of Brookline, Massachusetts.

The Jewish holidays fall during September. If there is any way that a response could be provided regarding this request prior to that time, it would be greatly appreciated.

Ken, I know you handle scores of similar requests--many of which are of greater importance to the President and to our country. But the Rabbi's efforts over the years, and his deep and abiding respect for President Reagan, make this an extremely important request to him.

Thanks in advance for whatever consideration you can give this request, and with kind regards, I am

Dear Howard:

Recently, a good friend and devoted member of the Republican Party, Rabbi Liberman of Brookline, Massachusetts, contacted me to request a photo opportunity with the President. I would be most appreciative if you could arrange a time convenient to the President for such an opportunity.

Rabbi Liberman is head of the Jewish Educational Center in Brookline, which is currently celebrating its tenth anniversary. They publish a bimonthly Jewish newspaper for Boston with a circulation in excess of 10,000 homes, and they have affiliated congregations in a great number of states.

The work Rabbi Liberman has done for President Reagan and the Republican Party is incalculable. He has been a tremendous asset in a state where good Republicans are sometimes hard to find!

Howard, I know that the President receives scores of similar requests daily, but this would be a great privilege for the Rabbi. Anything you can do would be very much appreciated.

Thanks for your time, Howard. Please do not hesitate to contact me personally if there is anything I can do for you.

Dear Rita:

Many thanks for your thoughtful note -- how nice to know about some other Dubersteins out there! Since my new appointment, I've been hearing from so many relatives my parents and I had most track of, and it's really been fun.

Really appreciate your sending the clip of your son, Gary. That's quite a job he's got; you must be very proud. It's interesting that he "doesn't like to start his day early" -- neither do I, but I don't have much choice around here!

Thanks again for writing.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

It is exciting to see
and hear our name publicly used so positively. Your appointment as Chief of Staff is impressive.

We have been aware of you in Washington since our son, Gary Kenneth, was a summer intern for
Congressman Ben Gilman (R. N.Y.) in 1973.

Duberstein is not a common name and family lore states, again and again, that all Dubersteins are related.

If we are genetically linked,
you have "done us proud." Hoping to share the feeling, enclosed is an article mentioning Gary that appeared about the same week as your appointment.

Isn't it lucky that we reversed
his names?

Our very best wishes -

No One but Icahn Gets to Be Leader Of His Legal Team in Texaco Fight

Many takeover lawyers cross the line between legal adviser and business strategist. But not when they work for Carl Icahn.

"Carl creates his own strategy," says Theodore Altman, a key member of his legal team in the Texaco proxy fight. "My job is to tell him what the law is and what's permissible and impermissible."

Some of that he would remember from his first job, at the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Mr. Icahn found Mr. Altman some time later at the firm of Gordon Hurwitz Butowsky Weitzen Shalov & Wein, which the investor retained in 1981 when his regular law firm had a conflict. Soon Mr. Altman had guided Mr. Icahn through takeover bids for Dan River, Marshall Field and Phillips Petroleum. Not successful bids, but profitable ones.

When you work for Mr. Icahn, there's always plenty of work. "The types of things Carl does are so sensitive and come under such scrutiny," the 46-year-old Mr. Altman says, "that he relies upon lots of legal advice."

For some of it, Mr. Icahn is looking to a lawyer he hadn't even met six weeks ago: Raymond L. Falls Jr., of Cahill Gordon & Reindel. Mr. Falls got the call on the recommendation of Mr. Icahn's usual choice for high-stakes litigation, Dennis Block of Weil, Gotshal & Manges, who had a conflict. Mr. Falls heads a team preparing a defense against Texaco's charges that the raider violated securities laws. Mr. Icahn has countersued, accusing Texaco executives of bad management and hiding information from shareholders.

Mr. Falls has drawn little press notice, but he is hardly a newcomer to the takeover game. "He's the best-kept secret we've got," says Gerald Tanenbaum, a Cahill Gordon partner. "He's one of five partners here I consider brilliant." In the past Mr. Falls, 59, has helped engineer Good-year's repulsion of Sir James Goldsmith and Telex's successful defense against Asher Edelman.

* The lawyer who spends the most time with Carl Icahn is general counsel Gary Duberstein, 33. It isn't always easy, both admit.

But at least they have the same biological clock. Just like his boss, "Gary doesn't like to start his day early, but he works late into the night," says Stephen Jacobs of Weil Gotshal, where Mr. Duberstein once was an associate. "And he knows how to stay cool and calm when Carl starts planning out in eight directions all at once."

There's "no question," Mr. Icahn agrees, that part of Mr. Duberstein's job is protecting him from his own indiscretions. "I get overly involved sometimes and start to say things I shouldn't," Mr. Icahn says.

Let's listen in for a moment on a legal discussion between the most famous investor in the world and his counsel:

"No, Carl, don't say that—it's libelous," Mr. Duberstein says, interrupting a tirade by Mr. Icahn.

"But it's true—he's a jerk," counters Mr. Icahn.

"You'll wind up in court," Mr. Duberstein says.

"I don't care. I want to say it—and I'll pay to say it," Mr. Icahn declares.

Mr. Duberstein shrugs in resignation. But five minutes later he is back on his boss's case, saying, "Carl, don't. . . ."

"At times I'm demanding and sometimes I get exasperated," Carl Icahn concludes. "But if you can get along with me, it can be a lot of fun."

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: CLAYTON YEUTTER cy

Mr. President, I had a colloquy with Congressman Rostenkowski yesterday that you will enjoy.

As you know, the Ways and Means Committee reported out implementing legislation on the U.S.-Canada Agreement with only one dissenting vote. Just before that action was taken, Chairman Rostenkowski asked if I had any final comments for this historic occasion. After complimenting the Committee, I told him what I had said to you as you signed the letter of transmittal a few days ago, "Mr. President, I hope this agreement will still be in the history books 200 years from now."

Rosty interrupted, "It will be, and he'll still be here to see it!"

Dear Ms. Lombard:

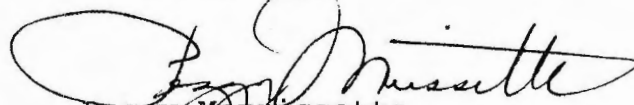

Many thanks for your gracious invitation for Ken Duberstein to address the Comstock Club during a future trip to California. He would very much like to accept your invitation, if we can find a suitable time.

Another trip to the West Coast is not planned until the week of Thanksgiving. I do not know if it would be feasible to speak to the Club during that time, or if additional travel in your area may occur before November. We will certainly keep you in mind as our schedule develops.

Thanks again.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

July 15, 1988

The Honorable Kenneth Duberstein
White House Chief of Staff
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of The Comstock Club, Inc., of Sacramento, California, it is my pleasure to invite you to address our organization on your next trip to the West Coast.

The Comstock Club is comprised of men and women who share a common interest in public affairs and who meet regularly to hear speakers of national and international prominence. Currently, we have over 3000 members who comprise a healthy cross-section of northern California's professional, business, governmental and educational leadership.

Since Sacramento is the Capital of the State, it houses one of the largest and most sophisticated concentrations of reporters in the State. Both wire services have major contingents stationed at the Capitol. California's leading newspapers, radio stations, television stations and magazines, representing all markets in the State, have full time offices staffed in the Capitol. All of these newsmen receive notification of each Comstock Club program with the result that addresses to the Club are covered in the major media outlets in the State. In addition, your entire speech will be taped, and all or portions of it will be replayed at various times throughout the week following on northern California TV and radio stations with an audience running well over 4,000,000. Our two local papers, the BEE and the UNION, with a combined circulation of 350,000 will also cover the meeting.

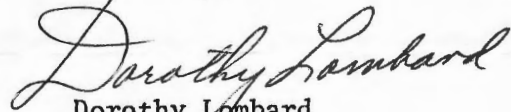

For your information, I am enclosing a brochure describing our Club in more detail, as well as a partial listing of some of the speakers who have addressed us in the past.

Comstock Club meetings, with attendance running 250 to 1500, are normally held on Monday at 12 noon with adjournment at approximately 1:30 p.m. However, should your schedule not permit your addressing us on a Monday, perhaps you can suggest a substitute day.

Awaiting your reply, and with warm regards, I am

Sincerely,

Dorothy Lombard
President

THE COMSTOCK CLUB

The Comstock Club provides an open forum on neutral ground where knowledgeable state, national and international authorities can present significant facts, ideas and opinions on current issues. Through the press, radio and television, the Club's membership and the general public is made aware of our speakers' viewpoints, the thought being that informed citizens are better citizens and can make more intelligent and responsible decisions on the issues of the day. Comstock Club speakers are featured on a number of radio stations whose taped broadcasts make the speakers' messages available to the entire Northern California area.

What is the
COMSTOCK CLUB ?

THE COMSTOCK CLUB

The Comstock Club was organized in 1964 by nine Sacramento civic and community leaders who sought to preserve and strengthen the concepts and fundamentals of our democracy. They believed that this could be achieved by presenting, in a public forum, responsible and stimulating speakers covering a broad spectrum of political and intellectual subjects of current concern to our state and nation. Over the years, the Comstock Club and its speakers have gained the confidence of the community and the media because of the integrity of its presentations, and its dedication to its motto, "Searching for facts".

The Comstock Club's membership is composed of a healthy cross-section of Northern California's professional, business, governmental and educational leadership, housewives and students, representing all shades of political opinion, bound together by one common denominator — the desire to remain well informed. Besides receiving notices of all meetings, members receive The Comstock, the Club's monthly journal, containing summations of selected addresses to the Club and news of Club activities.

The Comstock Club is a nonprofit, impartial, educational organization of men and women devoted to the task of bringing into clear focus basic and timely issues confronting our society; a meeting place for people with common questions and interests.

The Comstock Club is funded entirely through membership dues and contributions. Its policies are established by a board of directors comprised of distinguished community leaders.

The Comstock Club takes no political stand, advocates no specific policy nor attempts any type of action. Its sole objective is to bring to its members and the community at large factual information in order to assist each individual in making up his own mind on important questions facing our country.

The Comstock Club, through its speakers and programs, helps you understand not just what is happening, but why, and is solely dedicated to those individuals who take public affairs seriously.

Since its inception the Comstock Club has been honored by some of the outstanding state, national and international speakers who have brought to the membership a deeper insight into the basic issues facing our democratic society. A partial list of those leaders who have addressed the Comstock Club follows:
