Ronald Reagan Presidential Library Digital Library Collections

This is a PDF of a folder from our textual collections.

Collection: Reagan, Ronald: 1980 Campaign Papers,

1965-1980

Series: XV: Speech Files (Robert Garrick and Bill Gavin)

Subseries: A: Bob Garrick File

Folder Title: 10/07/1980, Steubenville, OH

Box: 434

To see more digitized collections visit: https://www.reaganlibrary.gov/archives/digitized-textual-material

To see all Ronald Reagan Presidential Library Inventories, visit: https://www.reaganlibrary.gov/archives/white-house-inventories

Contact a reference archivist at: reagan.library@nara.gov

Citation Guidelines: https://reaganlibrary.gov/archives/research-support/citation-guide

National Archives Catalogue: https://catalog.archives.gov/

Last Updated: 10/06/2023

Reagan & Bush

Reagan Bush Committee

901 South Highland Street, Arlington, Virginia 22204 (703) 685-3400

NEWS RELEASE

FOR RELEASE UPON DELIVERY:

Tuesday, October 7, 1980

CONTACT: Lyn Nofziger or

Ken Towery 703-685-3630

EXCERPTS FROM REMARKS BY GOVERNOR RONALD REAGAN

STEUBENVILLE, OHIO

From time to time, as I travel across America, I come across something that dramatically symbolizes what Mr. Carter's failures have done to American families.

Good's Department Store, here in Steubenville, is such a symbol. It survived hard times. It survived depressions. But it couldn't survive Mr. Carter's high unemployment and high inflation.

If you want to know what Mr. Carter's policies have done to America, you don't have to travel any further than Good's. It is a symbol of all the victims of Mr. Carter's policies.

Steubenville is a city of workers. This is an area where coal and steel and hard work have long combined to build America.

But, Mr. Carter's EPA appointees apparently don't know and don't care about coal. It's time that we had a president who will see to it that EPA has leaders who understand how vital coal is to the nation and to Ohio's economy. He was here September 12th and promised to help the coal industry.

And Mr. Carter only rediscovered the needs of steel one month before the election. I won't wait three and a half years to help the steel industry.

I am here in Steubenville today because this is a city where family values are passed on, generation to generation.

But Mr. Carter is making it extremely difficult and in some cases impossible for parents who want their children taught values in the schools of their choice.

He promised in 1976 he would help you by enacting a tuition tax credit. But, as you know, he broke that promise. I wholeheartedly support tuition tax credits for parents sending their children to private and parochial schools, and will work to see them put into place. I believe in excellence in education wherever it is found, in public or private schools. And one way of making sure the kind of excellence we expect from non-public education continues is to have a system of tuition tax credits.

Mr. Carter's failed economic policies threaten the residents of Steubenville. In particular, his policies are hurting older Americans. First, because the Carter inflation makes their benefits worth less and less. Second, the Carter unemployment cuts the number of people paying into the Social Security Trust Fund—and potentially jeopardizes future benefits. Mr. Carter's Advisory Council on Social Security recommended taxing Social Security benefits and I firmly oppose this measure.

Mr. Carter and his administration may have written off this heartland of America. They may have given up on you. But I haven't. I don't plan on abandoning any area or industry. I plan on building for the future—a future bright with hope.

I think that we know why Steubenville is in trouble. I think we all know that for three and one-half years, Mr. Carter has neglected and ignored the people of Steubenville.

Now, I know that Mr. Carter recently announced another of his special plans, this one to help the steel industry. But Mr. Carter acts as if he hasn't been in charge for three and one-half years. He's acting as if he hadn't ignored the crisis of overregulation; and as if he hadn't stalled accelerated depreciation legislation in Congress; and as if he hadn't suspended the Trigger Price Mechanism last March.

But he did. Then he waited until a few weeks before the election, and two weeks after I had announced my plan, to copy what I proposed.

However, in perhaps the most important area--overregulation--Mr. Carter's plan is but a pale imitation of my proposal. I have spoken out consistently against overregulation, and in my steel program focused on stretching out the compliance times for all steel companies.

In contrast, Mr. Carter is merely proposing to amend the law to allow the EPA to grant an extension if the EPA decides that certain conditions are met.

You in the steel and coal industries know what it is like to deal with EPA administrators who neither care about nor understand your industries. You know these administrators, one of whom wrote a memo to the head of the EPA calling the steel industry a "lemon industry." You know that many of them are following the example of Jimmy Carter's failure of leadership and will not give the steel industry their greatest support.

Today Mr. Carter may be interested in Steubenville. But on November 5, after the election, he may not be. So I hope the workers of Steubenville will join with the rest of Americans to make sure that it doesn't matter what Mr. Carter is interested in after the election.

* * * * *

FROM:

BOB GARRICK

OUT AT:

8:30 PM

Sunday . 5 Oct

Senator Paul Laxalt

Ambassador Anne Armstrong

Bill Casey

Ed Meese

Jim Baker

Bill Brock

Dean Burch
(For Ambassador Bush)

Peter Dailey

Mike Deaver

Drew Lewis

Lyn Nofziger

Verne Orr

Bill Timmons

Dick Wirthlin

Congressman Tom Evans

Richard Allen

Martin Anderson

Jim Brady

Ed Gray

Others Ray Bell

Bob Gray

Bill Morris

INFORMATION

Enclosed is a speech ER will give in Stubenville, Chic on Tuesday, 7 Oct. Please review and return to me by Monday, 6 Oct. 5 P.M.

10: Jun Kracy, rynnyg

Stubenville, Ohio

From time to time, as I travel across America, bringing a message of hope, I come across something that dramatically symbolizes what Mr. Carter's failures have done to American families.

Good's Department store, here in Stubenville, is such a symbol. It survived hard times. It survived depressions. But it couldn't survive Mr. Carter's high unemployment and high inflation.

If you want to know what Mr. Carter's policies have done to America, you don't have to travel any further than Good's. It is a symbol of all the victims of Mr. Carter's policies.

Stubenville is a city of workers. This is an area where coal and steel and hard work have long combined to build America.

But, Mr. Carter's EPA appointees apparently don't know and don't care about coal. I'm going to see to it that EPA has leaders who understand how vital coal is to the nation and to Ohio's economy.

And Mr. Carter only rediscovered the needs of steel after I presented my steel plan, and one month before the election. I won't wait three and one-half years to help the steel industry.

This is a city where family values are passed on, generation to generation.

But Mr. Carter is making it extremely difficult and in some cases impossible for parents who want their children taught values in the schools of their choice.

Stubenville, Ohio

From time to time, as I travel across America, bringing a message of hope, I come across something that dramatically symbolizes what Mr. Carter's failures have done to American families.

Good's Department store, here in Stubenville, is such a symbol. It survived hard times. It survived depressions. But it couldn't survive Mr. Carter's high unemployment and high inflation.

If you want to know what Mr. Carter's policies have done to America, you don't have to travel any further than Good's. It is a symbol of all the victims of Mr. Carter's policies.

Stubenville is a city of workers. This is an area where coal and steel and hard work have long combined to build America.

But, Mr. Carter's EPA appointees apparently don't know and don't care about coal. I'm going to see to it that EPA has leaders who understand how vital coal is to the nation and to Ohio's economy.

And Mr. Carter only rediscovered the needs of steel after I presented my steel plan, and one month before the election. I won't wait three and one-half years to help the steel industry.

This is a city where family values are passed on, generation to generation.

But Mr. Carter is making it extremely difficult and in some cases impossible for parents who want their children taught values in the schools of their choice.

He promised in 1976 he would help you by enacting a tuition tax credit. But, as you know, he broke that promise. I wholeheartedly support tuition tax credits for parents sending their children to parochial and private schools, and will work to see them put into place. I believe in excellence in education wherever it is found, in public or parochial or private schools. And one way of making sure the kind of excellence we expect from non-public education continues is to have a system of tuition tax credits.

(STUMP SPEECH)

(Transition)

Mr. Carter's failed economic policies threaten the residents of Stubenville. In particular his policies are hurting older Americans, the Carter inflation makes their benefits worth less and less, the Carter unemployment cuts the number of people paying into the Social Security trust fund, and potentially jeopardizes future benefits, and the Carter Advisory Council on Social Security recommended taxing Social Security benefits, which I firmly oppose.

His policies perhaps threaten the young even more. Unfortunately, this might be the first generation in a long time that is looking at a darker future—a future of closed stores and mills, a future of job—lessness, and a future of a lower standard of living. A future unlike that offered by America ever before.

. But it doesn't have to be that way. Mr. Carter and his administration may have written off this heartland of America. They may have given up on you. But I haven't. I don't plan on abandoning any area or any industry. I don't plan on abandoning the young people of this community to a future of despair. I plan on buidling for the future—a future bright with hope.

I think that we know why Stubenville is in trouble. I think we all know that for three and one-half years, Mr. Carter has neglected and ignored the people of Stubenville.

Now, I know that Mr. Carter recently announced another of his special plans, this one to help the steel industry. But Mr. Carter acts as if he hasn't been in charge for three and one-half years. He's acting as if he hadn't signed the 1977 Clean Air Act Amendments. And as if he hadn't stalled accelerated depreciation legislation in Congress. And as if he hadn't suspended the Trigger Price Mechanism last March.

But he did. Then he waited until a few weeks before the election, and two weeks after I had announced my plan, to copy what I proposed.

However, in perhaps the most important area--regulation--Mr.

Carter's plan is but a cheap imitation of my proposal. I have spoken out consistently against over-regulation, and in my steel program focused on stretching out the compliance times for all steel companies.

In contrast, Mr. Carter is merely proposing to amend the law to allow the EPA to grant an extension if the EPA decides that certain conditions are met. You in the steel and coal industries know what it is like to deal with EPA administrators who neither care about nor understand your industries. You know these administrators, one of whom wrote a memo to the head of the EPA calling the steel industry' a "lemon industry". You know these administrators who really want to give up on the steel industry.

Today Mr. Carter may be interested in Stubenville. But on November 5, after the election, he may not be. So I hope the workers of Stubenville will join with the rest of Americans to make sure that it doesn't matter what Mr. Carter is interested in after the election.

MASTER

FROM:

BOB GARRICK

OUT AT:

8:30 PM

Sunday , 5 Oct

Senator Paul Laxalt

Ambassador Anne Armstrong

Bill Casey

Ed Meese

Jim Baker

Bill Brock

Dean Burch (For Ambassador Bush)

Peter Dailey

Mike Deaver

Drew Lewis

Lyn Nofziger

Verne Orr

Bill Timmons

Dick Wirthlin

Leongressman Tom Evans

Richard Allen

Martin Anderson

Jim Brady

Ed Gray

7 00

Enclosed is a speech RR will give in Stubenville, Chio on

INFORMATION

Tue sday, 7 Oct. Please review and return to me by Monday, 6

Oct. 5 P.M.

Others

Ray Bell

Bob Gray

Bill Morris