Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan announced today his veto of the following bills:

SB 76
Grunsky & Bradley
Extends for two years the present state support formula for small junior college districts.

Gov. Reagan said, "If SB 76 is signed, it will continue in effect, the present $100 per A.D.A. level of support and the increase of $628 effected by AB 272 (Chapter 1209, Statutes of 1967) will be nullified."

SB 95
Carrell
Provides that whenever a person holding a license from the state is prosecuted for a public offense defined in the business and professions code, and is found not guilty, no disciplinary action can be taken against the licensee based on the same charges alleged in the criminal complaint.

Gov. Reagan said, "This bill constitutes a radical departure from the long-standing law of this state which has recognized the essential difference between criminal proceedings and administrative disciplinary actions against licensees under administrative proceedings. Although evidence in a particular case may not be sufficient to warrant conviction in a criminal proceeding, it may well justify discipline against the licensee."

SB 436
Schmitz
Requires sheriff or police chief to notify immediately by telephone the appropriate superintendent of schools as to the arrest of a school teacher for a sex offense.

Gov. Reagan said, "I have already signed SB 968 which includes the provisions of SB 436. If I signed SB 436 at this time, it would Chapter out SB 968."

SB 673
Cologne
Exempts the sale of any bedding, except mattresses, by a nonprofit religious organization from the requirement that such bedding be sterilized as required under the furniture and bedding inspection act.

Gov. Reagan said, "Exempting secondhand bedding...can have adverse public health consequences. Health hazards are the same whether the bedding is sold by a nonprofit organization or a commercial establishment. It appears that the proper solution to the problem would be to lower the bedding inspection fees for such organizations."

SB 1008
Short
Requires the name of the registrant on the affidavit of registration to be preceded by the title of "Mr.", "Miss" or "Mrs.". Also requires the index of registration to include the title.

Gov. Reagan said, "SB 1088 was introduced to eliminate the provisions of present law which require women to state their marital status. The bill as enacted does not accomplish this objective. It only adds to the workload of the county clerks."

SB 1210
Rodda

Requires cities and counties to enact an ordinance requiring a preliminary soil report, or a geological report prepared by a registered geologist, of every subdivision.

Gov. Reagan said, "Section 6 of this bill provides that this act shall be come operative only if SB 1493 is enacted. SB 1493 was refused passage."

SB 1254
Dolwig

Authorizes industrial loan companies to make loans secured by real property for five years.

Gov. Reagan said, "This bill permits industrial loan companies to make longer loans secured by real property at the same rates they now charge for personal loans. The bill tends to penalize the borrower who has real estate for security and who should be entitled to a lower interest rate."

SB 1270
Miller & Dills

Provides that there shall be no suspension or revocation of a driving privilege for second offense drunk driving if the defendant's sole employment for compensation is operation of a motor vehicle if the court makes an order restricting such privilege to course and scope of employment and provided he has not had a prior felony drunk driving or a second misdemeanor drunk driving conviction within one year.

Gov. Reagan said, "The transportation agency will be conducting, pursuant to AB 2538 (Chapter 1626, statutes of 1967), a four-county study of the entire drunk driving problem. I believe that consideration of further legislative approaches to the drunk driving problem should be deferred until this study is completed."

SB 1344
Song and Burns

Requires state board of registration for civil and professional engineers to register without examination in metallurgical engineering any applicant who applies prior to June 30, 1966, and who meets specified qualifications.

Gov. Reagan said, "It is not in the intent of orderly and equitable administration of the engineer registration program to selectively lower standards as was done in this case."

AB 2407
Vasconcellos

Suspends for two years the mandatory provisions for the suspension or revocation of the driving privilege for an additional period upon conviction of driving with a suspended or revoked license.

Gov. Reagan said, "The license suspension problem will be considered as a part of the drunk driving program to be undertaken by the transportation agency. I do not feel that any change in the suspension pattern should be changed until this study is completed."

FOR RELEASE SEPT. 5, 1967 ★

Gov. Ronald Reagan today called the attention of California employers to "HIRE A 40-PLUS WORKER WEEK" sponsored by the Department of Employment.

The purpose of the observance is to remind employers that skilled manpower is readily available through elimination of rigid hiring restrictions based on age alone.

Gov. Reagan's statement follows:

"I should like to call to the attention of California employers the observance September 11 through 15 of "HIRE A 40-PLUS WORKER WEEK" to remind them of a valuable source of reliable workers to meet their manpower needs.

"The unemployed older worker sometimes finds himself confronted by a lack of job opportunities because of arbitrary age restrictions in hiring, despite the fact that management repeatedly has rated its own 40-plus workers favorably on attendance, qualities of workmanship, dependability, response to supervision, getting along with others, and over-all job performance.

"Once the older worker loses his job, however, some employers forget or disregard such assets and think of the unemployed job applicant in stereotypes of inflexibility, lowered productivity, physical decline and other negative characteristics mistakenly attributed to the older unemployed.

"I want to remind employers that skilled manpower is readily available through elimination of rigid hiring restrictions based on age alone and substitution of policies of employment based solely on ability and willingness to do the job."

Sacramento--Governor Ronald Reagan announced today that he has vetoed the following bills:

SB 18
Danielson & Alquist

Increases the maximum limit of a "Cal-Vet" home loan to $20,000 if the people adopt the Veterans Bond Act of 1968.

Governor Reagan said: "It has been estimated that $150 million would be required annually if the home loan limit is increased to $20,000. At this rate, funds from the proposed Veterans Bond Act of 1968 would be exhausted in less than two years."

SB 52
Short

Substitutes for the Bureau of Private Investigators and Adjusters a board of private investigators and adjusters to administer the Private Investigator and Adjuster Act.

Governor Reagan said that the Little Hoover Commission's recently completed study of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards "will have to be evaluated in greater detail before further legislation in this area is approved."

SB 102
Dolwig

Increases minimum salaries of credentialed teachers to $6,000 per year on and after July 1, 1968.

Governor Reagan said this "would add additional direct costs of over $3 million annually to local school districts" and this matter "should be the concern of local school boards."

SB 111
Dymally

Provides that certain information in school employees' personnel files may be open to their inspection.

Governor Reagan questioned "whether this bill guarantees that the confidentiality of such records will be maintained. This is a matter which should receive further study by the Legislature."

SB 160
Dymally & Rodda

Creates a state scholarship subsistence grant program providing 500 subsistence grants per year in 1968-71 fiscal years.

Governor Reagan said: "Enabling legislation of this type should be deferred until the Coordinating Council for Higher Education has completed its study of the need for student financial aid and the findings of the study have been reviewed."

SB 346
Moscone & Grunsky

Provides that a notice of taking a deposition where no subpoena is required can compel the production of papers, documents or books material to the issues which are in the deponent's possession or under his control.

Governor Reagan said that since this "would apparently repeal the requirement that 'good cause' must be shown for the production of documents at depositions, it leaves entirely unclear what, if any, remedy a deponent may have to protect himself against unreasonably broad or burdensome demands."

SB 366
Short

Permits agencies in Department of Professional and Vocational Standards to hold conferences with a licensee prior to filing a proceeding for revocation or suspension of his license and to impose penalties as a result of his conference.

Governor Reagan said this "will tend to eliminate the necessary separation of investigation, prosecution and adjudication functions in license disciplinary proceedings."

SB 381
Grunsky

Provides for increased payments to county superintendents of schools for full-time instructors for blind pupils.

Governor Reagan said that, if signed, this "could chapter out the increased assistance to physically handicapped children as provided in AB 272."

SB 406
Burgener

Permits the Department of Youth Authority and the Department of Corrections to reimburse cities and counties for the cost of maintaining persons committed or on parole.

Governor Reagan said: "The present state of the general fund precludes favorable consideration of the bill this year" since costs "could run as high as $1 million per year."

SB 423
Short

Creates a California Board of Interior Furnishings to administer interior furnishings licensing law.

Governor Reagan said that the Little Hoover Commission's study of the Department of P & V Standards "will have to be evaluated in greater detail before further legislation...is approved. In addition, I seriously question the desirability of the Legislature appointing members to an administrative board."

SB 543
Kennick & Carrell

Increases payments to counties for maintaining children in juvenile homes or camps.

Governor Reagan said that since this is a joint state/local responsibility, he "would be happy to reconsider this measure next year if Legislation were introduced which would allow the state to receive a reasonable amount from the counties for maintaining county wards."

SB 626
Alquist, et al

Requires California-made cabinetry to be used in schools.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill invites retaliatory legislation from other states."

SB 657
Rodda

Increases junior college district board members pay to $60 per month.

Governor Reagan said that, except in the largest school districts, members "consider their assignments as a public service. I can find no reason to modify this basic philosophy."

SB 665
Danielson

Requires the deposit of all fees for copies of documents and reports, the cost of which is charged to the Transportation Rate Fund, in that fund.

Governor Reagan said that the "present state of the general fund precludes favorable consideration" of this bill because of the annual loss of approximately $51,000 to the general fund.

SB 671
Way, et al

Requires the state librarian to have tape recordings available for the blind. Appropriates $15,000 for this purpose.

Governor Reagan said: "There is no immediate necessity to provide tapes in addition to the records that are now distributed."

SB 674
Grunsky

Includes children with speech defects or disorders among those for whom allocations may be made to school districts for educational purposes.

Governor Reagan said that this will require an estimated expenditure of $10 million over a period of years and that existing space could be used instead of building additional rooms for part-time use.

SB 727
Alquist

Increases the boardinghome care allowance for OAS recipients.

Governor Reagan said this increase would result in an estimated additional state expense of $2,827,000 in fiscal 1967-68 and $3,770,500 in fiscal 1968-69. "No provision has been made to fund the increased costs contained in the bill."

SB 921
Song

Eliminates the minimum costs which a public entity may collect against a plaintiff when the plaintiff fails to recover a judgment against the public entity.

Governor Reagan said that "there is danger in making piecemeal amendments to the Government Tort Liability Act without first receiving the views of the Law Revision Commission."

SB 990
Teale

Provides that all increases in Social Security payments after January 1, 1967, will not be regarded as income or deducted from the amount of aid granted to a recipient of aid to the aged.

Governor Reagan said: "The old age assistance program is designed solely to meet the needs which cannot be provided by other income. To disregard Social Security benefits, even to a minor extent, is improper and tends to force a perpetuation on public assistance."

SB 997
Miller

Permits judges eligible to retire with increased retirement benefits to serve additional periods without losing rights to such benefits.

Governor Reagan said: "SB 997 is an effort to reduce the deficit that currently exists in the judges' retirement fund. I question the piecemeal approach to this problem."

SB 1051
Song

Requires county clerks to have copies in Spanish of the state and countywide measures and of the instructions to voters appearing on the ballot.

Governor Reagan said that the provisions of this bill cannot be reconciled with the California Constitution and the elections code which require the knowledge and use of English.

SB 1108
Dymally

Allow operators of vending stands for the blind to enroll in a health benefits plan under the state Employees' Medical and Hospital Care Act.

Governor Reagan said: "Use of these plans as a means of providing health and hospital insurance for persons not state employees is not appropriate."

SB 1194
Sherman

Provides for proportionate wage increases for non civil service blind and physically handicapped workers of the California industries for the blind when civil service workers thereof receive pay increases; provides a 4% increase for such workers.

Governor Reagan said: "The bill provides for mandatory wage increases, regardless of the labor or product market, but does not provide for financial assistance which will be necessary since the additional cost cannot be recovered in the marketplace."

SB 1219
Short

Prohibits licensing of new schools of cosmetology until 61st day after final adjournment of the Legislature's 1968 regular session.

Governor Reagan said: "I seriously question the need for a moratorium on the licensing of cosmetology schools while the Legislature is studying the cosmetology industry."

SB 1226
Moscone & Lagomarsino

Establishes a Conservation Education Service to encourage development of conservation education.

Governor Reagan pointed out that the Department of Education is currently conducting a federally-financed study in this area.

SB 1269
Dolwig

Eliminates the requirement that foreign banks be approved for Federal deposit insurance corporation insurance before accepting deposits.

Governor Reagan said: "It is generally agreed that FDIC insurance provides the best protection for the depositor. Depositors in all California banks enjoy the protection of such insurance. I can find no reason why a foreign branch bank should be treated differently than a California bank."

SB 1357
Grunsky

Includes juvenile hall employees who are actively and principally engaged in providing care, custody and control of detained children and youths in definition of "local safety member".

Governor Reagan said this classification was designed for "personnel subject to high physical standards and hazards incident to active law enforcement work" and that juvenile hall employees do not meet this criteria."

SB 1496
Way

Exempts transportation of earth, rock, stone, gravel or sand in relation to a public works construction project, other than that from a commercial producing plant, from the coverage of the Highway Carriers' Act.

Governor Reagan said: "The author has requested that consideration of this bill be deferred until next year."

SB 1533
Short

Changes the requirements for admission to the certified shorthand reporters examination; requires notaries public and official superior and municipal court reporters pro tempore to be licensed certified shorthand reporters; requires use of certified shorthand reporters for taking depositions.

Governor Reagan said this bill creates a conflict between sections of the Business and Professional Code and the Code of Civil Procedure which would cast doubt on deposition practices statewide and that he would "be happy to consider this bill next year when this conflict is corrected."

RELEASE: Immediate

PRESS ★

Governor Ronald Reagan announced today that he has vetoed the following bills:

AB 15                      Changes the definition of "veteran" for purposes of the Powers                      educational assistance and indigent benefit programs; requires educational assistance program to be so financed that benefits will be available to all applicants regardless of total cost.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill adds substantially to the cost of the veterans educational assistance and indigent benefit programs. These programs as presently constituted provide adequate assistance to the California veteran and his family."

AB 40                      Entitles the unremarried widow of a veteran who had not Powers                      filed for benefits under the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1943, to these benefits.

Governor Reagan pointed out that the California Constitution makes no provision for aid to the ~~widow~~ or family of a veteran and that Proposition 12, which sought to provide for veterans' ~~widow~~, was defeated by the people.

AB 122                     Provides that cities and counties may receive aid to Powers                     train municipal court marshals and deputy marshals.

Governor Reagan said that "insufficient funds" are available and that inclusion of these persons would "reduce funds available for training of public officers and deputy sheriffs."

AB 398                     Provides that the occupancy value of a home shall not Quimby,                    be considered income or resources of a welfare recip-
Burton, et al            ient and shall not be deducted from a grant of aid.

Governor Reagan said this "will increase welfare expenditures by approximately $1.4 million annually of which $609,000 comes from the state general fund. The increased costs were not provided for in the 1967-68 expenditure program."

AB 446                     Instructs public agencies to cooperate with counties in Veneman,                   establishing work experience and training projects for Chappie,                   recipient of aid; authorizes additional grants for et al                       families participating; requires Department of Social Welfare to provide child care services.

Governor Reagan said: "The ceiling placed on total expenditures for this program is limited to the 1967-68 fiscal year. However, there is no limitation on subsequent year expenditures, thereby resulting in an open-ended outlay of general fund money."

AB 479                     Establishes a conservation education service to encour-
Brown                      age development of conservation education.

Governor Reagan pointed out the Department of Education is currently conducting a federally-financed study in this area.

AB 482                     Provides that, notwithstanding any other provision of Brown                      law, property appropriated for a public use as a park is prima facie evidence that it has been appropriated for the most necessary public use.

Governor Reagan pointed out that litigation would result in "almost every case in order to defeat the presumption that park use is the highest public use value. The presumption could even be extended to situations where private persons could form a park district and dedicate property to park use...for the sole purpose of blocking the free-way or other improvement. The procedural problems raised by the bill are overwhelming."

AB 504                      Require the Superintendent of Public Instruction to Miller, Ralph              provide an allowance, commencing in 1967-68 fiscal, to & Fong                      local school districts eligible for state equalization aid when at least three percent of the average daily attendance in the preceding fiscal year consists of pupils residing on properties of the University of California in living quarters established by the University.

Governor Reagan said: "The additional cost of this bill, estimated at $250,000, is not included in the 1967-68 budget. In addition, compensation by the state is already made in the Foundation Aid Program. Since assessed valuation per total district A.D.A. goes down due to attendance of students who reside on tax exempt land, the state's equalization aid effort is increased."

AB 507                      Authorizes member of Teachers' Retirement System to Knox                      elect not to receive credit for time served outside this state in a status which, in the state, is a requisite for membership; authorizes member to apply for retirement if he rendered additional service in a status requisite for membership in the system for at least one year after June 30, 1950.

Governor Reagan said: "AB 507 is intended to have only limited application. However, it appears that a substantial number of teachers could qualify for additional retirement benefits under the bill. The matter of teacher retirement benefits should not be approved on a piecemeal basis."

AB 740                      Increased retirement allowances for annuitants of the Monagan                      State Employees' Retirement System on a sliding scale from 2 percent to 10 percent.

Governor Reagan said: "No money is available this year to provide cost-of-living increases for retired state employees. Provision will be made in the 1968-69 budget for these needed cost-of-living increases."

AB 769                      Eliminates exclusion of maintenance work from require-Burton                      ment that prevailing rate of wage be paid in public works, but limits application to maintenance work performed under contract, and not that performed by public employees; appropriates $50,206 for support of Department of Industrial Relations.

Governor Reagan said: "AB 769 does not provide funds for the additional work that will be required by the Department of Public Works and by the Office of Architecture and Construction to implement this law. There is also some question whether the benefits to be derived from this measure are commensurate with the heavy administrative costs involved."

AB 845                      Requires school districts to pay tuition for the public Leroy Greene              or private school education of mentally retarded and physically handicapped minors when the state cannot provide such services.

Governor Reagan said: "AB 845 would commit the state to expenditures for which no funds are presently available."

AB 861                      Adds juvenile halls to the places to be inspected by Brown &                      the courts and youth authority for suitability for Burton                      confinement of minors.

Governor Reagan said: "Existing law adequately protects the juvenile confined in a jail or juvenile hall. If a problem exists with respect to a given juvenile hall, it can be resolved at the local level. I can find no reason for further state regulation at this time."

AB 895                      Permits the Department of Mental Hygiene to contract
Zenovich                      with the Department of Public Health or regional centers to perform preadmission and post-hospital services; appropriates $499,241 for establishing three new regional centers.

Governor Reagan said: "I do not question the need for additional regional centers; however, the full-year costs of the three additional centers proposed by AB 895 would be $2,250,000. The bill commits the state to expenditures for which no funds are presently available. I plan to make every effort to resolve the problem of providing funds for the additional centers."

AB 926 Allow the Office of Administrative Procedure to adopt, amend, or repeal such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to fulfill the purpose of the Administrative Procedure Act.
Foran

Governor Reagan said that since AB 926 was introduced as a companion measure to AB 925 which was not enacted, "there is no present need for such authority."

AB 1035 Provides that the first $50 of earnings of an eligible
Burton, needy child will not be considered income by the family et al unit in determining amount of assistance to be granted family unit under AFDC program.

Governor Reagan said: "This measure will result in expenditures not included in the 1967-68 budget and will tend to encourage children under the AFDC program to become employed instead of completing their education."

AB 1042 Establishes a filing fee of $25 for the Office of County Fenton, Central Committeeman in counties with populations in et al excess of 100,000; prohibits County Central Committees in counties with populations in excess of 100,000 from collecting dues.

Governor Reagan said: "I believe that each County Central Committee should retain the right to charge dues."

AB 1195 Provides that when two or more insurance policies insure Knox the same loss and one of them covers a commercial business enterprise, including but not limited to the leasing of automobiles, such policies may contain permissive provisions; authorizes such provisions to state that policies insuring the enterprise or its agent are not applicable as primary coverage, but as excess coverage if another policy insures the same loss.

Governor Reagan said: "AB 1195 would tend to adversely affect private automobile insurance rates by including the accident loss ratio of vehicle lessors in the computation of such rates."

AB 1229 Extends medical and hospital coverage under the Meyers-Meyers, Geddes Act to one-time state employees provided they Z'berg & are receiving a state retirement allowance.
Milias

Governor Reagan said: "Addition of more annuitants...will increase the costs of coverage for current employees because of the same contribution rates for employees and annuitants and the generally greater cost of annuitant coverage."

AB 1258 Provides corporate taxpayers an additional deduction
Burton & from gross income of amounts equal to 25 percent paid
Bagley or incurred to employ or train a disadvantaged person.

Governor Reagan said: "The bill as written could result in substantial abuse of the training programs by certain employers. Any measure of this type must have adequate safeguards to insure that disadvantaged persons are receiving meaningful employment training."

AB 1278 Increases survivor benefits under the State Teachers'
Porter Retirement System by approximately 10 percent.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill liberalizes a program already in financial trouble without providing for increased contributions to offset the increase in annual costs of $150,000 to $200,000."

AB 1279 Exempts from the requirement of prior submission to and Milias approval by Department of Finance requests and budget submissions to the federal government for state college programs for loans, grants, compensation or other financial assistance.

Governor Reagan said: "At the present time financial aid administration costs are budgeted at about $630,000, half of which comes from the general fund. Without prior approval of grant requests by the Department of Finance, the costs of administration could increase out of control."

AB 1400                      Requires Department of Public Health to develop and Biddle                      carry out drug use and abuse educational programs;
                             appropriates $25,000 in augmentation of the 1967-68
                             budget for such programs.

Governor Reagan said that while he agrees with the need to strengthen the educational programs in this field, "the responsibility to carry out such a program should be clearly defined. This bill further fragments the responsibility for program direction."

AB 1551                      Requires the State Lands Commission to give written Dunlap &                      notice of the sale of state land to local governmental Z'berg                      entities and state legislators if a written request for such notice has been made.

Governor Reagan said: "The State Lands Commission presently advises local entities and other interested parties of the sale of state lands. I can see no reason to revise the procedure."

AB 1615                      Provides that the attorney general shall prepare, keep Sieroty,                      up to date, and cause to be distributed to law enforce-et al                      ment agencies, a statement in simple language, in both English and Spanish, of the rights of an arrested person.

Governor Reagan said this "places an additional duty on law enforcement officers in connection with arrests which goes substantially beyond the duties now imposed by statute and court decisions."

AB 1622                      Permits a property owner to review appraisals of his Knox                      property by the State Board of Equalization in its intercounty equalization sampling process.

Governor Reagan said: "Intercounty equalization surveys...are not intended to directly influence individual appraisals made by a county assessor. This is a matter between the assessee and his county assessor."

AB 1632                      Provides an annexation procedure applicable to islands
Knox                      of unincorporated territory which are completely surrounded by incorporated cities and which are less than 100 acres in size.

Governor Reagan said: "I am...concerned that the bill does not give the residents of such islands and strips a real voice in determining whether they are to be annexed to a city. The residents of these areas should retain their right to vote on such matters."

AB 1747                      Authorizes Department of Corrections and Youth Authority
H. Johnson                      to reimburse cities and counties for cost of maintaining persons committed or on parole.

Governor Reagan said: "The present state of the general fund precludes favorable consideration of the bill this year" since the cost "could run as high as $1 million a year."

AB 1818                      Includes children with speech defects or disorders among Murphy                      those for whom allocations may be made to school districts for educational purposes.

Governor Reagan said that this will require an estimated expenditure of $10 million over a period of years and that existing space could be used instead of building additional rooms for part-time use.

AB 1906                      Provides a statutory salary of $22,000 for the state
Z'berg                      architect.

Governor Reagan said: "The matter of salary increases for statutory positions should be considered as a total package and not on a position by position basis."

AB 1910                    Provides that the commercial salmon season is to open
Burton &                    on April 1 during the next two years.
Thomas

Governor Reagan said: "The short-term gains derived from the earlier season may be more than offset by the long-term loss of spawners...and by reduced catches of larger fish during the next two seasons."

AB 1944                    Prohibits counties and cities from obtaining standard Lanterman                    road and street signs by force account and requires the purchase of such signs by established bid procedures.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill interferes with the authority of local governments to control their own affairs."

AB 2169                    Adds the cost of supervision to those categories of Schabarum                    expenditures that qualify for payment to the counties that provide fire protection and suppression services in state wildland areas.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill commits the state to expenditures for which funds are not available."

AB 2317                    Prohibits Department of Mental Hygiene, after July 1, Zenovich                    1968, from employing a patient in a state hospital in "patient labor" other than in therapeutic training unless he is reimbursed for his services; requires that funds owed to the hospital by the working patient be deducted before such reimbursement is made.

Governor Reagan said that this measure imposes a "substantial administrative burden" for which state hospitals are not staffed. "Furthermore, it is not entirely clear under the California Constitution whether or not patients in state hospitals who perform state work for wages are exempt from the civil service provisions of the Constitution and the State Civil Service Act."

AB 2439                    Permits the establishment of not more than 20 three-year
Bagley                      pilot programs directed to identification of mentally gifted disadvantaged children.

Governor Reagan said: "The establishment of programs for which the state must ultimately assume financial responsibility should be deferred until the cost of such programs is more clearly defined."

AB 2541                    Provides that if an applicant for, or recipient of, aid McGee                      to the blind has children receiving AFDC funds, to the extent permitted by federal law, his personal property allowance shall be governed by the highest allowance possible.

Governor Reagan said: "This bill is inequitable. It distinguishes between persons handicapped by blindness and those having other physical handicaps. In addition, it would encourage erosion of the personal property limitation."

AB 2563                    Redefines "psychiatric technician" as a person who Dunlap                      performs specified services under the direction of a licensed physician or psychiatrist.

Governor Reagan said: "AB 2563 would tend to confuse the traditional relationships that exist between psychiatric technicians, physicians, psychiatrists and registered nurses."

AB 2569
Meyers

Eliminates provisions prohibiting Department of Veterans' Affairs from acquiring a home under the provisions of the Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act of 1943 where the market value of the improvements exceeds $25,000.

Governor Reagan said: "The intent of the Veterans' Farm and Home Program is to provide returning veterans with assistance in obtaining adequate housing. Removing the market value restriction on home loans will divert funds intended for this purpose to veterans already established in the community who desire to obtain higher priced homes. This is contrary to the intent and purpose of the 'Cal-Vet Program'."

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan today announced the signing of a bill to provide uniform open meeting requirements applicable to state agencies. Signing of the bill climaxed a long-standing effort to enact a comprehensive open meeting law for state agencies as a companion measure to the Ralph M. Brown Act.

The Brown Act, adopted in 1953, is applicable only to local agencies such as school boards, city councils and county boards of supervisors.

The bill's author, Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) commended Sen.-elect Milton Marks of San Francisco, saying he had introduced the bill at the request of Marks. Marks had carried a similar measure during the 1965 legislative session which was passed by both houses of the Legislature and pocket-vetoed by former Gov. Brown.

Gov. Reagan said the bill, AB 495, would extend open meeting coverage to about 60 state agencies which are not now required to conduct open meetings. He said the bill also strengthens and makes uniform the rules governing the conduct of meetings of all the other state agencies, boards and commissions of state government.

The Governor declared "this legislative guarantee of the public's right of access to meetings of state agencies is a vital ingredient of the democratic process and follows my pledge to keep the people of California informed of their government."

Gov. Reagan acknowledged the support of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. and noted that its president, James K. Guthrie, publisher of the San Bernardino Sun-Telegram, urged signing of the bill, "because it incorporates into law essential protections of the people's right to know."

Sacramento--Governor Ronald Reagan announced today he has signed into law a bill containing a major part of his crime control program.

The bill creates the California Council on Criminal Justice and the Crime Technological Research Foundation. It was authored by Sen. George Deukmejian, (R-Long Beach).

"This new approach will help assure Californians of the best and most efficient law enforcement in the nation," the Governor said in signing the measure, SB34.

"The California Council on Criminal Justice will develop plans for the prevention, detection and control of crime and the administration of criminal justice. It also will coordinate the efforts of Federal, state and local agencies in these fields.

"The California Crime Technological Research Foundation will enable California to develop and put into use the latest technological devices that can be used to combat crime," the Governor said, adding that "it will stimulate basic research into the causes of crime and the prevention, detection and treatment of criminal offenders".

The Governor, who expressed his appreciation to Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch for his support of the measure, said the new law "is a significant new step which places California in the position of nationwide leadership in the fight against crime."

The bill appropriates $50,000 for support of the California Council on Criminal Justice and $50,000 for the support of the California Crime Technological Research Foundation. It is expected that these appropriations will be supplemented by funds received from the Federal government and private foundations.

Sacramento--A bill which increases the number of scholarships available under the state competitive scholarship program has been signed into law by Governor Ronald Reagan, it was announced today.

The bill, AB1765 by Assemblyman Frederick J. Bear, (D-San Diego), increases the number of scholarships under the state competitive scholarship program from 1 percent to 2 percent of the number of high school graduates of the previous year.

It also increases, starting in 1968-69, the state competitive graduate fellowship program from 1 percent to 2 percent of the total number of baccalaureate degrees awarded during the next preceding academic year by colleges and universities in California which are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The cost of the additional scholarships in 1968-69 is estimated at $2.7 million.

In signing the measure, Governor Reagan pointed out that the additional scholarships will be available to students who would not otherwise be financially able to attend college, as well as to those who are scholastically qualified.

In addition, the increased number of scholarships available may help reduce the demand for enrollment at the state university and colleges by diverting scholarship recipients to private colleges and universities.

"This bill is a fine example of how the state can assist students in obtaining the highest quality education available anywhere in this country whether it be in state institutions of higher education or the very fine private institutions," the Governor said.

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan today proclaimed Sept. 5 as "Back-to-School-Day" and urged that all students in California continue and complete their education.

At the same time, Gov. Reagan invited 10 former drop-outs who have returned to school to visit with him and other state officials to emphasize the administration's concern over the drop-out problem.

"An education is more vital to a young person's future today than ever before, the Governor said.

"To 'drop out' from school today means to drop into the ranks of the 'unemployables' tomorrow. An education not only equips a person for employment but provides knowledge which enriches life."

The Governor said school also "provides a social experience which prepares a young person for full participation in the life of his community."

Therefore, he added, he was proclaiming September 5 as "Back-to-School-Day" and urging "all young people to serve themselves and their country by completing their education."

The 10 students who were given a day-long tour of the State Capitol were selected from throughout California.

Activities during the day, in addition to meeting with Governor Reagan, included a tour of the Capitol, meeting with Assemblymen and Senators and observing the Assembly and Senate in session, lunch at the California Highway Patrol Headquarters and a meeting with Dr. Max Rafferty, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Students honored during the day's activities were Arthur R. Gomez, 20, of Sacramento; Peter J. Heskett, 17, of Fresno; Elena Michael deTimofeev, 22, of San Francisco; Harold R. Willis Jr., 25, of San Francisco; Richard L. Caudill, 16, of San Jose; David S. Essington, 17, of San Diego; Roland J. Gov. Ronald Reagan today praised Senator John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) for his efforts in obtaining passage of a bill that will curtail fraudulent use of credit cards.

"Senate Bill 1055 is in my opinion one of the major pieces of anti-crime legislation introduced in this session of the Legislature", the Governor said.

"This new law will make it much easier for law enforcement officers to apprehend and prosecute those who deal in stolen, forged and counterfeit credit cards. I was pleased to sign this bill into law since it so closely tied in with my own program of anti-crime legislation".

The McCarthy bill is part of a program of uniform state laws aimed at combating the growing illegal traffic in credit cards. California is the third state to take action along these lines.

The new law specifically spells out and defines illegal possession and fraudulent use of credit cards and stiffens the penalties in each case.

THURSDAY A.M. RELEASE
SEPTEMBER 7, 1967

Gov. Ronald Reagan said today his administration has moved to help California farmers obtain as soon as possible 9,625 foreign nationals needed to offset a fast-developing harvest labor shortage which is threatening heavy crop losses.

William H. Tolbert, deputy director of employment, farm labor service, today said he has sent requests for the Foreign Labor from the California-Arizona Farm Labor Assn. on to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz through the Department of Labor's San Francisco regional office.

"Only Secretary of Labor Wirtz can certify the need for importation of Foreign Nationals under United States immigration law. The Department of Employment has acquainted the secretary fully with the circumstances which make this year's California harvest pattern unique, and it is my earnest hope that the request will receive his sympathetic attention and that he will act quickly and favorably on it," Tolbert said.

He said California agriculture now is feeling the full force of last spring's irregular weather and resultant delayed plantings in the form of simultaneous, later maturing of crops.

Until now, there has not been a heavy California demand for seasonal farm labor. As a result, the usual flow of migrant farm labor to California from other states did not occur. And some growers report that with the opening of school, half of the reduced number of migrant workers they did get already have returned to their homes in other states to put their children in school.

Tolbert reported that as of the week ending Aug. 26, a total of only 277,000 tons of tomatoes had been harvested in 1967 compared with 1,024,000 at the end of the same week last year. The later maturity has compressed the labor need.

During August of last year, 347,530 persons were at work in agriculture in California. This year the number was 36,950 less at 310,580.

The farm labor problem is complicated further by the fact that as of the last week in August, there were about 50,000 fewer seasonal workers in California than ordinarily would be on hand. It is this shortage which will continue into the peak harvest season which is creating the biggest hole in the farm labor supply.

It is hoped that the needed Foreign Nationals could be in California fields as soon as possible in order to meet the anticipated peak labor need, if authorized. They first would be used in harvesting tomatoes and figs in the central valleys, and probably in other fall harvests later, including grapes, Brussel sprouts and strawberries.

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan announced today he has invited Governors and officials from major states which operate medical assistance programs similar to Medi-Cal to a conference in California to discuss mutual problems.

The Governor's Interstate Conference on Medi-Cal will be held at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco, September 20-22. Invitations have been extended to Governors and other officials of New York, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

"It should be apparent to most Californians that our medical assistance program has been plagued with sizable problems, largely fiscal, but by no means limited to this area," Gov. Reagan said.

"All other states with similar programs have run into these same difficulties but they have been most pronounced in the larger states.

"Some of the basic complications can be traced to interpretations at the Federal level. Therefore, it is time for the states to get together on their own to dig into the issues and solve what I am convinced are common problems.

"This conference can produce a common viewpoint of the states which must administer these programs. Obviously, this program must operate within the bounds of good medical practice and fiscal reality.

"I hope we can come up with recommendations for modifications of existing Federal administrative regulations and statutes. There also may be a need for new Federal legislation," the Governor said.

Gov. Reagan said he is convinced that the concept of offering health care for those who cannot provide it for themselves is the responsibility of society, but added, "We must accomplish this goal within our capabilities."

He pointed out that the conference will mark the first time that states "which have a vital interest in making these programs successful" have been brought together on their own initiative to confer jointly on this topic.

He will open the conference when it convenes Sept. 20.

The following statement was issued today by Spencer Williams, Administrator of the Health and Welfare Agency, in connection with the Superior Court decision on the new Medi-Cal regulations. "We are going to file a Notice of Appeal and immediately seek a Writ of Supersedeas to stay the effect of the decision pending its final determination by the Appellate Court. Such a stay would continue the existing regulations in force and prevent over-expenditure of the Medi-Cal budget while issue is being decided.

"Judge Perluss agreed that I am required to operate the program within the funds available but disagreed with the manner in which the adjustments were made. Our proposal extended modified benefits to all persons previously eligible. Under the Perluss plan we would be required to cut some 160,000 "medically indigent but partially self-supporting" persons from the program, forcing them into county facilities for medical treatment while leaving the 1.3 million fully dependent Welfare recipients on the existing program. This will have the effect of shifting some $145 million in medical expenses to the property taxpayers of the various counties and forfeiting some $72.5 million in Federal funds that would otherwise be available.

"It is our sincere hope that the matter can be resolved at the earliest possible time so that the providers of service and the patients alike will fully understand the extent and scope of benefits that will be available under this program for the balance of this fiscal year."

Spencer Williams, Health and Welfare Administrator, cautioned Medi-Cal beneficiaries and suppliers of services today that bills for services beyond those authorized under regulations now being litigated may not be paid.

"In my opinion, and I am joined by the Attorney General in this view, the Superior Court decision invalidating the regulations is incorrect and we will appeal," Williams said.

"In fairness to all, I must point out to recipients and providers of medical services that pending a final determination by the Appellate Courts, bills for services beyond those authorized by the regulations may not be paid," Williams said.

Williams said he anticipated the formal order of the lower court would be filed Friday and that the Notice of Appeal would be filed promptly afterward.

"I want to do everything possible to resolve this issue at the earliest time so that the extent and scope of benefits available under the program are clearly understood," the Administrator said.

Sacramento Superior Court Judge Irving H. Perluss ruled in a memorandum opinion issued Friday that while Williams was correct in adjusting Medi-Cal benefits to fit the $600 million available, he had erred in providing a basic health program for all persons eligible and should instead have first cut 160,000 medically indigent but partially self-supporting persons from the eligible lists and then made proportional cuts in all services instead of eliminating any.

Under the regulations adopted by Williams, physician care, hospitalization, x-ray and laboratory fees, home health care, nursing home care, life maintaining drugs, emergency dental care and other vital services would be provided for all eligible recipients. Some lessessential services were eliminated completely to fund the most essential.

Williams said that as the existing deficit in Medi-Cal funds is eliminated and savings are accrued from new administrative controls, services provided may be expanded.

SACRAMENTO--A program for State Water Project recreation which will adequately serve the public without excessive cost to the general taxpayer was submitted to Governor Ronald Reagan today by the Governor's Recreation Task Force on the State Water Project.

"I am pleased to note the Task Force recognized State Water Project recreation sites not as separate entities, but as part of the entire recreation program of the State," the Governor said.

"Development of these sites is financed from the General Fund, and each site must compete with all other state recreation projects for the budget dollar.

"The Task Force report recognizes this financial fact of life, and sets guidelines which will help in overall state recreation planning. It envisions a program, within the framework of the State's total recreation and park program, which will adequately serve the public without excessive cost."

The Governor received the Task Force report from Resources Agency Administrator Norman B. Livermore and Raymond J. Mesbit, chairman of the five-man group which has been studying proposed recreation development in conjunction with the State Water Project since February.

In considering recreation sites at 15 State Water Project reservoirs, the Task Force urged immediate acquisition of land for recreation followed by development as the need is demonstrated by demand.

Substantial savings are foreseen by the Task Force.

"It is not possible to estimate how great our savings can be at these reservoir sites," Livermore said. "But, of the $176.6 million in capital costs previously estimated for State Water Project recreation facilities, $133.1 million was for reservoir recreation development. Potential savings are great -- by staging development according to demand, rather than long-range projections; by inviting capital investment by private enterprise; and by local participation in operations and maintenance.

In addition to the reservoirs, the Task Force reviewed 34 proposed projects along the California Aqueduct route -- seven aquatic recreation areas, 16 fishing access sites, and 11 miscellaneous projects.

Capital outlay for these facilities has been estimated at $43.5 million, but the Task Force noted most of the projects are not located on land or water areas required for the State Water Project. The Task Force recommended elimination of some and scaling down of other proposed facilities, thereby saving $42.5 million in capital costs and $2 million in annual operation and maintenance costs.

Governor Reagan said he will study the specifics of the recommendations.

Members of the Task Force under Nesbit, who is executive officer of the Wildlife Conservation Board, included: John H. Knight, deputy chief of park management of the Department of Parks Recreation; William M. Carah, executive secretary of the California Water Commission; Robert G. Eiland, assistant director of the Department of Water Resources; and James Trout, senior construction budget analyst of the Department of Finance.

Livermore said the Task Force recommendations evolved from the following basic concepts:

1. The basic premise was to recommend a program to meet the growing needs of California for outdoor recreation which is feasible and within the ability of the State to finance.

2. Staging of demand should be based on demonstrated need rather than on projections of use; and, on the average recreation season week-end rather than holiday weekends or special occasions such as the opening of trout season.

3. Consistent with proper project operation, private participation in appropriate developments should be encouraged.

4. Operation and maintenance should be conducted by local agencies wherever possible, with state operation limited to those areas having unusual value, or interest to the State.

5. Reservoir development appropriate for local operation and maintenance should be given priority when local arrangements have been concluded.

6. Only those recreation and fish and wildlife projects which are located in land or water areas essential to the State Water Project should be considered for project participation. Those projects which could be built irrespective of the existence of the state project are not, in the opinion of the Task Force, appropriate for inclusion as a project feature.

7. Projects, local in nature such as fishing access sites along the Aqueduct, should be developed only after a fishery has been established and after local operation and maintenance has been assured.

8. Fish and wildlife management at project facilities should have standards comparable to those in other water and wildlife areas of the State.

9. In planning, the impact of project recreation development competing with established private facilities should be examined in the light of unnecessary public costs, and with special regard to the effect on the economy of the area.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan today advised American Mothers, Inc., a Los Angeles organization seeking to bring South Vietnamese children to the United States for education and temporary placement in private families, that state law requires licensing of such activity by the State Department of Social Welfare.

The Governor said he had been assured by John C. Montgomery, State Director of Social Welfare, that once an application for licensing has been filed by American Mothers it will be given prompt attention.

Reagan said Montgomery has written to Mrs. Rachel Phillips, president of American Mothers, advising her that the Governor agrees with the previously stated position of the Welfare Department that licensing is a necessary step in the American Mothers' efforts to secure placement of the children in this country.

Montgomery cited Section 16000 of the California Welfare & Institutions Code, under which temporary care of children under 16, as proposed by the American Mothers, is within the licensing responsibilities of the State Social Welfare Department.

Montgomery's letter to Mrs. Phillips offered the availability of his Los Angeles Deputy Director, Ralph Goff, to the American Mothers group for consultation in applying for SDSW licensing.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan announced today that since Jan. 1, $99 million has been added to the highway budget due to economies in Transportation departments, lower construction bids received and an unanticipated $18 million from a 1966 budgeting error.

Of the $99 million, $79 million has been realized and $20 million is anticipated during the 1967-68 fiscal period.

"I have been advised by my Secretary of Business and Transportation, Gordon C. Luce, that the California Highway Commission has now advanced the priority of a total of 44 projects during the last few months because of these additional funds.

"This will result in an accelerated highway construction and safety program for California. This unprecedented speed-up will result in more jobs and a saving of lives, as well as improve the transportation problems existing in some sections of the State," Gov. Reagan said.

In July the Governor announced that $52 million in savings and reduced bids had allowed 13 projects to move up on the priority list; $37 million was used for construction and $15 million for augmentation of the right of way program for future projects.

Now an additional $47 million has moved up 31 projects. Luce said the source of these funds consists of: an additional $20 million from anticipated operating expense savings in the motor vehicle fund for 1967-68; $18 million addition to the highway fund resulting from a misunderstanding in the Department of Finance in 1966 regarding a loan to the right of way acquisition fund; and $9 million from the highway fund contingency reserve.

Fifteen million dollars will be used in the North and $32 million in the South.

"I would like to congratulate the California Highway Commission and the Departments of Public Works, Motor Vehicles and California Highway Patrol for their cooperative efforts in realizing these additional moneys which can be used for safety and highway construction," the Governor said, adding:

"I am happy to make this announcement during National Highway Week so that California motorists can share in the knowledge that their gas taxes are being fully utilized for their benefit."

Sacramento--Governor Ronald Reagan announced today he has authorized the use of prison labor in Merced County to assist in the harvest of figs and prevent a disastrous crop loss.

"I have been advised by the State Farm Labor Service that there is a critical need for workers to harvest Kadota Figs in Merced County. All normal sources of labor have been exhausted with the result that unless prison labor is made available immediately, a substantial loss will be suffered," the Governor said.

He noted that recruiting efforts have been made throughout the state to find <sup>workers</sup> but that not enough are available. More than 100 off-duty men from Castle Air Force Base have assisted in the harvest but even this supply has been exhausted, the Governor said.

The Merced County Board of Supervisors unanimously passed a resolution today agreeing to the use of prison labor. The Merced County Sheriff also agreed to the action.

Approximately 200 prisoners from Deuel Vocational Institution, Tracy, will be made available for three to five weeks, starting Sunday.

Governor Reagan emphasized that the prison labor was being made available only as a last resort to prevent substantial crop losses. He said efforts were continuing in an attempt to recruit regular farm laborers.

Thomas Pitts of the State AFL-CIO was advised of the action and was asked by the Administration to cooperate in meeting the emergency labor situation.

Inmates to be used in the harvest will be specially screened for security purposes. They will be transported daily to the fields and back to Deuel by busses.

Growers reported there are 2,100 acres of Kadota Figs still not harvested--about 45percent to 50 percent of the total crop. They estimated the value of the 2,100 acres at $350,000 to $400,000.

Prevailing wages on a piece-rate basis will be paid to the state for the inmates to be used. Part of the wages will be kept by the state to cover expenses incurred and part will go into a trust fund held by the state for inmates until their release from prison. Growers will pay transportation costs.

For Release Sunday, October 1

Sacramento--Gov. Ronald Reagan today asked all Californians to join in the observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, October 1 - 7, 1967.

"Persons with a history of physical or mental impairment are actually handicapped in two ways", Gov. Reagan said. "First, there is the disability itself, and the degree of its effect on their activities. But more serious is the handicap that is forced on them by others who refuse to recognize their value as full time employees and active members of the community."

The Governor explained that the purpose of N.E.P.H. Week is to promote a fuller understanding of the problems facing our handicapped citizens and a wider appreciation of their abilities. "I urge each of you to broaden your awareness of the contributions that so-called "disabled" persons are making to our society every day. You will find they have the same wide range of skills, abilities, and interests as other persons. Their endeavors extend to Industry, Public Service, Labor, the Arts, Space Technology, and in fact to every field where they are given an opportunity to prove themselves."

"The need for more community interest in this area has never been greater", Governor Reagan said. "Advances in medical technology, coupled with increases in programs of rehabilitation and retraining are returning more and more handicapped workers to the labor force. The dramatic improvements in recovery and care of our wounded in Vietnam have dropped their mortality rate to 4%, compared with 20% in World War II. These are important trends, affecting all of us."

The Governor stressed the importance of effective campaigns at the local level to promote employment of the handicapped, both during N.E.P.H. Week itself and continuing throughout the year. "It is a fact that better public understanding and cooperation exist in communities where local 'Employ the Handicapped' committees are active", the Governor said. "Local committees provide the leadership and coordination that are essential in any community program of action, and they give the private citizen a way to offer his services. I earnestly hope that the coming months will see the growth of more local groups and increased support for those already in existence".
