THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

For Immediate Release

March 21, 1988

The President today announced his intention to nominate George F. Murphy, Jr. to be Deputy Director of the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. He would succeed David F. Emery.

Since 1986, Mr. Murphy has been a Consultant with the American Nuclear Energy Council in Washington, D.C. Prior to this, he was Director of the Senate National Security Office, 1977-1986; Executive Director of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, 1975-1977; Appointed Deputy Director of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, 1968. He served in the Central Intelligence Agency, 1950-1958.

Mr. Murphy graduated from Harvard University (A.B., 1949). He was born May 1, 1924 in Boston, Massachusetts. He served in the United States Army Air Corps, 1942-1946. Mr. Murphy is married, has two children and resides in Bethesda, Maryland.

MEMORANDUM FOR FRANK C. CARLUCCI

FROM: SVEN ^{SK}KRAEMER/ROBERT LINHARD

SUBJECT: SCC Deputy Commissioner

With the next session of the US/Soviet Standing Consultative Commission (SCC) scheduled to begin in Geneva next week, March 18, it is essential to designate a Deputy Commissioner to serve with the head of the US team, Commissioner Richard Ellis. As with the position of the Commissioner, the Deputy is a Presidential appointment, which means that the choice is made at the NSC/White House level. The last bit of information on the options fell into place last night and we believe that the choice is now fairly easy.

OSD's Read Hanmer, who served well, but reluctantly, as Ellis's deputy for the last two SCC sessions, has made clear that he does not wish to be reappointed, as the SCC work directly conflicts with Hanmer's responsibility as Ron Lehman's deputy at the START negotiations.

Attached for your review are materials on the three alternative nominees for the Deputy slot:

1. Rear Admiral Robert P. Hilton, USN (Ret.), is Commissioner Ellis's nominee (Tab A) and also had some OJCS support. Hilton, who has experience in a wide variety of active duty assignments is currently a defense consultant. Ellis recommended that Hilton be paid through assignment to a new OJCS billet to be created to support the SCC deputy position. However, although OJCS in principle supported Hilton, OJCS were unable to come up with the funds. OJCS therefore asked OSD to provide fiscal support for Hilton. OSD said no and nominated a different person (below). Last night we learned informally from OJCS that they were deferring to the Sec Def and would not forward a separate recommendation for Adm. Hilton to the NSC.

2. George Murphy, who formerly worked for Senator Howard Baker, has support from a number of Congressional figures for the Commissioner slot, but indicated to us informally that he also wished to be considered a candidate for the Deputy slot (Tab B).
3. Benson Adams is OSD's nominee, as indicated in the attached memorandum to you from William H. Taft (Tab C). Taft's memo indicates that you know Dr. Adams through having appointed him to a major Pentagon post five years ago and stresses OSD's (well known) concern about the leadership of the SCC.

Considering the candidates and options involved, NSC staff recommend designation of Benson Adams as the Deputy Commissioner. He is qualified, acceptable to OSD, and has requisite clearances and managerial experience. We believe he could probably absorb the complex details of this assignment more rapidly than the other candidates and that he would be acceptable to other agencies. While he informed us today that he cannot be available until March 25 at the earliest, but by March 31, we will try to persuade him to go to Geneva earlier, but believe the brief delay in his coming on board will not cause problems.

Concerning Commissioner Ellis, we believe he and Adams should be able to work well together. We regret that it has proved impossible for you to meet with Ellis, who leaves this weekend for Geneva. We do believe it critical that he have a Deputy supported by OSD and well known to us. In a separate package, we will be providing you our recommendations on a decision memo and draft instructions, which we received from the SCC Backstopping Group today for your review this weekend to provide guidance for the current session of the SCC.

Formal announcement of the new Deputy would be made when the instructions are provided at the beginning of next week. However, we need to let Ben Adams know as soon as possible, in the next day or to, that he is the nominee, while letting the two others know that they are not. If you approve Adams, we also will make a quick political check with White House Personnel, if appropriate.

Lint Lint Brooks concurs.

UNITED STATES COMPONENT OF THE
STANDING CONSULTATIVE COMMISSION

February 17, 1987

TO: Frank C. Carlucci
Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs

SUBJECT: Deputy Commissioner, U.S. Component of the Standing
Consultative Commission (SCC) (U)

National Security Decision Directive (NSDD) number 243, in establishing the internal organization and operation of the U.S. Component of the SCC, directs, without specifying how the appointment is to be made, that the Component include a Deputy Commissioner. Since February 28, 1986, the Component has been without the services of a permanent Deputy Commissioner. Instead, that position has been filled on an "acting" basis for the length of individual SCC sessions. (C)

The next session of the SCC will begin in Geneva on March 18, 1987. I propose that Rear Admiral Robert P. Hilton, USN (Ret.), be designated as Deputy U.S. Commissioner beginning with that session. In addition to normal fleet assignments, Admiral Hilton has served on the Chairman, JCS Staff Group (1968-1971) as principal staff assistant to the Chairman on SALT I matters, has had tours on the OSD, J-5, and J-3 staffs, has served as a member of the US Delegation to the US-USSR Incidents at Sea Negotiations and as JCS Representative to MBFR, holds a Master's degree in Russian Affairs (Georgetown University), and speaks the Russian language. (C)

I am convinced that Admiral Hilton is well qualified to serve as Deputy U.S. Commissioner, and, if selected, I recommend he be assigned to the JCS or OSD for the necessary administrative and logistical support. (U)

Rear Admiral Robert P. Hilton, U.S.Navy (retired)
3628 Orlando Place, Alexandria, Virginia, 22305
telephone (703) 549-1786

Admiral Hilton is a private consultant, specializing in national and international security affairs and political risk analysis. He has been a consultant with the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA); the Center for Naval Warfare Studies, US Naval War College; the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS); the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS); and the International Planning and Analysis Center (IPAC). After he retired in September 1983, Admiral Hilton became Vice President for Strategic Planning with IPAC before becoming a consultant in July, 1984.

As a consultant, Admiral Hilton was a senior participant in the Global War Game at the Naval War College in 1984, 1985 and 1986. He was a member of the Senior Steering Group for the CSIS Study, "Conventional Forces at the Crossroads", published in November, 1985. At IDA, he participated in a study leading to the development of "A Planning Manual for Operations Security" for the Operations Directorate, OJCS. He is a member of the IDA team developing the JCS Forces Planning Methodology, an ongoing, four year effort to create for the JCS an integrated analytic process to quickly assess the capabilities, costs, strategies, and risks of alternative military force mixes. Admiral Hilton served as the JCS Representative and Senior Military Advisor to the U.S. Delegation at the Mutual and Balanced Force Reduction Talks in Vienna, Austria in October-December, 1985.

Before retiring, Admiral Hilton was Vice Director for Operations, Joint Chiefs of Staff. He previously served as Deputy Assistant Chief of Staff, Plans and Policy, SHAPE at Mons, Belgium, with special responsibility for: SACEUR's Rapid Reinforcement Plan; development and execution of policy and priorities for NATO's Common Funded Infrastructure Program; and the Major NATO Commanders' Concept of Maritime Operations. While serving on the staff of the Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Hilton was responsible for the development of plans, policies, doctrine and concepts of naval operations for the U.S. Navy. Earlier he had been Director, East Asia and Pacific Region in the Office of the Secretary of Defense. He served as Deputy Director, Plans and Policy, JCS, supervising two planning, programming and budgeting cycles for the JCS and developing strategic plans. As Assistant Chief of Staff, Logistics, at Allied Forces Southern Europe, he developed the Southern Region infrastructure program.

Admiral Hilton headed the U.S. Surface Working Group on four occasions during annual USN-Soviet Navy Annual Reviews of the Agreement to Avoid Incidents On and Above the High Seas. This included two trips to Moscow, resulting in official contact with senior Soviet Naval Officers, including Admiral Chernyavin, the current CNO of the Soviet Navy.

Admiral Hilton's extensive career as a Surface Warfare Officer included experience in Operations, Anti-Submarine Warfare, Communications, and Gunnery. He commanded a destroyer squadron, destroyer in combat, destroyer escort and made operational deployments to all fleet areas. He had additional experience in Political- Military/Strategic Planning and Naval Intelligence.

Admiral Hilton graduated from the University of Mississippi and holds an M.A. degree in Russian Affairs from Georgetown University. He is a graduate of both the National and Naval War Colleges, and is a member of the World Affairs Council of Washington, D.C., the U.S. Naval Institute, and the Association of Political Risk Analysts. He speaks both French and Russian.

Dear Frank:

Bilateral US-USSR nuclear arms control negotiations will be perhaps the major foreign policy issue facing the Administration and Congress this year. Crucial to any future agreement on nuclear arms control is the need for adequate verification to insure that neither side can gain advantage over the other. As you know, the mechanism for considering treaty compliance questions is the Standing Consultative Commission (SCC) established in 1972.

In this connection, I would like to strongly recommend the appointment of George Murphy to the position of SCC Commissioner.

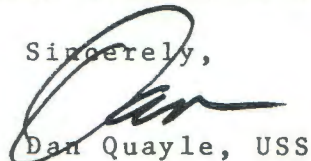

Last year Senators Warner, Wallop, Stevens, Wilson, Mattingly, Rudman and I wrote to Admiral Poindexter recommending this appointment. Subsequently Senators Warner, Wilson and I wrote to the President urging his favorable consideration of Mr. Murphy for this assignment.

It is my understanding that although consideration had been given to changes in the makeup of the SCC, no action has been taken, nor has the deputy position been filled.

I certainly appreciate how exceedingly busy you are in your new assignment, but I hope you will be able to give early consideration to this matter.

In support of this appointment, I am enclosing George Murphy's resume and the two previous letters of recommendation.

Sincerely,

Dan Quayle, USS

Dear John:

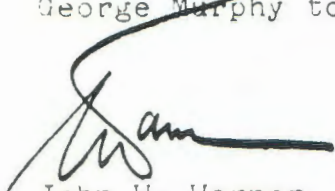

I want to follow up on the conversation we had at the White House on February 26th concerning the Standing Consultative Commission (SCC) set up in 1972 to deal with nuclear arms control compliance questions and related issues.

During our discussion, I strongly recommended the appointment of George Murphy to the position of SCC Commissioner. As I indicated, he has the background, experience and judgment to do a first-rate job in this exceedingly important assignment--as you can see by his enclosed resume.

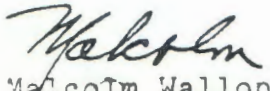

Since our meeting, the undersigned Senators have also given their support to George Murphy.

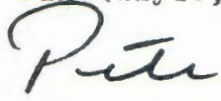

The SCC is an important part of our arms control endeavors in Geneva and we need the best in this key assignment. I hope that you will lend your support and approve the appointment of George Murphy to this Commission.

* Following retirement from the Senate on March 15, 1986, joined the American Nuclear Energy Council, an industry sponsored organization that supports the need for a strong and viable nuclear energy program for the United States. The Council is located at 410 First Street, SE, Washington, D.C.

ASSIGNMENTS: Director, Senate National Security Office

From 1977 to date, conducted various classified assignments relating primarily to military and national security issues. These assignments covered work on SALT I, SALT II, START and Theater Nuclear Forces in NATO, including extensive work on the security and safety of nuclear weapons abroad.

In March 1985 I was assigned to the Senate Arms Control Observer Group which was established in January 1985 to monitor the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks. Senate members of the Group include Senators Stevens, Nunn, Lugar, Pell, Warner, Kennedy, Wallop, Moynihan, Nickles and Gore. Since March I have traveled several times to the START negotiations in Geneva with members of the Observer Group.

In May 1984 traveled to El Salvador with the Presidential Election Observation Delegation as an observer of the May 6 elections. During that same trip, at the request of Majority Leader Baker, visited military installations in Honduras.

In January 1984 accompanied Senator Baker to Latin America. On this visit was primarily responsible for issues relating to the development of the peaceful uses of atomic energy and the Non-Proliferation Treaty.

In 1980, 1981 and 1982, conducted inspection visits to NATO facilities relating to certain classified matters.

Joint Committee on Atomic Energy

In November 1976, accompanied a special delegation of 12 Senators to the Middle East. This group met with the leaders of Israel, Egypt and Iran to discuss United States security and foreign policy interests with particular emphasis on the nuclear proliferation issue.

During 1975 and 1976, as Executive Director of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, had overall staff responsibility for authorization of a budget of over $3 billion in funds for the nuclear portion of the Energy Research and Development Administration--now DOE--and the $275 million Nuclear Regulatory Commission budget.

During 1973 and 1974, at the request of Senator Baker and with the approval of the Chairman of the Joint Committee, was the custodian of certain highly classified reports and documents connected with the Watergate investigation. Also served as a security advisor to the Watergate Committee.

In 1972, inspected NATO nuclear weapons facilities to review security practices and procedures, with particular emphasis on the protection of nuclear weapons storage sites from terrorist attack. The report on this visit resulted in an inspection in March 1973 by Joint Committee Members to NATO. Their subsequent report was sent to the Secretary of Defense and the White House. Based on the Joint Committee report, actions were taken by the Executive Branch to further tighten the security of U.S. overseas nuclear weapons facilities.
