The attached is something we should definitely do.

Gallegos has done a great job, and has been very helpful to the Administration among Hispanics.

We should end the suspense on this, too, by reappointing Gallegos as soon as possible. We should not wait till the last minute, and should not give him another unexpired term if we have any choice in the matter-- that would be seen as a real slap in the face (correctly).

Suggest you might want to raise this with John Herrington.

Thanks.

Objective

Development and management of international trade policy.

Professional background summary

Twenty years of public policy management experience in both private enterprise and government, with strong emphasis in international trade development and direct trade management.

...Founded and managed The Washington Pacific Group, a public affairs company specializing in facilitating international trade by arranging partnerships between governments and businesses seeking improved trade conditions and new markets. The company has assisted its clients with trade problems in many areas of the world, ranging from facility siting to fishing permits; from countervailing duty petitions to export financing and countertrade methodology.

...Conceived, designed and organized the Pan Pacific Alliance for Trade and Development, a private sector consortium to expand international commerce, trade and investment opportunities in the Pacific region. The Alliance was formed in support of a USAID private sector development initiative in 1983-84; its work was noted in a message from President Reagan to a trade development conference for the Pacific, co-sponsored by the Alliance, and organized by The Washington Pacific Group for delegates from 18 nations.

...Managed public policy programs, initiatives and problem solving for individual corporate clients; for a major corporation; and for government agencies. Served also as administrative and legislative assistant to two Members of Congress.

Honorable Clarence J. Brown
Deputy Secretary
Department of Commerce
Washington, D.C., 20230

Dear Bud:

It's time for me to return to the fold.

For the past six years I've been in the economic and political trenches: helping the private sector deal with government; finding support for candidates; and, most relevant, developing expertise in the field of international trade.

After service as Director of Congressional Affairs for GSA in the Ford Administration, I became Manager of Government Relations for Potlatch Corporation, handling their dealings with governments at all levels. In 1980, I founded The Washington Pacific Group, which is a public affairs firm with a strong specialty in Pacific Basin international trade development. My work has ranged from responsibility for countervailing duty cases to obtaining Export-Import Bank lending commitments; from trade development negotiations in Papua New Guinea and Yemen to helping U.S. companies with difficulties in Mexico, Syria, Japan and Korea.

We have just concluded a contract for AID in which we organized an unprecedented trade development conference for the benefit of private sector leaders in the Pacific Island nations who want to approach the U.S. as a market for their products, thus finding a way to enter the global economic system. In conjunction with the conference, I created the Pan Pacific Alliance for Trade and Development, a private sector organization to facilitate trade development with those small countries. We have organized a very successful trade exhibition for their products and received a warm endorsement from President Reagan in so doing.

The Alliance is up and running; the contract is completed and I would like now to contribute something of value to the Administration, utilizing my public policy and trade development experience to work on the issues you face this year and which so clearly will confront the President in his second term.

I seek the position of Deputy Assistant Secretary for Trade Development, and I ask for your support. I believe my credentials are in order; my background statement is enclosed and I would be most pleased to hear from you in this regard.

Sincerely,

Joseph W. Harrison

MEMORANDUM FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

TO: John Herrington
SUBJECT: Robert A. Robinson

The President of the Church Pension Fund of the Episcopal Church in the United States, Mr. Robert A. Robinson, would like to be appointed to the ERISA (Employees Retirement Income Security Act) Advisory Council. His resume is attached for your review.

As you will note in the accompanying correspondence, he is very highly recommended by both my personal minister in Houston, the Rev. Tom Bagby, and the Right Rev. John T. Walker, Bishop of Washington.

In view of Mr. Robinson's excellent qualifications and supporters, and mindful of the fact that I may literally incur the wrath of God if this appointment does not take place, I would appreciate your personal support of this "top priority" request.

Dear John:

Thank you for your letter on behalf of Mr. Robert A. Robinson, President of the Church Pension Fund of the Episcopal Church in the United States, who is under consideration for appointment to the ERISA (Employees Retirement Income Security Act) Advisory Council.

My close friend and personal minister in Houston for many years prior to his retirement, the Rev. Tom Bagby, also shares your high regard for Mr. Robinson. In view of two such excellent references, I have personally contacted the Presidential Personnel Office and requested that Mr. Robinson's candidacy be given every consideration.

I appreciate your interest in this matter and am grateful to know of your personal support of Mr. Robinson's candidacy.

With warm regards,

Sincerely,

April 3, 1984

Dear Mr. <sup>George</sup> ~~Vice President~~:

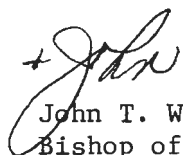

It has come to my attention that Mr. Robert A. Robinson, President of the Church Pension Fund of the Episcopal Church in the United States, is a candidate for appointment to the Board of Advisors of ERISA (Employees Retirement Income Security Act). I write to commend him for positive consideration by those making recommendations to President Reagan.

Bob Robinson, a layman, is one of the most able men that I know in this field. He has been the force behind the Church Pension Fund for years. By his wise council, the monies available to retired clergy and lay professional employees of the Church has vastly increased over the past 25 years. Its assets are expected to be in the range of a trillion plus dollars by 1994. He is an able administrator and sets a wise investment policy.

If appointed he would bring the wisdom and skills developed over the past quarter century to the Board of ERISA Advisors. He could make a very useful contribution to our country. If time allowed I could say how very helpful he was to the National Cathedral Board of Trustees, and to me, in bringing the Cathedral's budget under control and solving its financial problems. In addition to all of the above he is a staunch Republican.

I highly commend him to the President through his Executive Council. I would appreciate any support that you might give in this matter.

Sincerely,

John T. Walker

Dear George,

Bob Robinson has done more for the welfare of the clergy than any one person in the history of the Episcopal Church.

Bob is recognized as the most knowledgeable man concerning pension funds.

Like Bush and Baker, he has preached in St. Martin's Church.

Please do call this matter to the attention of the President.

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I am writing to you to request your nomination of Mr. Robert J. Ludwiczak to fill the vacancy that will occur on the International Trade Commission in June.

I believe in Bob you have a unique candidate to fill this position who for ten years has served in trade legislative and administrative positions on both the House and Senate sides. More importantly, while growing up and working in the private sector in Pennsylvania, he gained the perspective of industry which he brought with him in joining the staff of a Member of Congress from Pennsylvania. In subsequently joining my staff six years ago, he brought this perspective with him and it was then broadened by the additional awareness of the needs of an agricultural state such as Iowa.

Since 1980, he has served as my trade legislative assistant in addition to his duties as Administrative Assistant. The combination of his experience has given him an excellent grasp of the scope of the problems confronting our country in the arena of foreign trade, and he has been a valuable asset in my work on the Subcommittee on International Trade. This has included two trips abroad where he dealt with his Asian counterparts on trade matters, as well as numerous exchanges with various embassy officials here in Washington discussing matters of trade.

As my chief of staff, I have seen his leadership abilities and have depended upon them in the running of my Washington and four state offices. In addition, he has also served as my official political designate in my D.C. office. His strong administrative skills have always served me well. While I am reluctant to have Bob leave my employ, I believe his years of experience would be highly beneficial to your Administration, as well as future administrations. As we face trying economic times, his expertise would be highly valuable, and therefore I realize my loss would be the administration's gain. On this basis, I make this recommendation. It is often hard to find a man who is hard working and energetic and yet a man of strong principle and integrity. I have found Bob to be all of these.

Considering the balance of his comprehensive knowledge in trade and strong administrative skills, I feel his contribution to the International Trade Commission could be first-rate. With his background in industrial and agricultural trade in both the House and Senate, I truly believe you could not find another candidate with this balance of experience.

Based on this, you can understand why I am strongly and whole-heartedly encouraging you to nominate Bob Ludwiczak to fill this vacancy. I would be happy to talk to anyone who would like to discuss this recommendation with me. They can contact my office at 224-3744.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

INTERNATIONAL TRADE LEGISLATIVE ASSISTANT...United States Senate
Washington, D.C.

Served as the Senator's Legislative Assistant on the Finance Committee's Sub-Committee on International Trade. This position required the preparation of statements and questions for Senator during formal hearings in the committee. I drafted trade legislation in the committee as well as for introduction on the Senate floor for the Senator. This responsibility required my working with officials of the Executive Branch and private sector individuals to discuss pending legislation, work out compromises or introduce legislation in their behalf. All trade legislation coming to the committee or going to the floor required my briefing the Senator on the content prior to his casting his vote. My responsibility in trade matters entailed meeting with the foreign trade representatives of the various Embassies in the United States and on one occasion in Taiwan and Korea. These responsibilities were all handled in conjunction with my responsibilities as the Senator's Administrative Assistant.

(JANUARY 1980-PRESENT)

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT....United States Senate/House Of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Supervised the activities of up to forty (40) staffmembers as the senior ranking staff person in the office. I established the management organization for the office, administered program development and formulated priorities and objectives. Responsibilities included preparing budgets, performance evaluations, overseeing the benefits program and writing the policy and procedures manual for the office. I assigned responsibilities and delegated authority to clerical and professional staff in the computer, legislative, press, and administrative departments in the Washington and four (4) District Offices. My position required me to act as a liaison between government, business, labor, educational institutions, and other constituent entities. This position is the highest ranking position in a Congressional office and required the oversight of not only personnel, but also a budget in excess of one million dollars. The position also required the oversight of the political activities of the office as required by the Federal Election Commission and the Ethics Committee of the Congress. As the Senator's political designee in the office I was also involved in the campaign process for the Senator.

(MARCH 1975-PRESENT)

PROCUREMENT OFFICER.....Lockley Mfg. Co., Inc. (Director Of Purchasing)
New Castle, PA.
Crane Company (Purchasing Manager)
New Castle, PA.
L.W. Nash Company (Buyer)
East Palestine, OH.

Initiated management systems for the purchase of O.E.M. products, M.R.O. items, raw materials and construction materials for an engineering building. Companies for these purchases ranged from a defense contractor and a gray iron foundry to an engineering company that designed and manufacturer rolling mill equipment. Responsibilities for these companies included instituting a cost reduction and value analysis program, establishing lead times and developing an inventory control system, and blending available information into the computer operations for better management control of the purchasing and materials control functions. I recruited and trained clerical and professional staff in existing and new purchasing department's and acted as the liaison for each of these companies between marketing, engineering, and production on make, buy, or expediting decisions.

(MARCH 1969-FEBRUARY 1975)

INSTRUCTOR.....New Castle Business College
New Castle, PA.

Taught Accounting Lab and Business related courses to students in a two year business curriculum. Also acted as student advisor.

(SEPTEMBER 1968-FEBRUARY 1969)

COORDINATOR.....New Castle Redevelopment Authority
New Castle, PA.

Interviewed residents for the federal government's Model City Program. I handled statistical research and reports as well as worked with the Governor's Task Force on this inner city project. My responsibilities also included being the Assistant Project Director during the Project Directors' absence.

(APRIL 1968-AUGUST 1968)

SUBSTITUTE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER...New Castle School System
New Castle, PA.

Substitute taught 7-12 grade as an interim between jobs after completing my active duty military obligations.

(DECEMBER 1967-MARCH 1968)

U.S. ARMY-PENNSYLVANIA NATIONAL GUARD.....Basic Training
Fort Campbell, KY.
M.O.S.
Fort Sill, KY.

Held the position of Fire Direction Control Operator, Intelligence Sergeant, Movement Brigade Liaison Sergeant for field artillery unit. Honorable discharge at the rank of Staff Sergeant (E6).

(July 1967- November 1967 Active Duty)
(Honorable Discharge: May 1973)

TEACHER/COACH.....Southington High School
Southington, OH.

Taught Social Studies and Economics at the 10th-12th grade level. I was also the Assistant Football/Head Baseball Coach.

Dear Jim:

As you know, almost three years ago I left the private practice of law to become General Counsel to Grant Corporations, an oil service company. I made this difficult career move in order to gain greater business operating and management experience to compliment my legal experience in government and private practice. The move has certainly proved to be an excellent opportunity for gaining the business experience which I sought. Unfortunately, a somewhat difficult situation has developed within the internal power structure of the company which may cause my continued employment as Secretary and General Counsel to be difficult.

I am enclosing for your consideration a copy of my resume and would appreciate very much your keeping me in mind for a position within the administration or in the campaign. I feel that my diverse education and experience qualify me to serve in an administrative, problem solving oriented position particularly within the context of legal and legislative issues in the political and governmental arena. Since you are personally acquainted with my work, I would hope that you feel that there is a place for me within the administration where I could make a valuable contribution.

Jimmy, I would appreciate your thoughts and consideration in this matter and look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience. Please give my best to Susan and your family. Best personal regards.

Yours very truly,

W. Boone Vastine, II

Tad Tharp call re Federal Farm Credit Board:

Tad says that Tower's recommendation of Carothers is "very strong" and that we have "got to do it". Says that he has been an active Republican and that Thomason is a Democrat with ties to Brisco. Tower's office also indicated that Gov. Clements also supports Carothers.

We need to call Tad with your recommendation.

TO E. PENDLETON JAMES

SUBJECT: Federal Farm Credit Board

This is in response to your inquiry at the Senior Staff meeting yesterday concerning the selection process for the member (Tenth District) of the Federal Farm Credit Board. Tom Carothers of Palestine, Texas was selected by Presidential Personnel because of his support by Secretary Block and Senator Tower. We had mistakenly recorded that you as well supported Carothers. If indeed you prefer R. B. Thomason of Huntsville, please advise us on your recommended action.

WASHINGTON

February 24, 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR: James A. Baker III
Edwin Meese III
Michael K. Deaver

THROUGH: E. Pendleton James

FROM: J. Michael Farrell

SUBJECT: Federal Farm Credit Board
PAS, 6 Year Term, Non-Partisan

The Federal Farm Credit Board was established by Public Law 92-181 of December 10, 1971.

The purpose of the Board is to assist in carrying out the provisions of the Farm Credit Act of 1971.

The Board is made up of not more than thirteen (13) Members:

- 1 - Designated by the Secretary of Agriculture.
- 12 - Not more than twelve (12) appointed by the President, one from each Farm Credit District, with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The Chairman and Vice Chairman are elected annually by the Board.

Current membership at TAB A.

The Board meets six (6) times a year. Members are paid $100 each day and shall be reimbursed for necessary travel, subsistence, and other expenses.

On March 31, 1982, two (2) vacancies will occur due to the expiration of terms representing the Fourth and Tenth Districts (see map at TAB B.)

By statute, three organizations must make recommendations to the President for appointments to the Board: The Federal Land Bank Associations, the Product Credit Associations, and the Borrowing Cooperative Associations. The results of polls conducted in 1981 are attached at TAB C.

The Secretary of Agriculture and our office support the nominations of:

TOM H. CAROTHERS of Palestine, Texas (10th District) of the Federal Land Bank Association. He is active in agri-business and ranching. He has the strong support of Senator Tower.

LEONARD R. FOUTS of West Point, Indiana (4th District) from the Production Credit Association. He is also an active farmer in the area. He has the strong support of Senator Lugar.

Resumes attached at TAB D.

While this office and the Secretary of Agriculture supports Leonard Fouts of Indiana to represent the 4th District, it should be noted that the Ohio Delegation strongly supports the appointment of Roger M. Suver of New Carlisle, Ohio. He is not one of the designated nominees submitted by the Farm Credit system but he is an operating farmer with experience in Co-op operations and a member of the Federal Land Bank and a former member of Production Credit Association. He is a long-standing Republican and has served as Central Committeeman in his precinct since 1962. A copy of his letter to the President requesting appointment and his resume are attached at TAB E.

Dear Mr. President:

Under Section 5.8 Part B of the Farm Credit Act of 1971, as amended, the Federal Farm Credit Board nominating and appointment process is set forth. Each year two members of the Board are appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate from a list of nominees proposed by the Farm Credit System.

After careful consideration of the makeup and qualifications of the current Board membership, we are recommending the following nominees for service on the Board:

TOM H. CAROTHERS, Palestine, Texas
Mr. Carothers is a nominee from the (Texas 10th District) of the Federal Land Bank Association. He is active in agri-business and ranching.

LEONARD R. FOUTS, West Point, Indiana
Mr. Fouts was nominated from the Production Credit association of the Louisville (4th District). He is also an active farmer in the area.

Biographical sketches are enclosed for your use which also demonstrate each of the individual's work in other civic, public and fraternal organizations. Both men are strong, conservative Republicans and come highly recommended by Senators Tower and Lugar respectively.

Respectfully submitted,

John R. Block
Secretary

Re: Request of Roger M. Suver for appointment as a member of the Federal Farm Credit Board.

Dear Mr. President:

I fully realize that I am asking for this appointment as one who is not a designated nominee surfaced by the Farm Credit system. I was however on the final designation poll for the Cooperative Associations, and placed second in the nomination ballot for the Federal Land Bank Associations.

I am asking for this appointment as an operating farmer with experience in Co-op operations and as a member of the Federal Land Bank and former member of Production Credit Association.

I am sure farmers in the decade of the 80's will require additional credit in the operations of both their on and off farm business. I feel my day to day farm operating experience combined with the knowledge of their financial needs could be helpful in developing policy for the Farm Credit System during the next six years.

I fully support the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981.

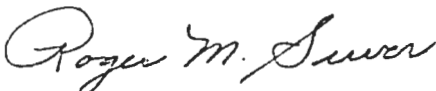

The Accelerated Cost Recovery System coupled with investment credit will help farmers update their equipment and bring needed business to the Agri-business Community and the economy in general.

I also appreciate your support for estate tax changes which will help to maintain the family farm for coming generations.

I support you in seeking to return more responsibility and control to State and Local government.

I am a republican of long standing, served as Central Committeeman in my precinct since 1962 and have always supported Republican candidates at the National, State, and Local level.

Sincerely,

Roger M. Suver

THE WHITE HOUSE

Jim,

7/25 ✓

The women appointment status is good and I've given some copies of this to several of the communication people.

John

A WOMEN'S PLACE IS IN THE ADMINISTRATION

by
John S. Herrington
Assistant to the President
for Presidential Personnel

With the nomination of Geraldine Ferraro for Vice-President, the Democratic Party has moved to solidify female voters. The shock effect, however, won't last long and the American people will soon examine the records of both parties and will conclude that the actions of the Republican Party and President Ronald Reagan speak louder than the words of the Democrats.

Sometimes we forget that the Republican Party in 1896 was the first major political party to build an equal rights for women plank in their platform, and in 1916 the Republican Party again took an unprecedented step and went on record supporting voting rights for women. We also forget that it was a Republican controlled Congress which finally voted suffrage for women, and Margaret Chase Smith, Republican Senator from Maine, in 1964 was the first woman whose name was ever placed in nomination for President. The history of women and the Republican Party is one of partnership and progress.

In my position as director of all presidential appointment making, I can speak authoritatively on one matter of immense importance to the advancement of women, and that is the tremendous record President Reagan has made appointing women to high-level government posts. We are all aware of the President's superb appointment of Sandra Day O'Connor to the Supreme Court. The President often refers to that day as "one of his proudest," but it didn't start there.

The President demonstrated his commitment to excellence quickly following his election by selecting Jeane Kirkpatrick to serve as a member of his Cabinet. She is the first woman to serve as Ambassador to the United Nations and is a pioneer for women in the leadership of U.S. foreign policy. She has almost single-handedly brought sanity and balance back to the UN assemblage. The Eastern Bloc and Third World countries have been put on notice that the U.S. will no longer be quiescent in the face of their advancement of totalitarian measures. In the aftermath of the shooting down of the Korean Airliner last year at the United Nations Special Session, Ambassador Kirkpatrick, in a moment not to be forgotten, played for the world to sit in judgement the actual tapes of the Russian fighter pilot zeroing in on his target of 269 innocent civilians. This was quite a turnabout from the usual UN double speak. The presentation of this evidence of the Soviet's barbaric act would have been quite improbable during the Carter Administration. Pundits might say that's because Carter had a mere man in charge at the UN.

The President's appointment of Elizabeth Dole as Secretary of Transportation broke more ground as she became the first woman to serve in this post. As Secretary of Transportation, Secretary Dole also became the first woman to head the Coast Guard, (a military service contingent). Hailing from North Carolina, she has represented women of the South with a fierce spirit of independence and resilience.

Margaret Heckler became President Reagan's third female Cabinet member after serving for eighteen years as a Member of Congress from Massachusetts. The budget of the Department of Health and Human Services is the third largest in the world - behind the entire U.S. budget and that of the USSR. Social Security, child care, the public health system and medical research are among the major programs under her responsibility.

In addition to these outstanding women, there are others equally qualified who serve as the heads of ten (10) major government agencies in the Reagan Administration: Nancy Steorts, Chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission; Janet Steiger, Chairman of the Postal Rate Commission; Lee Ann Elliott, Chairman of the Federal Election Commission; Rosemary Collyer, Chairman of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission; Susan M. Phillips, Chairman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission; Susan E. Phillips, Director of the Institute of Museum Services; Barbara Mahone, Chairman of the Federal Labor Relations Authority; Loret Ruppe, Director of the Peace Corps; Helen Witt, Chairman, National Mediation Board; and Winifred Pizzano, Federal Co-Chairman Appalachian Regional Commission.

In addition to the above, the most striking part of President Reagan's record is the list of full-time important government positions he has filled where women never have served before in the history of our country:

Examples of other top-ranking women are legion and include: Martha Seger, Member of the Federal Reserve Board; Katherine Ortega, Treasurer of the United States; Aulana Peters, Member of the Securities and Exchange Commission; Mary Ann Dawson, Commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission; Patricia Diaz Dennis, Member, National Labor Relations Board, Paula Tennant, Commissioner, U.S. Parole Commission; and many ambassadors, and judges. On the President's own immediate senior staff at the White House, there are a dozen or so women in top policy-making positions.

Still other women who are successful and choose to remain in the private sector have been asked by President Reagan to serve on Advisory Boards and Commissions. Among these are: Anne Armstrong, Chairman of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board; Clare Boothe Luce, a member of PFIAB; Anna Chennault, Vice Chairman of the President's Export Council; Gloria Toote, Vice Chairman of the Advisory Council on Private Sector Initiatives; Ann Landers, the President's Commission on Drunk Driving; and Rita Ricardo-Campbell, National Council on the Humanities. The President has asked for and is receiving the expert guidance of these women and hundreds of others on advisory commissions.

All told, President Reagan has selected women for more than 1,600 important positions to date. The 1600 women include 160 uppermost level appointees who require Senate confirmation, over 200 in the Senior Executive Service (a non-career super grade with a base salary of $59,223), more than 800 high-level Schedule C's (GS-13, $36,327 per year, and above) and upwards of 400 members of part-time presidential advisory boards. In fact, among all Schedule C appointments fully 58 percent are women. In an earlier detailed study of Reagan's female appointments in comparison to those of the previous administration, it was found that in his first two years in office Reagan selected more women for top full-time, policy-making positions than Carter or any other President in history. Women are making it big in the Reagan Administration, and they are making it on merit. Their positions run the gamut, encompassing traditional and non-traditional areas, from international affairs and defense, to health care and education, to business and finance, to justice and energy. They were selected not because of their sex, but because they were the best person for the job. As the President recently stated in a speech to the American Bar Association:

"We aim for a cross-section of appointments that fully reflects the rich diversity and talent of our people. But we do not, and will never, select individuals just because they are men or women, whites or blacks, Jews, Catholics, or whatever. I don't look at people as members of groups; I look at them as individuals and as Americans. I believe you rob people of their dignity and confidence when you impose quotas. The implicit, but false, message of quotas is that some people can't make it under the same rules that apply to everyone else."

I can vouch that the women who comprise the Reagan Administration appointees have made it under the same rules which apply to everyone else. They are extraordinarily capable in their own right and did not need a helping hand from a quota to be chosen.

Finally, I'd like to mention the women who have been chosen to serve in an unsung, seldom recognized yet greatly demanding role. These are the women of the Reagan Administration who are contributing their husbands to the service of their country, and who are led by Mrs. Ronald Reagan, surely one of the finest and most caring First Ladies to serve her country. The President's strong commitment to family values is reflected in his appreciation and gratitude to these women. They are among those giving the greatest contribution in support of the principles they accept and believe.

Ronald Reagan believes that the women of America are a great resource for this land. He has selected more to serve in critical positions than any previous President and he and the country benefit from their ability and commitment.
