MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM: JOHN G. ROBERTS JGR

SUBJECT: Revised Presidential Remarks: Signing
Ceremony for Child Support Enforcement
Legislation

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced draft remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by 3:30 today. In his remarks, to be delivered at a child support symposium chaired by Secretary Heckler, the President cites statistics on the lack of child support, discusses Administration efforts to improve child support enforcement and collection, and reviews the improvements made by H.R. 4325.

On page 4, third full paragraph, the President notes that he testified as Governor "in support of a National Child Support Enforcement system." I obtained and have reviewed the testimony in question. In his testimony, the President does suggest that "the Federal Government adopt a plan similar to California's which would finance the effort to locate absent fathers and enforce compliance with the child-support laws." Accordingly, I have no objection to the reference in the draft remarks.

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM: JOHN G. ROBERTS JGR

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: Luncheon for Polish-American Leaders - Friday Aug. 17, 1984

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by noon today. The remarks review the ill-starred struggles of the Polish people for freedom, and commemorate the heroic efforts of the Polish Home Army against the Nazis. In the course of his remarks the President presents the Legion of Merit posthumously to three generals of the Polish Home Army. The President expresses support for Solidarity, rejects any interpretation of the Yalta agreement as dividing Europe into spheres of influence, and notes that sanctions against Poland can be gradually lifted as the human rights situation improves in Poland. Finally, the President announces that he is seeking $10 million from Congress for a Polish church program to assist individual Polish farmers.

I have reviewed the draft remarks and have no objections.

Presidential Remarks: Governor's Advisory
Council on Agriculture, Sedalia, Missouri
Sunday, August 19, 1984

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced draft remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by 3:00 p.m. today. The very brief remarks note that the Administration is working on a new farm bill (not scheduled for unveiling until the late fall or next year) and that Secretary Block has been holding hearings across the country on the issues to be addressed. I have reviewed the draft remarks and have no objections.

Presidential Remarks: Hispanic Republican
Lunch, Dallas, Texas - Thurs., Aug. 23, 1984

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced draft remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by 2:00 p.m. today. The remarks praise the contributions of Hispanic Republicans to the party, and review a number of campaign themes: traditional values, education, crime, employment, and the economic recovery. In the course of his remarks, the President expresses support for tuition tax credits, the omnibus crime bill, and enterprise zones. I have reviewed the remarks and have no objections.

R.N.C. Fundraiser Lunch, Dallas, Texas
Thursday August 23, 1984

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced draft Presidential remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by 4:00 p.m. today. The brief remarks contrast the discredited government programs offered by the other party with the Republican message of progress, opportunity, and freedom. In his remarks the President focuses on the priority legislative initiatives blocked by liberal Democrats - the balanced budget and school prayer amendments, tuition tax credits, enterprise zones, and the crime bill. The remarks also take issue with George McGovern's comparison between Yuri Andropov and the President, which favored Andropov, and was not disavowed by any of the other Democratic candidates present when McGovern made his outrageous statement. I have reviewed the remarks and have no objections.

August 20, 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM: JOHN G. ROBERTS

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: Prayer Breakfast
Dallas, Texas - Thurs., 8/23/84

Richard Darman has asked that comments on the above-referenced remarks be sent directly to Ben Elliott by 2:00 p.m. today. The remarks discuss the role of religion in politics, the basic theme being that the viability of the Republic depends upon a recognition of the role of God in the world.

The remarks repeatedly refer to the role of "the Church." This is generally considered shorthand for the Catholic Church, although in the remarks the President states "by that I mean all churches." This explanation does not solve the problem, however, since many of our citizens do not worship in churches, but in temples or mosques. I recommend suggesting that references to "the Church" or "churches" be changed to references to religion or religions.

In the first full paragraph on page 4, the remarks discuss the explosion of religion lawsuits after the 1962 school prayer case, noting that "Cases were started to argue against the tax exempt status for churches." True enough, but I think that the President should avoid the words "tax exempt status," in light of the obvious associations evoked by those words.

AND DIRECTOR OF SPEECHWRITING

FROM: FRED F. FIELDING Original signed by RAH FFF
COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Presidential remarks: Prayer Breakfast
Dallas, Texas - Thurs., 8/23/84

Counsel's Office has reviewed the above-referenced draft remarks. We object to the use of the formulation "the Church" throughout the remarks. Such a formulation traditionally refers to one Church - the Roman Catholic Church - and that sense is not adequately dispelled by the occasional disclaimers to the effect that by "the Church" the President means all churches. Further, it is also objectionable to refer to "churches" as shorthand for religion, since many of our citizens who worship do not do so in churches but in temples or mosques. References to "the Church" or "churches" should be changed to references to religion or religions.

We also recommend deleting the third sentence in the first full paragraph on page 4. However accurate the sentence may be, it seems better to avoid any references to "tax exempt status" in the religious area, in light of the obvious episode evoked by such references.

On page 2, line 6, "word" should be "world".

SUBJECT: Proposed Presidential Address:
Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention

Richard Darman has asked for comments by 5:00 p.m. on the above-referenced draft remarks. The remarks review the revitalization of our military forces and America's new steadfastness in the international arena. I have reviewed the remarks and have no substantive objections. On page 2, lines 3-4, however, I would delete "each waking moment of the day." In light of recent unfortunate comments about naps during the day in the White House, it seems best not to refer to "waking moments."
