THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM: JOHN G. ROBERTS JGR

SUBJECT: June Walker Request

June Walker, Executive Director of the President's Commission on Executive Exchange, has asked that you rephrase your December 14, 1982 memorandum to her so that it not indicate that it was written in response to a request from her. The memorandum agreed with Walker that the name of the unofficial alumni group of exchange executives -- The President's Executive Exchange Association -- was problematic in suggesting the endorsement or support of the President. Walker apparently wants to show the memorandum to alumni without revealing that she originally raised the question.

I see no problem with making the minor changes in the memorandum suggested by Walker, and have attached a revised version and a cover memorandum for Walker.

SUBJECT: Alumni Association

It has come to my attention that a group of alumni of the President's Executive Exchange Program have formed an association known as "The President's Executive Exchange Association." This group has no official connection to the President's Commission on Executive Exchange.

It is our usual practice not to grant permission to use the name of the President, or designations indicating an affiliation with the President, in a manner that might connote his connection with or endorsement of a particular enterprise that is unrelated to his official duties. This has been the policy of prior Administrations, and it is enforced without regard to the merits of particular organizations. Groups of alumni of Presidential programs may appropriately indicate their prior affiliation, when this is not done for a commercial purpose, and when the manner of doing so is consistent with the general rule of not suggesting Presidential endorsement of a particular organization.

"The President's Executive Exchange Association" is problematic, since it could be viewed as an official association with the endorsement or support of the President. This concern would be met if the word "alumni" figured prominently in the group's title, for example, "Associated Alumni of the President's Executive Exchange Program," or "The President's Executive Exchange Alumni Association." The latter designation would track the example of the White House Fellows Alumni Association. Whatever title is chosen should not suggest Presidential endorsement or support of the organization.

FYI:

June Walker called this afternoon (2:30 pm) regarding the attached memo to her from FFF of December 14, 1982.

She has asked whether the memo could be re-written without reference to the fact that she asked for an opinion on your views. She could then send copies to the Alumni with impunity.

She has also asked that the memo's re line read:

President's Executive Exchange
Association Alumni

And that it open with something like:

"It has been brought to my attention.."

9. What type of Executive Exchange assignment would be most valuable to the nominee in terms of his professional and personal development?

Any assignment for Mr. Walker must be challenging and strenuous. He has high achievement needs and thus requires stimulating challenges. The areas that would be of greatest value to him would be in understanding the capital markets as well as all areas of business taxation. He has a great deal of personal interest in these areas and in fact has both written and lectured on the subjects. Because of his personal interests, he would be able to add to the depth of his knowledge as well as be able to contribute substantially at the same time.

10. What type of Executive Exchange assignment (e.g. functional specialty) would be most valuable to the company/agency?

For many of the same reasons, the same general areas enumerated above would have the greatest value to the company. These are the areas that Mr. Walker will primarily be involved with when he returns. This is a good case of being able to mesh personal and corporate goals.

11. What position will nominee hold upon completion of the Exchange assignment? Describe plans for reentry of executive into company/agency

Mr. Walker will assume the position of President and Chief Executive Officer of Walker-Watts, Inc. upon his return from Washington. With the added knowledge he will gain both internationally and of the Federal government, it is anticipated he will be able to step in immediately and take over the reins as CEO.

Dear Mrs. Walker:

In response to your letter, I have successfully completed my exchange assignment. I completed my one year term with the Commission on September 10, 1982, and terminated my position with the Federal Government on the same day. I returned to serving as General Partner of Covecrest Properties. I have enclosed a copy of the termination form I received from the government evidencing that fact.

I tried to reach you several times prior to my separation but because of both our schedules was unable to do so. I enjoyed the year and the exposure to the governmental process. It was most interesting and informative.

I look forward to receiving the plaque. It should be sent to me at Covecrest Properties at the above address. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Gordon D. Walker

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

December 14, 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING

FROM: JOHN G. ROBERTS JGR

SUBJECT: President's Executive Exchange Association

June Walker, Executive Director of the President's Commission on Executive Exchange, has written requesting your views on the use of the word "President's" in "The President's Executive Exchange Association." The Association has no official connection to the Commission or the President's Executive Exchange Program, which is run by the Commission. The Association is, however, composed of certain alumni of the Program, and is open to all alumni. It distributes a quarterly newsletter and an annual directory, and hosts speakers. Walker has complained that the Association is often confused with the Commission. She has asked the group to change its name to "The President's Executive Exchange Alumni Association," but the group has not yet done so.

I called Walker to obtain more information about the Association. She believes it is a non-profit organization. It is not a comprehensive alumni organization, but is composed primarily of exchange executives from the government side of the program -- "those most in need of help," as Walker put it. Walker indicated that there were some ill feelings between the Commission and the Association. She stopped the previous practice of Commission funding of the Association's directory ($3,000 per year), and generally "broke the chord" linking the alumni group to the Commission.

This strikes me as a close call. While the standard practice is, of course, not to approve use of the President's name or other phrases indicating an affiliation with the President, associations of alumni of Presidential programs would seem to have sufficient affiliation in fact to justify an exception. Thus, for example, "The White House Fellows Alumni Association" cannot be faulted for use of a designation indicating an affiliation with the White House. The key would seem to be to insist that the designation be consistent with the general policy concern of not suggesting Presidential endorsement of any particular enterprise or organization. The difficulty in this case is that "The President's Executive Exchange Association" can be viewed as a Presidential association (which it is not) or an association of Presidential Exchange Executives (which it is). Walker's suggested addition of the word "Alumni" seems ideal, and would track the White House Fellows example.

I recommend a restrained memorandum to Walker, outlining the general policy and agreeing that the addition of the word "alumni" would be desirable. Hopefully she can then reach an agreement with the Association. I think such a low-key approach, at least initially, is better than issuing a "final ruling," writing the Association, or otherwise becoming more directly involved in a dispute that apparently reaches well beyond the technical question of the use of the designation "President's." I have attached a proposed memorandum to Walker.

MEMORANDUM FOR FRED F. FIELDING
COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: JUNE G. WALKER JG
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

SUBJECT: President's Executive Exchange Association

I am concerned about the legal usage of the word "President's" in the context of "The President's Executive Exchange Association."

Past participants in the President's Executive Exchange Program have formed this group to continue personal associations. While we may encourage such activities, this group has no official affiliation with the Commission or this office, and we do not provide funding or staff support for their functions. Nevertheless, the Commission is often confused with this group. Attached is a copy of their stationery and brochure.

I want to be sure that the name of this Alumni group is not misrepresenting the facts and that the use of the word "President's" is legal for them.

I have also advised them to use the word "Alumni" and change the name of the group to "The President's Executive Exchange Alumni Association", which I feel would clarify the situation.

Please advise me of your decision as soon as possible and I will take appropriate action.

- Mutual assistance in problem solving.
- Transfer of professional management skills and insights.
- Improved understanding and communications between public and private sectors.
- Development of a cadre of skilled business and government leaders.

CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- National meetings with major business and government leaders to exchange views on issues of economic, political and social importance.
- Regional chapter meetings focused on local and national concerns.
- The Executive Connection Newsletter—distributed quarterly.

THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE EXCHANGE PROGRAM

The President's Commission on Executive Exchange was created over a decade ago to promote understanding and a better working relationship between the public and private sectors through the interchange of skilled executives. Participation in this one-year program administered by the Commission provides each Exchange Executive with an increased awareness of the perspectives, methods, resources and operations of the opposite sector. The "hands on" job experience coupled with an intensive educational program produces an extraordinary opportunity for professional growth.

Presidential Exchange Executives are the best of both public and private sectors. They are expected to be the future leaders and decisionmakers of America, knowledgeable both of the issues that involve them directly and of the world in which they operate. They are capable individuals who understand the strengths of a free enterprise system and the contribution it can make to improving public policy.

Mrs. June G. Walker
Executive Director
The President's Commission on
Executive Exchange
744 Jackson Place, N. W.

Dear Mrs. Walker:

In response to your letter, I have successfully completed my exchange assignment. I completed my one year term with the Commission on September 10, 1982, and terminated my position with the Federal Government on the same day. I returned to serving as General Partner of Covecrest Properties. I have enclosed a copy of the termination form I received from the government evidencing that fact.

I tried to reach you several times prior to my separation but because of both our schedules was unable to do so. I enjoyed the year and the exposure to the governmental process. It was most interesting and informative.

I look forward to receiving the plaque. It should be sent to me at Covecrest Properties at the above address. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Gordon D. Walker
