Dear Mike:

Congratulations on your exciting appointment. The President needs your loyalty and abilities and we are all pleased you will be one of his "right arms" during these important years.

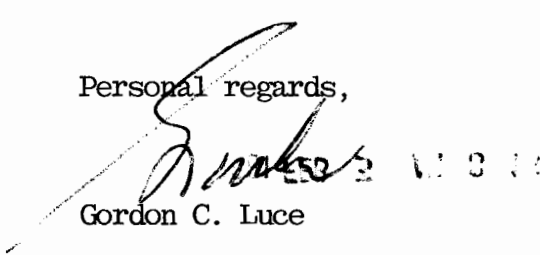

I would like to personally thank you for the invitation to say a few words at the Reagan Farewell Luncheon in Los Angeles on January 13. Naturally, it was a great pleasure and honor to be one of the three and it gave me an opportunity to say some of the things I'd been thinking. I had some good comments from people in the audience so it was a rewarding experience and hopefully, gave a boost from the old Reaganites. I understand we're now called "Reaganauts!"

We saw Carolyn in Washington and it sounds as though she too will be happy with her new life. She looked great and I am sure you are both thriving on your new Washington career.

I've told both Ed Meese and Bill Clark I'd like to help on special projects where appropriate. If I can be of any help to you, please do not hesitate to call upon me.

Again, best of luck.

Personal regards,

Gordon C. Luce

My warm congratulations, and those of my colleagues at TIME Magazine, as you assume new and demanding duties in serving our Government.

As has been our practice for a number of years, we will be delivering a copy of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine, to your office each Monday morning with the compliments of our editors and staff.

Washington, of course, is a major focal point in our news gathering activities. Our editors and correspondents traditionally have enjoyed ready access to government leaders such as yourself in pursuing their goal of accurately reporting the news.

We sincerely hope that you find our publication illuminating and helpful in keeping abreast of current affairs in a multitude of fields, both at home and abroad.

Please accept our best wishes as you assume your new responsibilities.

Dear Mr. Deaver:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff, particularly Ms. Shirley Moore for the courtesies extended to Mr. Yaacov Agam when he visited with President Reagan on January 15th. Mr. Agam told me he was tremendously impressed with the courtesies that were extended to him on this important occasion.

I spoke to Ms. Moore after Mr. Agam's visit with President Reagan and relayed Mr. Agam's request that he would greatly appreciate it if copies of photographs taken by the Staff photographer could be forwarded to me on behalf of Mr. Agam and he would consider it a great honor if at least one of the photographs could be dedicated to him by the President and Mrs. Reagan.

Thank you for your many courtesies.

Dear Mike,

It is most refreshing to hear and read so frequently of your major role in the new administration. To be a part of the fascinating and awesome powers which will redirect this country during the next four or more years must be most gratifying.

I want to thank you for your letter to Diane in December concerning a possible opportunity to use my prosecutorial and other legal skills within the administration.

Although I have not yet heard from the Justice Department I remain cautiously optimistic that a position could be available either in Washington or in Los Angeles in that department. Without sounding too presumptuous, a position most suited to my experience and skills would be one within one of the various special criminal task force groups such as Organized Crime or Controlled Substances.

I was most appreciative of your kind letter and effort to relay my resume to the appropriate persons. Thank you again for your interest in my behalf.

Best regards,

Patrick R. Dixon
