Dear Miss Stansell:

It was good of you to take the time to share your views with me. I share your concern that the policies of this Administration aim towards the establishment of peace and justice in international relations. Regrettably, our views as to the appropriate means to achieve these ends differ. However, you may be sure that your thoughtful comments have been carefully considered and your sincerity deeply appreciated.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mike:

Hope all is well in D.C. The White House has taken delivery two weeks ago and is in the gym--the Lifecycles should be a nice addition!

Could you do me a favor and have the president send an autographed picture to Ray Wilson (Lifecycle donator). A mention of the Lifecycle on the photo would be nice or a small note to that effect mentioning the Lifecycle.

Sorry to bother you with minor things like this, but Wilson is a friend and a big supporter!

Please send photo and note c/o my office: P.O. Box 35149 Los Angeles, CA 90035.

Thanks again.

Dear Mr. Shaw:

This is in response to your letter containing Mr. Ray Wilson's generous offer to donate a "Lifecycle" exercise machine for the use of the Vice President and his staff. The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to accept gifts for furnishing and making improvements to the temporary official residence of the Vice President at the Naval Observatory.

On behalf of the United States, and in accordance with Public Law 93-346 as amended, I am pleased to accept Mr. Wilson's generous offer. Acceptance of this offer by the United States does not, of course, constitute an official endorsement or approval of the "Lifecycle."

The exercise machine will be a useful addition to the temporary official residence of the Vice President. Please convey my personal thanks and appreciation to Mr. Wilson for his thoughtful gift.

Dear Mike:

I am sending you a few lines immediately upon our return to México City in order to express my personal satisfaction with President López Portillo's visit to Washington and Camp David. The constant, unselfish assistance which we received from you and those who so arduously labored in the preparation of this trip were one of the principal reasons for its success. Joe Canzeri, Steve Studdert and all their staffs did an absolutely impeccable job and I honestly do not know where we would have been without them.

Your attention to special details like the jackets at Camp David and your last-minute thoughtfulness in considering the disc-player for the President were just some of the many examples of why Mr. López Portillo expressed himself in such a warm and friendly manner during Tuesday's luncheon.

I am sure that we will be seeing each other again in the near future and until we do, please accept my reiterated thanks for all your help.

With warmest regards,

Dear Mike:

So much has happened since we last spoke and I see and hear your name so often I wanted to drop this note to let you know that I have been thinking of you.

I, along with most of the world, was shocked by the attempted assassination of President Reagan. I watched the television filming of that horrid event numerous times in absolute disbelief. It must have been the most harrowing experience of your life but I thank God that you and the President and others involved in that event are all right today.

As I assume you know, I came out of my very brief retirement a year ago to join CENTURY 21 Real Estate of Canada and on April 1, of this year I assumed the presidency of the National Corporation. It is an exciting and challenging opportunity that I have agreed to handle for 3 years. At the conclusion of that 3 year period I will definitely return to the United States. If you feel I could serve the Administration in any capacity at that time I would be delighted to discuss it.

My very best wishes to you, Mike, and to President Reagan. America is once again on the right track.

Sincerely,

I'm afraid your headline, "Deaver Supportive of B-1 Production" is misleading. First of all, I didn't stipulate my position on the project, I only stated the process for a decision by the Cabinet and President Reagan.
