Dear Mr. Lownsberry:

I have just received your recent message and want you to know how much I appreciate your thoughtfulness and friendship.

The changes we are seeking to enact were born years ago in the hearts and minds of persons such as yourself. Hearing from you now strengthens my resolve to work towards renewing those values and ideals which have so long been a part of the American tradition and have been responsible for her greatness.

Again, my most sincere thanks for your kind words. I will see to it that both Jim Baker and Ed Meese receive copies of it.

Dear Dr. Brada:

Thank you for your very warm and considerate letter of congratulations. The Independence of American colonies was bred of a European dream -- the dream of liberty. Today, the free countries of the West stand on the brink of fulfilling that dream. By tapping the reservoir of our spiritual strength, we can achieve the resolve to transcend communism and spread the light of liberty.

Your comments about me and my colleagues in the Reagan Administration were very kind. I only hope that we will live up to the faith you have placed in us.

Dear Mrs. Matthews:

Thank you for your recent message concerning waste and fraud in government programs.

The President shares your concern over this problem. In an effort to eliminate all forms of waste and fraud, he appointed the Council on Integrity and Efficiency. Already, this organization has been successful in unearthing hundreds of investigative leads on incidents of waste, fraud, and abuse in government. The President has also endorsed legislation which would create additional Inspectors General who will have powers tailored to the specific needs of the Departments of Defense, Treasury, and Justice.

You can rest assured that this Administration will take every step to eliminate waste and fraud and to restore the public's faith in the integrity of government.

Dear Mr. Bush:

Thank you for your letter concerning the July 4th message from President Reagan. I appreciate your interest in having a copy and regret that this must be a disappointing reply. However, there are no plans at present to reproduce the President's handwritten draft. Because of the great number of requests the President receives for mementoes, it is not possible to oblige them all. He believes it is unfair to select a few for preferential treatment while excluding others.

Your interest is appreciated, and we know you will understand.

Dear Mr. Seaver -

I spent about 25 yrs of my career as a corporate executive assistant (during which time, you may guess, I kept my handwriting secret). So I am keenly aware that an executive staff and assistants can make or break an executive.

"Ol' Boy" Houston Democrat Rep. Atrams recently said that Pres. Reagan has the most capable staff of any President known to him. Your masterful "turn down" on the reverse side is gratifying as a small indication that Pres. Reagan has a capable staff backing him in a most difficult era.

If your assistant composed the letter, pass on my compliments.

Keep Sharp for Reagan,

Bob Bush
