It was good of you to take the time to share with me your views on the stabilization of the value of the dollar. The President is committed to restoring the strength of our currency and insuring that it is once again as "sound as a dollar." You can be sure that your suggestion regarding the coinage of silver will be given serious consideration.

Just a note to say "Hi" &
Share a few things with you ~
I do hope everything is going well for you & the President ~
I am thrilled over his huge success ~ angry over the reception he received from NAACP - of course they do not agree with him because their jobs will be gone if they do not have this group to represent so naturally they want all the welfare programs to continue ~ but his speech was ~~so~~ beautiful - I made me cry!

Mike, everyone is upset over the Ann Armstrong appointment - even Jerry DeLoach called me about it & I would want to pass on what they hope will be done & they would like to see General Graham put on the Committee with her & the Reagan people from Texas do not care for Ann because of her association with the other side, Tri lateral etc & just thought you & the President should know this!

Also there is an appointment being made to Roy Orr & a liberal Democrat County Commissioner from Dallas & the Dallas people called me about this & they are extremely upset -

I think he is being considered for a position in the Commerce Dept.

Mike, I wish you had the time so I could make a few suggestions to you that might help keep down the unhappiness of the Reagan troops - I know your job is so large that it is tough to think or be bothered with small things - but I believe what I have to suggest in the long run ~~is~~ would be to your benefit + the President -

Give my love to all my friends + a kiss to Reagan -

Your friend

P.S. Don't forget about John Price! OK?
Love you!

Dear Mrs Jacobson;

Enclosed you will find a letter to President Reagan concerning my family in Vietnam. I will be very grateful if you can get it to the President or one of his close aids.

I am glad to report that I received a letter from my family yesterday and learn that they are both well. Your willingness to help my family is greatly appreciated. I will keep you informed of our progress.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Jon:

Thanks for your note. Los Angeles seemed so foreign when we went home for a couple of days.

I have enjoyed Rick Smith. He is a very thorough and professional reporter. I will discuss the requests for the magazine to cover a Reagan dinner with Mrs. Reagan shortly.

Please give me a call when you come to town. I would love to get together with you.

Dear Mike:

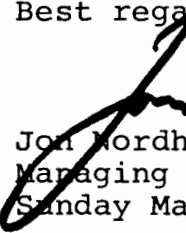

I saw your picture today, with Carolyn in Womans Wear Daily, wearing leis and sheepish glances at some Los Angeles party. You wear the weight of power well. Maybe next year it will be Cosmo and Fire Island.

I wanted to thank you for the help you have given various individuals writing for The Times Magazine. As you know, Rick Smith has been asked to do a possible cover story by us on how the President presidents.

In addition, if it is possible, we would really like to proceed with the dinner party outlined in the enclosed letter which has been discussed with Mrs. Reagan's office. It will look absolutely grand in color.

I thought I would get to Washington before the summer, but since we have been caught up in some internal matters involving the overhaul of the Magazine, I have had to put it off until September. I hope I can get to see you for lunch or a drink if I do come down.

Best regards,

Dear Ms. Tate:

To confirm our conversation, for the annual Home Entertaining magazine of The New York Times, October 25th, featuring American-style parties, and for which I am consulting editor and creative director, we would like to open with exclusive coverage of our First Family, how our President and Mrs. Reagan entertain in their private quarters for a typical dinner party--as on any date prior to their holiday, but as soon as convenient.

Based upon my past White House coverages, and your suggestions, I envision: the table setting; President and Mrs. Reagan and their guests; the food--or entree--as it comes to the upstairs kitchen and/or is presented at table; and, prior to the dinner, the preparation of an appetizer or dessert and the entree by Chef Haller, from whom I would like, in advance, the menu and recipes (non-seasonal, for reader use beginning early-winter festive entertaining season). Mr. Haller and I have worked thusly in the past, as he will explain.

For another feature to be produced in late autumn, we would very much like permission to cover how White House Chef Henry Haller cooks for himself, his family, which would be for a winter issue of the Sunday Magazine of The New York Times--we can discuss this when I see you and Chef for the dinner party story.

With appreciation for your cooperation.

Cordially,

Marilyn Kaytor

Thank you for your recent message. I am sure that I speak for the entire Administration when I say how much we appreciate your past and present support.

I am deeply grateful for the confidence which prompted you to inform the President and myself of your situation in Colorado. Dear Mr. Walsh:

Thank you for your recent message concerning the nomination of Justice Frank Richardson as a replacement for Associate Justice Potter Stewart on the United States Supreme Court.

As you may already know, President Reagan has chosen to appoint Judge Sandra Day O'Connor of Arizona to take the place of Justice Stewart. As confirmation proceedings get under way, I am sure you will find, as did the President, that Judge O'Connor will make an excellent addition to the Court.

Your interest in this matter is appreciated by all of us in the Administration.

Dear Miss Gaustad:

Thank you for your recent message expressing your support and concern for waste in government.

The President shares your views on this subject. He has appointed the Task Force on Integrity and Efficiency, which has already developed hundreds of investigative leads on waste, abuse, and out-right fraud in government. The President has also endorsed legislation which would create additional Inspectors General for the Department of Defense and other government agencies.

These mark but the first steps in our efforts to restore public faith in the honesty and efficiency of those who serve in government. You can be sure that this Administration is intent on pursuing every available course of action in eliminating waste, abuse, and fraud in government.

Dear Kay:

Thank YOU profoundly! I am the envy of the White House and am having the lovely posters framed. I am very lucky... I thought I'd lost out completely when Mrs. Reagan saw the other picture and fell in love with it.

I have had several inquiries about where the White House staff people could buy posters like you sent me. You are much appreciated.

While we were in Los Angeles with the President, I had the pleasure of meeting Gavin Macleod, who is also a big fan of yours. Keep up the beautiful work.
