WASHINGTON

March 21, 1983

Dear Mrs. Robinson:

I wanted to join Don's many friends in expressing my deepest sympathy to you and your family.

While I was Queen Elizabeth's official host representing the President I became personally aware of Don's outstanding professional performance and dedication.

While I know there is little I can say to relieve your sorrow during these difficult days, I wanted you to know that you're in my thoughts.

I hope you'll let me know if there is anything I can do to help.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEAVER

Dear Bruce:

Thanks for your letter on the so-called "squeal" rule. Not only am I glad to know there are parents like you who care about their daughters and sons - but - I am glad you care enough to stand up and say so.

The President feels strongly that the government should not inject itself between children and their parents. And, as you know, HHS is appealing the judge's ruling.

In the interim, there is little which can be done except to continue attempting to bring the real issue to the attention of the American people.

Thanks for your continued support of the President, Bruce. I will tell Mike of your letter and offer to assist.

Best wishes,

Dear Shirley:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter I fired off to the Editor of the AMA News. The AMA editors are actually recommending the circumvention of the H.H.S. regs regarding parental permission before family planning agencies place minors on oral contraceptives.

At slight variance from the copy enclosed is the fact that my children are "my flesh" and "my blood" - in other words, they are mine, and I am responsible for them - I feed, clothe and educate them. I love, cherish and respect them. They come to me when they are happy, and when they are sad or when they hurt, I succor and nourish them. If they dent my neighbor's car or accidentally drive a baseball through his window, I am responsible. If they are sick I am responsible for the physician or hospital bill - no one else, only me. Why? Because I am the parent. I cherish and gladly accept this parental responsibility. But, on the other hand, if I am responsible I must have the right or the authority to exercise my duty. I must be a whole parent, I cannot be a partial parent.

Feeling my responsibility as I do, and I am certain millions of other parents must be this way, is it any wonder that I get upset when Federally funded agencies such as Family Planning tell children 13, 14, or 15 years of age that sexual intercourse is a normal part of growing up so we're going to put you on the pill so you don't get pregnant - and, your parents don't have to know that this is happening. This is criminal! Pregnancy is not the only thing bad that can happen to a young girl. Psychologic injuries and organic disease, either of which may have life-long repercussions, are equally important.

ATTENTION: Editor

An editorial in The AMA NEWS of January 28, 1983 takes to task the decision of Richard Schweiker, Secretary of Health and Human Services, requiring parental permission when minors are placed on contraceptives through federally funded programs - I am shocked and amazed by the conceptual superficiality of the editorial. The editorial cites a breach of contract in the physician/patient relationship as a result of the policy, and recommends circumvention of the policy by providing these services through the private sector at low cost.

A minor child, unless emancipated, is the responsibility of the parent. Responsibility alone, however, would be a rather sterile parent-child interaction. The relationship rather is one of love, affection, admiration, and concern. How can you suggest that the child's total well being is not the parent's right, responsibility or concern? You mention that the HHS ruling would cause a "problem for physicians". So what! Editor, open my eyes or yours. Whatever gave you the idea that physicians have a right to treat minors without consulting the parent? It is my impression that seemingly innocuous procedures such as piercing an ear lobe to provide a 14 year old with ear screws might provide one a trip to the Court House if done without parental permission.

The concern of the Editor seems to be only that no pregnancy occur as a result of intercourse amongst minors. Did it ever dawn on the Editor that a parent might want the opportunity to counsel with their minor children regarding this most important matter? As a parent of seven children I am concerned when they have a cold, cry after a bad dream, skin their knees, or maybe a "C" on a report card. But, Editor, somehow parents shouldn't be concerned when their minor children are contemplating sexual intercourse with all varieties of severe complications that might result therefrom? You intimate, Dr. Editor, that a parent does not have a right to be concerned that their child might contract a disease such as gonorrhea or Herpes II, which might have lifelong repercussions. Your endorsement of the placing of minor children on contraceptives possibly against parental advice or consent is to, in an indirect or subliminal way, endorse sexual activities amongst minor children. As a parent I wish to be a responsible parent, but I cannot be responsible if I do not bear certain parental rights. Why anyone would want to denigrate these rights and responsibilities is beyond me. I want the opportunity to counsel with my children - I may want to explain that a successful life requires certain sacrifices, determination, and self-discipline. I want to explain that they may have to give up some immediate pleasures or self-indulgence for more long-term benefits.

February 1, 1983

I extend my thanks to President Reagan and Mr. Schweiker for their perceptiveness, and for their concern that strong family units might have the opportunity to flourish in America.

If only the editors of the AMA, an Association of men of integrity and honor, were so perceptive and so concerned.

Now that we have had the opportunity to return and wind down from the recent visit of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, I want to tell you how impressed I was with your performance. In light of the tragic loss of lives and the overall adverse conditions, this was a difficult trip for all involved.

Your hard work and tireless efforts were tremendously supportive. Thank you for your help.

Dear Ms. Hawkins and Mr. Coplen:

Thank you for your letter of March 2, 1983. It is most gratifying to know that there are individuals, such as yourselves, who stand ready to support the President and the future course of this Administration.

You should be aware, however, that until an authorized Presidential campaign entity is established pursuant to federal election laws, we will be unable to discuss any possibilities which may involve your participation.

You can be assured that if and when such an entity is established, your interest will not be forgotten.

On behalf of the President, thank you for your continued support.

SUBJECT: Attached Correspondence

I have attached a draft response to Ms. Hawkins and Mr. Coplen's letter to you of March 2, 1983 concerning their "desire to coordinate the national fundraising efforts for President Reagan's 1984 re-election." The language of the draft can be used by your office to respond to similar offers to participate in 1984 political endeavors by the President, if any.

Dear Mike:

Please accept this letter as a sincere expression of our desire to coordinate the national fundraising efforts for President Reagan's 1984 re-election. We realize that the major decisions regarding the re-election campaign should undoubtedly rest with you, and will be a function of the timing of the formal announcement.

Our enthusiastic interest centers around not only the combined qualifications of our backgrounds, but also our great regard for both President Reagan and you. Having learned from years of experience the magic of Ronald Reagan and the style in which all of his efforts must be executed, we feel extraordinarily capable of this responsibility. Of course, we have anticipated geographical requirements, and they certainly present no problem.

We know, too, that you have always expected and demanded the best. Forgive a slight presumption, but, as you know, our expertise in fundraising covers all functions:

- Computer/technical
- Direct mail
- Creative writing and material design
- Special events
- Major donor programs
- Small donor programs
- PAC solicitation
- Federal Election Law

In short, we understand not only the techniques necessary, but also the "politics" of doing it right, and our loyalty to those for whom we have worked has always been unquestioned. In addition, we have the ability to mobilize our nationwide contacts to maximize fundraising efforts and to strengthen party development.

MICHAEL K. DEEVER

March 2, 1983

Our sensitivity, coupled with our commitment to excellence, has consistently made our "team effort" one of the best in political finance. While we know that this proposal may be premature, we also know the value of advanced planning and would appreciate your consideration.

If appropriate, we would be happy to meet with you to discuss our ideas. In any event, you can be assured that our discretion and respect for your future plans will always be upheld. We're proud of our President and proud to have been associated with him in the past. We hope that you will allow us to play a part in his re-election.

Thank you, Mike.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 21, 1983

Dear Mrs. Bejcek:

I wanted to join Don's many friends in expressing my deepest sympathy to you and your family.

While I was Queen Elizabeth's official host representing the President I became personally aware of Don's outstanding professional performance and dedication.

While I know there is little I can say to relieve your sorrow during these difficult days, I wanted you to know that you're in my thoughts.

I hope you'll let me know if there is anything I can do to help.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEAVER
Assistant to the President
Deputy Chief of Staff

Mrs. Ellen Bejcek
