Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: — Song of Solomon

Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: — for I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Savior: — Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honorable, and I have loved thee: — Fear not: for I am with thee: — Isaiah

— the things which are seen are temporal; but the things that are not seen are eternal. — II Corinthians

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God; therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

Dear Mr. Williams:

Thank you for your recent letter. Mr. Deaver and I have gone over his schedule, and find it is impossible for him or the President to grant you an interview June 20th to June 30th.

Thank you for your interest. Hope you have a nice trip.

Dear Mr. Williams:

Thank you for writing Mr. Deaver regarding an interview in March. Mr. Deaver's schedule is based on President Reagan's daily schedule. It is impossible for me to schedule events more than a day or two into the future. It will be necessary for you to contact the office when you are in Washington, D.C., and we'll determine at that time whether or not there is a possibility of an interview. Hopefully, we can find time.

Thanks again for your inquiry.

Dear Mr Deaver,

I am writing to ask if it would be possible to arrange an interview with you in March.

I am chief television news producer in Adelaide for the Australian Broadcasting Commission, but also a radio broadcaster for our network on American presidential matters. It is a radio interview with you that I would like to arrange.

I am also working on a research paper covering Mr Reagan's campaign leading to his election, and on key developments in his Presidency as perceived in Australia.

In that project, and in my regular radio broadcasts, I am trying to explain events to a general Australian audience increasingly interested in the Presidency.

I shall be in Washington from Tuesday March 9th to Friday March 12th inclusive. In the course of that week I hope to be doing a series of interviews with relevant people in the city.

I have met Mr Ed Hind of the USICA office in Melbourne, Aust., and I'm sure he would be able to arrange supply of any information that may be required to substantiate my position.

I realise that there are many duties foreseen and unforeseen that may prohibit you giving a few minutes of your time for an informal interview. However I would certainly appreciate hearing from you on this request.

Yours faithfully,
David M. Williams

Washington D.C.,

Dear Ms Moore,

You will probably have on file my letter of May last year when I expressed regret at having had to end a brief visit to Washington without having been able to interview Mr. Deaver.

I wanted the interview to include in my regular radio broadcasts with the Australian Broadcasting Commission, and also to boost information for a book I'm writing designed to acquaint Australians with the Reagan Presidency.

I was in the U.S., including Washington, in October/November last year as a sponsored guest of the U.S.I.A. to study the Congressional elections.

I am hoping to make another private visit in June and this time I really would like to have the opportunity to interview Mr. Deaver.

Being an irrepressible Australian journalist, and something of an optimist, I would also like to land an interview with the President.

Comments by the President from time to time have shown that he has an interest in Australia, so he might be prepared to give up a few minutes.

My preliminary schedule is to be in Washington from June 20 to June 30th. In your letter to me of January 26th, 1982 you said it was impossible for you to schedule events more than a day or two into the future.

Right. What I really would appreciate is how best to get myself positioned for an interview with Mr. Deaver (which I definitely would like) and how to get wait-listed with the President.

I appreciate your earlier help and I look forward to your guidance.

Sincerely,

Dear Daniel:

Mr. Deaver appreciates your interest in his position as Assistant to the President and Deputy Chief of Staff. However, because of the hundreds of requests we receive for school projects, he is unable to respond to each one personally.

His duties in the White House encompass many areas. He has the responsibility for the President's schedule and the advance work done on the trips the President takes. He is also "overseer" of Mrs. Reagan's office.

His daily activities change daily, but most of the day is spent in meetings with the President.

Thanks again for your interest and good luck on your school project.

Dear Mr. Deaver:

Recently President Reagan had an opportunity to speak before the Commonwealth Club of California. At this function Professor Jeanne Crank had a scheduled brief encounter with the President. She offered to present the enclosed letter, with attached documents, to President Reagan; unfortunately, a secret service agent refused her permission while waiting in the reception line. Jeanne then gave the original copy to the agent, asking him to present it to the President.

The reason I am writing to you, is to ask that you review the letter and documents. Please look at the two issues raised and forward any recommendations to the appropriate officials.

Additionally, on the issue of a Presidential Commission on Youth Service Alternatives I enclose a recent reply from Counsellor Edwin Meese III. His office has additional material on this subject.

I would like to thank you in advance for your attention, time and consideration to these dilemmas.

note

Dear Mike:

Thank you very much for including me in the support-group briefing and luncheon yesterday. I was deeply honored to have been invited as well as being seated so close to the President during lunch. I sincerely thank you.

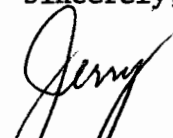

In line with our brief conversation, it is my understanding that Rick Holt has communicated with Craig Fuller on the subject of withholding on savings and dividends and that several Senators are working on a hopeful solution to the problem.

The President is absolutely correct; we should close any and all loopholes that permit taxpayers to cheat; however, it appears to me the present legislation is such that most of the people who are being asked to implement the system and work with the taxpayers (explaining and dealing with their complaints, etc.) are the very ones that are opposed to this system, thus opening a Pandora's box.

Mike, as you know, I have supported the President from the very beginning and will continue to support him. This letter is solely to express my concern for the President on this issue and what long-term impact it may or may not have on his administration. I sincerely hope some dialogue can be developed on this matter, and if I can be of any assistance in bringing it about, I would be happy to serve.

Again, I wish to thank you for your kind courtesies.

Sincerely,

MKK:pi
