Dear Mr. Deaver,

Inasmuch as I am aware of your position as Deputy Chief of Staff and Assistant to the President as well as your presence in The White House, I thought it appropriate to contact you personally concerning a position as staff aide or assistant.

I believe that with my background in the hospitality industry and my experience in The White House, I have the qualifications and personal qualities that would facilitate learning.

I have 11 years of extensive background which entails public contact, coordination of convention functions, ensured contractual details were expedited, accounting procedures, forecasted and scheduled staff accordingly.

I have traveled extensively throughout the world which has contributed to a broad basis of knowledge encompassing many cultures and races.

Presently as a part-time employee, I am working under Mr. Gene Allan at The White House and as a full-time employee, I am employed at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, Learning Resource Center in Bethesda, Maryland. I have expanded my knowledge within the University but in an effort to maintain continuous professional growth and development, I am interested in a change.

I would appreciate your consideration for a full-time position with The White House staff. I would again welcome the opportunity to again have the intense people contact. After you have had a chance to review my SF-171, I would appreciate an appointment with you to discuss the prospects of obtaining a position.

Thank you for your time and consideration and I will look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Stephen F. Burt

Dear Colonel Ruddick,

Please accept my sincere appreciation on behalf of all of the members of my Special Mission to the Far East for the professional and typically responsive support provided by Major Robert D. Barr and his crew on our recent trip. Despite a grueling schedule involving nearly sixty hours of flight and 28,000 miles, Major Barr's people cheerfully and efficiently provided the kind of first-rate service that we all too often tend to take for granted.

While all who contributed deserved thanks, I especially wish to mention the contributions of Major Barr, Major Christopher Nelson, Senior Master Sergeant Howard Franklin and Staff Sergeants Henry Brown and Marcia Mutum.

Please extend my personal thanks to all on the crew whose contributions aided in the success of the mission.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEEVER

The American Jewish Committee in Los Angeles is presenting its Human Relations Award this year to Sanford C. Sigoloff who is Chairman of the Board and CEO of Wickes Companies, Inc. They would like very much to have the President speak at this annual award dinner in Los Angeles in October, November, December or January. If the President accepted, the award would be a National American Jewish Committee Award.

I am enclosing for your information a copy of a letter from Scott Kruse, along with an enclosure with some background information.

If this fits, it is a good group and might be a good forum.

Re: American Jewish Committee
Human Relations Award Dinner

Dear Bill:

In your absence I spoke to your office about the above subject and they asked me to write you a letter setting forth some details.

The American Jewish Committee this year is presenting its Human Relations Award to Sanford C. Sigoloff. Sandy is the Chairman of the Board and CEO of Wickes Companies, Inc., a four billion dollar conglomerate and a friend and client of mine, but more importantly a most appropriate recipient of this award.

The American Jewish Committee would very much like the President to speak at this annual award dinner in Los Angeles. The Committee understands that the President is interested in speaking to a major Jewish organization this year. The Committee would gladly do everything possible to schedule the dinner to fit the President's schedule in October, November, December or January. Early notice from the White House would be helpful in doing so. If the President does wish to speak at the Dinner, the award would be a National American Jewish Committee award.

The Honorable William French Smith
July 26, 1983
Page Two

Also enclosed is a one-page memorandum to Senator Hugh Scott which indicates some of the common objectives of President Reagan and Sandy Sigoloff's successful efforts of the last 13 years in regenerating troubled major companies and bringing them out of bankruptcy. Sandy is an active Republican and supporter of the President.

As a past recipient of the Human Relations award, it was felt that you might be able to give the President and White House some particularly useful input regarding the possibility of his speaking at the dinner. Any assistance that you might be able to provide would be greatly appreciated.

I hope that we get to see you in California soon. Bill Carr is practicing for your return and counting on the fact that you get little time to play tennis in Washington.

Best regards.

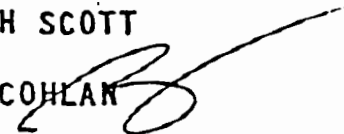

Sincerely,

Scott A. Kruse

TO: SENATOR HUGH SCOTT
FROM: BERNARD F. COHLAN
SUBJECT: SOME THOUGHTS ON PRESIDENT REAGAN SPEAKING AT THE 1983 AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE'S HUMAN RELATIONS
AWARD TO S.C. SIGOLOFF
DATE: 12 JULY 1983

One of the main thrusts of President Reagan's administration has been the regeneration of America through the good efforts of the private sector. In this light it is interesting to consider the following:

1. Mr. Sigoloff has devoted the last 13 years of his career to regenerating severely troubled major companies: starting with Republic, a company of $210 million in sales in 1970; then Daylin, a company of $750 million in sales in 1974; and now Wickes, a company of $4 billion in sales and 38,000 employees. In each of these record-setting circumstances it was necessary to significantly reduce the size of the company; nevertheless, Republic and Daylin were quickly returned to the competitive business world as financially-sound contributors to the productivity of the nation and now Wickes is well along that recovery path.
2. During the remainder of this year Mr. Sigoloff will be making more than 20 presentations to senior business executives, investment bankers, commercial bankers, and educators; consumer and housing business groups; and university students. The central theme of these presentations will include the prospects of the economy and business in the 80's, the potential of a troubling environment for business in the 80's, the techniques and strategies for regenerating troubled business in the 80's, and, most importantly, the needed regeneration of valuable national business resources in the 80's.

"CONJUGAL" TEACUP

These teacups, created by Mr. Chon Han-pong, a ceramic potter whose specialty is teacups, are in the Munkyong style.

Mr. Chon, who is an acclaimed master potter, was initiated into the secrets of Yi Dynasty ceramics at the age of 16, in the mountainous region of Munkyong, North Kyongsang Province.

There are certain characteristics which are intrinsic to the "Conjugal" teacup. They are as follows:

- 1) They are reproductions of the simple teacups used and loved by the people of the Yi Dynasty.
- 2) No modern chemicals or machinery are implemented in their production. Facilities and techniques are the same as those used by Yi Dynasty potters.
- 3) They are fashioned from clay and water in natural surroundings far removed from the bustle of a modern and secular world. The heat used to fire the kilns is pine wood.
- 4) The crane is a symbol of long life and conjugal love. This symbol is painted on with white and black clay implementing a brush made of pine roots.
- 5) The longer they are used, the cups will begin to subtly assume a delicate tone of color lending an air of antiquity.

Created at Mount Choryong, located near Munkyong, North Kyongsang Province, Republic of Korea.

Whenever you have a chance, please take a look at the television coverage of yesterday's press availability with the President. The lighting in the briefing room is the most flattering I've seen and the camera position also makes the President look good.

For some reason, the East Room press conferences are not quite as flattering to the President as the briefing room - maybe you can take a look and figure out why.

MAUNA LANI BAY HOTEL

Emerald of Kohala

August 1, 1983

Mr. Michael Deaver
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Good morning, Mr. Deaver.

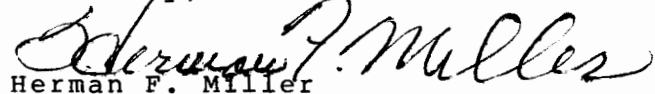

My purpose in phoning you at the Mauna Kea Beach Hotel yesterday was threefold:

First, we have learned that you might be considering the home of my next door neighbors, Mr and Mrs. Silberstein, for a presidential visit. Remembering and understanding the high security required during Vice President Bush's visit to the same home, I can assure you that the neighbors will be honored with a visit from such a distinguished guest and you will be most welcome.

Second, if this event should take place, I wish to tell you that just next door, a few steps away, I have in my home a most unusual collection of Oriental Art, and it might give some of your guests pleasure to spend a few moments in seeing some priceless and rare one-of-a-kind Chinese and Japanese art objects. If anyone in this group would be interested, a phone call to 882 7077 would arrange it.

Third, during my eighty-two years of dining in this world, I have shared the hospitality of many fine hotels and restaurants world wide. We have a few such fine restaurants on this Big Island. Since February when the Mauna Lani Bay Hotel opened, I have referred a number of guests of the Big Island to the "Third Floor Dining Room." Without exception, each has agreed with me that this dining experience is unique, and the best of any yet discovered. In phoning you yesterday afternoon, it was my hope to invite you or one or more of your group to have dinner with me at the Third Floor. The invitation still stands.

Sincerely,

Herman F. Miller
