Dear Dick:

Thank you for your note of February 27. I have taken the liberty of sending your message to Bill Henkel, the Director of our Advance Office. He is the one who has the responsibility for planning the President's trip to Ireland.

If the opportunity arises that we can address the Dublin Chamber of Commerce and the American Chamber of Commerce in Ireland I will let you know.

Again, thank you for writing with your suggestion for the President.

Dear Mike:

As you have noticed, the Dublin Chamber of Commerce and the American Chamber of Commerce in Ireland have invited the President to speak at a joint meeting while he is in Ireland in June.

I can heartily recommend that he accept this invitation -- it would be an excellent forum for him to address economic issues which would play well back here at home. Both are excellent organizations. I visited there last Fall. I would have called you on this except I'll be in Japan from February 24th to March 3rd. When I return, if I can be helpful on this or other matters, do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Deaver:

Here are two wines which should serve the President and The Republican Party well when the need arises to dramatize a concern for economy.

Our Le Hamburger Red and Little White Wine are certainly not lavish in name, yet the wines have won more than their share of awards. In short, they don't cost much($24 a case) and they taste good.

Wherever they were served, it seems to me they could provide a light-hearted opportunity for a speaker to call attention to budget-cutting efforts.

In hopes that you will find this an agreeable idea, I am

AMENIA, NY. - If you've ever dreamt of owning your own vineyards and winery (even if you haven't), this offer is for you! Cascade Mountain Vineyards, the Hudson Valley's Blue Ribbon winery, has a new, unique subscription plan designed to share the pleasures of winegrowing and country living at no cost. All we ask is that you buy some wine in return.

Originality and Dedication = Success

Hudson Valley Magazine

CORNUCOPIA OF EARTHLY DELIGHTS

Here's how it works: You agree to sign up as a Subscriber and Friend of Cascade Mountain at a cost of $100 a year. Here's what you get in return:

1) $100 WORTH OF WINE PER YEAR, so your annual costs are covered immediately. PLUS SPECIAL SUBSCRIBERS DISCOUNT OF 15% ON ALL CASE SALES!

2) USE OF THE WINERY'S RECREATIONAL FACILITIES which include tasting and dining rooms, full kitchen, guest apartment, and 70 acres of lovely vineyards, fields, forest and ponds. Again, there is no charge, as long as you buy some wine. Were you to give a party here, for example, we ask that you and/or your guests be prepared to buy a minimum of two bottles per person. Thus a party of 24 people, would cost 4 cases of wine. Considering that you and your guests must like wine in the first place, else you wouldn't be here, this seems like a reasonable request. Particularly given the fact that Cascade Mountain has won more awards for excellence this past year than any other winery in the Valley, not to mention Western Connecticut, and has repeatedly bested the French Beaujolais Nouveau in blind tastings year after year.

3) YOU'LL HAVE ACCESS TO our fishing, swimming and skating pond, vineyards, pastureland and woods teeming with Wild Turkey, Whitetail deer, pheasant, partridge, European hare, red fox and a host of other creatures great and small (mostly small). You can cross-country ski, skate, hike, fish, swim, jog, cycle on lovely country roads or, if you prefer, enjoy the Great Indoors with backgammon, cards, good music, wine, cheese, fine pate' or whatever. In short, we're a house party waiting to be held.

4) You're also invited to attend our SPRING AND HARVEST WINE FESTIVALS when we celebrate the release of the year's new wines with fine music, good things to eat and good times. Again, the same rules apply; cost to you: purchase of two bottles of wine per person.

WHOLE NEW WAY OF LIFE

Here's how a typical day at Cascade Mountain might go: Arrive at 11 a.m. or thereabouts. We'll show you around and catch you up on what's new. Have a picnic lunch indoors or out. Either you bring it or we'll provide a light lunch at a very light price. Take a walk through the vineyard and surrounding woodlands, or go fishing, have a swim; whatever your heart desires.

And, if you like, you can even spend the night in our new guest apartment (two cases of wine double occupancy!) or we'll book you at the inn of your choice.

Our facilities are also available as a day Conference Center, should you choose to mix a little business with your pleasure.

ALL IN ADDITION TO WINE

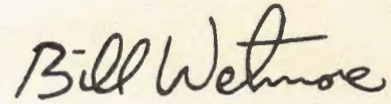

When you stop to think about it and compare what you get when you buy wine at your local retailer, vs at Cascade Mountain, we're offering a great deal. Just send us a check for $100 and all of the above is yours, including $100 worth of wine, use of the winery, guest apartment, surrounding countryside and special discount. Dear Mr. Deaver:

As Finance Co-Chairman for the State of Florida for Reagan-Bush '84 and as chairman of the Florida Victory Committee, I have had an opportunity to hear Floridians' concerns about the economy, the deficit, and the nation's monetary and fiscal policies. These are important issues not only for Republicans, not only for businessmen, but for all Americans. In this election year, when the continued improvement and health of the nation's economy will be a constant source of public scrutiny, appoints to the Federal Reserve Board take on a new significance.

I wanted to take this opportunity to personally communicate to you my interest in the President's upcoming appointment to fill a vacancy on the Federal Reserve Board.

I strongly urge your support for Sue McCourt Cobb as you advise the President on his appointment to fill the vacancy on the Federal Reserve Board. I feel that Mrs. Cobb exhibits the attributes, background, and conservative philosophy which is crucial at this time in our history for the Federal Reserve Board. Mrs. Cobb is presently Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Miami Branch, and a practicing attorney with the Miami law firm of Greenberg, Traurig, Askew, Hoffman, Lipoff, Rosen & Quentel. Prior to joining the Greenberg firm, Mrs. Cobb clerked for The Honorable Peter T. Fay, a President Nixon appointee to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals (now on the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals). Mrs. Cobb has been married to Charles E. Cobb, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Arvida Corporation since 1959. Both her and her husband have been in the forefront of both business and civic affairs throughout the State of Florida, and in particular in Dade County for many years.

Because of the importance of such an appointment to the Federal Reserve Board, I personally took the time to meet with Mrs. Cobb and asked her many of the questions which are of importance to me and other conservatives in our party. Her answers, intelligence, personality and demeanor left me very impressed.

This vacancy presents an extremely good opportunity for the President to appoint an excellently qualified individual, who also happens to be a woman, to a position on the Federal Reserve Board.

Dear Charlie:

Enclosed is a letter to President Reagan, requesting that he appear with The McLaughlin Group. I would ask you to read the letter. I think you will agree that the reasons given why he should do the show make a lot of sense.

When I discussed the idea of doing the show with the President, he was generally very positive, but he allowed that some of his staff people would probably think that if he were to do this for us, he would have to do it for everybody. The answer to that staff worry, as I respectfully pointed out to the President is that, as a candidate, he is entirely free to select those to whom he gives interviews and reject others. As witness the U.S. News and World Report and Wall Street Journal exclusives, and his interview on Tony Brown's Journal on PBS.

Last July, the President very graciously permitted us to meet with him at breakfast, but no TV cameras were allowed. Our understanding at the time with White House staffers was that, because it was not a taped interview, it would not "count" as one in 1984 if the President were to seek re-election.

Thanks in advance, Charlie, for any push you can give this worthy, upstanding project.

I trust all goes well with you. By all appearances it does. My best to Mary Jane. With every best good wish.

Sincerely,

John McLaughlin

Dear Mr. President:

All of us in The McLaughlin Group are lastingly grateful for the breakfast interview you so kindly granted to us last July, and we were highly gratified by the wide coverage it received during the next two days on TV, radio and in the print media.

Now we are writing to cordially invite you to make a guest appearance with The Group at a date, time, and place of your choosing. We have been running a special series of appearances by the Democratic candidates, and your appearance would afford you equal opportunity as a candidate.

Our program is carried on the NBC flagship station here in Washington and on 80 public TV stations throughout the country. In this case, NBC has made the unusual offer to carry the program live on the five NBC-owned stations: New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Cleveland and Washington. In addition, it will be furnished by satellite to all public television stations in the 50 states.

The coverage on the powerful NBC stations is particularly strong. The New York NBC station, for example, blankets not only the greater New York area but the heavily populated areas in southern Connecticut and northern New Jersey. (It is a little known historical fact that no Republican has ever been elected president without carrying New Jersey.) Wisconsin is heavily covered by NBC's Chicago station, and Los Angeles' NBC station is watched from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

We realize that you will have many invitations for television appearances between now and election day. May we suggest, however, that your appearance on The McLaughlin Group would have special impact in one important way. Specifically, all of us emerged from the Roosevelt Room last July with the unanimous conviction that you are at your very best when engaged in a free-wheeling interrogation on a wide range of subjects. There are those in the news media who would prefer to think otherwise, and have tried to implant the thought that you avoid those appearances in which you are unable to rely on a prepared text.

The President
February 14, 1984

This is not true, of course, even in an East Room Press Conference, where the questions are hostile and the questioners eager to appear on TV as tough and probing. We can assure you that The McLaughlin Group will reflect no bias, posturing, or hostile objective.

We earnestly hope that you will agree to this appearance, Mr. President, which, as I mentioned, will be scheduled entirely subject to your convenience.

All good wishes from The Group.

Sincerely,

John McLaughlin

Royal visitor expected here in mid-April

By Preston Turegano

Tribune Staff Writer

Britain's Prince Andrew, called "Randy Andy" by the British press because of his escapades with exotic and glamorous women, is scheduled to visit San Diego in April.

The 24-year-old prince will be the fourth member of the British royal family to visit San Diego in the last 10 years.

Andrew will be in San Diego sometime during a California visit April 15-19, said David Hogan, a British Embassy press officer in Washington.

Andrew, a member of the British Olympics Association, may visit Fairbanks Ranch, site of some summer Olympics equestrian events. His father, Prince Philip, visited the ranch in 1982.

Last February, Queen Elizabeth and Philip sailed to San Diego aboard the royal yacht Britannia. Prince Charles, Andrew's older brother, visited the city in 1974.

The Fleet Street press dubbed Andrew "Randy Andy" after he began dating Koo Stark, an American actress who appeared nude in a movie.

Andrew is third in line to the British throne, behind Charles and Charles' son, Prince William.
