Dear Mr. Deaver WJ/17/84

I am one of many
Republicans who hope that Pres. Reagan will give close heed to what the Mexican President said in Washington.
Reagan has been so anti-Russian that he fails to see the whole picture. His strong anti-Soviet rhetoric has only damaged our two countries' relations. Rather he should strive for a summit conference, as Nixon has suggested.

Many of us are afraid

That his present philosophy
will tend to lead to war,
rather than peace.

Many Americans may not want to reelect Regan again
if he pursues his vitriolic
Russian policy.

Sincerely

J. D. Caldwell

P. S. I say this even though I appreciate many of the things Regan has accomplished. But I'm afraid his Russian <sup>anti-bias</sup> can help the Democrats in this year's election.

Sir, Ms:

I am presently compiling material
for a book I am writing on decorations

In my research I came across the "Presidential Citizen's Medal", believed awarded by the President.

I have very little information about the medal, and need to know the following information about the award.

- 1) To whom and what the medal
is awarded for.
- 2) a description of the medal and the attached ribbon, if there is one.
- 3) a color photo of the medal and ribbon
if available.

MEMORANDUM FOR MIKE DEEVER

THROUGH: MIKE McMANUS FROM: BRUCE CHAPMAN BC
SUBJECT: President's suggestion re: Jane Russell and "WAIF"

The President used much of the time at the May 15 Cabinet meeting on families to discuss his strong support for adoption. When Secretary Heckler mentioned the extremely successful efforts of actress Jane Russell to help get "special needs" children adopted (children with handicaps or minority children), the President said that he hoped she might be invited to come to the White House.

Enclosed is an invitation I received to a forthcoming Jane Russell party to promote adoption. It gives some sense of her operation. (Note the HHS connection.) At other parties she gets groups of prospective parents together with adoptable kids, and no child has ever left these events, I am told, without a prospective permanent family.

Perhaps the forthcoming "Family Week" of events would give the President a proper occasion to showcase this kind of private effort. Miss Russell also perhaps should be considered in the future for a Presidential award.

MEMORANDUM FOR        EDWARD V. HICKEY
FROM:                    WILLIAM F. SITTMANN
SUBJECT:                Attached Correspondence

We have received the attached correspondence from Mrs. Shriver. I would appreciate your looking this over and advising me as to whether or not the White House can grant the approval for transportation for the American athletes.

I would appreciate your answer to this request as soon as possible so I can get back to Mrs. Shriver.

Thank you.

Mr. William Sittman
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Sittman:

On May 28, a delegation of 20 Special Olympics athletes and six coaches will depart from Washington for Brussels to attend the 1984 Belgian Special Olympics Games.

Mr. Shriver and I will also attend the Games, with Their Majesties, the King and Queen of Belgium. As you may know, Special Olympics is the world's largest program of sports training and athletic competition for mentally handicapped persons. There are currently over one million athletes involved in 50 countries worldwide.

As a part of the weeklong event, Colonel Thompson of SHAPE in Brussels offered to assist in providing transportation for the American athletes -- from the airport to the Centre Reine Fabiola (where they will be staying) and for two days following the Games to allow the American delegation to visit Brugges and Brussels.

We have just learned from Mr. Bernard Jurdant, National Director of Special Olympics Belgium that Colonel Thompson is reluctant to act without direct approval from the White House. In fact, without such approval, Colonel Thompson is unable to commit any services of SHAPE.

I sincerely hope that you can assist us with this matter. Colonel Thompson and the many other officials of SHAPE in Brussels are anxious to help but cannot do so without the appropriate authorization.

I have enclosed some general information on Special Olympics as well as information on the 1984 Belgian Special Olympics Games. If I can assist in any other way, please do not hesitate to contact me. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Eunice Kennedy Shriver

Ambassador of the United States of America
Rabat, May 18, 1984

Dear Mike,

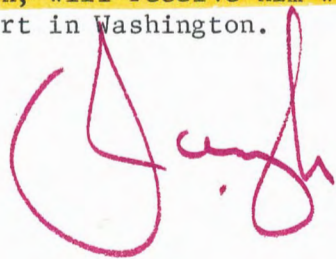

I am writing to introduce and commend to you and the many friends of Morocco in the United States Maati Jorio, King Hassan's new Ambassador to the United States.

The United States is truly fortunate to have a person of Ambassador Jorio's stature and talents representing Morocco at this important juncture in our relations. His diplomatic background is exceptionally broad, including over the past fifteen years Ambassadorial assignments in Spain, Romania, East Germany and the Soviet Union, prior to his most recent assignment as the King's envoy in Ottawa. He has not confined himself to diplomatic pursuits, however. Earlier he had served as number two man in the Ministry of the Interior. From 1971 to 1974, he had the key position of Minister of Agriculture where he supervised, inter alia, the USAID Food for Work program. In short, Ambassador Jorio is an extremely versatile man who gets things done. In all those challenging assignments, he has earned, through his drive, initiative, and imagination, the well-deserved reputation as one of Morocco's leading diplomats.

Those abilities will be sorely needed. Ambassador Jorio is going to Washington at a crucial time for U.S.-Moroccan relations. The visit in February of Prime Minister Karim-Lamrani to the U.S. was an unprecedented success, (in no small measure thanks to your own superb efforts). But it was only the first step in what promises to be a long process. Ambassador Jorio is a sound choice to carry on this new phase of bilateral ties. In tune with King Hassan and his government, he enjoys the confidence to launch new initiatives.

Ambassador Jorio will make it a top priority to improve his Embassy's links on the Hill, to explain more fully and candidly the interests of Morocco, and to seek to understand better the pressures, budgetary and otherwise, that we are under at this time. I know you will be one of the first that Ambassador Jorio seeks out and am certain you will find your relationship an extremely valuable one. I am hopeful that you, in turn, will receive him well and ensure that he gets off to a good start in Washington.

With every best wish,

MEMORANDUM FOR: BILL SITT<sup>mtd</sup>MANN Fyi
FROM: JOHN F. W. ROGERS
ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

The trees being sent to Ireland for the President to plant are seedlings of the Jackson Magnolias, which stand at the west side of the South Portico of the White House.

The original trees were planted by President Andrew Jackson sometime during his term of office, 1829-1837. They were planted in memory of his wife, Rachel, who had died before he entered office. He brought the trees to the White House from his home, The Hermitage, which is on the outskirts of Nashville, Tennessee.

The saplings are Southern Magnolias (Magnolia Grandiflora) and are approximately 5 feet high. They are about 3½ years old. They will be delivered to Andrews Air Force Base on the 28th or 29th of June and will be flown to Shannon, Ireland. The President is scheduled to plant the tree on June 3, 1984.

To: Mr. Mike Wallace - 60' - CBS -

Dear Mr. Wallace,

Approx. two years ago a segment of 60' was dedicated to the communist front organization The Council of Churches - it was excellent -

Pls if possible take under consideration for future presentation a segment on 60' about the 4 murdered "churchwomen" in El Salvador - at the inception this 4 "churchwomen" were called "nuns" - and at present they are called just "churchwomen" -

Moscow and their machiavelic KGB for many years are the finest producer - in the genre of Castle B. De Julle - of "religious imposters" - like their Patriarch (greek orthodox) who is just a star player in the official greek-orthodox church masquerade party - and the cast of thousands (P.R. jargon Hollywood City) of priests, ministers, rabbis, ~~stars~~ sums, churchwomen...

Even recently there was a official pro-crow rabbi - in New York to tell the "great freedom for religion of the Jewish people in the Soviet Union" - but the Prop Dept of the KGB forgot to circumscribe this "rabbi".
In a way the KGB is also "human" in their inhumanities, they make errors to !!!!

Even recently a "progressive liberal American rabbi" - suggested that the Jews should include in their Passover (maybe you forgot, Passover is the Jewish Easter) Agadah (this is a remembrance prayer book about the time the Jews were in bondage in Egypt) words of wisdom from Chaimenu, Has and Lermi. — This is Chutzpa at it's best!

Sir,

In your great wisdom as panjandrum of Presidential visibility why don't you concentrate on changing the ever-present, meaningless waving (just like amateur movies) of both the actors as they leave the helicopters and arrive at the White House?

I'm sure the DDay anniversary will be a very emotional one for the President - what branch of service was he in during WWII?

Honorable Michael Deaver
Deputy Chief of Staff
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave.
Washington D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Deaver,

We appreciate the service you render to President Reagan, his administration and the nation. Many of our prayer partners across this nation pray for you daily as you endure the pressures of your position. We love and pray for our President also and we would like to see a chapel in the White House for his use and yours, as well as the rest of the White House personnel. Since we have thus far been unable to stop abortion and ERA and have not succeeded in getting prayer back into schools, perhaps the placement of a chapel in the White House in this election year, would make a favorable impression on the religious sector of our society.

Since I have had the opportunity of attending White House briefings concerning foreign and domestic policy and religious affairs and have heard President Reagan's views on religious issues, I feel sure that if he were to be made aware of the interest in and need for putting a chapel in the White House, he would be more than willing to make it possible. Letters are coming in from concerned Christians across the nation, wondering what progress is being made toward this project. Many have indicated their willingness in helping provide the necessary funds to complete it. White House and Secret Service personnel have indicated their need for a chapel, and articles in national magazines across the country which discussed President Reagan's problem in attending church services have caused concern among his constituency.

We would appreciate any help you could give us in getting the accompanying letter to President Reagan. We would also appreciate the opportunity of meeting with you to discuss this matter. Thankyou for your consideration and we look forward to hearing from you soon.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
RONALD W. REAGAN
The White House
Washington D.C. 20500

Dear President Reagan,

It is a great privilege to be able to get a letter to you, an opportunity for which I have hoped for a long time. I am also happy to have the opportunity to tell you how much we appreciate you and praise God for giving us a leader who truly loves Him and isn't afraid to let it be known. How difficult your job must be and how we ache for you as we see you being barraged from all sides with complaints and threats. You have our constant and fervent prayers for your protection, health and wisdom in the job the Lord has called you to.

I would like to share with you a burden that the Lord has placed upon my heart. While in college studying to be an attorney, I had occasion to work behind the scenes with those in the political arenas and I saw the heartaches and problems they so often had to face in their personal lives. I then realized there was a real need for a ministry to those in all levels of government and felt that the local church should be more involved in a positive and constructive way. For over nine years now the Lord has given me a burden for those in all levels of government which led me to found the National HONOR and PRAYER Fellowship. This is a ministry which attempts to meet the personal and spiritual needs of all those in our local, state and national governments. I became aware and concerned about the awesome responsibilities they face and the accompanying problems that result in their personal lives. I have had the privilege of seeing many come to Christ. I have spent the past several years traveling across America with the purpose of presenting the needs of those in government hoping to create a better working relationship between our churches and communities and those that represent us in all levels of government.

For some time now we have taken the opportunity of ministering to some of the spiritual needs of those in the Secret Service and others of the White House staff. On one visit I spoke with Mr. Morton Blackwell, while he was still at the White House, concerning the need for a ministry to those in the White House as the number of staff has grown considerably in the last several years. Although we find chapels in almost every public and government institution, such as the U.S. Senate, the House, the State Capitols, the military, and many hospitals across the Land, yet, from my understanding, there is no chapel or chaplain in the White House to meet the spiritual needs of those who work there.

The President of the United States

I have been trying to unofficially organize a "White House Prayer Fellowship" where personnel can get together as often as desired for prayer, counsel and meditation. It is our desire not only to put a chapel in the White House for your use, but also at Camp David.

I would count it a real privilege to help meet this need with your official approval. I have found that there is a lot of interest in this area and have received many comments concerning the need for prayer, counseling and a place to be designated for such activities. We understand that there may be a room available in the old Executive Office building that could be set aside and designated as a White House Chapel if you could just say the word. In talking with both the House and Senate Chaplains, they expressed their opinions that if a chapel and a chaplain were available in the white House in an official capacity, more staff personnel would seek the help they need for their personal and spiritual needs.

With your proclamation making 1983 the "Year of the Bible" and proclaiming the "National Day of Prayer", it would seem to be the time for another historical milestone of providing for a chapel in the White House and at Camp David. With your approval, I would be willing to raise the necessary funds to provide for a chapel and its furnishings in the White House as well as Camp David, at no expense to the government. I would like to continue to minister to White House personnel and all government officials and would like very much to do it with your approval and blessing. Having a place set aside to meet with those who desire help, would make ministering to them much more effective. I appreciate Mr. Blackwell's concern for the staff of the White House and their needs and his suggestion that I personally write to you concerning this matter.

I would like to have the opportunity of sharing my life's testimony with you and Mrs. Reagan that you might see how the Lord has brought me to this point in my life where I desire to be an instrument in meeting the personal and spiritual needs of those in government. My testimony itself is often instrumental in touching the hearts of those who hear it as I share how I was an orphan and after 30 years I found my natural mother and led her to the Lord. It was an answer to prayer.

Four years ago, we discovered that I had a rare and terminal cancer and was given two months to live. God has graciously intervened and allowed me to continue His work. The Lord has used all these events in my life to break my heart for others and to seek to meet their needs as He has met mine. The Lord has blessed our efforts by opening the hearts of others and giving us the opportunities necessary in accomplishing His work. Our only desire is to be used of God wherever he might lead.

The President of the United States

We have admired you and Mrs. Reagan even before your arrival at the White House and appreciate your leadership and conservative stand. As Christians and proud Americans, we will continue to stand behind you and you will certainly continue to get our public support and our prayers.

I present this request and ask you to consider it prayerfully. We have been in touch with your legal counsel, Fred Fielding, and our attorneys and they have agreed that although a challenge is possible, constitutionally, we could survive that challenge. I would deeply appreciate the honor of meeting with you and Mrs. Reagan concerning this matter.
