Dear Mr. Deaver:

The Anti-Defamation League is celebrating its 70th Anniversary this year. To mark this milestone in the League's history, we will be holding our 70th Anniversary Dinner at the new convention center in Washington, DC on June 8, 1983.

Our earlier anniversary dinners celebrating each decade of the work of the League have always been gala events. On our 40th Anniversary President Eisenhower honored us with his presence and President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson did likewise on our 50th. This year's dinner promises to be an equally impressive occasion. Among the highlights of the evening will be the presentation of the 1983 Joseph Prize for Human Rights to the famed violinist, Isaac Stern, and to the renowned conductor, Zubin Mehta.

I hope that you and Mrs. Deaver will be able to join us as our guests that evening to help us commemorate this event. (A reply card is enclosed for your convenience.)

Cordially,

NATIONAL CENTER FOR LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH

302 Fifth Street N.E.

March 21, 1983

The Honorable Michael K. Deaver
Deputy Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Deaver:

On Thursday, June 9, 1983, the National Center for Legislative Research is sponsoring another in its series of Congressional Policy Institute briefings, "The Reagan Presidency: Policies for 1984," at the Four Seasons Hotel here in Washington, D.C.

The day-long "Congressional Policy Institute" Conference is being held for over 200 conservative writers, scholars, and business leaders. We are also inviting all Republican Congressmen, Senators, and their Legislative Assistants.

The entire Conference will be broadcast nationally by the C-Span Cable Network.

This program has been designed as a forum for the leaders within the Executive and Legislative Branches of government to discuss with conservative scholars and business leaders the major domestic and foreign policy questions that will be addressed during the 1984 Presidential elections.

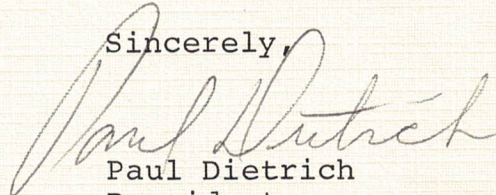

I would like to invite you to speak at our Conference at any time that is convenient for you. Your speech should be between twenty and thirty minutes in length, and we will allow a short period of time after your remarks for questions. I would like for you to address the subject of the Reagan administration policies over the next two years. I would also appreciate it if you would outline those specific proposals that you would like to see pro-administration candidates espouse during the 1984 elections. The National Center for Legislative Research is offering an honorarium of $1,000, or we would be happy to donate $1,000 to your favorite charity.

The National Center for Legislative Research is a tax-exempt public policy research institute. I am enclosing a copy of the agenda from our last conference held on January 19th.

I hope you will be able to join us on June 9, 1983.

I will call your office within the next few days.

Sincerely,
