MICHAEL DEAVER: PRESIDENTIAL SECRET SERVICE DETAIL
THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1983

My first question is, if you're all here, who's looking after the President.

You're all true professionals, but I also know there is a certain fraternity spirit among you. I mean, I'll never forget the time you stood outside Elizabeth Dole's window and yelled for her panties.

. . . and how surprised you were when you got boxer shorts.

You know in the 1930's there was a bank robber and murderer named Francis "Two Gun" Crowley, whose last words to the authorities before he died were, "You sons of bitches, give my love to Mother." Well, you fellows in many ways are that combination of toughness and heart. You have a tough job, but I also know you have a patriotic and dedicated spirit or else you wouldn't do what you do. If there's a bulge in your jacket, it's not a gun, but a heart.

Dear Chief Pryor:

Sometime ago I expressed a concern to SAIC Robert L. DeProspero, Presidential Protective Division, concerning the demeanor and unprofessional manner in which Uniform Division Officers conducted themselves on posts around the Oval Office.

Following my complaint, a select group of Officers was formed to man the posts in question. Since the formation of this group, I have received favorable comments concerning these officers. I have also observed myself that these Officers are performing their duties in a very professional and commendable manner.

Please convey to the Officers of this unit that I commend them for a job well done.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEEVER
Assistant to the President
Deputy Chief of Staff
