MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: George P. Shultz GPS
SUBJECT: Response to New Zealand Port Ban

We have been reviewing possible responses to the New Zealand port access ban. This consideration has taken place within the following parameters: New Zealand remains a friend but one that has changed the operational character of its military participation within the ANZUS alliance. Accordingly, we have indicated that, in response, we will have to reassess our cooperation with New Zealand under ANZUS. We have indicated that we are not seeking retribution, for example, by punishing New Zealand through imposition of economic sanctions.

The measures we propose are unlikely in and of themselves to move the GNZ to change its policy. They will, however, demonstrate that our security relationship with New Zealand has changed -- a message that will have political significance within New Zealand. Reduced security cooperation will also send a substantial signal to others in areas where maintenance of defense collaboration with the United States is deemed more essential than is the case in New Zealand.

Our strategy is to take measures that will create incentives and public sentiment in New Zealand for a change in the GNZ's position, while deterring the attractiveness of emulating the port ban in other, more critical areas.

- o Our principal objective is to demonstrate that New Zealand cannot enjoy the benefits of a good ally without complying with necessary responsibilities.
- o This would hopefully reinforce other allied governments, like Australia, that cooperate with us and face challenges from anti-nuclear elements.

- o At the same time, we want to leave the door open to allow a New Zealand return to the fold. We do not want to give way to petulance, thereby: (a) spoiling prospects for an eventual New Zealand policy reversal under either the current or a future government, (b) giving Lange ammunition to cast us as a "heavy", (c) upsetting our far more important relationship with Australia, and (d) encouraging a backlash against us and cooperating governments in third countries.

We have already taken the following actions:

- o Cancellation of ANZUS exercise Sea Eagle (planning is proceeding for a bilateral exercise with Australia).
- o Cancellation of four small ANZUS-related exercises or meetings beginning this week.
- o Restructuring without New Zealand participation of two multilateral exercises.
- o Cancellation of visit to New Zealand by Army Chief of Staff Wickham.
- o Cancellation of visit to CINCPAC by New Zealand Parliamentary Defense Committee.

o

[Redacted]

25X1

We now intend to move forward with the following additional actions:

1. Elimination of ANZUS-related military exercises during 1985 involving New Zealand, seeking where possible to substitute bilateral activities with Australia. Vacating of exchange slots held by New Zealand military personnel at the end of their tour (without terminating programs). Reduction in the level of U.S. military representation in regional activities in New Zealand. Restructuring, when feasible, of multilateral defense activities involving New Zealand. (See Tab 1 for specific recommended actions.)

[Redacted]

3. Postponement of this year's ANZUS Council and ANZUS Officials' meetings. We would hold a U.S.-Australia bilateral consultation in July, but only if the GOA agrees to cancel the ANZUS Council jointly with us.
4. Review our public declaratory posture on alliance commitments to New Zealand. We will probably want to indicate in some way that U.S. willingness to perform its treaty obligations to New Zealand is subject to some question given the GNZ's failure to fulfill its alliance responsibilities. The precise formulation must be studied carefully because of implications for other alliance relationships. We can be deliberate with regard to the timing of this potentially dramatic move.

The United States Military Relationship with New Zealand

The President has approved the following policy guidelines in adjusting the United States military relationship with the Government of New Zealand, in the wake of their refusal to allow access to their ports for the USS Buchanan. The Defense Department is directed:

- to cancel all bilateral military exercises scheduled with New Zealand for 1985, not schedule any new ones, and eliminate New Zealand participation from ANZUS exercises; (S)
- indefinitely postpone all scheduled visits by the New Zealand military officials to the U.S. and visits by U.S. military officials to New Zealand; (S)
- where New Zealand military personnel occupy billets on duty with U.S. forces, or U.S. military personnel are on duty with New Zealand forces, not to replace the personnel when their tours of duty are completed; (S)
- to defer Foreign Military Sales to New Zealand for the present. (S)

The United States Military Relationship with New Zealand

The President has approved the following policy guidelines in adjusting the United States military relationship with the Government of New Zealand, in the wake of their refusal to allow access to their ports for the USS Buchanan. The Defense Department is directed:

- to cancel all bilateral military exercises scheduled with New Zealand for 1985, not schedule any new ones, and eliminate New Zealand participation from ANZUS exercises; (S)
- indefinitely postpone all scheduled visits by the New Zealand military officials to the U.S. and visits by U.S. military officials to New Zealand; (S)
- where New Zealand military personnel occupy billets on duty with U.S. forces, or U.S. military personnel are on duty with New Zealand forces, not to replace the personnel when their tours of duty are completed; (S)
- to defer Foreign Military Sales to New Zealand for the present. (S)

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: George P. Shultz GPS
SUBJECT: Response to New Zealand Port Ban

We have been reviewing possible responses to the New Zealand port access ban. This consideration has taken place within the following parameters: New Zealand remains a friend but one that has changed the operational character of its military participation within the ANZUS alliance. Accordingly, we have indicated that, in response, we will have to reassess our cooperation with New Zealand under ANZUS. We have indicated that we are not seeking retribution, for example, by punishing New Zealand through imposition of economic sanctions.

The measures we propose are unlikely in and of themselves to move the GNZ to change its policy. They will, however, demonstrate that our security relationship with New Zealand has changed -- a message that will have political significance within New Zealand. Reduced security cooperation will also send a substantial signal to others in areas where maintenance of defense collaboration with the United States is deemed more essential than is the case in New Zealand.

Our policy is to take measures that will create incentives for public sentiment in New Zealand for a change in the GNZ's position, while decreasing the attractiveness of emulating the port ban in other, more critical areas.

- o Our principal objective is to demonstrate that New Zealand cannot enjoy the benefits of a good ally without complying with necessary responsibilities.
- o This would hopefully reinforce other allied governments, like Australia, that cooperate with us and face challenges from anti-nuclear elements.

~~- 2 -~~

- o At the same time, we want to leave the door open to allow a New Zealand return to the fold. We do not want to give way to petulance, thereby: (a) spoiling prospects for an eventual New Zealand policy reversal under either the current or a future government, (b) giving Lange ammunition to cast us as a "heavy", (c) upsetting our far more important relationship with Australia, and (d) encouraging a backlash against us and cooperating governments in third countries.

We have already taken the following actions:

- o Cancellation of ANZUS exercise Sea Eagle (planning is proceeding for a bilateral exercise with Australia).
- o Cancellation of four small ANZUS-related exercises or meetings beginning this week.
- o Restructuring without New Zealand participation of two multilateral exercises.
- o Cancellation of visit to New Zealand by Army Chief of Staff Wickham.
- o Cancellation of visit to CINCPAC by New Zealand Parliamentary Defense Committee.

- o 25X1

We now intend to move forward with the following additional actions:

1. Elimination of ANZUS-related military exercises during 1985 involving New Zealand, seeking where possible to substitute bilateral activities with Australia. Vacating of exchange slots held by New Zealand military personnel at the end of their tour (without terminating programs). Reduction in the level of U.S. military representation in regional activities in New Zealand. Restructuring, when feasible, of multilateral defense activities involving New Zealand. (See Tab 1 for specific recommended actions.) 25X1

~~SECRET~~

3. Postponement of this year's ANZUS Council and ANZUS Officials' meetings. We would hold a U.S.-Australia bilateral consultation in July, but only if the GOA agrees to cancel the ANZUS Council jointly with us.
4. Review our public declaratory posture on alliance commitments to New Zealand. We will probably want to indicate in some way that U.S. willingness to perform its treaty obligations to New Zealand is subject to some question given the GNZ's failure to fulfill its alliance responsibilities. The precise formulation must be studied carefully because of implications for other alliance relationships. We can be deliberate with regard to the timing of this potentially dramatic move.
