March 4, 1987

The Honorable Howard Baker
Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Howard:

The enclosed "secret" testimony from ambassadorial nominee Arnold Raphel is symptomatic of the problems that exist at the Department of State with respect to congressional relations.

Mr. Raphel's responses to Senatorial questions submitted to him as part of our constitutional responsibilities to give advice and consent to major personnel decisions exhibit a contempt of the Senate as an institution and are personally insulting to every Senator. Just as one example, when asked if he had any knowledge of the Iran arms deliveries, Mr. Raphel's response, written in the third person by some anonymous bureaucrat, states that Mr. Raphel had no direct knowledge of the deliveries. We did not ask him whether he had direct knowledge, we asked him if he had any knowledge.

Mr. Raphel has a legal obligation to provide the Senate with a full and complete response to all questions submitted to him by Senators. He may not like to answer Senatorial questions and the honest answer to a question may be embarrassing to him. From the answer he gave, it is clear that Mr. Raphel had knowledge of the Iran arms sales and that he brought this matter to the attention of his superiors. Apparently the knowledge of this matter was more widespread than has been admitted by the Department of State.

We have a right to full and honest answers to our questions to Mr. Raphel. We would appreciate if Mr. Raphel would be instructed to provide such answers without delay to the questions he has already received. In addition, we have sent to the Department some follow up questions which were prepared in reaction to Mr. Raphel's failure to be forthcoming in his original responses. Needless to say, the questions were addressed to Mr. Raphael as an individual who is under consideration for a post of high responsibility, and therefore the answers should be prepared in the first person by Mr. Raphael.

Sincerely,

~~Gordon Humphrey~~

Jesse Helms
