Dear Mr. Brewster:

Thank you for your letter with attached correspondence concerning the rights of the unborn.

That 1.8 million mothers abort their children each year while tens of thousands of childless families wait for children to adopt is one of the great tragedies of American life. One of my priorities as Assistant to the President for Policy Development is to seek ways to restructure federal policies to encourage and support adoption as an alternative for a pregnant young woman who may be uncertain about becoming a parent. The success that we achieve at the federal level depends largely on the momentum of public support that we can sustain for this Administration's policies. For this reason, your support for our efforts to strengthen American families is deeply appreciated.

Thank you again for sharing your concerns with me.

Sincerely,

Gary L. Bauer
Assistant to the President for Policy Development

Dear Mrs. Chase:

Thank you for expressing your support for the Administration's right-to-life bill. We have a long way to go before it becomes law, since both the House of Representatives and the Senate must approve. We are encouraged, however, that 57 Congressmen and 7 Senators have already co-sponsored our legislation.

As you know, the President is strongly in favor of stopping Federal funding of abortions and very much appreciates your support.

Attached is a copy of the letter from Secretary Bowen transmitting the bill to the Congress.

Sincerely,

Robert W. Sweet, Jr.
Deputy Executive Secretary
for the Domestic Policy Council

Dear Mrs. Joyner:

Thank you for your letter concerning the use of Title X funds and for Dr. Jo Ann Gaspar's memorandum to prevent those funds from going to abortion advocacy groups. Let me assure you that President Reagan has not softened his stand against abortion on demand.

Quite frankly, those who argued that present regulations do not permit the strict action recommended by Dr. Gaspar won the battle but not the war. The Administration has introduced legislation that reaffirms its commitment to protect the rights of the unborn. Our new proposal would prohibit the provision under Title X of the Public Health Service Act of Federal family planning funds to organizations that perform abortions. Whether or not we succeed in obtaining Congressional approval for this bill, which is a tremendous improvement over current law, depends, at least in part, on the momentum of public support that we can sustain on this issue.

I am enclosing for your information a copy of a letter from Secretary Bowen transmitting the proposal to Congress. If you have any questions or concerns about this bill, please let me know.

Thank you again for writing. I appreciate your concern and your perseverance on this issue.

Sincerely,

Gary L. Bauer

Dear Ms. Muller:

Thank you for your letter to President Reagan supporting his position on the rights of the unborn.

I am enclosing a copy of a letter from Secretary Bowen transmitting to Congress the Administration's proposed legislation that would prohibit the provision under Title X of the Public Health Service Act of Federal family planning funds to organizations that perform abortions. This legislation reaffirms the Administration's commitment to protect the rights of unborn children, and also is a tremendous improvement over current law.

Over the next two years, a large part of the President's agenda will relate to the rebuilding, protecting and strengthening the fabric of the family. The successes we achieve at the federal level depend largely on the momentum of public support that we can sustain for this Administration's policies. For this reason, we deeply appreciate the efforts of individuals like yourself who are working at the local level for pro-family causes.

Thank you again for your kind words of encouragement and support.

Thank you for your letter expressing concern for the rights of the unborn and urging less federal interference into state and local affairs. President Reagan and I share your concern.

Dear Mr. DeGan:

Thank you for your letter protesting the dismissal of Jo Ann Gasper from her position as Deputy Assistant Secretary at the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). I share your disappointment that she and Secretary Bowen failed to achieve a meeting of the minds. While we sought Congressional approval for the Administration's pro-life legislation, I and other White House officials tried to negotiate an agreement between Dr. Bowen and Mrs. Gasper. I regret that our mediations failed.

President Reagan remains committed to a pro-life agenda, and Secretary Bowen is supporting the Administration's legislative proposal to clarify and strengthen our position on the use of Title X funds. In addition, we are reviewing other non-legislative steps we can take. I am confident that the person replacing Mrs. Gasper at DHHS will adhere firmly to President Reagan's view that family, faith, and freedom are the cornerstones of American life.

Thank you again for sharing with me your concerns in this matter.

As you know, a large part of the President's agenda relates to rebuilding, protecting and strengthening the fabric of the family. The successes we achieve at the federal level depend largely on the momentum of public support that we can sustain for this Administration's policies. For this reason, we deeply appreciate the efforts of individuals like yourself who are working in local communities to preserve the cornerstones of American life: family, faith, and freedom.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

August 25, 1987

Dear Mr. Kremp:

Thank you for your letter supporting my comments against federal funds for abortion.

As you know, a large part of the President's agenda relates to rebuilding, protecting and strengthening the fabric of the family. The successes we achieve at the federal level depend largely on the momentum of public support that we can sustain for this Administration's policies. For this reason, we deeply appreciate the efforts of individuals like yourself who are working in local communities to preserve the cornerstones of American life: family, faith, and freedom.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

Gary L. Bauer
Assistant to the President for Policy Development
