MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: RICHARD V. ALLEN Rich

SUBJECT: Social Call on You and Mrs. Reagan by the King and Queen of Sweden
Sunday, November 22, 1981 - 2:00-2:15 p.m.

BACKGROUND

King Carl XVI Gustaf and Queen Sylvia of Sweden are on a one-week private visit to this country for the 75th anniversary of the Swedish-American Chamber of Commerce. Except for the excursion to Washington, they will have been in New York, visiting mostly business groups.

You have recently requested Franklin S. Forsberg to serve as your ambassador to Sweden, and the clearance procedures both here and in Sweden have been completed and we expect the official announcement today. Attached are biographies of the King and Queen.

TALKING POINTS

(The King is specifically prohibited from discussing politics. It would be inappropriate to raise the subjects of the Soviet submarine which ran aground in Sweden, or Sweden's defense cooperation with the United States.)

-- Cap Weinberger gave me a report on his visit to your country last month. He was impressed both by the beauty of the countryside and the clear commitment of your people to the defense of their freedom.

-- I have asked Franklin S. Forsberg to serve as my ambassador to Sweden, and we understand that the clearance procedures have been completed. I am sure he will serve well in your country.

-- With the large number of Swedish-Americans in this country, I am sure you have had a busy time during this visit.

SEQUENCE OF EVENTS
In Performance At The White House
Sunday, November 22, 1981

FROM: MUFFIE BRANDON

Muffie Brandon

4:30 p.m. Guests begin to arrive the Diplomatic Reception Room. Coats are checked.

Guests are escorted by Social Aides up Grand Staircase to be seated in the East Room to await the performance.

See attached list of guests who will be seated in special seats.

4:45 p.m. Social Aides escort Miss Beverly Sills, Mr. Rudolf Serkin, and Miss Ida Levin from their dressing rooms (see note below) up the elevator to the State Floor. They proceed to the Red Room.

4:50 p.m. The President and Mrs. Reagan proceed from the elevator to the State Floor and continue to the Red Room where they join the three performers.

4:55 p.m. Miss Beverly Sills, Mr. Rudolf Serkin, and Miss Ida Levin proceed from the Red Room into the Cross Hall. They are announced into the East Room.

4:58 p.m. The President and Mrs. Reagan proceed from the Red Room and are announced into the East Room, and the President escorts Mrs. Reagan directly to her microphone. The performance begins.

6:00 p.m. The performance terminates. The President and Mrs. Reagan may go up on the platform to thank the performers and have a quick photograph, then lead Miss Beverly Sills, Mr. Rudolf Serkin, and Miss Ida Levin to the Cross Hall to the doors in front of the Blue Room where there will be a White House photo opportunity.

The President and Mrs. Reagan then proceed to the elevator for their departure.

Miss Sills, Mr. Serkin, and Miss Ida Levin enter the Blue Room where there will be a reception for the other guests waiting in the East Room and those viewing the taping in the Family Theater. The reception will also take place in all Color Rooms and the State Dining Room.

6:30 p.m. Guests depart via the Grand Staircase.

NOTE

Before the performance, Mr. Serkin will utilize the Library as his dressing room. Beverly Sills and Ida Levin will utilize the ladies room and Vermeil Room as their dressing rooms. A Social Aide should be assigned to both areas to make sure that no guests enter unexpectedly.

Guests attending the performance will utilize the China Room and the Map Room as wash rooms.

There will be approximately 30 guests seated in the Family Theater who will come upstairs for the reception.

TAPED REMARKS: YOUNG AMERICAN ARTISTS AT THE WHITE HOUSE
NOVEMBER 22, 1981

I hope you have enjoyed the program as much as we have, here. This concert and those that will follow bring the accomplished talents of master performers together with artists of the new generation waiting to be recognized. Together they represent the best of mind and spirit that America has to offer. They add to our tradition of creativity in freedom.

The grand designs of soldiers and statesmen are often forgotten by history. More often than not a people are remembered for the quality of their ideas and the beauty of their art.

We, in this country, have a cultural record to be proud of. Through private and voluntary contributions the American people maintain more orchestras, more opera, more ballet, more nonprofit theater, more libraries and other cultural activities than all the rest of the world put together.

And as Nancy said earlier, art is no stranger to our national house. Many who lived here have filled it with civilizing beauty. John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who died on this day 18 years ago, certainly did so.

A month before his death, President Kennedy spoke of his vision for American culture. "I look forward to an America which will not be afraid of grace and beauty . . . which commands respect not only for its strength but for its civilization as well."

As the White House Young Artists series demonstrates, the arts in America are rich, diverse and growing -- a vital, creative expression of our free society. American artists like the ones we have seen tonight guarantee that we will, indeed, be remembered for our civilization as well as our strength.
