BRIEFING PAPER FOR THE PRESIDENT

MEETING WITH SECRETARY BLOCK
DATE: OCTOBER 12, 1982
TIME: 2:00 P.M. (20 MINUTES)
LOCATION: OVAL OFFICE
FROM: CRAIG L. FULLER CS

ABW
CS

I. PURPOSE

This meeting was requested by Secretary Block for the purpose of providing you with a brief update on conditions within the agriculture community. It is my understanding that you will use the opportunity to tell Jack Block of your decision concerning contract sanctity on grain purchases.

II. BACKGROUND

Secretary Block will brief you on the current conditions within the agriculture community. No decisions will be required. Jack Block will leave on Thursday for several days of speaking in the farm community and wants to be able to say he has briefed you.

There are several issues under discussion that are important to Jack Block. While he may raise them, he does not expect a decision today.

Export Expansion Program--the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1982 directs the administration to spend $175 million for a variety of market promotion activities. The conferees included language in their report suggesting that the money be spent on "interest rate buy downs, direct export sales or export subsidies in order that American farmers and exporters may compete in international trade on an equal basis." The Budget Review Board plans to discuss the specifics of this plan at a meeting with Secretary Block tomorrow.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: WILLIAM P. CLARK wpc

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Ambassador Geoffrey Swaebe,
October 12 at 1:30 p.m., Oval Office

Geoff Swaebe asked to see you. As our Ambassador to the US Mission to the UN in Geneva, Geoff has been effective in defending our interests in a number of specialized agencies -- such as the UN High Commission for Refugees, the International Telecommunications Union, World Health Organization and others.

One of our key efforts has been to defend against injecting political issues into these agencies, particularly recent efforts to challenge Israeli participation or membership. You may wish to note your appreciation for and the importance of these efforts.

BRIEFING PAPER FOR THE PRESIDENT

MEETING WITH SECRETARY JAMES WATT
DATE: OCTOBER 12, 1982
TIME: 3:55 P.M. (5 MINUTES)
LOCATION: OVAL OFFICE

FROM: CRAIG L. FULLER

I. PURPOSE/BACKGROUND

This meeting has been scheduled to allow Secretary Watt and trade association leaders to be present when you sign S. 1409--the Reclamation Bill.

The Reclamation Bill represents a major reform of the reclamation laws. It has been before the past three Congresses. All 17 Western states and about 25% of the irrigated farms in the country are affected by the legislation. No major reform has been enacted since the program began under President Theodore Roosevelt.

The bill is a major step forward for the small, family sized farm. Under this legislation a small farmer will have the flexibility to expand his operations, a change sought by small federally irrigated farmers for many years. The bill also reduces the subsidy currently provided to the larger farmer, forcing them to pay more of their fair share for their federal water service. Additional revenues could total $100 million over the next five years. This bill is a major achievement for the Administration and the Congress.

II. PARTICIPANTS

The President
~~The Vice President~~
Secretary James Watt
~~James Baker~~

ACK

Sale of Dairy Stocks--we continue to increase our surplus of dairy stocks. USDA is proposing that we take steps to export stocks of butter, cheese and milk. While such a sale would increase federal revenues, there are domestic and foreign policy consequences that are being reviewed. It is expected that the Cabinet Council on Food and Agriculture will review these matters with you in the near future.

Subsidizing U.S. Wheat Flour--the European Community (EC) gains access to foreign markets by offering subsidies on flour purchases. This practice has greatly reduced the U.S. market share. USDA is proposing to institute an export subsidy program for wheat flour to Egypt using $50 million. USDA believes that this could displace about 1.1 million tons of flour now sold by the Europeans. This proposal is also under review by the Cabinet Council on Food and Agriculture and will be presented to you in the near future for decision.

BILL SIGNING CEREMONY FOR H.R. 6976, THE MISSING
CHILDREN'S ACT AND S. 2420, THE OMNIBUS VICTIMS
PROTECTION ACT

DATE: Tuesday, October 12, 1982

LOCATION: Rose Garden

TIME: 1:00 p.m. (15 minutes)

FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein Ker D.

I. PURPOSE

To sign H.R. 6976, the Missing Children's Act and S. 2420, the Omnibus Victims Protection Act.

II. BACKGROUND

The Missing Children's Act requires the Attorney General to acquire and exchange information to assist Federal, state and local officials in the identification of certain deceased individuals and in the location of missing persons, specifically children.

Finding missing children and identifying the bodies of deceased individuals has become a national problem. The Missing Children's Act attempts to alleviate this problem by mandating a central computer file within the National Crime Information Center System designed to help trace missing children. The bill also directs the establishment and operation of the National Clearinghouse on the Unidentified Dead. Parents or next of kin will be allowed to check with the FBI to assure that their missing children have been entered on these files.

The Omnibus Victims Protection Act contains several provisions, the intent of which are to protect victims or witnesses of federal crimes. Most criminal activity is subject to state law and, therefore, this legislation is partially intended to be a model for state legislation.

The provisions of S. 2420 would require that a "victim impact statement" be made part of the report filed with the sentencing judge; make it a federal offense to intimidate or retaliate against victims or witnesses of federal crimes; require a federal judge to order restitution when passing sentence for crimes involving bodily injury or property loss, or state for the record why not; and other provisions.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: SIGNING OF MISSING CHILDREN ACT (HR 6976)
AND VICTIM AND WITNESS PROTECTION ACT (S 2420)
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1982

Today I am signing two bills that will provide peace of mind to many of our citizens.

This first bill will begin to address the tragedy of America's missing children. Every year in this country thousands of children disappear from their homes. The Missing Children Act will reassure parents that every effort is being made to find, or in more tragic circumstances, to identify their children.

Finding missing children has become a national problem. Because of overlapping jurisdictions and the lack of centralized information, parents of missing children have faced frustration and anger in their attempts to locate their children. Furthermore, State and local officials are often unable to identify bodies simply because of restrictions on missing person reports from other jurisdictions.

The Missing Children Act attempts to lessen these problems by mandating a system to allow parents access to a central computer file designed to help trace missing children. The Act also will aid in identifying deceased children and adults and at least ease the parents' pain of not knowing. I want to thank the Congress, and particularly Senator Paula Hawkins and Congressman Clay Shaw, for making it possible to sign this compassionate measure.

With me here today are some individuals who have committed their lives to the cause of missing children. John and Reve(Rev-ay) Walsh of Hollywood, Florida came to the cause of all exploited children because of their own family tragedy. Their courage, in the face of what surely must be the most difficult grief imaginable, has rallied thousands of others to these noble efforts.

Julie and Stan Patz(Pates) have lived with the devastating uncertainty of the fate of their six-year old son, Etan(Ayton) for three years. I salute the indomitable spirit that allows them to pursue positive action on behalf of missing children everywhere.

I am also pleased to sign this law in the presence of Sgt. Richard Ruffino(Ruff-eeeno), who is a recognized expert in missing persons with the Bergen County, New Jersey Sheriff's Office. Sgt. Ruffino has contributed countless hours of his own time in the effort to assist searching parents.

The second bill I will sign also deals with compassion, our compassion toward those Americans who are the victims or witnesses of crime. It is high time the legal system showed the honest citizen as much concern as it does the criminal. Today it is not the wrongdoer who falls through the cracks of our criminal justice system; too often, it is the innocent victim and the dutiful witness.

As the bill states, without the cooperation of victims and witnesses, the criminal justice system would cease to function; yet with very few exceptions these individuals are either ignored or simply used as tools to identify and punish offenders. All too often, the victim of a serious crime is forced to suffer physical, psychological or financial hardship while the criminal justice system remains unresponsive to the victim's real needs. And while the defendant is provided with counsel who can guide him through the criminal process, the victim or witness is usually not even told when the defendant is released on bail, the case is dismissed or the court date is changed. Neither is there adequate protection from law enforcement agencies when a victim or witness is threatened or intimidated as a result of cooperating with authorities. Common sense tells us something is not right here.

This legislation, the Victim and Witness Protection Act, seeks to return some balance to our criminal justice system without infringing upon the rights of the defendant. The provisions of this act would require that a "victim impact statement" be filed to aid the judge in sentencing the criminal. The act makes it a Federal offense to intimidate or retaliate against victims or witnesses of Federal crimes. It requires a Federal judge to order restitution when passing sentence for crimes involving bodily injury or property loss, or else to state for the record his reasons for not doing so. These measures will go a long way toward treating victims and witnesses with the fairness and respect they deserve. And again the Congress, and particularly Senators Heinz, Mathias and Specter, and Congressmen Fish, McClory and Rodino deserve a vote of thanks from the American people for getting this bill to my desk.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: WILLIAM P. CLARK wpc

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Ambassador Geoffrey Swaebe,
October 12 at 1:30 p.m., Oval Office

Geoff Swaebe asked to see you. As our Ambassador to the US Mission to the UN in Geneva, Geoff has been effective in defending our interests in a number of specialized agencies -- such as the UN High Commission for Refugees, the International Telecommunications Union, World Health Organization and others.

One of our key efforts has been to defend against injecting political issues into these agencies, particularly recent efforts to challenge Israeli participation or membership. You may wish to note your appreciation for and the importance of these efforts.

AMBASSADOR SWAEBE

THE INCREASING TENDENCY OF SOME TO INJECT POLITICAL ISSUES -- LIKE THE CHALLENGES TO ISRAELI PARTICIPATION -- INTO THE UN AGENCIES IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

YOUR EFFORTS IN ACTIVELY DEFENDING OUR INTERESTS IN THESE AGENCIES IS MUCH APPRECIATED.

BRIEFING PAPER FOR THE PRESIDENT

MEETING WITH SECRETARY JAMES WATT
DATE: OCTOBER 12, 1982
TIME: 3:55 P.M. (5 MINUTES)
LOCATION: OVAL OFFICE

FROM: CRAIG L. FULLER CF

I. PURPOSE/BACKGROUND

This meeting has been scheduled to allow Secretary Watt and trade association leaders to be present when you sign S. 1409--the Reclamation Bill.

The Reclamation Bill represents a major reform of the reclamation laws. It has been before the past three Congresses. All 17 Western states and about 25% of the irrigated farms in the country are affected by the legislation. No major reform has been enacted since the program began under President Theodore Roosevelt.

The bill is a major step forward for the small, family sized farm. Under this legislation a small farmer will have the flexibility to expand his operations, a change sought by small federally irrigated farmers for many years. The bill also reduces the subsidy currently provided to the larger farmer, forcing them to pay more of their fair share for their federal water service. Additional revenues could total $100 million over the next five years. This bill is a major achievement for the Administration and the Congress.

MEETING WITH SECRETARY BLOCK
DATE: OCTOBER 12, 1982
TIME: 2:00 P.M. (20 MINUTES)
LOCATION: OVAL OFFICE
FROM: CRAIG L. FULLER

I. PURPOSE

This meeting was requested by Secretary Block for the purpose of providing you with a brief update on conditions within the agriculture community. It is my understanding that you will use the opportunity to tell Jack Block of your decision concerning contract sanctity on grain purchases.

II. BACKGROUND

Secretary Block will brief you on the current conditions within the agriculture community. No decisions will be required. Jack Block will leave on Thursday for several days of speaking in the farm community and wants to be able to say he has briefed you.

There are several issues under discussion that are important to Jack Block. While he may raise them, he does not expect a decision today.

Export Expansion Program--the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1982 directs the administration to spend $175 million for a variety of market promotion activities. The conferees included language in their report suggesting that the money be spent on "interest rate buy downs, direct export sales or export subsidies in order that American farmers and exporters may compete in international trade on an equal basis." The Budget Review Board plans to discuss the specifics of this plan at a meeting with Secretary Block tomorrow.

Sale of Dairy Stocks--we continue to increase our surplus of dairy stocks. USDA is proposing that we take steps to export stocks of butter, cheese and milk. While such a sale would increase federal revenues, there are domestic and foreign policy consequences that are being reviewed. It is expected that the Cabinet Council on Food and Agriculture will review these matters with you in the near future.

Subsidizing U.S. Wheat Flour--the European Community (EC) gains access to foreign markets by offering subsidies on flour purchases. This practice has greatly reduced the U.S. market share. USDA is proposing to institute an export subsidy program for wheat flour to Egypt using $50 million. USDA believes that this could displace about 1.1 million tons of flour now sold by the Europeans. This proposal is also under review by the Cabinet Council on Food and Agriculture and will be presented to you in the near future for decision.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: ENTERTAINMENT FOR STATE DINNER
FOR PRESIDENT SOEHARTO
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1982

Thank you, Frederica, that was beautiful. You know those of us here tonight aren't the only ones taken with Frederica von Stade's talent. Let me tell you what the world is saying about this daughter of Sommerville, New Jersey. In Paris, they thought she had "the voice of an angel." In London, they found her "irresistible." Newsweek says, "She comes across like a rainbow." Time magazine calls her a "smashing success." You know, Frederica, if you practiced a bit more, I bet you could get some decent reviews.

One newspaper referred to you as "one of opera's jewels." That you are and you certainly dazzled us tonight. Thank you so very much.
