MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: WILLIAM P. CLARK *WPC*SUBJECT: Photo Opportunity at 10:30 a.m., Monday, February 7, 1983, with Roger W. Robinson, Jr.
and Father (Roger W. Robinson, Sr.)

The reason for this photo opportunity is that Roger Robinson, Jr., who joined my staff in April, 1982, shares your initials and birthday. Although a young man (32), Roger is a former Vice President for Chase Manhattan Bank and was an assistant to David Rockefeller. He is presently responsible for East-West economic affairs and international financial and monetary issues. Most recently he worked extensively on the visit of Prime Minister Nakasone and co-initiated the concept of a US-Japan Energy Working Group.

His father, Roger W. Robinson, Sr., was a special agent with the FBI for 36 years (retired December 1977). He primarily worked Soviet espionage, including the Rosenberg case, and was responsible for the arrest of Judith Coplon. Roger Sr. is also a distinguished pistol shot, winning the New York State Championship three times. He is presently senior New York State Champion. In early years at Duke University, Roger's father was fullback for the undefeated, untied, unscored upon 1938 Rosebowl team (The Iron Dukes) -- coached by Wallace Wade. Duke lost in the last seconds of that game to USC 7-3. Both Roger and his father are ardent admirers of yours.

I'll bring them up for a brief photo at the beginning of my brief on Monday.

-- I UNDERSTAND (ROGER JR.) SHARES MY INITIALS AND BIRTHDAY.

-- BOTH FATHER AND SON IN BUSINESS OF OUR NATION'S SECURITY -- ROGER SR., 36 YEARS IN FBI.

-- REMEMBER 1938, "IRON DUKES." REMARKABLE UNSCORED UPON SEASON. WISH ROSEBOWL OUTCOME HAD BEEN SAME AS FOR REDSKINS. CONGRATULATIONS (ROGER SR.) ON WINNING SENIOR NY STATE PISTOL CHAMPIONSHIP LAST YEAR.

MEETING WITH MEMBERS OF THE LOUISIANA

CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION AND CIVIC LEADERS

FROM MONROE, LOUISIANA

DATE: Monday, February 7, 1983
LOCATION: The Oval Office
TIME: 11:30 a.m. (10 minutes)
FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein K. D.

I. PURPOSE

A photo opportunity with a group of civic leaders from Monroe, Louisiana. They will present the President with a scrapbook signed by thousands of Louisiana citizens thanking the President for his help during the recent floods.

II. BACKGROUND

The President toured the flooded area around Monroe, Louisiana. Sunday, February 6 is "Super Sunday" in Louisiana in honor of the tremendous volunteer effort during the recent floods. Citizens in Monroe have also formed a "Smile America" program which has been responsible for flying goods to California areas impacted by recent storms.

This will be an opportunity for the people of Louisiana to thank the President for his concern and help. It will also allow the President to praise an outstanding volunteer effort.

III. PARTICIPANTS

See Attachment.

IV. PRESS PLAN

White House Photographer only.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

President to greet participants, to be followed by photo.

MEETING WITH FRESHMAN REPUBLICAN

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DATE: Monday, February 7, 1983
LOCATION: State Dining Room
TIME: 9:30 a.m. (30 minutes)
FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein K.D.

I. PURPOSE

To discuss the 1983 legislative agenda and the FY '84 budget proposal and solicit the support of these Congressmen.

II. BACKGROUND

At the beginning of the 97th Congress, the President had a similar breakfast meeting with the incoming Republican House freshman Members. Because of the close working relationship and team spirit which was initiated with that meeting, the Republican Freshman Class in the House was one of the strongest and most consistent voting blocks in support of Administration backed legislative initiatives during the 97th Congress.

The Republican Freshman Class of the 98th Congress consists of twenty-three (23) newly elected Members. Unlike their predecessors, these freshmen were not elected on the President's coattails and will be more inclined to demonstrate their independence. This will be true even though the need for solid Republican support has increased dramatically with the net loss of twenty-six (26) Republican seats because of the 1982 elections.

This breakfast meeting will begin the process of building the 98th Republican Freshman Class into a solid voting block of support for the President's economic program and other Administration legislative initiatives. The freshman Members have been given detailed budget briefings by Administration officials during the last several weeks. This breakfast will give the President an opportunity to personally discuss his program and the budgetary realities facing Congress and the Administration.

The entire Freshman Class, Republicans and Democrats alike, have been to the White House with their spouses for dinner on January 6, 1983.

III. PARTICIPANTS

See Attachment.

IV. PRESS PLAN

Photo opportunity and White House photographer. Congressman Robert Michel (R-IL) and Congressman John McCain (R-AZ) to brief in the Press Room afterward.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

MEETING WITH FRESHMAN REPUBLICAN

MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DATE: Monday, February 7, 1983
LOCATION: State Dining Room
TIME: 9:30 a.m. (30 minutes)
FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein K.M.D.

I. PURPOSE

To discuss the 1983 legislative agenda and the FY '84 budget proposal and solicit the support of these Congressmen.

II. BACKGROUND

At the beginning of the 97th Congress, the President had a similar breakfast meeting with the incoming Republican House freshman Members. Because of the close working relationship and team spirit which was initiated with that meeting, the Republican Freshman Class in the House was one of the strongest and most consistent voting blocks in support of Administration backed legislative initiatives during the 97th Congress.

The Republican Freshman Class of the 98th Congress consists of twenty-three (23) newly elected Members. Unlike their predecessors, these freshmen were not elected on the President's coattails and will be more inclined to demonstrate their independence. This will be true even though the need for solid Republican support has increased dramatically with the net loss of twenty-six (26) Republican seats because of the 1982 elections.

This breakfast meeting will begin the process of building the 98th Republican Freshman Class into a solid voting block of support for the President's economic program and other Administration legislative initiatives. The freshman Members have been given detailed budget briefings by Administration officials during the last several weeks. This breakfast will give the President an opportunity to personally discuss his program and the budgetary realities facing Congress and the Administration.

The entire Freshman Class, Republicans and Democrats alike, have been to the White House with their spouses for dinner on January 6, 1983.

III. PARTICIPANTS

SUGGESTED TALKING POINTS

- As a member of the Sophomore class (serving during my second Congress) let me say good morning and welcome you freshmen to the White House. I'm sorry if we made you give up your sleeping time, but I hope we've made up for it with a hearty breakfast.
- We're very pleased to have all of you here again---of course, it was a much prettier audience last time when many of you brought your wives to dinner.
- Let me take this opportunity to tell you how much we're counting on working closely with you in the 98th Congress. I know you'll be strong defenders of our Republican banner for opportunity, growth, jobs, family values and a strong America.
- If I may, I'd like to cover a few topics and then I'll be delighted to hear from you.
- Each of you will play an important role in Congressional action on the budget. We know, and the American people know, that in these difficult economic times, effective leadership is critical.
- We know that we have been through difficult economic times
  - but signs of recovery are growing stronger every day. Even the last of the leading indicators -- unemployment -- has finally turned our way. My budget proposal is geared to increasing economic growth and reducing deficits. As a matter of fact my

-- We weren't elected to follow the old policies that led us into a recession. The American people expect more from us than the same old quick fixes that got us into the mess in the first place.

-- All indications are that we are making progress. We have laid the groundwork for sustained economic growth -- and working together we can keep this country moving in the right direction.

-- One of the principal reasons we have been successful is the teamwork of the Republicans in the House. I would like for the leader of our Republican team in the House to say a few words. Bob Michel.

(McCain makes remarks.)

(President makes remarks following Burton's comments and introduces Dave Stockman).

-- John and Dan, I certainly appreciate your kind remarks. Bob Michel and I are lucky to have all of you as members of our team.

-- I would like to have Dave Stockman say a few words regarding the budget and then if you have any questions we'll be happy to hear from you.

(Following Q&A the President concludes the meeting.)

-- Thank you all for coming this morning. We have a lot of work to do this year and I look forward to working with you.
