PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TEAM AMERICA
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1983

Well, believe me this is a great day for our country. We're delighted to welcome you here to the White House. Now I know the Rose Garden is a little confining. So if you feel like you're getting stiff, we can turn you loose to run some laps out on the South Lawn.

Soccer has enjoyed a fantastic rise in popularity in the United States. And, of course, outside our borders it has always been the world's most popular sport. So we couldn't be more thrilled, and proud, that sportsmen of your caliber will be representing the United States in world competition. In the meantime, we can look forward to watching you play right here in Washington in the North American Soccer League.

Your venture will be filled with risks. You don't have any guarantees of Government support. But taking risks is what America has always been about.

And I know that two weekends ago, you rose to the occasion in your first game, defeating Seattle.

So on behalf of millions of fans across the Nation, let me just say our hearts are with you and we hope you'll kick your way to glory.

I. PURPOSE

To accommodate the request of Congressman Carroll Campbell (R-SC) and Senator Strom Thurmond (R-SC) that the President meet Patricia Just Long, who has been named Handicapped American of the Year.

II. BACKGROUND

Patricia Just Long, a producer-announcer with the South Carolina Educational Radio Network in Columbia, is in Washington to receive the President's Trophy at the annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Paralyzed since contracting polio at the age of four, Mrs. Long is receiving the award, both for her drive, determination, and enterprise in overcoming her disability, and for her leadership in the equal rights movement of disabled people.

Mrs. Long became interested in broadcasting, while working on her Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration at Francis Marion College in Florence, South Carolina. She was an on-air announcer for a weekly college radio show and also an emcee for a Bob Hope talent show.

Mr. Harold Russell is Chairman of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped and will be in attendance at the meeting. In 1947, while the President was the head of the Screen Actors Guild, Mr. Russell won two Oscars for his performance in the film, "The Best Years of Our Lives". A documentary portrait about his life is now being produced.

Congressman Carroll Campbell (R-SC) is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee. He has been a very active supporter of the President and his legislative initiatives. Senator Strom Thurmond (R-SC) is Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. He has used his position as Chairman to move legislation of importance to the President.

PRESIDENTIAL DINNER WITH MEMBERS OF THE CORE GROUP

DATE: Wednesday, May 4, 1983

LOCATION: The Residence

TIME: 7:30 p.m.

FROM: Kenneth M. Duberstein Ker D.
Ed Rollins ER

I. PURPOSE

To give these early and strong supporters of the President an opportunity to offer him their collective assessment of the Administration's progress since 1981 and to offer their ideas and counsel.

II. BACKGROUND

The Core Group is composed of current and former House Members who endorsed the President's candidacy and aggressively campaigned for the party nomination and ultimate election of the President. During much of the 97th Congress the Members thought of themselves as an advisory and special advocacy group for the President.

Some members of the Core Group were defeated in the last election and those remaining have been less cohesive. With the 98th Congress now well underway, this dinner meeting is very timely and will serve to restore the group's vitality.

A cohesive and activist Core Group will serve the President well as he continues to pursue his legislative initiatives during this Congress.

TALKING POINTS

This session should primarily be devoted to a discussion between the President and members of the core group. The President may want to make the following points:

--The President should thank these Members of Congress for their past support and encouragement.

--The President could emphasize the importance of a strong top-to-bottom of the ticket effort, emphasizing maintaining control of the Senate and rebuilding our working coalition in the House.

--The President can say that should he choose to seek re-election, he will want to rely heavily upon these Members of Congress for advice and assistance.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

CORE GROUP DINNER

Congressman Trent Lott (R-MS) Trent Lott is the Republican Whip of the House of Representatives. He came out early in support of the President in 1979 and served as the Campaign Chairman in Mississippi. Congressman Jack Kemp (R-NY) Jack Kemp is the House Republican Conference Chairman. Jack also serves on the Appropriations Committee and the Budget Committee.

Congressman Dick Schulze (R-PA) Dick Schulze serves on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee. His district, which is staunchly Republican, includes several of the more prosperous suburbs of Philadelphia. As a member of the Ways and Means Committee, he works for strict enforcement of antidumping legislation and supports trade barriers of one kind or another, particularly against imports of Japanese steel.

Congressman Bob Badham (R-CA) Bob Badham serves on the House Armed Services and House Administration Committees. Carroll Campbell announced support early in 1979 and served as Campaign Chairman in South Carolina for that crucial primary and was the only major elected official in the state supporting Ronald Reagan. Carroll Campbell serves on the House Ways and Means Committee. First elected in 1978, Mr. Campbell is representative of the conservative, newly affluent urban voters of many Southern states. His help and support will be essential to retain the third year of the tax cut and indexing.
