PSALM 121

September 1, 1983

I lift up my eyes to the hills, from where is my help to come?
My help comes from the Lord, the maker of heaven and earth.
He will not let your foot be moved and he who watches over you will not fall asleep. Behold, he who keeps watch over Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep; The Lord himself watches over you; the Lord is your shade at your right hand, so that the sun shall not strike you by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve you from all evil; it is he who shall keep you safe. The Lord shall watch over your going out and your coming in, from this time forth for evermore.

PSALM 90
verses 1-8 and 13-16 sung by the choir
Tone I A 2

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
HE MAKETH ME TO LIE DOWN IN GREEN PASTURES:
HE LEADETH ME BESIDE THE STILL WATERS.

Lord, thou hast been our refuge, from one generation to another. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever the earth and the world were made, thou art God from everlasting, and world without end. Thou turnest man to destruction; again thou sayest, Come again, ye children of men. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. As soon as thou scatterest them they are even as a sleep; and fade away suddenly like the grass. In the morning it is green, and groweth up; but in the evening it is cut down, dried up, and withered. For we consume away in thy displeasure, and are afraid at thy wrathful indignation. Thou hast set our misdeeds before thee; and our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his Name's sake.
YEA, THOUGH I WALK THROUGH THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH, I WILL FEAR NO EVIL; FOR THOU ART WITH ME:
THY ROD AND THY STAFF, THEY COMFORT ME.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
SURELY GOODNESS AND MERCY SHALL FOLLOW ME ALL THE DAYS OF MY LIFE, AND I WILL DWELL IN THE HOUSE OF THE LORD FOR EVER.

GLORY BE TO THE FATHER, AND TO THE SON, AND TO THE HOLY GHOST; AS IT WAS IN THE BEGINNING, IS NOW, AND EVER SHALL BE, WORLD WITHOUT END. AMEN.

Turn thee again, O Lord, at the last, and be gracious unto thy servants. O satisfy us with thy mercy, and that soon: so shall we rejoice and be glad all the days of our life. Comfort us again now after the time that thou hast plagued us; and for the years wherein we have suffered adversity. Show thy servants thy work, and their children thy glory.

HYMN all stand and sing

"Ein' feste Burg"

A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never falling;
 Our helper he amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing;
 For still our ancient foe doth seek to work us woe;
 His craft and power are great, and, armed with cruel hate,
 On earth is not his equal.

Did we in our own strength confide, our striving would be losing;
 Were not the right man on our side, the man of God's own choosing;
 Dost ask who that may be? Christ Jesus, it is he;
 Lord Sabaoth his Name, from age to age the same,
 And he must win the battle.

That word above all earthly powers, no thanks to them, abideth;
 The Spirit and the gifts are ours through him who with us sideth;
 Let goods and kindred go, this mortal life also;
 The body they may kill; God's truth abideth still,
 His kingdom is for ever.

RECESSIONAL HYMN

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come,
 Our shelter from the stormy blast, and our eternal home.

Under the shadow of thy throne thy saints have dwelt secure;
 Sufficient is thine arm alone, and our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood, or earth received her frame,
 From everlasting thou art God, to endless years the same.

A thousand ages in thy sight are like an evening gone;
 Short as the watch that ends the night before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream, bears all its sons away;
 They fly, forgotten, as a dream dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come,
 Be thou our guide while life shall last, and our eternal home. Amen.
Isaac Watts, 1719; based on Psalm 90

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TELECONFERENCE TO REPUBLICAN
REGIONAL CONFERENCE
SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1983

Well good morning and my greetings to you all out there in beautiful Scottsdale. I'm delighted to speak with you about our challenge for '84; and how I know we can and will work together for victory.

I just wish I could see your faces beyond this little red light because maybe you've been getting the same feeling I have in recent weeks. I believe things are looking up for our economy, for our Grand Old Party, and for America.

We've been through some mighty rough waters during these first 2½ years -- no doubt about that. But confidence is making a comeback. America is getting stronger. We're on a new road, a far better road, and we're not going back to the mess from before.

And let's make sure the American people remember there was, indeed, a mess dumped in our laps. When we arrived in Washington, we felt a little like Noah must have the morning he left the ark to begin over again. And we've been fighting an uphill battle ever since to reduce Washington's hammerlock on our economy and our people. But we're making progress.

You know, I asked two questions during the last campaign and you'll probably be hearing them thrown back at you in the months ahead: Are you better off today than you were before? Do you feel America is more secure today than it was?

Well, I welcome those questions and I hope you do, too, because I think it's time we held our heads high and made our case to the people: Yes, we are better off than before, and America is more secure today than in 1980. We've got a recovery train going. And rather than whine and carp and complain, maybe the misery merchants could get on board and help us keep America moving forward.

Why are we better off? Because 2.4 percent inflation over the last 12 months is one heck of a lot better than the 12.4 percent we inherited; because an 11 percent prime interest rate is a big improvement over a 21½ percent prime rate; and because permitting the middle-income family to keep $700 more of the money it earns is better than the big, built-in tax increases condoned by the last Administration.

Do you remember what the experts warned? They warned that, if our plan passed, double-digit inflation was here to stay for the rest of the decade. They told us interest rates were sure to rise to 25 or 30 percent; and they said by decontrolling oil we would send the price of gas at the pump soaring.

The truth is, America's future is looking better every day. For the first time in many, many years, America has the opportunity for a lasting, noninflationary economic expansion -- and that's a lot better prospect than we faced in 1980.

Let's tell the truth about our critics. They sob enough about deficits to fill an ocean -- but it's an ocean of crocodile tears. What they really want is a blank check for higher taxes, more spending and greater control over the people's lives. They say they plan to talk about fairness? Fine, let them. Because those who saddled us with the legacy of runaway spending, double-digit inflation, record interest rates, huge tax increases, excessive regulation, credit controls, farm embargoes and a no-growth philosophy are the last people who should be giving sermonettes about fairness and compassion.

Families living on a fixed income of $10,000 at the start of 1979 saw the worth of that income drop to less than $8,000 by the end of 1980. In other words, inflation, which for years had been part of deliberate Government planning, robbed them of $2,000. That's not my idea of fairness. Perhaps the worst poverty is the poverty of their arguments.

Thanks to the progress of our economic recovery program, real wages for the American worker have increased for the first time in 3 years. But you know, there's an easier way you can tell our critics are wrong and our plan is working: They don't call it Reaganomics anymore.

We're making America safer for your families by rebuilding a military force that will bring peace through strength. Here, too, we have something important to remind the people: Our military forces had been dangerously neglected before we came in. In 1980, we had planes that couldn't fly, ships that couldn't sail, and troops that couldn't wait to get into civilian clothes. Our major weapons' programs were being eliminated or delayed, and America was falling behind. But in Washington, the leadership lectured us on our inordinate fear of communism.

Well the savage Soviet attack against the unarmed Korean airliner should remind us all: We live in a dangerous world -- a world with people who have contempt for our ideals, who wantonly disregard individual rights and the value of human life. Let's make one thing plain: It is my duty, as President, and all of our duties as citizens to keep this Nation's defenses second to none, so America can remain strong, free and at peace.

We are also pursuing arms control. And for the first time in history, the Soviets are negotiating reductions of nuclear weapons, not just limits on their growth. We've undertaken the most sweeping proposals for mutual and verifiable arms reductions since nuclear weapons became a threat.

In our search for peace, we have more major negotiations underway with the Soviets than any administration in history. In strategic nuclear forces and in measures to build confidence and trust, in intermediate-range nuclear forces, and in conventional forces, we want to lessen the danger to ourselves and our children. We remain flexible in our bargaining, but, as Commander-in-Chief, I have an obligation to protect this country, and I will not let political expediency influence these crucial negotiations.

I'll be the first to acknowledge that we still have a long way to go. Unemployment is still much too high. But that too is headed in the right direction. Since last December, more than 2 million Americans have found work. So as I said, I think we can hold our heads high. You're the people who can spread that message, because no one has worked harder and given more from the heart for the cause that unites us, than you.

Our greatest challenge is to maintain control of the Senate. If we can do that, we can check the big spenders, keep America strong and keep her moving forward on a road that's bold and filled with opportunity. Let us remain united and true to the Republican vision of progress -- a vision that begins with the people and their families, churches, synagogues, schools and neighborhoods. We don't ask them to trust us. We say trust yourselves, trust the values that made us a good and loving people.

You're the key; so I just want to thank you, with all my heart, for all your support. And I urge you as strongly as I can: Keep doing what you do best so we can preserve freedom, prosperity and hope in America.

Thank you so much and God bless you all.

Now I believe I'm supposed to field some questions, so please fire away.
