PRESENTATION OF PRESIDENTIAL AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE
IN SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1983
EAST ROOM
10:00 a.m.

FROM: JAY KEYWORTH

I. PURPOSE

Official ceremony to present Presidential certificates to outstanding junior and senior high school science and math teachers (two from each state).

II. BACKGROUND

These new awards are an Administration initiative in science and math education. By reaching out directly to honor outstanding teachers, the President emphasizes his high priority for excellence in teaching and provides leadership for states and communities to devise broader teacher recognition programs, both honorary and monetary.

Science and math teachers' organizations and scientific societies participated in the selection process, which was overseen by the National Science Foundation. Each teacher's school will also receive a $5000 federal grant for its instructional program. Awardees were originally announced by the White House on September 13, 1983.

III. PARTICIPANTS

103 teachers and spouses, representatives of the screening organizations, officials of the National Science Foundation and Department of Education. Jay Keyworth, Ted Bell, and NSF Director Ed Knapp.

IV. PRESS PLAN

Open coverage.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

President's participation is 15 minutes. Remarks by President. Certificates to be presented to teachers by Keyworth, Bell, and Knapp after President departs.

PRESIDENTIAL AWARDS IN SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING

The President today announced the selection of 104 secondary school teachers to receive the first Presidential Awards for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching. The awards will be formally presented by the President at the White House on Wednesday, October 19.

The awards program was first announced by the President's Science Advisor last January as a way to provide national recognition to outstanding teachers of science and mathematics in the country's secondary schools. The awards carry with them $5000 grants to each of the teachers' schools for use in science or mathematics instructional programs.

PRESIDENTIAL AWARDS FOR EXCELLENCE IN SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS TEACHING

FACT SHEET

- ° Each state, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico are represented by two teachers.
- ° Use of the $5000 in funds provided to each school, through a grant from the National Science Foundation, will be under the direction of the awardee teachers.
- ° The search for candidates was conducted by the National Science Foundation in coordination with the Department of Education through a consortium of scientific and professional societies and science and mathematics teachers organizations. Included were the American Association of Physics Teachers, the American Chemical Society, the National Association of Biology Teachers, the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, and the National Science Teachers Association.
- ° Nominations of teachers for the awards were initially made at the state level.
- ° The search was conducted in conjunction with the chief school officers of the states and other jurisdictions concerned.
- ° The American Association for the Advancement of Science and the National Academy of Sciences also participated in the program.
- ° Final selection was recommended by a panel of scientists, mathematicians, and teachers.
- ° The program is a continuing one with awards to be made each year.

MEETING WITH U.S. SAVINGS BONDS VOLUNTEER COMMITTEE

DATE: October 19, 1983
LOCATION: Cabinet Room
TIME: 10:55 A.M. (5 minutes)
FROM: Craig L. Fuller

I. PURPOSE

To recognize top business leaders who serve on the U.S. Savings Bonds Volunteer Committee for their service to the Nation.

II. BACKGROUND

The U.S. Savings Bonds Volunteer Committee is a National Committee of Business and Industry Leaders appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to lead the Annual U.S. Savings Bonds Campaign. The Committee, first established in 1963, is headed by a National Chairman who serves for one year and members who serve two years.

The Committee will hold their annual meeting on October 19, 1983. Secretary Regan will preside at the meeting to honor the 1983 National Chairman James D. Robinson, Chairman and CEO of the American Express Company, and his committee for their exceptional volunteer service on behalf of the Savings Bonds Program. At the same time, the 1984 National Chairman, Roger B. Smith, Chairman and CEO of General Motors, and his committee will be launched on next year's campaign. The CEOs who serve on the 1983 committee are giving tremendous volunteer support to the National Savings Bonds Campaign. They have promoted the variable rate bond to such an extent that sales of Savings Bonds are up 32% since November 1, 1982, and May sales are up 73% over the same period last year.

III. PARTICIPANTS

VISIT TO THE AIR AND SPACE MUSEUM

DATE: October 19, 1983
LOCATION: Air and Space Museum
TIME: 12:15 pm (90 minutes)
FROM: Craig L. Fuller

I. PURPOSE

To celebrate NASA's 25th Anniversary.

II. BACKGROUND

In the 25 years since the National Aeronautical and Space Administration (NASA) was created by an Act of Congress, the world has witnessed an unsurpassed record of scientific and technical achievement. The United States is the world leader in aerospace research and development. We have landed Americans on the moon; lived and worked in space aboard Skylab, proving that space is not a hostile environment; landed equipment and sent spacecraft to explore our neighboring planets; and, even sent space probes beyond our solar system to announce our presence in the universe. Our current Space Shuttle is the most advanced space launch vehicle in the world. Recognizing these enormous achievements, you proclaimed October 1, 1983, as the "Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of NASA."

NASA has played the key role in maintaining America's leadership in aeronautics. Aviation equipment is America's second largest export (agriculture is first). NASA represents an important influence on young Americans, also, motivating them to choose careers in science and engineering. These young people are vital to America's future in maintaining our technological leadership.

Your visit to the Air and Space Museum is most appropriate. Since its opening on July 1, 1976, 67 million people have visited the museum, 30% of them foreign visitors. It is the world's most popular museum. In viewing the film "Hail Columbia" and speaking to NASA employees, you will be able to celebrate NASA's 25th Anniversary and to honor our modern-day heroes, America's astronauts.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Senior NASA officials
STS Crews 7 and 8
Women astronauts Anna Fisher and Rhea Seddon; and a
Japanese-American, Ellison Onizuka
Appropriate Senators and Congressmen
Corporate leaders who do business with NASA
High School Students selected to have their science experiments carried on a future space shuttle mission

IV. PRESS PLAN:

Open press

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS:

- You will be greeted by Jim Beggs, NASA Administrator, Dillon Ripley, Secretary of the Smithsonian, and Walter Boyne, Director of the Air and Space Museum.
- You will then meet astronauts for individual photos and proceed to the theater to view "Hail Columbia."
- Jim Beggs will welcome you and you will respond briefly.

Suggested talking points:

- o I am pleased to be here with some of the most dedicated of NASA's staff. You have worked long, hard hours to manage our space program and I want to say "thank you."
 - o I see a few Senators and Congressman who also deserve our thanks for supporting the space program.
 - o And from industry - - contractors who help to build the product and the customers who use it. Thank you very much.
 - o Now, let's get on with the film - visual evidence of what the people in this room have done. Thank you.
- At the conclusion of the film you will proceed to the speech site accompanied by Administrator Beggs.
 - The Administrator will make brief remarks.
 - You will make remarks and cut the ceremonial cake.

TAPED 30-SECOND RADIO ACTUALITY FOR GOVERNOR DAVID TREEN OF LOUISIANA

DATE: October 19, 1983
LOCATION: Oval Office Study
TIME: 11:00 am
FROM: Margaret Tutwiler

RR

I. PURPOSE

To assist Governor David Treen of Louisiana in his re-election effort.

II. BACKGROUND

Governor David Treen is currently running for re-election against former Governor Edward Edwards in Louisiana. There will be a non-partisan primary on October 22nd with a general election between the top two candidates on November 15th should no candidate receive 50.1% of the vote.

Governor Treen, a former U.S. Congressman (1973-1980), is the only Republican governor seeking re-election this year.

The Governor plans to begin running this Reagan endorsement on Friday, October 21st. The Governor's office has suggested that a strong defense posture could be favorable to his candidacy.

III. PARTICIPANTS

None, other than the President and the taping crew.

IV. PRESS PLAN

Not applicable.

V. TALKING POINTS

White House speechwriters have prepared the attached talking points.

PRESIDENTIAL TAPING: RADIO ACTUALITY FOR GOVERNOR TREEN
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1983

I've known Dave Treen quite a few years, as a Congressman and now as your Governor. In Congress, as a Member of the Armed Services Committee, Dave Treen recognized that the only road to peace is to keep America strong. As Louisiana's Governor he has continued to be a vigorous and dependable proponent of a first class defense establishment.

I would never tell you how to vote in Louisiana, but I will tell you that Governor Dave Treen is highly respected in the Congress and in the Executive Branch of the federal government -- for his wisdom, his reliability, and his integrity. When he comes to Washington on behalf of Louisiana, we listen.

I hope you'll keep Dave Treen as your Governor.
