Attachment

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT H. MICHEL (R-ILLINOIS)

Bob Michel represents the Eighteenth District of Illinois (central part of state including Peoria) and is serving his fourteenth term in the Congress. He is currently in his second term as the House Republican Leader, and he chairs the House Committee on Committees (the panel which determines Republican committee assignments in the House).

Bob has been an unfailing leader in behalf of the President's legislative agenda. In so doing, he has brought to his position a measure of diplomacy and sensitivity that in many instances has set the stage for bipartisan cooperation in the House on critical issues. In 1982, Bob survived one of the closest Congressional campaigns of his career. However, it is felt that he is in a strong position going into the 1984 campaign.

CONGRESSMAN BILL LOWERY (R-CALIFORNIA)

Congressman Bill Lowery is a sophomore Member from the San Diego area of California. He serves on the Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs and Science and Technology Committees. Bill was active in city government before being elected to Congress. He has a consistent record of support for the President's policies.

CONGRESSWOMAN OLYMPIA SNOWE (R-MAINE)

Congresswoman Snowe serves on the Foreign Affairs Committee, Joint Economic Committee, and the Select Committee on Aging. Mrs. Snowe is serving her third term in the House of Representatives. She has been an active leader of the GOP women in the House. Olympia will also play an important role in the House Foreign Affairs Committee with respect to the President's Lebanon policy.

CONGRESSMAN GERALD B. SOLOMON (R-NEW YORK)

Congressman Jerry Solomon is serving his third term in the House of Representatives. He is a former Marine and serves on the Foreign Affairs and Veterans Affairs Committees. Jerry has been very supportive of the President's Lebanon policy and has traveled to Beirut twice to visit the Marines.

CONGRESSMAN MIKE OXLEY (R-OHIO)

Congressman Oxley is serving his second term in the House of Representatives. He serves on the Energy and Commerce Committee and the Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control. Mr. Oxley is an attorney and former FBI agent. He has been a strong supporter of the President's economic policies.

CONGRESSMAN JAMES T. BROYHILL (R-NORTH CAROLINA)

Jim Broyhill represents the Tenth District of North Carolina (located in the western part of the State), which includes Lenoir. Formerly associated with the Broyhill Furniture Factories, he is serving his eleventh term in Congress.

Jim is the Ranking Minority Member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, and is widely respected for his ability to forge coalitions and count votes on the House Floor.

Congressman Broyhill represents a large part of the furniture and textile industries, and is concerned with the problems these industries face.

CONGRESSMAN HENRY J. HYDE (R-ILLINOIS)

Henry Hyde represents the Sixth District of Illinois (located in the northeastern corner of the State) which includes Bensenville. An attorney and former member of the Illinois General Assembly, he is serving his fifth term in Congress.

WASHINGTON

BREAKFAST MEETING WITH REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DATE: Friday, January 27, 1984
LOCATION: The State Dining Room
TIME: 9:00 a.m. (60 minutes)
FROM: M. B. Oglesby, Jr. BO

I. PURPOSE

To thank the Members for their past support of Administration backed legislative initiatives, to discuss and solicit support for the 1984 legislative agenda, and to reiterate the President's commitment to increasing GOP membership in the House.

II. BACKGROUND

During the first years of the Administration, the President hosted breakfast meetings at the White House for various groups of Members. These breakfast meetings were successful in developing cohesiveness and a team spirit between GOP Members of Congress and the White House. The solid support of House Republicans was essential to the implementation of the President's legislative initiatives.

To achieve a successful legislative program in 1984 it will become increasingly important for the Administration and the House GOP to be united. Those opposed to our program will grasp every opportunity to score points and embarrass the President by orchestrating the legislative agenda. A coordinated team effort with these Members will help avoid many potential pitfalls.

This breakfast meeting will provide the President with an opportunity to reemphasize his commitment to the themes expressed in the State of the Union message. It will also initiate the team effort needed to sustain those themes through the campaign year to the election.

The President will conduct a short question and answer period at the end of the meal. During that time he should be prepared to respond to a question by Congressman Bill Dannemeyer (R-CA) regarding the Grace Commission recommendations with respect to the defense budget.

RECEPTION FOR NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF REPUBLICAN MAYORS AND MUNICIPAL ELECTED OFFICIALS

DATE: FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1984
1:30 - 2:30 P.M.
(YOU WILL ATTEND AT 2:00 - 2:20)

LOCATION: STATE DINING ROOM

I. Purpose

This is an opportunity for you to meet, on a social basis, with members of the National Conference of Republican Mayors and Municipal Elected Officials (NCRMMEO). In addition, it is an opportunity to acknowledge NCRMMEO's support for the Administration, and then to thank Mayor George Israel, (R-Mayor, GA) for his leadership of the NCRMMEO during 1983.

II. Background

Members of NCRMMEO are in Washington, D.C. on January 25 - 27, 1984, in conjunction with the annual Mid-Winter Meeting of the U.S. Conference of Mayors (USCM). USCM is heavily dominated by big-city liberal Democratic mayors. NCRMMEO has been very helpful to the Administration during the past three years by countering USCM criticism of Administration policies.

III. Participants

90 - 100 Republican Mayors and City Elected Officials. (Inadvertently, a Democratic mayor was included on the RNC's list of invitees. This received press play in her home town of Binghamton, New York as well as a mention in USA Today. She may be in attendance at the reception. You will be advised of her participation prior to your arrival.)

NCRMMEO Officers

President - Mayor Bob Isaac (R-Colorado Springs, CO)
Past President - Mayor George Israel (R-Macon, GA)

IV. Press Plan

No press coverage. White House photographer.

V. Sequence of Events

- 2:00 p.m. You arrive and Lee Verstandig greets you. Proceed to microphone, make brief remarks, (see attached talking points) and present a framed letter to Mayor George Israel. -DAVE FISCHER HAS
- 2:05 p.m. Proceed to receiving line for photo opportunity with mayors.
- 2:20 p.m. You may leave.

TALKING POINTS

- I am delighted that such a large number of you were able to join us today as we honor you, the members of the Conference of Republican Mayors and Municipal Elected Officials.
- You know, we've accomplished a lot working together. As I said Wednesday night, "America is back."
- Inflation has plummeted to about 3 percent during the past year. The prime rate is about one-half of what it was. Unemployment is dropping at the fastest rate in more than 30 years, and more than 4 million new jobs have been created.
- You have told me these factors help your cities. Lower inflation rates and interest costs, plus more employed people produces better local economies which let you have more autonomy in financing your own decisions, and that's the way it should be.
- Over the past three years, I have had the opportunity to get to know George Israel who has been tremendously helpful to me as President of the Republican Mayors this year. For all of his help, I would like to present him with this letter expressing my appreciation for a job well done.

(Present a framed letter of appreciation to George Israel.)
- I would also like to congratulate Mayor Bob Isaac as he assumes the role of President of the National Conference of Republican Mayors and Municipal Elected Officials. Bob knows that we look forward to working with him during the next year to achieve the goals I have outlined, including the passage of enterprise zone legislation.
- Last but not least, I would like all of you to know that I do appreciate all of the many sacrifices you have had to make, as well as the input that you have provided to us over the past three years. Americans were ready to make a new beginning, and with your support, we have done it.

INTERVIEW WITH NEWSWEEK MAGAZINE

DATE: Friday, January 27, 1984

TIME: 3:00 pm (30 minutes)

PLACE: Oval Office

FROM: Larry Speakes

I. PURPOSE

To be interviewed by Newsweek Magazine for a cover story on the President's political decision.

II. BACKGROUND

Newsweek is interested in the President's personal viewpoint on the 1984 campaign, its major issues, and the process leading up to the President's decision.

(The interview with Newsweek places you in somewhat of a unique position. You will have to answer questions before you announce your political decision for an article that will appear after the formal announcement is made. The reporters will want you to answer their questions as if you had already made your announcement.)

III. PARTICIPANTS

The President

| Tom DeFrank | - | Newsweek Magazine White House correspondent |
| Eleanor Clift | - | Newsweek Magazine White House correspondent |
| Mel Elfin | - | Newsweek Washington Bureau Chief |

IV. PRESS PLAN

Newsweek photographer will take pictures during the interview.

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

After pleasantries, the interview will proceed

Foreign Policy Priorities For The Future?

- Establish a more stable basis for peaceful relations with the Soviet Union;
- Strengthen allied relationships across the board;
- Achieve real and equitable reductions in the levels of nuclear arms;
- Reinforce our peacemaking efforts in the Middle East, Central America, and Southern Africa;
- Assist developing countries, particularly our neighbors in the Western Hemisphere; and
- Assist in the development of democratic institutions throughout the world.

Foreign Policy -- A Campaign Handicap?

- Proud to run on foreign policy record of accomplishments, and goals for the future.
- But politics should stop at the waters' edge.
- America is stronger, safer now.
- Alliance partnerships are working, Atlantic and Pacific.
- Seeking to maintain our security, preserve peace, solve problems, reduce tensions and improve the lot of people everywhere.
- Bipartisan approaches have worked: Scowcroft and Kissinger Commissions, the Lebanon Joint Resolution.
- Progress in East-West relations, Middle East, Central America and elsewhere more likely if we continue on the path of bipartisanship.
- World won't stand still until 1985 waiting for our election. Will continue to do what is right, regardless of politics.

Isn't Lebanon your Achilles heel?

-- Stability in Lebanon is key to avoiding war between Israel and Syria.

-- Stability in Lebanon is threatened by the spectre of Syrian intervention and the menace of state-sponsored terrorism.

-- If terrorists prevail in Lebanon, they will be emboldened to challenge objectives of free peoples around the world.

-- We cannot simply walk away from the commitment we have undertaken to help resolve Lebanon's tragedy.

-- We do not intend that our forces should remain in Lebanon indefinitely. On the contrary we will leave just as soon as we are assured of progress on the diplomatic front.

-- Our steadfastness is critical to the peace and stability of the entire Middle East, a region vital to U.S. and Allied security.

-- Our presence provides confidence to the Government of President Gemayel enabling him to deal fairly with the legitimate demands of the opposing factions.

-- If we leave precipitously we will be seen as an unreliable partner in the quest for peace and security in the Middle East.

-- Withdrawal under pressure would lead others in the Middle East and in the world who rely on U.S. leadership and support to question the value of that support.

What makes you think the Soviets will be more cooperative -- you have no new proposals, only a military buildup which they may decide to match in an arms race.

-- Our strategic programs are designed to restore the balance, not achieve superiority.

-- We have made new proposals:

- a new one in INF, just before they walked out;
- a suggestion in the last round of START that they discuss tradeoffs between areas where they have the advantage (land based ICBMs) and those where we are ahead (bombers and cruise missiles)
- they've agreed to resume MBFR talks, as we requested.
- we've made progress in hotline talks, and next round of these technical discussions is set for Moscow in the near future.

-- Soviets must decide on their response. We should not expect instant cooperation. Their system turns slowly -- like a large ship changing course.

NOTES FOR FRIDAY INTERVIEWS WITH TIME AND NEWSWEEK

Both magazines intend to probe RR for insight into the thought processes that led up to re-election decision and announcement.

Both will ask about the First Lady's views on this.

The materials below address other specific areas they intend to ask about.

The coming campaign -- how does RR see it?

- o Take nothing for granted. Assume it will be hard fought, tough campaign.
- o But that's good. Voters deserve full debate.
- o Don't know yet who the opponent will be but no matter which of the 8 Democratic contenders gets the nod, it will be a clear choice.
- o In many respects, it will be the same choice voters faced in 1980. Some of the 8 are talking about new ideas, but they aren't really offering any.
- o Americans voted for change in 1980 -- and they got it. In 1984 their choice is whether they prefer that change or do they want to go back to what they had before the last election.

What are the issues?

- o Basic issue is that simple choice -- go back to old "government knows best" policy or keep going forward in the new direction we chose in 1980.
- o Know some things won't be issues in 1984 though they were at the top of the voters' list of concerns in 1980. Some examples:
 - high inflation and record interest rates;
 - economic stagnation;
 - energy shortages and skyrocketing fuel costs;
 - lack of respect for America in the world;

- o Also, the sense of drift we felt back then won't be an issue. It was a big concern in 1980 -- the feeling that nothing worked -- that we couldn't solve our problems. RR senses that self-doubt is evaporating.
- o The big issues are always the same: Are we safer and more prosperous now than we were -- and can we hope for an even better future for our children? RR believes the answers are yes and looks forward to running on those issues.

Didn't RR always plan to run? Was announcement delay just a game played for sake of political timing?

- o In the first place, definite decision to run was not made until very recently. No games being played on that score.
- o Second, RR did not feel need to make decision earlier, though some thought he should. Campaigns are too long, as it is. We want people to be involved in the campaign, not bored by it.

RR often said decision to run not up to him but up to the people. What tells you they want you to seek re-election?

- o Lots of specific encouraging signs:
 - campaign committee getting lots of support (money and volunteers) even before announcement;
 - Rollins, Laxalt, others involved say much support coming from grass roots and not just from Republicans but from independents and Democrats.
- o Most important, RR detects growing optimism among Americans of all backgrounds and a sense that if we keep working together America can solve its problems.

RR's remaining agenda -- what are the priorities?

- o Four great goals in State of the Union have highest priority:
 - ensuring steady economic growth
 - developing next frontier of space
 - strengthening traditional values
 - building a meaningful peace

- o None more important than building and keeping meaningful peace.
- o To that end, RR will continue efforts toward arms reduction while restoring U.S. defense capability.

Hopes and dreams for a second term?

- o RR feels American people -- together -- have come very far in just three years. Excited by thought of how much farther we can go in coming years.
- o Can make a beginning toward the end of the arms race and threat of nuclear war. We are ready for that -- our arms reduction proposals prove it. With sober reflection by Soviets on how much this is in their interest too, we can make real progress.
- o But don't want this to wait for a second term. We're ready now -- and would like talks to start again.
- o Also, can go from current economic recovery to prolonged economic expansion for U.S. -- and we haven't seen that since the 1960s.
- o Sustained economic growth has already put millions back to work (4 million in 1983) and we must keep the economy on steady growth path for the future so all who want work can find it in the 80s and beyond.

Reflections on politics and the Presidency -- as RR begins his last campaign

- o We've all relearned an important lesson -- never sell America short or underestimate her people.
- o In SOTU, RR singled out a few heroes for the eighties. Could have named thousands -- people from all walks of life who go about their business, do their duty and go beyond what they're obliged to do to give that extra measure of work, of caring and concern that makes America a special place.
- o Have tried, in last 3 years, to clear away some of the obstacles government put in people's way -- like high taxes, over-regulation, fiscal policies that led to ruinous inflation, interest rates. Once we got some of them out of the way, the American people did the rest.

- o RR rejects old saw that the "mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation." In the first place, he doesn't believe in a "mass of men." America's made of individuals, men and women who make up the little communities of family, neighborhood.
- o And they lead lives of quiet honor -- most of them -- men and women, black and white, young and old. Government ought to help them when they need it, and get out of their way when they don't.

Some reminder notes on major accomplishments

- o Back in 1980, they were saying it couldn't be done but we have made a new beginning and brought more improvement, faster, and on many more fronts than most thought possible back then.
 - Inflation's down: From two years in double-digits to two years under 4 percent (1982-83).
 - Unemployment's falling: Fell more in 1983 than any year since 1950; 4 million found jobs in 1983.
 - GNP growth: About 6 percent last year, after virtually no growth for 4 years starting in 1979.
 - Tax rates cut: 25 percent for everyone.
 - Interest rates down: Prime only about half the post Civil War record of 21.5 percent.
 - Growth of government slowed: spending growth rate cut to about 2/3s the 1980 rate of 17.4 percent.
 - Regulation: burden reduced to save consumers, business $150 billion in next 10 years.
 - Social Security: Retirement fund saved from bankruptcy while benefits for average retired couple rose more than $150 a month (under RR).
 - Energy crisis eased: gasoline cheaper than on inauguration day; imports cut in half from 1977.
 - Education: Debate now focused on how much students learn, not how much government spends.
