United States Holocaust Memorial Council

ELIE WIESEL

Chairman
United States Holocaust Memorial Council

Elie Wiesel, an internationally acclaimed author, serves as the Andrew W. Mellon Professor in the Humanities at Boston University. Before being appointed Chairman of the United States Holocaust Memorial Council, he served as Chairman of the President's Commission on the Holocaust.

Mr. Wiesel is widely regarded as the preeminent spokesman for the victims of the Holocaust. Mr. Wiesel's first book, Night, relates in understated yet overpowering detail his experience as a boy in Auschwitz and Buchenwald, where his mother, father, and younger sister died. Night has been described by Francois Mauriac as "different, distinct, unique...a book to which no other could be compared," and the New York Times has called it "A slim volume of terrifying power."

Although Mr. Wiesel has written other notable books on the Holocaust, the scope of his work spans biblical studies, portraits of the Hasidic masters, and moral responsibility in today's world. His books include: Dawn; The Accident; The Town Beyond the Wall; The Gates of the Forest; Beggar in Jerusalem; The Oath; The Jews of Silence; Zalmen, or The Madness of God; Legends of Our Time; One Generation After; Souls on Fire: Portraits and Legends of Hasidic Masters; A Jew Today; The Testament; Five Biblical Portraits; and Somewhere a Master.

The holder of honorary doctorates from many academic institutions, Mr. Wiesel has also received the National Jewish Book Council Awards in 1964 and 1973, the Jewish Heritage Award for Literature in 1966, and the 1968 Prix Medicis for Beggar in Jerusalem.

He lives with his family in New York City.

Dr. H. Joachim Maitre

Dr. H. Joachim Maitre is the senior editor, Axel Springer Publishing Company, and managing director, Ullstein Publishing Company. He is a well-known journalist in Germany. As the senior editor, his articles appear in a number of Springer publications, and he is best known for his in-depth studies of current defense and political issues.

Dr. Maitre, a former MiG pilot trainee, defected and left East Germany illegally in 1953, and eventually became a Canadian citizen.

Dr. Maitre was born in 1934 in Gerlachshain (Silesia), raised in Bernau/Berlin (Brandenburg), attended "Geschwister-Scholl-Schule" in Bernau (secondary education); membership and activities in communist youth organizations "Freie Deutsche Jugend", "Gesellschaft fuer Deutsch-Sowjetische Freundschaft", and the paramilitary organization "Gesellschaft fuer Sport und Technik". He was awarded the "Abzeichen fuer Gutes Wissen in Gold".

He studied at Muenster, Bonn and Innsbruck universities (German literature and philology, geography, physical education, and journalism). In 1959-60, he was editor of the Bonn University students' journal "spuren". He undertook lengthy trips to the Middle East (1957), Portugal and Spain (1958), Canada and USA (1959). In the USA, he worked as a camp counselor in Vermont. He concluded his studies in 1961 (Staatsexamen at Bonn University).

In August 1961, he became a lecturer (modern languages) at the University of Nigeria, Nsukka (Eastern Nigeria). Between 1961 and 1963, he had press assignments in Central, Western and Eastern Africa. As of 1962, he made regular contributions for "Die Welt" in Hamburg.

Dr. Maitre left Nigeria in the fall of 1963 in order to pursue graduate studies at McGill University in Montreal. He concluded his doctoral thesis (on Thomas Mann) in May of 1965. Thereafter, he held a professorship at McGill (1965-70), 1973-; full tenure as of 1973; acting chairman from 1974 to 1976. While on leave from McGill University, he was the editor of "Welt des Buches", the weekly literary supplement of "Die Welt" (1971 to April 1973). While with "Die Welt" newspaper, he made repeated trips to South Vietnam.

In 1976/1977, he was a National Fellow at the Hoover Institution (Stanford University) and Fellow, National Endowment for the Humanities.
