The Honorable Ronald Reagan
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

encl.

December 27 through January 1, 1984 will see the largest gathering of Christian college students in the history of America. Campus Crusade for Christ, International will sponsor KC '83 which will attract 30,000 students representing virtually every four year college in our country and a delegate from over 100 nations around the world. This conference demonstrates the rapidly growing movement of Christian students on our campuses. These students will take the message of the love of God throughout the world and actively represent Biblical values throughout our society.

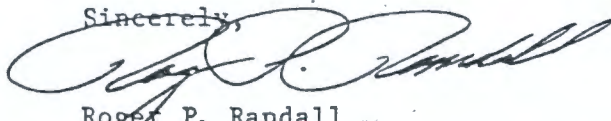

Knowing of your love for students, I am writing to invite you to address this great gathering via the electronic media. We would like to begin our conference, the evening of December 27th, with a five to ten minute video taped greeting from you. Immediately following the video we would like a brief, live telephone conversation between yourself and our Founder and President, Dr. William R. Bright.

Mr. President, your strong stand on school prayer and anti-abortion legislation has endeared you to the community of Christian college students. Your proclamation designating 1983 as "The Year of the Bible" has strengthened the convictions of many. This would be an opportunity for you to speak directly to a segment of our population which heartily supports you and shares a great many of your convictions. It would also be a fitting climax to the activities of "The Year of the Bible".

I am presently persuaded that just as student radicals influenced the direction of our country in the 1960's, so Christian students in the New Testament tradition will strongly influence the direction of our country in the 1980's.

Dr. Bright is currently out of the country. Upon his return he will contact your office to discuss our invitation in greater detail. Thank you, sir, for your strong, vigorous leadership.

Sincerely,

Roger P. Randall
Campus Ministry National Director
Campus Crusade for Christ, International
