FROM: MORTON C. BLACKWELL

SUBJECT: RESERVATION FOR FAMILY THEATER

Mrs. Elizabeth Dole
Assistant to the President
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Elizabeth,

We, at the Christian Embassy, are hosting a group of business and community leaders from around the country for a two-day Briefing, October 20-22. These men and women are part of a team of people who support the ministry of the Christian Embassy with their financial gifts.

While here in Washington, they will hear from Members of Congress, Congressional aides, ambassadors, representatives from Executive departments and several military officers in the Pentagon.

A year ago Ed Meese and Herb Ellingwood met with us and a similar group in the Family Theater. Our guests considered that brief time the highlight of the Briefing and their trip to Washington.

Would you consider hosting a similar briefing hour at the White House on Thursday afternoon, October 21, sometime between 3:00 and 5:30 p.m.? During that time our desire would be for you to speak to the group for 15-20 minutes (or as your time allows) regarding the functioning of the White House staff, concerns of the President, and your observations and any personal experiences regarding the spiritual opportunities available to our nation's leaders.

Although we understand that this is not the normal procedure, we would also be interested in the possibility of an afternoon tour of the White House.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Warmly in Christ,

MEMORANDUM FOR MELINDA ANDREWS

FROM: MORTON C. BLACKWELL mcb/cs

SUBJECT: Tour for Christian Embassy Group

We are arranging a briefing for Elizabeth Dole with the Christian Embassy for a group who support them financially. Annually they bring such a group to Washington for briefings on the Hill, at the State Department, Pentagon and White House. They will be in the Family Theater for their briefing from 10:00 to 12:00 a.m. on Thursday, October 21.

They would like a tour of the White House and said last year they were allowed simply to join a tour in progress when their briefing was done. They could get here as early as 9:30 but could join the tour at the end as the briefing will really only take about an hour.

There will be approximately 75 people. Could they be included in a tour in progress for part of it and if so, which would be better -- for them to arrive at 9:30 and join a tour in progress and proceed to the family theater at 10:00 or to finish their briefing about 11:00 and join a tour at that time?

Would appreciate any help you can give us. Please contact Carolyn Sundseth, on Ext. 2657.

MEMORANDUM FOR EDWIN MEESE III

FROM: ELIZABETH DOLE

SUBJECT: Christian Embassy Briefing

We are again hosting the Christian Embassy group of contributors and prospective contributors to a briefing in the Family Theater on Thursday, October 21, at 10:00 a.m.

This group felt your remarks last year were a real highlight of their visit to the White House. If you can fit it into your schedule, they would be very pleased if you could stop by again this year.

A brief word on your personal Christian commitment or the President's efforts to return this nation to the strong Christian foundations of our forefathers would be in order.

Please let Martha Fraas of my staff know whether you will be able to attend. Her extension is 7614.

MEMORANDUM FOR WILLIAM P. CLARK

FROM: ELIZABETH H. DOLE

SUBJECT: Christian Embassy Briefing

On Thursday, October 21, at 10:00 a.m. in the Family Theater we are hosting a briefing for the Christian Embassy. They are bringing in a group of major contributors (and prospects) for briefings on the Hill, here, and at various departments.

The Christian Embassy is an outreach of Dr. Bill Bright's Campus Crusade for Christ which conducts Bible studies and prayer meetings with Cabinet wives, Senators, Representatives, and elsewhere in the city where the need and opportunity arise. They are doing a fine job and we are delighted to help them out each year when they invite their supporters to Washington.

If you are free on Thursday, we would be delighted to have you stop by the Family Theater to greet this group.

Personnel Management

I have had ten years experience in personnel management. It has been my responsibility to recruit, direct, evaluate and in some instances release personnel. In addition, as Executive Regional Director for 5 years over a 5-state area (over 100 full-time staff under 15 directors) it was my responsibility to do semi-annual development reviews with all personnel reporting to me evaluating personal and professional progress.

In my responsibilities over the past 13 years, I have annually planned the activities necessary to accomplish my objectives. This planning has included weekly and sometimes daily staff meetings; travel scheduling for speaking engagements and evaluation trips; large conferences of up to 2,000 persons; assisting and giving direction to subordinates as they planned; long-range planning of 5-10 years; and implementation of these and other plans.

Speaker/Communicator

Over the past 13 years the key to fulfilling my responsibilities has been the ability to communicate with people both in groups as well as individually. I have spoken in conferences and seminars to students, professionals, and religious groups numbering in size from a small group up to fifteen hundred. I have given seminars in the area of managerial skills.

Conference Organizer

I have annually planned and directed 2-5 conferences over the past 13 years. This included logistics of site location, administrative details, and program content appropriate to accomplish objectives.

Counselor

Dear Mr. James:

It is my understanding that Mr. Jerry Regier is being considered for a key post in the Department of Health and Human Services.

I would very much like to register my support for Mr. Regier's appointment. During my visit with President Reagan on October 17 on his flight from New York to Chicago, I explained that Seventh-day Adventists strongly believe that basic Christian principles need to be applied consistently in government, but we do not believe in, and strongly oppose, the use of pressure politics, confrontation, and political maneuvering by church organizations.

The appointment of Jerry Regier, who shares my views, is in harmony with our October discussion.

My best wishes for the new administration.

Dear Mr. Caveney:

Mr. Peter Velde, Senator Dole's Counsel on the Judiciary, suggested that I contact you in regard to a position on Mrs. Dole's Staff.

After graduating from Barnard in May, I worked for the Republican National Finance Committee in New York under the direction of Jeremiah Milbank. In November, Mr. Milbank submitted my resumé to James Baker to be considered for a White House position.

I believe I could make my greatest contribution to the Reagan Administration on the Staff of the President's Liason to the Public. My interest in this area and my strong communication, analytical and writing skills would make me instrumental in translating the needs of Special Interests into support for Presidential programs which are in the National interest.

I would greatly appreciate the opportunity to meet with you at your convenience to discuss how I might be of service to your Staff. I look forward to hearing from you, and the pleasure of meeting you soon.

DEE ANN DELANEY JEPSEN

BORN: March 7, 1934
Davenport, Iowa

In September of 1982, President Reagan appointed Dee Jepsen to serve as Special Assistant to the President for Public Liaison. In this capacity at the White House, Dee serves as the channel of communication between the President and women's organizations nationwide.

In December of 1981, Dee was appointed by President Reagan to serve on the President's Task Force on Private Sector Initiatives which has worked to encourage private efforts and voluntarism to assist the needy at the local level.

From 1978 until September of 1982, Dee worked closely with her husband, U.S. Senator Roger Jepsen (R-IA), as a full-time unsalaried assistant in his office on Capitol Hill. Senator Jepsen described the two of them as "a team." During her tenure in the Senator's office, she wrote "The Heart of Washington," a monthly column for Iowa newspapers, giving Iowans back home a "behind-the-scenes" look at life in the Nation's Capital.

Currently Dee serves on the advisory board of the STEP Foundation, a private organization that is working with suburban churches to encourage their activity in the inner cities of America. With her husband and Congressman Jack Kemp (R-NY) and his wife Joanne, she founded CREED (Christian Rescue Effort for the Emancipation of Dissidents). Before she accepted the White House position, Dee served on the Board of Directors of this non-profit foundation which has been highly successful in bringing about the release of dissidents behind the Iron Curtain by public and political pressure. She is also on the board of the American Christian Heritage Foundation, a non-profit organization involved in a national Christian outreach ministry.

On behalf of the work of CREED, Mrs. Jepsen accepted the 1982 Freedom Award from Christian Solidarity International for service to the oppressed and persecuted people of the world. With her husband, Dee was the recipient of the 1982 Christian Statesmanship Award presented by the James Robison Evangelistic Association.

After coming to Washington, Dee Jepsen became involved in a wide range of activities on Capitol Hill in addition to her work with her husband. She became an active member of the Congressional Wives for Soviet Jewry. She served as an officer in the Republican Congressional Wives' Club and in the Ladies of the Senate, and also helped organize a weekly Bible study for Senate wives.

An articulate inspirational speaker, Dee Jepsen has been a frequent guest on local and national radio and television programs, including the Christian Broadcasting Network, the PTL Broadcasting Network, and various syndicated network talk shows. She was a featured speaker at the 1981 International Convention of Federated Women's Clubs and at the 1980 and 1982 Washington for Jesus religious rallies. Addressing many and varied audiences around the country, Mrs. Jepsen also speaks on voluntarism and political issues with a special sensitivity to the role of women.

Dee Jepsen has been active in her husband's political career for over 20 years, from his election as a county supervisor, to his election as a State Senator, to his post as Iowa's Lieutenant Governor, and then to his successful race in 1978 for the U.S. Senate.

Prior to the 1980 elections, Mrs. Jepsen traveled nationwide speaking on behalf of Ronald Reagan and various Republican congressional candidates. She has also taught at various campaign seminars for congressional candidates.

In 1966, Dee was elected as Co-Chairman of the Scott County Republican Party and was awarded the "Outstanding Republican Woman" award in recognition of her exceptional, successful leadership.

In between raising six children and managing an active household, Dee co-founded "The Home Place", a successful career clothing firm. She also performed with the WIC Players, a Christian women's theater group. In addition to her many activities over the years, Dee took an active role as president of the local Reserve Officers' Ladies Association while her husband served in the Army Reserve.

In her spare time, Dee enjoys painting and working with stained glass. She studied art for four years through the Municipal Art Gallery in Davenport, Iowa. Several of her oil paintings hang in the Senator's office as well as in her White House office. One of her recent works is also featured on the Senator's 1982 Christmas card.

The former Dee Ann Delaney likes to recall that she was reared on a farm in Davenport, Iowa, and began her education in a one-room country school house before going on to the Immaculate Conception Academy. She and her husband are the parents of six grown children and have three grandchildren.
