MEMORANDUM FOR RED CAVANEY

FROM: MORTON C. BLACKWELL MB

SUBJECT: Anne Neamon, Citizens for God and Country

We have had multiple communications with this lady as have the White House Counsel's office, Ed Rollins' office, and many others.

The White House Counsel's office advised us that it would not be productive for us to spend any more time in communication with her.

She is not connected with any of the major conservative or religious organizations in the coalitions with which we work.

I suggest that Elizabeth not respond.

Dear Mrs. Dole:

CGC seeks an appointment to discuss with you the ways that the President can address the prayers and other family-morality issues in relation to his concern for the election, without dependency upon Congress. Also, requested is the opportunity to discuss the urgency to re-establish the Nativity Drama in accordance to the favorable Court directions, which is the basis of the prayers concern.

Would you kindly arrange for an early appointment?
Thank you kindly,

Sincerely,

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Dear Morton:

You may have seen this in today's Post. What do you think, is the underlined really the Administration's policy, or simply only the State Department's policy? Or are they one and the same?

I think the President and the Administration is getting a "bum wrap" for State's position - which really except for material comforts for the 7, has changed little.

Is there anything you can or would be willing to do?

By the way, tomorrow is my last day in the Administration. I've accepted an offer to go back to the private Christian school in Alexandria where I taught before going to the Soviet Union. I received only promises at ICA and VOA. This frees me to work in Virginia politics, however, and to make a contribution to building "Young Conservatives". Incidentally, I hope to develop a government course for my high school seniors on comparative US/Soviet government. I may also do some consulting.

I do want to thank you for anything you can do for the 7, and also for sending letters to Jim Buckley and Charlie Wick on my behalf.

I look forward to working with you again. I believe we share many mutual concerns.

Most sincerely,

We Can Help the 'Prisoners' in Our Embassy

On July 13, the Senate by unanimous consent passed a bill cosponsored by 71 of its members to give the status of permanent resident of the United States to the seven Pentecostals from Chernogorsk, Siberia, with effect from June 27, 1978, when they entered the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. The bill, HR 2873, now awaits action in the House.

The Reagan administration opposes the legislation. On Oct. 2, 1979, in one of his radio commentaries on current affairs, Ronald Reagan said: "Detente is supposed to be a two-way street. Our heat and technology can get into Russia—why can't the Vashchenko and Chmykhalov families get out?" At the State Department continues to follow the Carter policy—expressing sympathy, but taking no action to help the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs.

The administration objects that HR 2873 would create a risky precedent: it would "reward" persons who enter

American diplomatic premises by giving them the status of permanent resident of the United States and would consequently encourage Soviet citizens who want to get out of the U.S.S.R. to "flood" the embassy.

In written replies to Americans who have inquired about the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs, officials of the State Department have explained that the U.S. government "neither recognizes nor practices the granting of political asylum within our diplomatic or consular premises." "However," such letters go on, "we do recognize the humanitarian obligation to provide temporary refuge in an embassy or consulate to persons in physical danger. Anyone granted such refuge . . . must leave the premises as soon as circumstances permit."

By allowing the Pentecostals to live in the embassy, two successive administrations have recognized that circumstances do not permit the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs to leave without risking physical danger. And there is no prospect of a change in those circumstances.

At the same time, the State Department constantly repeats that the "ultimate responsibility for the resolution of the plight of these brave individuals lies squarely with the Soviet government."

So the superpowers have created a Catch-22 around the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs. The Soviets say they can apply for passports only from Chernogorsk, where for 16 years—from 1962 to 1978—they strove in vain to do just that. For its part, the American government recognizes that it must grant them refuge, but disclaims any further responsibility.

Earlier this year, alarmed by the hunger strike upon which Augustina Vashchenko and her daughter, Lydia, had embarked, Reagan wrote and asked Leonid Brezhnev to let the families leave the U.S.S.R. The only publicly known response is a mocking Tass commentary of Feb. 15, calling the president's concern "absurd" and "unsavory."

According to present plans, construction of the new embassy building in Moscow should be completed in 1984. What will then become of the U.S. government's policy of "continuing] to allow the Pentecostals to live in the embassy"? After all, they will then have to leave the old building and the protection of the American government in order to get to the new one. The State Department acknowledges the problem, but can say only that it has "every hope of resolving this situation well before then."

Is it not time to recognize the moral responsibility the U.S. government has assumed for these people through granting them refuge in the embassy for more than four years, and to stop opposing the only possible relief now available for them?

The legislation before Congress will not secure Soviet passports and exit visas for the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs. That can be done only by convincing the Soviet authorities that they lose more by not issuing them than they gain by perpetuating the present stalemate. Permanent resident status as of June 27, 1978, would raise the possibility that the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs could acquire American citizenship before the old embassy building reverts to Soviet control. Would the Soviets want to see that happen or, in the face of it, would they prefer to cut their losses and let the Vashchenkos and Chmykhalovs go?

There is only one way to find out: by passing HR 2873.

MEMORANDUM TO: FAITH RYAN WHITTLESEY
THROUGH: Jonathan Vipond, III
FROM: Morton C. Blackwell
SUBJECT: National Youth Prayer Breakfast

I have reviewed this invitation. This is a spectacular opportunity for the President to emphasize his support for restoring voluntary school prayer.

The endorsers include the head of the largest Protestant denomination, the Southern Baptists, Billy Graham, and most of the major national religious broadcasters.

This event is ideal. It is organized by the President's strongest friends in the religious community. It will be the object of massive national coverage. Let's do it.

Dear Faith:

I urge you to urge President Reagan to accept the invitation he has already received from Dr. Vernard Johnson for a "Youth Prayer Breakfast" to be held in Fort Worth, Texas on Saturday, September 17. Enclosed is a copy of Dr. Johnson's letter to me, with testimonials, which are pretty much self-explanatory.

Let me say that I have known Dr. Johnson for several years. He is a saxophonist par excellence; in fact, I have never heard anyone make a musical instrument sound so human as he does. Furthermore, he is a spiritually motivated Christian who has the power to motivate others, especially young people, through his tremendous talent. The event he is planning should be very special, and I think it would be a real lift for them -- as well as for the President -- to encourage this large group of young people in Texas.

I sincerely hope you can put in a good word for this particular invitation. With all best wishes,

Faithfully,

Phyllis

Dr Johnson is black + he estimates 1/2 of the crowd will be black. His appeal is to the young Christian blacks especially.

CHECKED JUN 29 1983

Ms. Phylis Schlafly
Box 618
Alton, Illinois 62002

Dear Ms. Schlafly,

Because of the urgency and importance of an upcoming "Prayer" event concerning the 'youth of Amercia', our office was requested to send this information to 'your' immediate attention.

Ms. Schlafly, a 'Massive Youth Prayer Breakfast' entitled "Come Together '83" involving over 5,000 young people of many different races, creeds, ages, and various Christian backgrounds, but whose common ground is their faith in God, is going to be held in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. This will be the largest 'Youth' Prayer Breakfast in the history of America, and will involve a historical gathering of youth who are coming together to pray for the youth of America, our President, and our nation.

These youth are praying dilligently that President and Mrs. Reagan would take a few minutes from the stringent pace of the world affairs to attend this 'Prayer Breakfast', and that the President would bring the "Keynote Address" on 'prayer'.

Our reason for wanting the President to come is not only for the sake of America's 'youth', but we also believe that the President and Mrs. Reagan's coming will accomplish the following things:

1. It has been said, "You move the youth, and you move the country", and President and Mrs. Reagan's appearance at this 'Youth Prayer Breakfast' will be an excellent opportunity for interaction with thousands of young people, and also make such an impact on them that it will 'move the youth' away from drugs, crime, alcoholism, and closer to the God fearing principals which this nation was built upon.
2. President and Mrs. Reagan's appearance would serve as a catalyst to launch a prayer movement among the youth and even the adults so great that it will go down in history as the beginning of "A Great Spiritual Awakening".

3. It will be an excellent opportunity for the President to underscore his message on the "Importance of Prayer In The School and Home" ("God favors only those minds which are prepared"), and also a time for him to encourage youth who are "America's tomorrow--and America's today."

This 'Youth Prayer Breakfast' will be on Saturday Morning, September 17, 1983, at 10:00 A.M., in the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth, Texas.

An invitation has been sent in a personal letter to the President. Ms. Schlafly, knowing of your Christian concern for our 'youth', we are prayerfully asking that you would personally bring this invitation to the attention of the President. Any concern you give to this will certainly be appreciated.

Sincerely for the Glory of God,

Dr. Vernard Johnson
Coordinating Chairman

P.S.

Also, Bunker Hunt, Dr. Jerry Falwell, Dr. Jimmy Draper, Ed McAteer, John Erickson, Lewis (Woody) Jenkins, E. V. Hill, and many other great men of God are in prayer for the letter we sent to the President and your consideration in this matter.

Dear wonderful friend, Dr. Vernard Johnson:

People have briefed me on your organizing the Youth Prayer Breakfast to convene at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth on Saturday, September 17. They have told me that the theme under which the convention will move is, "Come Together '83." When I heard of the work you had done, I rejoice greatly and thank God from the deep of my heart. We need intercessory prayer more than words could ever say. And, to involve our young people in such an intercession is a blessing that will move heaven itself.

May God bless your testimony wherever you go as beautifully and preciously as He blessed your witness in word and in music during our great revival here in the First Baptist Church of Dallas. It is a fortunate congregation anywhere in the earth who has you to encourage them in the work of the Lord.

Faithfully and devotedly yours,

TALKING POINTS

FOR

MEETING WITH PRO-SCHOOL PRAYER LEADERS

July 12, 1983

- Welcome to the White House and first let me say thank you for all the help you have given our fight to restore voluntary school prayer.

- I think we are very close to victory now if we all pull together.

- The status of our Voluntary Prayer Amendment is this, on Thursday, the full Senate Judiciary Committee has scheduled a mark-up session. The vote will surely be very close.

- I realize that Senator Orrin Hatch, who supports my amendment, has also put forth, as a possible alternative, a silent prayer amendment. Frankly, I don't believe we have been fighting this prayer battle for the right to remain silent. My friend, Senator Hatch, does have a valid point, though, about the need to change the original wording of our amendment.

- The Senate hearings and the communications I have received from many leaders have convinced me that we can unite all supporters of school prayer only if we can end the fears that government officials will be drafting prayers for school children. Therefore, I have asked the Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Senator Thurmond, Senator Hatch and other supporters of voluntary school prayer to revise the amendment they have submitted at my request for the past two years.

- The change I am requesting is this: at the end of the second sentence, add this sentence -- "Nor shall the United States or any State compose the words of any prayer to be said in public schools."
- This wording solves the sticky problem of state-drafted prayers without endangering currently acceptable and praiseworthy practices such as inviting clergy to offer invocations at high school graduations.
- As revised, our amendment will assure the constitutionality of voluntary student religious groups, children voluntarily saying grace before meals, voluntary devotional periods and silent prayer periods.
- This is still a local option Amendment. Each state and local jurisdiction would still have the right to permit spoken prayer, silent prayer, or no periods for prayer at all. The Federal courts would have to stay out of regulating local decisions except to make sure that no one could be required to participate in prayer and that the government could not draft prayer for use in public schools.

-- I need your help to pass this badly needed amendment. If things go as I hope, we can convince a majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee to pass our revised Amendment this week. Then we could aim for full Senate passage in the Fall and getting the vote in the House of Representatives early next year. The first step, though, is winning in the Senate Judiciary Committee this week. I know you can help there.

-- One other point. The Judiciary Committee will also be considering Senator Denton's Equal Access bill this week. There is no reason for public schools to discriminate against religious student groups, and this problem can be solved simply by statute. I hope the Judiciary Committee reports out both my Amendment and an Equal Access bill.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Faith Whittlesey, Morton Blackwell, Dee Jepsen,

FROM: Gary Jarmin, Project Prayer

RE: School Prayer Leaders Meeting with President Reagan

I believe a very excellent and timely opportunity exists for us to generate positive media attention for the President's Constitutional Amendment on school prayer. Equally important, this publicity will help to generate momentum for the issue just prior to the Senate Judiciary Committee's vote on the Amendment.

Two events will occur simultaneously which will provide a perfect press opportunity for key pro-school prayer leaders to meet with the President: First, the week April 29-May 5 has been designated National Week of Prayer. There will be a number of activities during this week culminating with a major rally at the D.A.R. Constitution Hall on May 5th. Several prominent school prayer leaders will be in Washington, D.C. at this time. Second, as fate would have it, the Senate Judiciary Committee plans to hold hearings on the President's Amendment on April 29th and May 2nd. Both of these events provide an excellent opportunity and justification for the President to renew his call for Congressional action on the school prayer amendment.

Most importantly, we understand that Senator Thurmond wants to move quickly on the Constitutional Amendment and report it out of committee by the end of May. The timing couldn't be better. It is critically important that we generate the necessary public awareness and pressure for the Constitutional Amendment to get through committee and to create momentum for future Senate action.

April 15, 1983

- Leaders Meeting With the President -

The President has already met recently with several key religious and conservative leaders on a wide range of issues. A similar meeting with school prayer leaders should be arranged. The meeting should be limited to only 8-12 people and only needs 15-20 minutes.

The press should be invited in the meeting during which: (a) the President praises the leaders for their efforts and exhorts them to fight harder for his Amendment during this critical time; and (b) the leaders will in turn praise the President for his initiative, courage and leadership on the issue and present him with an award/plaque from Project Prayer commending his efforts.

Suggested Leaders: In addition to myself as Director of Project Prayer, I recommend Dr. Robert Grant, Chairman of Christian Voice, Rev. Tim LaHaye and his wife, Beverly, Pat Robertson and/or Ted Pantaleo from the Freedom Council, Jerry Falwell, Bob Dugan of the N.A.E., et. al.. Perhaps the key Congressional sponsors of the legislation should also be invited-- Rep. Tom Kindness and Senators Thurmond and Hatch. (The Project Prayer Coalition now has 126 members, including all of the above mentioned leaders).

I will contact you in a few days to discuss this idea with you in more detail and receive your reaction. Please don't hesitate to contact me in the meantime if I can be of any assistance.

Mr. Mike Deaver
Deputy Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Deaver:

While the enclosed memorandum was sent to your office by Lyn Nofziger over ten days ago, I bring it to your immediate attention as time is of the essence.

As the memoromandum explains, I believe it would be very appropriate, timely and extremely important for the President to meet with pro-school prayer leaders. We at Christian Voice and the Project Prayer Coalition have been leading the effort on behalf of the President's Constitutional Amendment restoring school prayer. Meeting with our leaders and other notable pro-school prayer advocates would provide very positive press attention for the President (help solidify Christian voter support) while giving his Constitutional Amendment a greatly needed shot-in-the-arm at this critical stage (the Senate Judiciary Committee will go into mark-up on the Amendment in the next few weeks).

The memo originally recommended May 5 as the possible meeting date. However, we realize the President will be out of town on this day. Therefore, I recommend any date between May 4th and May 11th as a possible time frame for such a meeting. Christian Voice's top leaders will be in town during this period.

I hope that the idea of such a meeting meets with your approval. Any assistance you can provide in this regard would be deeply appreciated.

I will contact your office in the near future to discuss this request. Please don't hesitate to have one of your assistants contact me in the meantime if you have any questions or need more information. Thanking you in advance for your thoughtful consideration of the above, I remain

Faithfully,

Dear Gary:

I have the memo that you sent to the White House and asked me to drop to Ed Meese. You have sent the memo to Ken Cribb and I know he will talk to Ed.

I have taken the liberty of sending it along to Mike Deaver who will have a great deal to say about it, and this way we're sure that he will proceed directly.

Sincerely,

Dear Morton:

The enclosed list of people volunteered at the May 12th Library Court meeting to be a part of the prayer coalition steering committee. I've check marked those who should make the most valuable contribution. Of course, we may wish to invite all of them.

In addition to these individuals, perhaps the following should also be included:

1. Mac McKinney- Rep. Tom Kindness
2. Representative from Justice Department
3. Representative from White House Congressional Liaison
4. Gary Bauer- D.O.E.

We may wish to keep this group relatively small (not more than a dozen people) in the beginning and add others once things really begin to move.

Let me know what you think.

Best wishes,

Mr. Morton Blackwell
White House
Old Executive Office Building
Room 191
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. Blackwell:

Doris and I especially want to express our deep appreciation to you and to your staff for the wonderful preparations you made for our meeting with President Reagan. I am sure it did not take a detective to realize that I am a Super-Patriot and this meeting with my own President tops all the other meetings I have had with national leaders around the world

Mr. Blackwell, I am grateful to your office and for what you do. I want you to know that if there is anything we as the Baptist World Alliance Men's Department can do for you, or for President Reagan, all you have to do is ask. I am totally committed to support that kind of President and your kind of work. Let us hear from you when you have time and hopefully we will have an opportunity to meet again and give an even more positive report than we were able to give this time.

In your next meeting with the President tell him that when he completes his second term Doris and I would like at least 30 minutes with him and Mrs. Reagan to share some other convictions of our heart and express our appreciation in a more positive way.

Again, much thanks and appreciation to you and your staff.

Gratefully yours,

SCHEDULE PROPOSAL

To: FREDERICK J. RYAN, JR., DIRECTOR
Presidential Appointments and Scheduling

From: FAITH WHITTLESEY JFS

Request: Photo session and brief meeting with International Baptist leaders

Purpose: To recognize the role of this important group in international outreach efforts and reaffirm the Administration's support for humanitarian endeavors

Background: Drs. McCall and Jackson return on October 24 from meetings with the Prime Minister of Japan and the Presidents of Korea, Taiwan and Sri Lanka, during which they acted as representatives of the entire Christian communities in those Asian nations. These men are the leaders of the Baptist World
Alliance, one of the largest international Protestant groups in the world with an active membership in excess of 33 million. They specialize in outreach efforts, and their previous efforts have initiated close ties between American citizens and the citizens of Japan,
Russia, Spain, Germany, England, Korea, Taiwan,
Hong Kong, Singapore, Sri Lanka, India, Italy,
Australia, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, France,
Romania and Yugoslavia.
Drs. McCall and Jackson seek a meeting with the President to appraise him of their findings from their recent visit to Asia. To date, these highly regarded Protestant leaders have never been received by an American President.
Dr. Jimmy Draper, President of the Southern Baptist Convention (with 13 million members, the largest U.S. Protestant denomination), a supporter of the President and key backer of many of the President's programs, called the White House to urge that the President meet with these leaders.

Previous Participation: None.

Date and Time: November 2 to November 10, 1983. Time flexible, preferably morning.
