Dear President Regan:

As President-Elect of the General Federation of Women's Clubs I wish to take this opportunity to thank you very much for your nomination of ~~Sandra Day O'Connor to the United States Supreme Court.~~ I commend you for this and it is, of course, a very historical time in our country.

As the largest group of organized volunteer women in the world we are very interested and concerned that more women are involved in decision-making positions and governmental activities. It is my hope that the nomination of Sandra O'Connor will only be a beginning of other appointments for women during your Administration.

Again, I commend you for this nomination.

Most sincerely,

Vigil

Frank Vigil, a Jicarilla Apache, was born in 1922 and passed away in 1974 in Arizona. Frank was self-taught often choosing horses, hunters and wildlife to paint. With Quincy Tahoma, he shares a love and feeling for action, sweeping lines and dramatic poses.

Frank Vigil's work is widely exhibited in collections of native American artists. We worked with Frank here at Tewa from 1966 to 1974 and very much regrette his early passing.

The Honorable Ronald Reagan
President, United States of America
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Reagan:

The membership of the National Association of Women Judges, which includes over half of all the women judges in the United States, salutes your appointment of the first female to the highest court in the land. By virtue of this perspicacious act, you have guaranteed yourself a very special place in the history of these United States.

For years women have been watching and waiting for the day when a president would select a highly qualified woman to take a rightful seat on the Supreme Court. Even though there have been such women available for at least the last decade, we have been disheartened in this regard with each successive appointment. In our pluralistic society wherein women constitute 51% of the population, it is only fair and just that a qualified female be involved in the precedent-setting high court decisional processes.

So many women judges have been performing exceptionally well, yet with little recognition and acceptance, sometimes being virtually isolated and otherwise functioning under very trying circumstances. Your announcement happily has focused attention on us and created interest in us as individuals and as a group. We have thus become the beneficiaries of immediate increased stature and greater credibility.

032270

The Honorable Ronald Reagan
July 13, 1981

When we organized our Association in October of 1979, one of our most fervently held intentions was to push for the long overdue appointment of a woman to the Supreme Court. You have done us proud by making our priority goal a reality. As a consequence of this joyful event, each of us holds her head higher and stands a little taller. We thank you.

Sincerely, .

Dear President Reagan:

On behalf of the Women's Equity Action League, I would like to commend you on your nomination of Judge Sandra D. O'Connor for the United States Supreme Court. The range of support Judge O'Connor has received from women's and Civil rights groups, Arizona legislators, and the Bar Association indicates widespread faith in her qualifications and her judgment.

This nomination clearly marks a historic moment for women and for the nation as a whole--a visible demonstration of America's commitment to equal opportunity for women and men. WEAL has been concerned about the small number of women appointed to fill key positions in your administration, and we hope that the appointment of Judge O'Connor augurs well for an increased and visible role for women in federal policy-making positions.

Judge O'Connor epitomizes the American woman who successfully pursues a career and fulfills family responsibilities. She will serve as an important role model for American women and men, having combined hard work, respect for the law, and concern for the family.

Again, congratulations on your fine choice.

Sincerely,
