Dear Mr. Dionisio:

I want to thank you for your warm expression of friendship and concern. I am certain that, if not for the prayers and good wishes of so many wonderful people, the road to recovery would have been a lot longer and a lot more difficult.

With heartfelt thanks,

Sincerely,

RONALD REAGAN A

Dear Mr. Dionisio:

On behalf of President Reagan, Mr. Brady, Agent McCarthy and Officer Delahanty, thank you for your message and for your thoughtfulness in remembering them.

Because the White House Office is prohibited from accepting monetary gifts or political contributions, we are returning your enclosures to you. If, however, you are interested in contributing to the National Republican Congressional Committee, please write to that organization directly. The Committee is located at 320 First Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003.

With the President's gratitude for your prayers and with his best wishes,

Sincerely,

Anne Higgins

Dear President Reagan

4-2-81

My prayers for your speedy and total recovery are enclosed in this message to you - also for the anxiety felt by your family and of course, the Nation.

I received your form letter from the National Republican Congressional Committee and congressman Vander Jagt - and thought, what better medicine does a man need, than to know he has friends out there who care for and worry about him -

So, along with my prayers, please accept donation for the G. O. P. Victory Fund. and for you personally, the first and second ads showing my attempt at gathering sponsors who believe as you & I, the necessity to "Stand up and be counted" ...

II

I've enclosed a few more of my
"Thumbs Up America" Iron-on transfers, and calendars for your office, V.P.
Bush and Congressman Jagt. --- By the way, did the sweatshirts get you and
First Lady Nancy? -

For now, I'll close once again with prayers for you and all those involved in the sad event that put only a "skip" in your step" to perpetuate a better America - If I had the addresses of Mr Brady, the secret serviceman and the policeman involved in the shooting,
I would send them a shirt and calendar also -

Respectfully,
Linda Provenza

P.S. wish my monetary gift could have been more - Linda -

IMPORTANT DIRECTIONS

For excellent results, use fabrics that are at least 50% polyester, and 50% cotton, 65% polyester and 35% cotton, 80% polyester and 20% cotton. The higher the polyester content, the higher and brighter the color concentration. T-shirts made in these blends are readily available at all department stores. These dyes are specially made for all the many man-made fabrics; therefore, you have a wider range of garments to use these designs on. The only fabric that should be avoided is 100% cotton.

1. Preheat the iron thoroughly to Cotton setting. Use a dry, hot iron! Make sure iron has no water in it!
2. Place a sheet of paper inside garment to prevent transfer from ironing through onto both sides.
3. Cut out iron-on design leaving a margin of white paper around edges.

4. Place your design on garment face down.
5. Cover entire design with a clean sheet of paper.
6. Hold sheet of paper firmly so design doesn't move. Begin ironing slowly with firm even pressure at one edge and pass the iron slowly across to the other edge. Very carefully without moving the transfer, iron over any light spots the iron may have missed.
7. Very carefully lift iron off paper; then lift off transfer.

Note: We recommend that you use the test strip on the specific fabric on which the transfer is to be used. While we take every precaution to insure the suitability of this Heat Transfer Print for the purpose intended, we cannot assume the responsibility (liability) for its performance because of the numerous factors beyond our control—variety of fabrics that are used, temperatures and dwell time and use requirements. ★★★★★★

Spring Recruitment For Girl Scouts

The second phase of a national pilot program for Girl Scout Spring Recruitment begins in the Suffolk County in April.

The program is designed to introduce girls and parents to Girl Scouting in the Spring and Summer so that by Fall the girls are ready to become troop members or to enroll in alternate programs.

During Spring Recruitment, girls can join for a $2.00 membership fee. This allows them to take part in any and all of the 30 special events and programs in the Spring and Summer designed to introduce them to Girl Scouting. Parents are encouraged to accompany their daughters during these events and activities so that the parents will also have a good idea of what Girl Scouting in Suffolk County is all about.

The special events and activities include Puppet Workshops, Ecology Day, Talk to the Animals, Great Outdoor Day, Magic, Ceramics, Indian Lore, Colonial Craft Workshops, Games Day and many more.

In May, the new girls and their parents can participate in the Girl Scout year-end festival in their community. That will give them the opportunity to meet other girls and parents in their area who are participating in, and thoroughly enjoying, the many Girl Scout programs offered in their community.

For more information, contact Suffolk County Girl Scout Council, Inc. 442 Moreland Road, Commack, N.Y. 11725 (516) 543-6622.

Residents who are interested can stop by the Supervisor's Office to pick up a free copy of the pamphlet or they may call the areas of hardwood trees were completely defoliated. I am not anxious to get into a controversy with environmentalists or naturalists but it seems to me that since I know of no good environmental purpose the Gypsy moth serves and this species was imported to the United States from its natural habitat, we certainly ought to devise a scientific method for protecting our communities from this annual onslaught."

copies of a booklet called, "Gypsy Moth Control".

Since we are fast approaching the most damaging season of the year for gypsy moths, this would be a good time to become familiar with the pest and how it may be controlled.

Supervisor Lefkowitz indicated that the Town does not have jurisdiction in this matter as it falls under the authority of the Su' folk Suffolk County Bureau of Vector Control in Yaphank at 924-4300 or Cooperative Extension Association of Suffolk County in Riverhead at 727-7850.

Supervisor Lefkowitz noted, "that the gypsy moth is certainly not my favorite insect and last year will agree we observed a number of horrifying scenes in the Town of Brookhaven where large

The Many Faces Of Hong Kong

In Hong Kong, children commonly ride on their mothers' backs while the day's food supply from the market is transported in baskets hanging from a pole balanced on their shoulders.

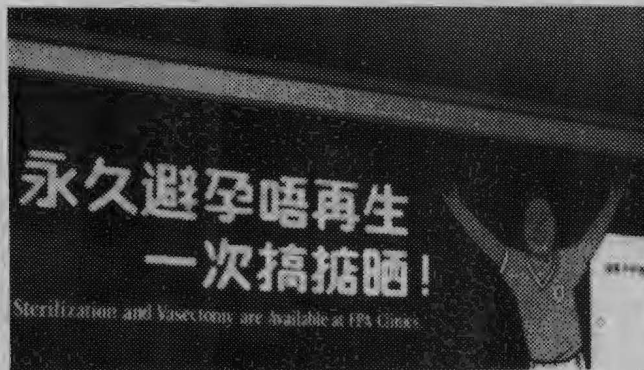

A typical market scene in Hong Kong. Fresh fruits and vegetables, much of it grown on every available bit of arable space in the tiny British Crown Colony, are on display. Naturally the people of Hong Kong shop every day, a necessity because there is little refrigeration. This is the great majority of the colony's 4 million people.

There is no longer much tension at this checkpoint, or at the others that separate Hong Kong from the Peoples Republic of China. And any Chinese who try to slip through the checkpoint to take up residence in Hong Kong are routinely returned to China if caught.

Washing hangs on bamboo poles from the balconies of a public housing project in Hong Kong. Each one of the tiny apartments contains 4 people usually, as the British government tries to tackle the problem of inadequate shelter in Hong Kong. The sight of drying clothes hanging from balconies and shipmasts is almost a Hong Kong trademark.

All over Hong Kong hang posters exhorting the populace to practice birth control. This poster tells people that sterilization and vasectomies are available at nearby clinics.

Some of the hundreds of junks and sampans that ply their way from the big transport ships in Hong Kong Harbor to the shore, often carrying the materials which the booming British Crown Colony manufactures. The finished goods which are sold all over the world.

The Peripatetic Publisher

Road East

By Robert F. Smith

The World Money Analysis Investment Seminar opens on Monday, March 9 in the Regent Hotel in Hong Kong, where Bev and I are staying. (Pennysaver News Publisher Bob Smith and his wife recently returned from a trip to the Far East which included attendance at a seminar in Hong Kong.)

I must say the organizers of the seminar have lined up rather interesting and well-known people with outstanding international reputations in their fields.

Thirty-five in all will be addressing the 700 or so participants in the seminar who have traveled from all over the world to see what the experts have to say on such topics as "How To Trade In Gold and Other Commodities"; "Hong Kong As A Tax Haven"; "Hong Kong's Booming Economy"; "Is The West In Decline?"; "OPEC And The Coming International Banking Crisis"; and "The Coming Currency Collapse".

Richard C. Young, the editor and publisher of Young's World Money Forecast, a comprehensive monthly report on the world's currencies, is among the most interesting speakers at the seminar.

He discusses which of the world's currencies are likely to appreciate and which to depreciate, and why. The best performers over the long run have been the Japanese and the Swiss franc.

James Dines, the editor of The Dines Letter is the professional speaker at the seminar and is well-received.

Sir Philip Haddon-Cave, the financial secretary of Hong Kong since 1971, welcomes us to the seminar on behalf of the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong.

Mark Tier, the editor and publisher of the World Money Analyst, an international investment newsletter published in Hong Kong, acts as our host.

He makes the point, among many others, that the dollar will remain strong while the Reagan administration maintains high interest rates but that, in the long term, can be expected to "resume its decline" against hard currencies, like the Deutschmark and the Swiss franc. He says this resumption of decline is unlikely to take place until the end of 1981 or the beginning of 1982.

But what is most interesting at the conference are the 700 plus people who are there.

They come from many walks of life and a wide number of nations. They have a great interest in where the dollar is going and how it's going to get there.

The participants are individual businessmen and women. At breakfast this morning, I met a geologist from Australia, a building contractor from Albany, New York, and a research analyst from a New York stock firm, who was a woman of about 60.

It really is interesting, as I sit in my hotel room watching this, to look out my window and watch the junkies and pans go by with a family of 3 or 4 on board, their laundry hanging from the mast, drying in whatever breeze is blowing.

DON'T CONFUSE TERMITES WITH FLYING ANTS:

Termites normally swarm in spring and fall. Swarming lasts only a few hours. Swarmer quickly shed wings, pair off and burrow into the ground to start colonies. Only a handful survive, but it just takes two to start a lot of trouble.

Presidential Assassination Attempt

So we have lived through another assassination attempt.

And a grateful nation, which has been unable to agree on budget cuts, energy policy, or arms sales, breathed again, in unison, after finding out that its president--at 69, the oldest ever to be elected to the office--had survived a gunshot wound in the chest.

The same questions arise after every assassination attempt:

- 1) How did the assailant get so close?
- 2) What motivated him?
- 3) Could steps have been taken that would have prevented the attempt?

The gunman got close because we live in a democracy and our leaders, whom we elect, we also want to see, touch, take pictures of, cheer, revile.

Our elected leaders respond by making themselves accessible to the millions who intend no harm and do none, and to the few, who intend to, and sometimes do.

A president's security is a reflection of a president's personality. President Reagan is easy-going, outgoing, an avid outdoor type. Because he is, his security was somewhat more relaxed than Johnson's or Nixon's was. The assailant got close because the president wanted to be close to the people who helped elect him, and whom he must now lead.

The assailant's motivations will take longer to sort out but were probably not political.

The history of assassination attempts in this country indicates that assassins are rarely politically-motivated. They are often young--in their 20's or 30's--white, male, come from middle class or slightly upper middle class families where they are frequently the youngest sibling, have a low opinion of themselves, are loners, and have often grown up under the control of dominant, even domineering, fathers.

The fact that our assassins rarely act for political, or ideological, reasons is a tribute to the strength of our governmental system.

But it also makes protecting our leaders harder. How can anyone be protected from the randomness of life? From a bolt of lightning? From a gun in the hands of a person acting out a fantasy?

Could additional steps have been taken to prevent this attempt on the president's life?

Probably not.

Unless, of course, we are willing to surrender our security envelope than he already is.

We doubt that he or we are willing. The risk is the job.

Something needs to be said about presidential security, however, that would be correctible without substantial loss of public access to the man.

The news media--especially the electronic news media--has become a major complicating factor in protecting the president.

Unless you have actually been where a president has seen the tons of equipment and the hordes of people who follow him and report his every word and you cannot appreciate the problem.

The chaos that is created, especially by the need for electronic news media, has become a danger to the president's security.

One TV crew instead of 10 would give us the TV news that help us to form an opinion of him and his programs, and would give him the access through TV that he feels is necessary to sell his programs to the public.

Pooling TV coverage, it seems to us, is a step that should be taken immediately that would make the president's life much safer at a cost of only slightly diminished access between him and the public he serves.

Character Assassination Attempt

Carol Burnett is used to making people laugh.

Recently she made the folks at the National Enquirer claim that they had published an account of her behavior in a Washington, D.C. restaurant that portrayed her as drunk, disorderly, and abusive.

The Enquirer agreed that it had published the account. Miss Burnett claimed that the account was untrue. The Enquirer agreed that it was, and published a retraction.

Miss Burnett claimed that the account had damaged her reputation and that it had been published even though the paper knew it to be false and recklessly disregarded the fact that it knew. (Miss Burnett, being a "public figure" had to meet a sterner test of libel than do others who are not public figures.)

The Enquirer disagreed, saying that she was a public figure, her reputation was not harmed, and that there was no "actual malice" in its report of her behavior though the report was untrue.

The jury agreed with Miss Burnett.

The Enquirer's lawyers said that the case had Amendment overtones, and that it will have a "chilling effect" on the vigor with which all newspapers report on public figures.

We disagree.

The National Enquirer deals in sleaze and sensuality. Five million copies are sold each week, mostly in the markets where prurient interest is now aroused by the same marketing techniques that are used to sell soap.

If the Burnett decision makes the Enquirer, and other publications like it, tread more carefully, we can see how this will chill the Times's coverage of, say, the Haig. Or our coverage of a Brookhaven town meeting.

It is one thing to make it easy for government to suppress the news. It is quite another to require the election of fair play in writing about people in the news.

For, as Miss Burnett has said, words, once printed, live a life of their own.

We think the decision in the Burnett case strikes the right balance between the public's right to the robust flow of information about public figures, and a public person's right, if not to privacy, at least to rules of fair play when his privacy is invaded.

Mediation In The Schools

Discussions between the Community Mediation Center and the Middle Country School District will soon provide students with an alternative to suspension.

School Superintendent George Jeffers said he hoped to have district mediators trained to assist in solving minor disputes.

"A lot of problems we get are spinoffs from neighborhood disputes. Two youngsters fighting at the bus stop really falls outside the supervisory role of the school district but that could be a situation that would be mediated. We aren't only looking at student problems, but difficulties between staff members might also be mediated" Dr. Jeffers said.

Ernie Odom, Executive Director of the Community Mediation Center in Coram announced that "The Center had been awarded a grant to introduce the mediation techniques we have developed to a school community. We feel most of our techniques will easily be transferred to the school setting and will be helpful in easing tensions by establishing a new means for dealing with the many problems school officials and students face".

The mediation training will start February 24, 1981.

106th Birthday

Mrs. Bridget Sonneson celebrated her 106th birthday at Cedar Lodge Nursing Home on March 25th. Mrs. Sonneson was joined by her relatives the Wheeler family. The residents of Cedar Lodge presented Mrs. Sonneson with an orchid corsage in honor of the occasion.

Rumor Mill

Sounds more and more like Joel Lefkowitz won't run again for supervisor of Brookhaven town, despite previous protestations that he would. Local GOP is

Peter Cohalan doesn't hire anybody except on the basis of his or her merits. Or so he says. Put two women in a room, both equally qualified for a job, name one of them "Prudenti" and the Republic of China. He reports that even over there, registration is almost 2 to 1 Republican. You can't beat the GOP machine.

Schism between the Marchese faction of the Brookhaven Republican party and the Sorli-Burke-Scheetz rump group, grows apace (that's not Anthony Pace, either). Deep party division, plus the Cohalan coalition, could cost GOP seats on the county legislature, and possibly control, but probably won't make a difference in town races. Brookhaven Dems are so badly organized that even if the GOP continues to shoot its toes off one by one, it should have no trouble hobbling to victory in November.

Henrietta Acampora owes Dominic Baranello a big thank you for appointing her a deputy town clerk way back in 1960 when she was a Democratic committee person and he was just Brookhaven Town Democratic leader. It looks more and more like she will be the next supervisor of Suffolk's largest township. Dems can only hope that she will remember her roots. How's the saying, "Once a Democrat, always a Democrat." All of this reminds Suffolk oldtimers of the Cohalan family. County Executive Peter Cohalan's father ran for Suffolk District Attorney in the late '40's on the Democratic party line and his grandfather was a Supreme Court Judge (as his father is now). Cohalan is really a liberal Democrat at heart. A look at his present and past performance will show this.

Medicines Affect Driving

The Town of Brookhaven Traffic Safety Advisory Board cautions that Medicines Can Affect Driving. Some medicines - including many sold without a prescription - can affect your driving ability. Surprisingly, some motorists who would refuse to drive while ill or after drinking alcohol, will drive after taking a medicine. Why? Frequently, because they do not read the instructions or ask their doctors about the possible side-effects of the medication. So, if you are ill and get a prescription from a physician, ask him if it will affect your driving ability. If you secure an over-the-counter medication, check the label or instructions carefully to see if they contain a warning against possible side-effects. Certain medications - such as antibiotics, antihistamines, or narcotics - may cause drowsiness or affect your vision, balance, alertness, or coordination. In addition, it may be unwise to assume the responsibility of driving because of the nature of the illness itself. For example, if you have developed a heart ailment or serious visual disability, you should ask your doctor about the safety of driving your car. One way or the other, when it comes to medicines, remember to check the labels or instructions or ask your doctor. Otherwise, you may be curbing your illness while jeopardizing your life or the lives of others.

DRIVE CAREFULLY.

Social Security Question And Answer Box

Question: What happens to the money paid into social security by people who die without getting benefits or leaving any survivors?
Answer: The money goes to pay benefits to people who do live to retire, or who become disabled, or die leaving survivors.
Question: Who gets the lump-sum death payment if there are no survivors?
Answer: The money is paid to whoever pays the funeral expenses.

Adams apple

In 1963, I heard the news in an upstairs corridor at Connetquot High School in Bohemia, during a break between 8th grade English classes.

In 1968, I heard the news in an upstairs bedroom on Bay Ave. in Patchogue.

In 1981, I heard the news in my car in the lower tier of a Patchogue village parking lot.

Each time my reaction was the same: stunned disbelief, then physical revulsion, following by an almost uncontrollable anger.

After all, these three men were my or, in Robert Kennedy's case, soon might have been.

Instead, somehow, they had been made the objects of a weird, self-prescribed program of therapy for deranged minds.

Who the hell are Oswald, Sirhan, and now, allegedly, Hinckley, to work their problems out using my public officials as the targets of their repressed wrath?

If they must have a target, I wondered, why couldn't it be they? Why not turn the guns toward the selves they reportedly loathed so much? Why must murder, not suicide, always be their prescription?

Not my president, I thought this time, in my car, in the parking lot, fighting to hear the news above the static.

For Reagan is my president, even though I didn't vote for him. And therein lies the difference, and the danger, in this country.

Many countries elect a leader and are led by him. But only in America do we elect a leader, and then possess him, own him, whether or not we voted for him. He's ours to praise or knock.

On the one hand, our possessiveness opens up our leaders to the therapies that mad young gunmen have prescribed for themselves.

- Kill the president and feel good again.
- Kill the president and impress the girls.
- Kill the president and show Dad who's boss.

Our possessiveness, unfortunately, often produces the opposite result.

I felt so close to John Kennedy. I was young and so was he. I had hopes and so did he.

I was part of the crowd that saw him, lean and tan and smiling, as his motorcade traveled from Long Island MacArthur Airport in Islip to a Nassau County speaking engagement at the end of the presidential campaign in 1959.

And then he was gone, snatched from me, proof that mere possessiveness is no match for a sniper's bullet in the head. Reagan comes to the presidency older than Kennedy- and luckier.

I may not be as ardently possessive of him as I was of Kennedy. But that is probably because he, and I, are older.

I don't know who the loners and the whack jobs belong to who would do him or others in important positions, harm, but I can tell you this: I feel no kinship to them. They are not mine. They are an alien, strange bunch.

Yet, ironically enough, they have the power to destroy the order, the rationality, the civility I love, and impose in its place the random violence of their twisted dreams.

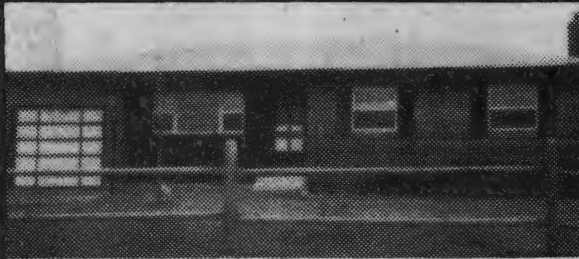

Life really isn't fair.

CASH IN ON OUR 150TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION!

In 1831, the first savings association home loan was granted to lamplighter Comly Rich, of Frankford, Pennsylvania. This year we are celebrating the 150th anniversary of the savings association business and we'd like you to celebrate with us.

$20 CASH SAVINGS BONUS:

Just deposit $5,000 or more in a new or existing account or renew a savings certificate and we'll give you a $20 cash bonus.

$10 CASH SAVINGS BONUS:

Just deposit $2,500 or more in a new or existing account or renew a savings certificate and we'll give you a $10 cash bonus. In either case you'll not only be getting a cash bonus but also the highest interest rates on insured savings allowed by law.

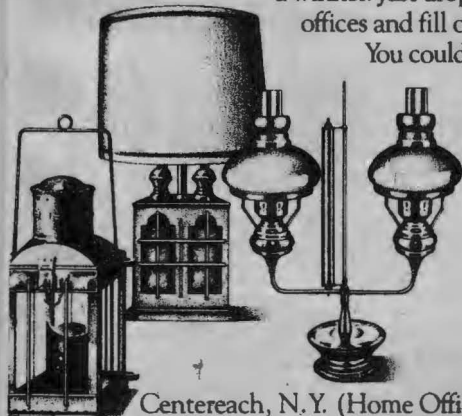

SUFFOLK COUNTY FEDERAL BONUS:

As a customer of ours, you will naturally get all the benefits and conveniences that we, as Suffolk County's largest savings institution, have to offer. Such as 19 conveniently located offices, a staff of professionals who will help you with all your financial needs and the friendliest, warmest atmosphere in the county.

SWEEPSTAKES BONUS:

Whether you make a deposit or not, you can still come out a winner. Just drop by any one of our offices and fill out a sweepstakes form.

You could win a distinctive lamp from the incomparable Ethan Allen Classic Collection. Three lamps will be given away at each of our 19 offices.

1831. The Comly Rich home, still standing at 4276 Orchard Street, Frankford, Pennsylvania, was the first home financed by Oxford Provident Association, the forerunner of the modern savings association in the United States.

The Savings Bonus is a limited offer and may be discontinued without prior notice. Funds transferred within the association do not qualify for a cash gift.

Cash gifts are for qualifying deposits to existing and new accounts and certificates which renew during the celebration. Funds must remain on deposit for 12 months. Cash gift will be deducted from your account in case of early withdrawal (26 weeks for six-month Money Market Certificate).

Federal regulations permit withdrawals on new and renewed Savings Certificates prior to maturity provided that an amount equal to six months' nominal (simple) interest, whether earned or not, is forfeited on amounts withdrawn from certificates with minimum terms of more than one year and that an amount equal to three months' nominal (simple) interest, whether earned or not, is forfeited on amounts withdrawn from certificates with minimum terms of one year or less.

Nutrition Site News

The bi-weekly meeting of the Hampton Bays Site Council was held on Monday, March 2nd, in Room 5 Anderson-Warner Hall. Plans for the next social trip were discussed and sympathy was expressed for all the participants to Mrs. Pauline Halek and her family on the untimely death of her husband.

Mrs. Anna Marie Penne and Mrs. Margaret Edsal traveled to Huntington a representatives of the Site and attended the Suffolk County Office of the Aging Project Council meeting for March. All Sites are represented at this bi-monthly meeting and the exchange and information available is very helpful.

On Friday, Mr. Franklin Farris, a lawyer representative from the Suffolk County Surrogates Office addressed the participants in Room 7. The discussion on wills and estates was very appropriate and many questions were asked and patiently answered by Mr. Farris. The hour was very informative and all participants were grateful for the information imparted. This type of informative program is particularly welcome by seniors inasmuch as the years have changed so many things.

A real "down country he down" will be held next week compliments of the Office of the Aging of Suffolk County - gather your pinafores, straw hats and heavy shoes - practice your square dancing and be ready for the words "Greet your partners."

Spring Book Sale

The Southampton College Library of Long Island University will have its Spring 1981 Library Book Sale from 1 to 4 p.m. on the Lower Level on the following dates: Monday, March 23, Wednesday, April 1, Thursday, May 7.

A large number of hard bound and softbound books on a variety of subjects will be available at reasonable prices.

H&R BLOCK TAX TEST

Question No. 1

It is too late to claim a deduction or credit overlooked on a 1977 tax return.

True False

If you know about amending a tax return, you probably know the answer. If you don't, maybe you need H&R Block. Because H&R Block knows tax laws that you might not know. You can amend a tax return for overlooked deductions and credits up to three years after the filing deadline. So the answer to the question is FALSE.

WE'LL MAKE THE TAX LAWS

Dem Party Chief Takes National Role

New York State and Suffolk County Democratic Chairman Dominic J. Baranello last week expanded his influence and that of New York State on the national affairs of the party. At the organizational meeting of the Democratic National Committee in Washington, D.C., Baranello won a seat on the body's powerful 33-member Executive Committee.

Baranello pledged a stronger voice from New York Democrats in the efforts to rebuild the party and to strengthen communication between the national and state organizations.

Baranello stated, "The function of the Democratic Party - nationally, state-wide, locally - is to provide sustained, structured leadership which gives the voter a sense of policy and basic unity which will make each person feel he truly participates in the political process. Coordinating these efforts on a national level can only ensure to the benefit of all."

Ambulance Company Needs Help

To the residents served by Manorville Community Ambulance: Manorville Community ambulance finds itself in dire need of funds in order to continue to provide emergency ambulance service to its area residents. During our annual fund drive only about one quarter of the residents were able to donate to use. With increases in our operating expenses and with a continuing increase in the amount of emergency calls we have been responding to, we find that we have only enough money to operate for one more month. We derive all of our revenue from donations and currently receive no money from any other source. We are appealing to YOU to help us to continue to help YOU.

Please send any contributions to Manorville Community Ambulance, P.O. Box 224, Manorville, N.Y. 11949.

Thank You
The Volunteers of Manorville Community Ambulance.

Viet Nam Vets It's About Time

I'm sure that we all agree that the freeing of our people who were held hostage was one of the happiest our servicemen and women when they needed us the most. I am talking about our Viet Nam veterans. These people did not come home to parades and glory as did their older brothers and fathers but to apathy didn't occur; it did and alot of Americans paid highly for that conflict. These veterans did what their country ordered them to do and those who served us in Viet Nam did not find residences in Canada.

I don't believe that; any American can feel proud until we rectify the void left by the hurtful treatment given to these men and women who served all of us in Viet Nam. I am now ask-can't it be those of us who live here in Suffolk County. I will be glad to devote as much time and energy necessary to make Viet Nam Vets day a success. All I ask is for each of you as individuals or as organizations such as the V.F.W. or American Legion, etc. to please write write to me at P. O. Box 1980, Selden, N. Y. 11784. I know I am not alone on how I feel. Let's share our ideas, suggesdays we as Americans have celebrated in a long time. I personally feel that the American people are now prouder and more united then they have been in many years.

As a veteran with 25 years of honorable service both on active duty and in the active reserves, I must state that there is still one area where we have failed and hostility. They came home to less benefits, less jobs, they were made to feel guilty, to be ignored because they wore the uniforms of the United States Armed Forces.

Our country now realizes that our military personnel are people to be proud of, to help, to care about, to thank. I do not believe that we can act like Viet Nam ing all of you who read this letter for your assistance. My thought is to have a day of HONOR all the Viet Nam vets here in Suffolk County. We need it and God knows they need it because to my knowledge, no group of people have ever said Thanks to them or to the families of the servicemen and women who never made it home.

Somebody has to start the ball rolling and why tions, etc. on setting this up and I'll find a place for us to meet.

I sincerely hope you will advise me of your feelings on this because our thanks to these veterans are long overdue.

Daffodil Days

Daffodil Days, a special springtime fundraiser for the American Cancer Society, are scheduled for March 21 and 22, announced Judy Stidd, chairman of the event for the Southeast Brookhaven Unit.

More than 40,000 daffodils are being flown directly to Long Island from the West Coast. "The daffodil has been selected," Ms. Stidd said, "because it is the first flower of spring, and to many represents the hope of a new season... hope for a world free of cancer."

There will be volunteers at local churches and various locations selling daffodils at $2.50 a bunch. Funds received will be used for research, cancer prevention and education programs, and services to cancer patients.

N. Y. State Boat Show

You need not be frightened by the giant white shark which will be displayed at the 1981 indoor N.Y. State Boat Show. Its tremendous size (over 20 feet) does not present any imminent danger to the viewing public. The shark will be created in sand by Frank Palumbo, as seen on T. V.'s "That's Incredible". The shark is just one of many displays, exhibitions and demonstrations which are free to visitors. The New York State Boat Show will be held two full weekends - March 20, 21, 22 and March 27, 28, 29.

The Show has grown tremendously in size from last year. This year, the entire first floor will be filled with motor and sailboats. Fishermen, cruisers and sail enthusiasts will have the opportunity to inspect the most popular boat lines available at fantastic prices and price ranges. For those who already own their "dream boat", there will be millions of dollars of equipment and marine related items to make your boating more pleasurable.

Unique will be the way to describe the New York State Boat Show. It will offer an unforgettable educational experience for children and adults throughout the metropolitan area. Gasp at the "Great White", learn about whales, take advantage of the continuous free movies, lectures and demonstrations offered by the Coast Guard Auxiliary. Other representatives of various service groups and clubs will also have exciting exhibits throughout the entire Show.

Parr Meadows is located on the Long Island Expressway off exit 68. Head North on William Floyd Parkway to the entrance. The price of admission is $3.25 for adults, $1.50 for children. Children under 5 will be admitted at no charge. All parking is free.

Whether you consider yourself an expert in your particular marine related sport or hobby or just a beginner, the New York State Boat Show is for you and your family. Even if you know absolutely nothing or are uninterested, give the Show a try - we'll make you a believer! The New York State Boat Show will be the place to be at the beginning of Spring.

Presidential Election Campaign Fund Does Not Affect Your Tax

The Presidential Campaign Fund checkoff has been in effect for the last seven years and still suffers from the public misconception that "Each taxpayer who checks yes must pay an extra $1 income tax," said Glen Kemling, East Northport, manager of H & R Block.

You should understand that if you wish to designate $1 of your taxes to the fund, it is not considered a contribution on your part.

It will not increase your tax or reduce your refund. You are telling the IRS that you agree, or do not agree, to have $1 of your taxes transferred from the general tax fund to the presidential campaign fund. In that way, taxpayers have control over the amount of tax funds provided to the Presidential Campaign. Distribution of the fund is allocated to qualified presidential candidates. Its purpose is to lessen the political power of special interest groups.

A husband and wife filing a joint return may each designate $1 to be set aside for the fund, Kemling said.

Solar Seminar

A Solar Seminar will be presented on three Thursday evenings, March 19, March 26, and April 2nd, 7:30-9:30 PM, in the Parks (Lamb) Building, Amagansett, announces Councilwoman Mary Ella Richard who organized the seminar. East Hampton architects William Chaleff and Frank B. Hollenbeck will lead the discussions which will cover passive solar space heating, conservation and construction techniques, heat flux analysis, solar hardware, and domestic hot water systems. Architects, builders, planners and designers have been invited to attend.

A new State law, effective January 1, 1981, requires municipalities to "require zoning regulations to provide for, so far as conditions may permit, the accommodation of solar energy systems and equipment, and the access to sunlight which is necessary for their operation," stated Councilwoman Mary Ella Richard, who is the Town's representative on the Suffolk Solar Energy Commission. Mr. Chaleff is also a member of the Commission. Mr. Hollenbeck is a member of the Town's housing committee.

Reservations to the seminars may be made by contacting Mrs. Richard at 324-2620.

Glass Speaks

Dr. Esther Glass, Director of Teacher Education Program and Co-Director of Southampton College Reading and Learning Disabilities Center, will be lecturing on teaching reading to adults at the Adult Basic Literacy Association in Hartford, Connecticut on March 18. For specifics, please call Southampton College, Teacher Education Program, 283-4000, ext. 177, 178 or 179.
