C.S.

Dear Mr. President,

I meant to write you sooner concerning your (& ours) victorious election, but kept putting it off. So, belated congratulations! You're the first candidate I've voted for that ever won. Hope you're not the last.

Was heartbroken when I heard the news of your injury. We were so grateful you weren't hurt more, as previous officeholders. Know that we pray daily for you in our Masses and rosaries. That goes also for Mrs. Reagan and all your family.

Was very impressed with your inaugural speech. It brought tears to my eyes. Was it the content or the delivery, or was it the man behind the podium? All three, I'd guess. Dramatic training hasn't hurt you or another "statesman" abroad. Indeed, the gift of many talents to you both!

God has in many ways past demonstrated His benevolence on our beloved country, but last November, and as recently as last Monday dramatized God's protection.

Knowing how busy you are, I shall close wishing you our heartfelt joy, and begging God's choicest blessings on you and yours as you carry our great country through time under that revered banner "In God we trust!"

The peace of Christ,
Barbara A. Fogelberg
