Dear Girls and Boys:

I was happy to receive your thoughtful gift of jelly beans. Knowing of your friendship encourages me daily.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you for caring.

Sincerely,

RONALD REAGAN A

Dear President Reagan,

What does one say to 'The President' -?
In case you do read this letter - please try to take some time to read the "Get-well" wishes and notes written by my 5th grade class. These children truly wanted to write to you and - along with their parents - believe in you - as the hope for our country! Their letters and cards are sincere, amusing, and colorful.
I really hope you'll read them - although the class does not believe you will.

There is so much I would like to write, but... as my students wrote - We hope and pray you will be well soon - stay well and 'safe' - because we believe in you.
Our country needs strong leadership, to make it what it once was.

The only advice I can offer - Watch out for too many jellybeans - that form of sugar has no benefits, especially for someone who needs healing.

We are all with you!

Sincerely,
Edith G. Pratt

Dear Mrs. Reagan,

I'm very sorry about the shooting and hope you and Brady are feeling better soon. But I don't know why someone would want to shot someone as nice as you. Over here you are the number one (number 1). I hope you feel better soon because we need you in the white house.

Write back soon.

P.S. I'm Republican.

Sincerely yours,

Edward Allen

Dear Mr. President,

How are you? We heard about your injury. There was no way we couldn't have. It was on every channel.

Our families are coming to Washington D.C. this month. Hope to see you. (if it's possible)

P.S. Have a happy recovery.

Your republicans,

Dear Mr. Brady,

I heard about your accident in Washington. I hope your feeling better!
And they say you're remarkable by letter!
And that's good. I was wondering if you think Jodie Foster had something to do with the shooting... Well I have to go, hope you get better soon!

Yours truly
Chris Algieri
