Biography

Biography

Steven E. Steiner (1940-) was a long-time member of the United States Foreign Service at the Department of State, was a high-level Ambassadorial appointee in both the Reagan and George H.W. Bush Administrations, and served in numerous advisory capacities since his retirement, particularly on gender issues.

Born in Pennsylvania in 1940, Steiner received a B.A. in political science from Yale University in 1963 and a masters degree in International Affairs from Columbia University in 1966.

Steiner entered the U.S. Foreign Service directly after graduate school. His tours of duty include the then American Consulate General in Zagreb, Yugoslavia and at the American Embassy in Moscow. He worked in the State Department's Office of Soviet Union Affairs and subsequently as Political Officer for then West German Affairs. He also served as Senior Watch Officer and then Deputy Director of the Department's Operations Center, its 24-hour crisis management facility.

Steiner then served as Deputy Director of the Office of Theater Military Policy in the Department's Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs. He was responsible there for numerous defense and arms control issues, including Intermediate Range Nuclear Forces, conventional forces in Europe, chemical weapons, and UN disarmament issues. He was a member of numerous U.S. delegations for consultations on these issues at NATO Headquarters and in Allied capitals.

Just before joining the National Security Council (NSC) staff, Steiner served from 1981-1983 as the Public Affairs Advisor in the Bureau of European Affairs at the State Department. He was responsible for management of the public dimension of issues involving the U.S. and Europe, including defense, arms control, U.S.-Soviet relations, and NATO. He also worked closely with NATO allies on these issues.

In November 1983, Steiner, joined the NSC staff as first. Director of the Arms Control Directorate and then the renamed Defense Programs and Arms Control. He was responsible for a wide range of defense and arms control matters, including the U.S. Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI). Steiner was named by President Reagan as the U.S. Representative to the Special Verification Commission, the implementing body for the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces Treaty (INF). In 1991, President George H.W. Bush named Steiner to serve as the U.S. Representative to the Joint Compliance and Inspection Commission, the implementing body for the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START).

In Steiner's later years at the State Department, his interests and occupation involved new problems in the world. He became the director of the State Department's Iraqi Women's Democracy Initiative and the Director of the Office of Global Women's Issues and the Office to Monitor and Combat Trafficking in Persons.

Steiner was honored on many occasions for his work at the State Department. In May 1983, he received the Superior Honor Award for his work on European security issues. He received the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency's Superior Honor Award in 1993. He received the Presidential Meritorious Service Awards in 1990 and 1992. Ambassador Steiner received the Secretary of State's Distinguished Service Award in 2002.

Post-retirement, Steiner continues his efforts to assist the status of women in the Middle East. Steiner served from 2011 to 2018 as a gender advisor for the U.S. Institute of Peace. He became a member of the U.S.-Afghan Women's Council, and he served on the Boards of the support organizations the American University of Afghanistan, the Initiative to Educate Afghan Women, and the AMAR Foundation.

Steiner lives in Chevy Chase, Maryland with his family.
