Biography

Biography

Virginia Knauer, the chief consumer advisor for Presidents Nixon and Ford (1969-1977), performed this same role for President Reagan. From 1981 to 1983 she worked within the White House Office of Public Liaison, and dealt with public liaison outreach in addition to consumer issues. After Elizabeth Dole resigned as Director of Public Liaison in 1983, Knauer was reassigned to the Department of Health and Human Services and given the title of Special Advisor to the President for Consumer Affairs.
